It is a sad but indisputable fact that justice has deprived the democratic party recently of three valued members, who cannot vote at the coming March election, viz.: Moses Tremblay, sent to jail for six months for voting on another man's name in Manchester, and Thomas Conners and Leslie Norman, provided with lodgings at the State prison until Oct. 14, 1885, for the crime of arson. Why should intelligent democrats like these be restrained of their liberties for practicing what they preach, performing as they vote?

It cost $450,000 to repair U. S. Steamer Kearsarge at the California navy yard. It only cost $300,000 to build the same vessel here in war time. Senator Cragin is chairman of the naval committee of the U. S. Senate. Why can he not obtain more work at this yard under such a favorable exhibit?

The New Hampshire Baptist Convention will hold its annual session with the Baptist church in Claremont on the 20th and 21st. The annual sermon will be preached by Rev. W. H. Alden, D. D., of Portsmouth.

The ladies' party in aid of the proposed public library comes off at the Franklin Hall this evening. Dancing at eight o'clock.

The Reasons Why.

Editor Chronicle: In my short communication from Wolfeboro', published in your issue of Saturday last, I said I should claim further space in your columns after I had investigated certain facts bearing upon the non-attendance of our city teachers to the State Association held in Wolfeboro' the 14th and 15th of the present month. Perhaps you will wish to know whence I derive my authority to probe this matter, and to array the actions of others, with whom I have no personal association, before the public. If you will call at my residence any day after 6 P. M., I will answer that question to your satisfaction by introducing to your notice three young misses, who to a certain limited extent at least, yet an important one as far as it goes, are to receive impressions, guidance and training from some of these same teachers whose action I did propose to criticise. This first and foremost, as I have a right to be thus selfish; and second, the right of a citizen to examine and criticise any action that may have a direct bearing upon the welfare of our public schools.

To summarize: First then I get my authority from the fact of being a parent, and second from the fact of being a citizen. Well then I have made all the investigations I desire, and have, I believe, arrived at the true facts in the case. Our teachers, with two honorable exceptions, Mr. Clarke of the High School, and Mr. Sherburne of the Haven School, failed of attending the Association; first from a want of a proper conception of what a Teachers' Association was or should be, and consequently a lack of interest in the same; and second, because the ruling element in our board of education placed such obstacles in the way that the teachers could not attend save at the price of considerable personal sacrifice; too great, perhaps, with their limited salaries, to justify themselves in so doing. In short, to be perfectly fair to both parties, the teachers failed to express a united and earnest request to be permitted to attend, and the committee, to such as did make the request, in a very short-sighted and illiberal spirit that shows them to be totally unfitted for their position, granted it with the proviso that their places in the school rooms were to be filled during their absence at their (the teacher's) own expense.

This action I think I have a right to criticise and I propose to do it. I know very well the basis of the objections urged against the close of our schools for such a purpose; that it makes a bad break in the week, destroys discipline, etc.; that our teachers are paid to teach, and not to "gallivant" about the country attending literary fairs, etc., etc.; all showing a want of knowledge, and a want of comprehensive thought upon the subject.

That other communities and other committees understand this question better and have broader and more mature views is evinced by the board of education of our neighboring city of Dover, who not only granted, at a regular meeting, full permission for the teachers to attend en masse, but sent individual members among them, visiting each school, to urge upon the teachers the importance of such attendance. Nay, more than that, sent two of their own number to attend in person, partially for the acquisition of knowledge themselves, and partially, as one of them—Dr. Stackpole publicly remarked, to observe how many of their teachers thought themselves so well informed upon the most scientific and practical methods of teaching to require no further knowledge upon the subject. That Portsmouth teachers would have done equally as well under the same encouraging circumstances I have not a shadow of doubt. That they should, however, require such direct encouragement in the regular path of their duty, I am not so thoroughly convinced.

Let us consider for a moment the genius of these teachers' gatherings. Many of us will remember when the annual meetings of the old State Institutes were looked forward to by the young of both sexes as furnishing excellent opportunities for agreeable intercourse, and possibly a little flirting. There were not wanting earnest and inquiring minds then more than now, and the conservative and radical grasped these opportunities as most favorable for advancing their theories, speaking their little pieces, and measuring mental weapons with old or new opponents. But at length, for reasons that few pretend to understand, the State withdrew its support and Institutes became things of the past. What length of time elapsed before the teachers of the State fully realized that despite the shortcomings of the old institute management they had lost force and influence by its discontinuance we are unable to say, but finally the far-sighted among them understood the matter and out of their labors sprang the modern State Association.

As now organized each member feels an individual and strong personal interest in the character and conduct of the meetings. If no account is made of the esprit de corps that is developed by the drawing together of so many minds having the same common desire of lifting their noble calling to the consideration accorded the other professions, there still remains much to commend in the care which is taken to provide competent speakers and instructors, in the willingness of members to take part in the discussions, in the hearty efforts to induce thought, and the candid and generous treatment of all comers who have any word of criticism or advice to offer.

We know it is common and not infrequently proper to treat with scant ceremony the weak proceedings and dreamy conclusions of many societies whose ostensible object is to raise and ennoble the human race. The trouble generally is that the wrongs sought to be redressed have no real existence, or the theories advanced have no remedial power, and fall harmlessly to the ground. While it is evident that much remains to be accomplished, both in the way of original thought and careful comparison of discoveries, and it may be boldly said that none of the elements of weakness indicated in the preceding paragraph find a place in the general scope and deliberations of the Association.

Conducted as this one under consideration was, where the watchword from the very commencement was earnestness and work, it is not too much to say that they offer in their opportunities for unification of thought and purpose advantages too great and paramount for any teacher of the present day, who proposes teaching as a life work, nay, even for a season, to lightly neglect. How any man who has dared to accept a position upon a board of public education,—a position, which instead of being the least is the most honorable in the gift of a corporation or municipality,—can ignore this subject, much less place obstacles in the way of advancing thought as bettering and improving our public school system is a mystery I cannot solve, save by supposing no thought has been given the any teacher can shut his or her eyes to the conflicts being waged in their own domain of science—for such indeed it is,—against the errors and superstitions of the past, is something I can only explain by supposing all ambition to have died out, all fire of soul and earnestness of purpose to have been quenched and smothered in the accumulated rubbish of a life of thoughtless and thankless toil.

Why and When Lamps Explode.

All explosions of coal oil lamps are caused by the vapor or gas that collects in the space above the oil. When full of oil, of course a lamp contains no gas, but immediately on lighting the consumption of oil begins, soon leaving a space for gas, which commences to form as the lamp heats up, and after burning a short time sufficient gas will accumulate to form an explosion. The gas in a lamp will explode only when ignited. In this respect it is like gunpowder. Chesp oil is always the most dangerous.

The flame is communicated to the gas in the following manner: The wick tube in all wick burners is made larger than the wick which is to pass through it. It would not do to have the wick work tightly in the burner; on the contrary, it is essential that it move up and down with perfect ease. In this way it is unavoidable that space in the tube is left along the sides of the wick sufficient for the flame from the burner to pass down into the lamp and explode the gas.

Many things may occur to cause the flame to pass down the wick and explode the lamp.

1. A lamp may be standing on a table or mantle, and a slight puff of air from the open window, or the sudden opening of a door, cause an explosion.

2. A lamp may be taken up quickly from a table or mantle and instantly explode.

3. A lamp is taken into an entry where there is a draft, or out of doors and an explosion ensues.

4. A lighten lamp is taked up a flight of stairs, or raised quickly to place on the mantle, resulting in an explosion. In all these cases the mischief is done by the air movement, either by suddenly checking the draft, or forcing air down the chimney against the flame.

5. Blowing down the chimney to extinguish the light is a frequent cause of explosion.

6. Lamp explosions have been caused by using a chimney broken off at the top or one that has a piece broken out whereby the draft is rendered variable and the flame unsteady.

7. Sometimes a thoughtless person puts a small size wick in a large burner, thus leaving considerable space in the tube along the edge of the wick.

8. An old burner, with its air-drafts clogged up, which rightfully should be thrown away, is sometimes continued in use, and the final result is an explosion.

—The Wheaton band went to Aurora, Ill., to serenade one of their number, who had married into the family of a well known spiritualist, and was then visiting at his father-in-law's house. It so happened that a girl who was employed at one of the neighbor's had taken that night to visit the hired girl at the house which was to be serenaded, and both girls had retired for the night before the musicians arrived. The band arrived in the city too early to commence the serenade at once, and so whiled away the surplus time in the various bibulous resorts in the city, of which there are many, and by the time they were to serenade they were not in the best musical mood. At the appointed hour the serenade commenced. The girls awoke, nearly frightened to death. One of them, thinking the noise was a charivari, jumped out of bed and hid in a closet, while the visitor, remembering where she was, and thinking old Nick had come, rushed out of the house in her night clothes, and running home shouted, "Let me in! for God's sake, let me in! The darn spirits have come!"

—An unfortunate man is he who can only do one thing—especially if he has not learned a trade. A gentleman who could write five or six languages, but who could do nothing else, found it impossible to obtain employment during a long, cold Winter. Another man preached for twenty-five years, until his throat failed him, and he used to go around looking very, very blue and sad, until people pitied him and got up donation parties for him, because he was good for nothing except to preach. A lady taught school for twenty years, till she was a poor nervous, broken down woman, and didn't know how to make a dress for herself. Now, boys and girls, every real man should know how to do one thing right and well. Every wise farmer has a principal crop; but he has always a little something else to live on. Don't carry all your eggs in one basket. Don't put all your money in one pocket. If you want to get along right well, learn one sort of work to get along by, and all sorts of work to get a living with when your one sort gives out.

—He started a hair coloring establishment and got rich in two years. He attributes his fortune to persistent advertising. This is one of his advertisements: "Generation after generation passes away, the fires of the firmament are extinguished and rekindled, the hopes that color the dreams of Cæsar fade like streaks of morning cloud into the infinite azure of the past, and Hair Dye—blessed, magical hair dye—asserts an everlasting dominion and crowns the hoary poll of age with the capillary glories of jocund youth."

—"The cry "Go West" has changed. An editorial article in a western paper is headed "Hop Yeast."

500,000 ACRES
OF MICHIGAN LANDS,
FOR SALE!
The Lands of the Jackson, Lansing & Saginaw Railroad Company are now Offered For Sale.
They are situated along its railroad and contain large tracts of excellent FARMING and PINE Lands. The farming lands include some of the most fertile and well-watered hardwood lands in the State. They are timbered mainly with hard-maple and beech; soil black, sandy loam, and abound in springs of purest water. Michigan is one of the least indebted and most prosperous State in the Union, and its farmers have a greater variety of crops and resources than any Western state. While some of the Prairie States may produce corn in great abundance, they have no other resource, and when this crop fails destitution follows, as has been the case the past year in Kansas and Nebraska. For Maps, Circulars and further information, apply to or address O. M. BARNES,
Land Commissioner, Lansing, Michigan.

DR. QUAIN'S
MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS.
NEW TESTIMONIALS.
— FOR —
Weak Lungs, Constipation, Lameness, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Paralysis, Poor Blood and Kidney Troubles.

One Box Dr. Quain's Condition Pills "Nearly Cured Where All Else Failed."
LOWELL, MASS, July 20th, 1874.
T. W. LANE:—I have used one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, am glad to state in my case they have proved all that you claim for them. I have been troubled with Bad Blood and all its consequent diseases, and have tried several kinds of Bitters and Pills without receiving much benefit, until I tried the CONDITION PILLS, and they have nearly cured where all else failed. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.
Yours, very truly, J. D. WHITAKER.

Testimony of a Clergyman---Liver and Kidney Troubles.
EAST TILTON, N. H., April 14, 1875.
MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are not only the best, but the very best I ever used. My wife has been troubled with Kidney Complaint many years; one half of a package has cured her, so that she feels as well as ever. I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years; one-half of a package has done me more good than all the Pills I ever took. One of my neighbors took them, who has been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years: three Pills have helped him. Your Pills, where used, commend their virtues. Please send to my address one package.
REV. JOHN DAVIS.

Liver Compaint and Rheumatism so that he Could not Sleep Nights.
I was born and always lived in Pittsfield, N. H.; am now 50 years old; been troubled with Liver Complaint for 30 years, and Rheumatism for 20 years, sometimes so I could not sleep nights. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good and relieved more suffering than all the medicine I have taken during my life.
S. S. RING.
Pittsfield, N. H., Dec. 17, 1874.

Fever and Ague.
NEW BOSTON, N. H., Feb. 1, 1875.
T. W. LANE.—Sir:—Last month I sent to you for a package of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS. I had been five successful ague cures, and I received more benefit from five of your pills than from all the "Cures" "Cholagogues," "Quinine," &c., that I have taken in two years. I cannot recommend it too highly for diseases resulting from long standing Fever and Ague.
Yours, most respectfully,
MRS. C. GARLAND.

Scaly Humor Cured by One Package---Liver Complaint Helped.
NORTH SALEM, N. H., Jan. 5, 1875.
MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—Your Pills are all they are recommended. I was troubled with a Scaly Humor on my legs; I took one package and my legs are quite smooth. My wife was troubled with Liver Complaint; she took one package and they helped her greatly.
Yours, with respect,
JOHN H. BLAKE.

From a Leading Citizen of Rindge.
WEST RINDGE, Cheshire Co., N. H., November 17, 1874.
THOS. W. LANE:—After taking three packages of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I am prepared to say they are the very best, for I have tried a great many kinds, and faithfully too, believing they would help me, to no effect.—These I do believe are the very best ever made; just the kind a man needs. May they be spread all over the wide world, and Dr. Quain's name a household word.
Yours truly,
ASA STICKNEY.

Felt Better, Stronger and Gained Flesh in One Week,

AFTER TAKING DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS.
ROLLINSFORD, N. H.
THOS. W. LANE:—I commenced to take DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and in one week I was better, felt better, and was stronger than before, and any one troubled with BAD BLOOD can find sure remedy in these Pills.
Nov. 5, 1874. L. M. YEATON.

CHESTER, N. H., Feb. 24, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been out of health for some time, and I took a very bad cold and it left my lungs in a very weak state. I received Dr. Quain's Condition Pills and took them according to the directions, and my lungs are some better. I can recommend them to any one who is troubled with weak lungs, for they have done me good, and I think another package will cure me. Dr. Quain's Pills ought to be known throughout the world. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.
Yours, &c., CYRUS LANE.

HILLSBORO BRIDGE, Feb. 25, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—Dr. Quain's Condition Pills are the best I ever used for lameness and pain. The first dose I took removed the pain and lameness that I have been troubled with for several years. Others have used quite a number of the pills besides myself. Please send another package by return of mail.
MRS. DANIEL KIMBALL.

GILMANTON I. W., N. H., Feb. 25, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been taking Dr. Quain's Condition Pills, and can recommend them as far ahead of common pills for constipation of the bowels; they do not have the debilitating effect of common purgatives I have taken.
MRS. J. B. GOODWIN.

NORTHWOOD CENTRE, March 1, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I saw Dr. Quain's Condition Pills highly recommended, and sent for a package, and I feel that they have done more for me than all the medicine I have taken for years, and can freely recommend them to others, as a good and sure medicine. Please send me another package as soon as possible.
MARTHA NORCROSS.

BRISTOL, N. H., Feb. 27, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have made a fair trial of those Condition Pills, and liked them very much. I think they are all they are recommended. They are a good Liver invigorator.
N. F. DANFORTH.

SALEM DEPOT, N. H., March 8, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE:—I think these pills (Dr. Quain's Condition Pills) are all they claim to be; my wife and I are both victims of Liver and Kidney Complaint, and general debility. We have taken about half that package you sent me, and find a marked improvement in our health. I want four packages to give away in the north part of Vermont, to friends up there. I enclose $2.00, and if you can, send me four Packages.
ROYAL SCOTT.

SOUTH PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., March 11, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE:—I have given Dr. Quain's Condition Pills a trial, and find I can honestly recommend them, they having materially improved the condition and lessened the pain of my wife, who is afflicted since getting upon my feet after the Paralysis of left side that I suffered last October. I desire you to send me another package as soon as convenient, as I am anxious to continue their use. Though not now a resident of New England, I have lived in Central Vermont more than fifty years, and trust Dr. Quain's Pills will not long be lost to that section.
MOSES SHELDON.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have been troubled with Biliousness, Headache, and Dizziness, for a long time, and had the Dyspepsia so bad there were but few kinds of food my stomach would bear to eat. I commenced taking your pills, have taken most of one package, and now enjoy eating as well as I ever did, am not troubled with dizziness unless by taking cold, and have been greatly benefited by the use of them.
A. L. PAGE.

FRANCESTOWN, March 13, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE:—I have found Dr. Quain's Condition Pills to be all you claim for them in Kidney Complaint, poor blood, and weak nerves. May they be circulated over the land and found in every household where medicine is needed. I enclose 50 cts. for another package as soon as convenient.
JOHN T. FELCH.

Better Health than for 10 Years.
CHESTER, N. H., Oct. 17, 1874.
MR. LANE:—I have taken one package of Condition Pills; find them in my case all they are recommended; have not enjoyed so good health for the last ten years as I have since. I commenced using the Condition Pills. Shall be happy to recommend them to others.
WILLIAM H. FELLOWS.

☞ DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are sold by the Agent of the American Medicine Co. A package will be forwarded upon receipt of fifty cents, by THOMAS W. LANE agent, Manchester, N. H.

LOCAL ACCENTS.

WANTED.

An Agent Wanted for Each Town and County in the United States.

Parties desiring to act as agents must accompany their application by a letter of recommendation as to character and responsibility from and signed by the Editor of a newspaper published in the town or county for which the agent proposes to act The agency is to sell the bonds of the Industrial Exhibition Company.

BONDS, $20 EACH.
HALF BONDS, $10 EACH.
QUARTER BONDS, $5 EACH.

The Industrial Exhibition Company will furnish agents with circulars, etc., etc.

Each newspaper published in the town where an agent is located will, as soon as the agency is established, be given an advertisement, advertising such agency and the Company, and fully explaining the plans, purposes and objects of the Company. Such advertisement will continue in such papers as long as an agency is successfully conducted.

The Industrial Exhibition Company is the first to adopt the plan of issuing bonds by the European governments of issuing bonds when the principal is made secure and not risked, but where there is a chance for a large premium, an investment of $20 is sure to return to the investor $21—one dollar more than cost—and the holder of a $20 Bond may obtain a premium either of $30, $100, $250, $500, $1,000, $3,000, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000 or $100,000. The interest, which is ordinarily distributed to all the bondholders pro rata, is in this loan distributed by chance. The purchaser of a bond knows he will receive back his investment, with a small rate of interest, he has a chance in the above named premiums, which are simply the distribution of interest on the whole loan.

Each bond participates in four drawings each year, until it has drawn a premium, when it is surrendered, the premium paid, and the bond cancelled.

The Industrial Exhibition Company, under a special charter granted by the State of New York, is given authority to issue these bonds. The Legislature of the State, recognizing the great benefits which will arise from the success of this enterprise, have exempted all the real estate and property of the Company from taxation and assessments for five years, and has also conferred other great privileges.

Every American who understands the purposes of this Company will, of a necessity, feel a pride in aiding it to a successful termination.

Each individual who buys a bond becomes an owner and an interested party, and when he views the structure erected with his money can say, "I aided to erect in our country the most magnificent building the world has ever seen, a palace which, in truth, represents the industry, energy and mechanical genius of the American people."

The manufacturers and the inventors of America are peculiarly interested in the success of this enterprise, for the reason that it is to be their home, where all their inventions and manufactures can be exhibited and sold.

The building will contain 5,320,000 square feet of space.

Purchasers desiring Bonds before an agency is established where they reside, will communicate direct with this office, from where they can be supplied.

Parties desiring to act as agents or to purchase bonds will address

PULMOCINE.

Pulmocine Cordial.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

s no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the low trying climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

A CHANCE FOR ALL!
$100,000
GIVEN AWAY!
The Union Pocket Book Co.
having secured by cash purchase the entire bankrupt stock of Messrs H. Moriond & Co., consisting of 400,000 Portmonies,
(POCKET BOOKS,)
of the best manufacture and superb quality, each pocket book being made of Real Morocco Leather; to effect a speedy clearance sale and having in view the old motto of the house, Certain Profits with Quick Returns, the company have decided on giving each individual purchaser the full benefit of this unprecedented bargain by giving away One Hundred Thousand Dollars, in

2818 MONEY PRIZES!

THE FIRST PRIZE BEING $20,000 CASH.
" SECOND " " $10,000 "
" THIRD " " $5,000 "
and 2815 other money prizes as follows, viz.:

25	PRIZES OF	$1000	CASH,	EACH.
40	"	"	500	"	"
50	"	"	100	"	"
100	"	"	50	"	"
200	"	"	20	"	"
400	"	"	10	"	"
2000	"	"	1	"	"

The above prizes with the cost of advertising and other incidental expenses, giving the purchasers two-thirds of the profits that accrue on the entire sale, and to enable every one to have an equal share in the profits, with the certainty of receiving double the value for their small investment and the further opportunity of surely gaining a share in the distribution of $100,000, and this too by the riskless outlay of $1 only.

The Union Pocket Book Co. will deliver free to any address on receipt of One Dollar, a GENUINE MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK, together with a COUPON TICKET,

entitling and giving the holder a share in the drawing of 2818 CASH PRIZES, of the aggregate value of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS CURRENCY. The Company guarantee to return to each purchaser at least treble the value for his money.

How can this be accomplished? is a question many will doubtless ask themselves, and foreseeing this we offer the following lucid explanation.

The Trade assignee, anxious to dispose of and realize on the entire stock of the bankrupts in one sale, accepted our offer of $100,000 cash for the lot; after advertising same for sale for one month, and not receiving a single offer, which in the present depression of business and almost total stagnation of trade is not to be wondered at; notwithstanding that our offer was one third less than the actual cost of the manufacture of the Pocket Books. The assignee having to at once realize the effects of the bankrupts, in the interests of the creditors he had no alternative but to accept the offer and sell the lot at our own price, thereby enabling us to distribute in prizes $100,000 amongst the purchasers, and at the same time retain a fair marginal profit for ourselves; thus you obtain fully double the value of the amount you forward us and it depends on your luck what amount you gain of the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Money Prizes.

THE SALE WILL POSITIVELY CLOSE ON
MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1875,
and orders for pocket books should therefore be forwarded to us at once—no application by letter after Saturday, November 20th, can be entertained.

1000 of the Pocket Books are of the patented manufacture, superior in value to the remainder, the retail price of the same being $8, and these will be forwarded to early purchasers until disposed of.

Therefore those who send immediate orders will reap the advantage of receiving a superior article.

Remittances can be sent us by express for any number of pocket books by draft, post office orders, or greenbacks in registered letter by express, etc.

Post Office orders and drafts to be made payable in favor of Frank Stewart, the Company's Manager; Post Office orders to be drawn on General Post Office, Philadelphia, and drafts on the First National Bank.

The Drawing of Prizes will take place at the Company's Principal Offices, 530 Locust Street, Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, on

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 24,1875
and the winning numbers will be advertised in this Journal and the principal Philadelphia and New York newspapers of Saturday, November 27th.

The Prizes will be forwarded in drafts, greenbacks or by post office order per registered letter by Monday's morning mails, November 29th, or if preferred prizes can be sent by express, or in any other manner purchasers may select, providing same be signified by them when forwarding orders for pocket books.

Remember this is no lottery, but a bona fide business system founded on a true financial basis which enables the Company to convert into money an otherwise surplus stock, and this with a good profit to both the purchasers and themselves, effecting a speedy clearance stock which in the present dull times is the great desiderata that in no other way can be successfully obtained.

We guarantee each pocket book to be of the best manufacture; of pure morocco leather and intrinsically worth in retail trade at the lowest rate of from $3 to $4.

This is an opportunity that should not be let pass by, one and all should embrace this chance; We afford every man opportunity of realizing a share in $100,000 at the insignificant outlay of $1 (one dollar) for which they receive value three fold and those who let the present chance escape about will have only themselves to blame.

All letters replied to same day as received. We advise intending purchasers to forward orders immediately which will prevent disappointment and receive prompt attention.

Remember, every one who sends ONE DOLLAR before November 20th, 1875, receives A MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK of the value of from $3 to $4 and a COUPON, giving them a share in the drawing of $100,000.

ADDRESS ALL ORDERS, LETTERS, ETC., TO
The Union Pocket Book Company,
SOUTH-EAST CORNER 6TH AND LOCUST STREETS,
PHILADELPHIA, PENN.

P. S.—Drawing absolute on Wednesday, November 24th. No postponement in the remote contingency of any number of the pocket books remaining unsold; a slight reduction not exceeding $5000 may be made proportionately from the prizes. nov16

SCRIBNERS' MONTHLY for 1876.

The publishers invite attention to the following list of some of the attractive articles secured for Scribner's Monthly, for the coming year. In the field of fiction, besides numerous novelettes and shorter stories, there will be

TWO REMARKABLE SERIAL STORIES,

By American Authors.

The first of these, now complete in our hands,

"GABRIEL CONROY,"

By BRET HARTE,

Begins in the November number, and will run for twelve months. This is Mr. Harte's first extended work. The scenes and characters, which the author has chosen from his favorite field, California, are painted with characteristic vividness and power, and the work is without doubt the most graphic record of California life that has yet appeared.

We shall also begin in the January number,

"PHILIP NOLAN'S FRIENDS,

OR, SHOW YOUR PASSPORTS,"

By EDWARD EVERETT HALE.

The scene of this story is laid in the Southwestern territory, now forming the States of Louisiana and Texas, at the time of Aaron Burr's treason. The characters lived in a section which was now American, now French, and now Spanish, and this record of their adventurous lives makes a story of intense and unflagging interest throughout.

A SECOND "FARMER'S VACATION,"

By Col. GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

Col. Waring is now in Europe, visiting, in a row-boat ride of two hundred and fifty miles, one of the most fertile and interesting of the vine growing valleys of Europe. This second series of papers promises to be even more interesting than that with which our readers are already familiar.

CENTENNIAL LETTERS,

Edited by John Vance Cheney.

A rare collection of Revolutionary Letters, mainly from stores in the hands of the descendants of Col. Joseph Ward. They are full of interest, and will be read with a rare relish in connection with the Centennial celebration of the year.

BRILLIANTLY ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES ON

AMERICAN COLLEGES,

Written respectively by their friends, will appear during the year. The revived interest in college life makes these papers especially timely, and will secure for them unusual attention.

OLD NEW YORK.

Elegantly illustrated articles on Old New-York, by John F. Mines, will appear at once, and will attract the attention of the city or country who mark with interest the development of the great metropolis, and affectionately remember the quaint peculiarities of its olden time.

Every number is profusely illustrated, thus enabling us to give to our descriptive and narrative articles, an interest and permanent value never attained in a non-illustrated periodical. Under its accustomed management the magazine will in the future be devoted, as it has been in the past, to sound literature and Christian progress.

The Editorial Departments occupy over twenty pages of each number and contain Dr. Holland's vigorous and timely editorials, as well as Reviews of the latest works in Art, Literature, and Science.

TERMS:

$4.00 A YEAR, in advance; 35 cents a Number.

The 10 vols. complete, Nov. 1870, to Oct. 1875, bound in maroon cloth.....$20.00

do. do. bound in half morocco, 30.00

Vols. begin in November and May. Any of the earlier volumes (I to VIII) will be supplied separately to parties who wish them to complete sets at this rate, i. e., cloth, $2 00; half morocco, $3.00.

Booksellers and Postmasters will be supplied at rates that will enable them to fill any of the above offers.

Subscribers will please remit in P. O. Money Orders, or in Bank Checks or Drafts, or by registered letters. Money in letters not registered, at sender's risk.

"The very best ladies' magazine published."—Seneca Falls (N. Y.) Courier.

☞ CHEAPEST AND BEST! ☜

Peterson's Magazine

POSTAGE PREPAID ON ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS.

☞ Every subscriber for 1876 will be presented with a superb, large sized steel engraving of Trumbull's colored picture of "The Signing of the Declaration of Independence." This will be "Peterson's" Centennial Gift. ☜

"PETERSON'S MAGAZINE" contains, every year, 1000 pages, 14 steel plates, 12 colored Berlin patterns, 13 mammoth colored fashion plates, 24 pages of music, and 900 wood cuts.

Great improvements will be made in 1876. Among them will be a series of illustrated articles on the Great Exhibition at Philadelphia, which will alone be worth the subscription price. They will be appropriately called

THE CENTENNIAL IN PEN AND PENCIL!

The immense circulation of "Peterson" enables its proprietor to spend more money on embellishments, stories, &c., &c., than any other. It gives more for the money than any in the world.

THRILLING TALES AND NOVELETTES

are the best published anywhere. All the most popular writers are employed to write originally for "Peterson." In 1876, in addition to the usual quantity of short stories, FIVE ORIGINAL COPYRIGHT NOVELETTES will be given, by Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Frank Lee Benedict, Mrs. F. H. Burnett, and others.

MAMMOTH COLORED FASHION PLATES

ahead of all others. These plates are engraved on steel, twice the usual size, and are unequalled for beauty. They will be superbly colored. Also, Household and other receipts; in short, everything interesting to ladies.

N. B.—As the publisher now prepays the postage to all mail subscribers, "Peterson" is cheaper than ever; in fact is the cheapest in the world.

Rag Baby Obituaries.

[N. Y. World.]

DIED.—At Cincinnati, October 12, of Hayes fever, Rag Baby, only surviving child of Wash. McLean, aged 3-65 years. Friends in Pennsylvania will please accept this intimation.

We had a wee Rag Baby once,
It was its parent's pride,
But Hard Money stuck in its throat,
And it choked and kicked and died.
Gone to meet the little jackass.

[N. Y. Com. Adv.]

Put away his little fog-horn,
Let his toy balloon collapse,
While Sam. Cary murmure, "Dog-gone
Tilden, and them other chaps."
Gone to meet Nasby out in the swamp.

[Ohio State Journal.]

Dear Rag Baby, thou hast petered
B'lallen wind did make thee howel—
The people just sat down on thee,
And busted thy inflated bowel.
Gone to meet the Southern Confederacy.

[The poet apologizes for the liberty he has taken with the word howl, but a little poetic license was necessary in order to make it rhyme.

[N. Y. Graphic.]

Bellow, my babe, my bully boy!
Bill Allen thy father's no more;
He lies high and dry on the plains of Ohio,
And hushed is his manly roar.
Bellow, my babe.
His 'scutcheon a rag-bag on paper,
His years were a hundred and more;
That false-hearted paynim Knight Coin he hath slain him,
And drawn off his claret galore.
Bellow, my babe.
Howl on, my prince and my baby!
Oh! sad is thy lot to deplore;
All fatherless, motherless, one thing and t'other-less,
Hard money has warmed thee full sore!
Bellow, my babe!

Funnies' Sort o' Dog.

[Florida Letter.]

"Two young fellows," said Powell, "English tourists, were out here a few years ago, and wanted to hunt bear. The Florida bear is a very little fellow, not so large as the black bear or cinnamon bear, by any means. However, they wanted to hunt him and shoot alligators, which is to the Egyptian crocodile, about like a cat to a tiger. However, they got very glorious over killing one or two of them and wanted a bear, and we went with them. The amount of lies pumped into those Englishmen about Seminoles, pirates, etc., would set up the New York Ledger.

"The bear is easy to find. He always goes one route; if he puts his foot on a log-crossing to-day, he will cross the same place to-morrow, and put his foot on the same place. We found a bee gum where he had been, and put one Britisher there, another in the hamak above, and Joe and I and the dog went to look up the bear. We got on his trail pretty soon, and then we lost him; lost the dog, too, a half terrier and cur, black, curly and red-nosed, about as big as a half-grown sheep. Joe and I came down to the hamak and met the Englisher. He had been keeping out the damp air. We asked if he had seen the bear!

"'Aven't been by this; gone cross lots,' said he, hiccuping, and then turning to Joe, 'Damtinever see such a funny dog's your'n—funnies' sort o' dog.'

"'You've seen the dog, then,' said Joe, 'the bear can't be far off.' Just then we heard the other Britisher's gun, and a dozen or so yells. We ran down; he was dancing; snapping his fingers. 'I 'ave 'im, John; I 'ave shot the bear.'

"We hurried down to see him dancing around—not the bear, but Joe's black dog.

"Joe was wrathy, I tell you, about a 'dem fool as didn't know a bear dog from a bear,' while the other turned the dead dog over curiously with his foot, as it had been a bear or some other curious varmint.

"I saw he was puzzled. 'What's the matter?' I asked.

"'Curious,' he said, 'very curious. How'd he get that white on him!' And he rubbed his hand on the white star on the dog's breast, and looked at his fingers to see if they were chalked. I asked, 'You know a dog don't you?'

"'Know a dog from a bear? No such fool as that. Only he didn't have that spot. Funnies' sort of a dog, though.'

"'What did he do?' I asked.

"'Do? Funnies' sort, "Hello!" says I; "heah, heah," calling the dog, and he just hopped on his hind legs; hopped up you see like a d—d ole circus.'

"'You know a dog from a bear, may be,' says I, 'but you don't know a bear from a dog, for sure as one of you shot the dog for a bear, the other whistled to the bear for a dog.' You see I know a bear will do that; jump on his hind quarters, if you call to him."

The Truthful Pilot.

[Vicksburg Herald.]

The passenger, who was going down the big river for the first time in his life, secured permission to climb up beside the pilot, a grim old grayback who never told a lie in his life.

"Many alligators in this river?" inquired the stranger, after a look around.

"Not so many now, since they got to shootin' 'em for their hides and taller," was the reply.

"Used to be lots, eh?"

"I don't want to tell you about 'em, stranger," replied the pilot, sighing heavily.

"Why?"

"'Cause you'd think I was a-lyin' to you, and that's sumthin' I never do. I kin cheat at keerds, drink whiskey or chew poor terbacker, but I can't lie."

"Then there used to be lots of 'em?" inquired the passenger.

"I'm most afraid to tell ye, mister, but I've counted 'leven hundred allygaters to the mile from Vicksburg cl'ar down to New Orleans! That was years ago, afore a shot was ever fired at 'em."

"Well, I don't doubt it," replied the stranger.

"And I've counted 3,459 of 'em on one sandbar!" continued the pilot. "It looks big to tell, but a Government surveyor was aboard, and he checked 'em off as I called out."

"I haven't the least doubt of it," said the passenger, as he heaved a sigh.

"I'm glad o' that, stranger. Some fellers would think I was a liar, when I'm telling the solemn truth. This used to be a paradise for alligators, and they were so thick that the wheels of the boat killed an average of forty-nine to the mile!"

"Is that so?"

"True as gospel, mister! I used to almost feel sorry for the cussed brutes, 'cause they'd cry out e'enamost like a human being. We killed lots of 'em, as I said, and we hurt a pile more. I sailed with one captain who allus carried a thousand bottles of liniment to throw over to the wounded ones!"

"He did?"

"True as you live, he did. I don't 'spect I'll ever see another such a kind, Christian man. And the allygaters got to know the Nancy Jane, and to know Captain Tom, and they'd swim out and rub their tails agin the boat an' purr like cats and look up and try to smile!"

"They would?"

"Solemn truth, stranger. And once when we grounded on a bar, with an opposition boat right behind, the allygaters gathered around, got under the stern, and humped her clean over the bar by a grand push! It looks like a big story, but I never told a lie yet, and I never shall. I wouldn't lie for all the money you could put aboard this boat."

There was a painful pause, and after a while the pilot continued:

"Our injines gin out once, and a crowd of allygaters took a tow-line and hauled us forty-five miles up this stream to Vicksburg!"

"They did?"

"And when the news got along the river that Captain Tom was dead every allygater in the river daubed his left ear with black mud as a badge of mournin', and lots of 'em pined away and died!"

The passenger left the pilot-house with the remark that he didn't doubt the statement, but the old man gave the wheel a turn and replied:

"That's one thing I won't do for love nor money, and that's make a liar of myself. I was brung up by a good mother, and I'm going to stick to the truth if this boat doesn't make a cent."

The Pembroke Tragedy.

The evidence against LaPage, the French wood-chopper, now confined in jail, charged with the murder of Miss Langmaid, is slowly accumulating. The Frenchmen at Suncook are very much excited over the arrest of LaPage and are anxious that he be released from confinement at once, claiming that he was arrested without sufficient cause and that he is innocent of the crime with which he is charged. Chief of Police Connell of Concord has received a letter from Sheriff D. J. Morrill of St. Albans, in which Morrill says that evidence is fast accumulating against LaPage which points to him, almost as the finger of God, as the person who murdered Miss Ball, the school teacher, in that place in July, 1874. When arrested for that crime his face, hands and neck were badly scratched, and had the appearance of having been done by the fingernails. LaPage then accounted for the marks by saying they were made by raspberry bushes, and claimed that he was picking berries in a pasture some half a mile from the scene of the murder. He now claims that the scratches were caused by poison ivy instead of the berry bushes.

Sheriff Morrill says it has been ascertained that La Page made inquiries of certain school children where Miss Ball was in the habit of going on Friday nights after school hours and regarding the road travelled by her. Again the similarity of the two murders; the fact that switches were tied in knots near where both crimes were committed and tied in exactly the same manner, as a wood chopper would be likely to tie them; that all traces of blood were carefully removed as far as possible from both bodies, and many other details of the two crimes almost exactly similar, would seem to indicate almost beyond the possibility of a doubt that both murders were committed by one and the same person. La Page, if innocent of these crimes, seems to be one of the most unfortunate of men, for he is known to have been in the immediate vicinity when both crimes were committed. These and other facts in the hands of the detectives would seem to fix both crimes upon him, and unless he can show to the satisfaction of the officers where he was when the murders were committed he will stand but little chance of being released from confinement.

Detective Sargent feels almost certain that he has got the right man in custody. Sheriff Merrill is collecting additional evidence against La Page, to connect him with the murder of Miss Ball. Drew is slightly indisposed, but not dangerously sick.

—A certain New York dry goods merchant, in want of a boy, lately displayed the suggestive notice: "Boy wanted, that has fully rested himself and is not too intellectual."

Observations of a Veteran.

At the evening session of the State Teachers' Association in Wolfeboro' on Thursday evening of last week, Hon. J. D. Philbrick, formerly Superintendent of Schools in Boston, spoke for an hour upon the subject of practical teaching, and in the course of his remarks introduced some ideas that are well worth considering. He thinks the child should commence his serious school work at the age of six and continue it until fourteen. In this eight years' course the idea should be to make the education thoroughly practical; and with this constantly in view the study of the teacher should be to inquire what is adapted to the peculiar tastes and ability of the scholar. He would not waste time on a youngster in endeavoring to get him to comprehend cube root, if he was not a natural mathematician. Neither would he fritter away the early years of the child in teaching him the addition table until he could sing it from one to one hundred, forward and backward; he would rather linger upon division, wherein the four fundamental rules are involved. In order to make education as practical as possible he would introduce the elements of Drawing, Geometry, Philosophy, Chemistry, etc., all of which could be adapted without infringing at all upon these standard studies, a knowledge of which is considered indispensable. In demonstrating the manner in which he would carry along all of these without cramming the mind of the pupil, he said that he would use much less time in teaching abstract principles and devote more to the selection and adaptation of these subjects that would best serve the learner in his business life. He recommended the Science Primers, published by Appleton & Co., of New York, (John S. Hayes, 22 Hawley street, Boston, New England Agent,) as by far the best books yet in use for the furtherance of this method of teaching. These Primers contain all that is really necessary to be learned by the average scholar, and enough to aid him very materially in the practice of whatever calling he may select. The greatest result in the shortest time and with the least expenditure of force is an expression of the highest culture we can have. In saying this, he claimed to be in unison with the founders of our educational enterprise. If the system does not apply to our depopulated districts with their short schools, and it does not, then we must set up our ideal model and all strive for it together. We must modify machinery and give encouragement to normal means and ways of instruction.

Public sentiment and effort should encourage and support teachers in their endeavors for personal qualifications for their work, and normal schools be multiplied. The lecture was frequently applauded, at the close of which a resolution of thanks was unanimously passed.

The following resolution was also introdued and adopted during the passage down to Alton Bay on the steamer on Saturday morning:

Resolved: That the hearty and sincere thanks of the members of the N. H. Teachers' Association are hereby extended to Capt. Wiggin of the steamer Mt. Washington for the courtesy extended to them, in running his boat from Wolfeboro' to Alton Bay for their special accommodation, on the morning of Oct. 16th.

Letter from Dartmouth.

HANOVER, Oct. 18.

On account of the Referee ordering the race between the class of '76 and '78 rowed over again, the race took place Friday afternoon and was won by '76 in 14min., 52sec. It was very exciting and close, the crew of '78 coming a few seconds later. On Saturday afternoon the six oared race between '76 and '79 took place, and was easily won by '76, in 14min., 44sec. This race decided to whom the colors were due. Then the final single scull race was rowed by Peabody, '76 and Newell, '79. Here was also an easy victory for '76.

In the evening the presentation of prizes took place at Culver Hall. The Glee Club furnished the music. Prof. Young presented the colors to the victorious boat crew ('76) and the silver goblet to the victor (H. G. Peabody, '76) in the single scull race. Prof. Parker in a happy and pleasant speech presented the prizes for the other athletic sports. For the throwing of the base ball, first, W. C. Clarke, '76, C. S. D., a silver napkin ring; second, J. W. Staples, '76, a base ball. Throwing the heavy hammer W. W. Prescott, '77, silver card receiver. Putting the heavy weight, S. Wallace, '77, gold mounted napkin ring. Hundred yards dash, first, W. W. Prescott, '77, silver cup; second, J. W. Staples, '76, a gold pen. One mile walk, W. G. Davis, '77, silver cup. Best three jumps, T. Flint, '76, silver cup. One mile run, E. C. Stimson, '76, a silver goblet. Wheelbarrow race, C. W. Whitcomb, '76, silver cup. Running long jump, first, S. Young, '79, silver cup; second, G. Goodhue, '76, a gold pen. Standing long jumps, G. Goodhue, '76, a silver cup. Hurdle race, first, W. C. Clark, '76, C. S. D., silver urn; second, J. E. Ingham, '77, silver cup. Three mile walk, first, L. Parkhurst, '78, silver urn; second, W. S. Sayres, '76, silver cup. Three mile run, first, C. D. Lamb, '79, C. S. D., silver ice pitcher, salver and goblet; second, E. C. Stimson, '76, silver card receiver. Hop, skip and jump, first, G. Goodhue, '76, silver card receiver; second, S. Young, '79, gold pencil. Running high jump, J. E. Ingham, '77, silver cup. Standing high jump, G. F. Kenaston, '79, silver napkin ring. Sack race, R. F. Hall, '76, silver vase. Quarter mile run, J. E. Ingham, '77, silver urn. Three legged race, Staples and Whitcomb, '76, each a cane.

After the presentation of prizes the seniors in Reed Hall held a reception to their classmates and Professors.

The crew of '76 consisted of Stimson, bow and capt., Staples, No. 2, Marshall, No. 3, Piper, No. 4, Hay No. 5, Peabody, stroke.

News and Notes

Ex-Senator Zach. Chandler, of Michigan, was offered the position of Secretary of the Interior, Tuesday morning, accepted and was sworn in at noon.

John Fletcher of Tilton had his skull fractured by the breaking of some machinery in the Granite mill where he was at work, last Thursday.

R. M. Pulsifer, Esq., of the Boston Herald is to be Mayor of Newton, Mass. He is an able business man.

If the proprietors would start the woolen mill and somebody would build a railroad from Littleton to the Profile House, the dwellers in that town would be happy.

The creditors of Lee & Shepard, Boston, accept twenty per cent. of their dues in settlement of all claim against the firm.

A party of boys playing ball near the St. Joseph Orphan Asylum, at St. Louis, Sunday afternoon, got into trouble with the orphans and there was a general battle, in which stones and other missiles were used. James Duffy, a boy about 17 years old, was hit on the head with a piece of coal thrown by one of the orphans. His skull was badly fractured, from the effects of which he died.

Chharles Runnels of New Durham, in turning his team in the streets at New Durham Corner, was thrown from his carriage against a stone and instantly killed. He was 35 years of age.

The jury now on duty at Concord is an eyesore to the Concord papers. Says the Monitor: A Merrimack county jury recently rendered one of the most surprising verdicts ever known in the court house of this city. Trial by jury is falling into disfavor in this State.

Democratic gamblers in New York started out, a month since, with betting on 70,000 majority for Tilden in the coming State election. They have now quietly come down to 20,000.

The Manchester Mirror asks perplexing conundrums of its democratic friends, saying: Will our democratic brothers who are trying to cheat their readers into the belief that their defeat in Ohio is due wholly to the rag-baby, please explain how it comes about that in Iowa the republican majority has been doubled within two years, and in Nebraska is increased one-half since last year? There wasn't any financial fight to speak of in Iowa, and in Nebraska the democrats stood on the hardest of hard-money platforms. What's the matter out West, gentlemen?

There were no deaths in Claremont during September and but four in August. The town has a population of over 4,000.

Ex-Senator Schurz does not think the rag baby is dead yet. He said in an interview with a reporter on Friday that the majority against inflation was not large enough to induce its advocates to abandon the cause, and that the friends of honest money must continue the fight with undiminished vigor.

New cider is selling at Enfield for $3 per barrel.

Isaac McAffee (colored), on trial for causing the terrible railroad accident, on the Selma, Rome and Dalton Railroad, about a year ago, by placing obstructions on the track, was convicted and sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment. Two white men are to be tried for the same offence.

Clarke Edmonson, charged with raping a white woman in Fayette county, Ga., was taken out of jail by some 200 or 300 people, early on Sunday morning, and hanged on the gallows that his brother was hanged on a week before.

Gen. Butler considers the result of the Ohio election as a virtual victory for the opponents of forced resumption. If the school question had not been raised Allen would have carried the State by a large majority. He thinks the moral effect of the republican victory in Ohio will carry Pennsylvania for the republicans.

A Mr. Cloutman, on a wager, drew a Mr. Giles, weighing 130 pounds, in a trotting gig from Farmington to Rochester, eight miles, in two hours and fifty seconds, and won $5.

Three or four tramps attempted to rob a Mr. Mooney of Rochester as he was walking one of the streets of that town on the evening of the 10th. They were frightened off by a shot from his revolver.

Japan advices confirm the loss of the steamer Sunda, which struck a rock near Turnabout Island, and sunk, the 16th of September. Only seven natives were lost; all the rest, including passengers and crew were saved, and with the mails were forwarded from Shanghae to Yokohama on the 21st.

T. J. Hoss, cashier of the First National Bank of Tiffin, Ohio, who committed suicide last Friday, was a defaulter and a forger on his best friends.

A large barn on the Parker place, Litchfield, was destroyed by fire on the 18th. The barn contained a large amount of hay, grain and farming tools, which were destroyed. The house adjoining was saved. Loss estimated at $2000; insured.

Rev. Dr. Fulton's New York society has failed to pay off the $19,000 debt against the church. The failure is attributed as a result of the unpleasantness existing between Fulton and his people.

Rev. John Andrew (colored) who killed his wife last April at Georgetown, Delaware, has been convicted of murder in the second degree. He was sentenced to stand on the pillory one hour, and be whipped with sixty lashes, Saturday, to pay a fine of $5000 and be imprisoned for life.

The soldiers, at the reunion in Manchester, consumed 1500 gallons of coffee.

Mr. Charles G. Perkins of Hampton sells yearly about $100 of feathers, which are taken from the beach birds that he shoots.

Miss Ella Clapp is missing from Augusta, Me., under circumstances which inspire apprehensions of another fearful tragedy.

Jottings.

Maggie Mitchell had a $750 house, last week.

Those who were fortunate enough to listen to the eloquent and finished lecture of Dr. B. Loring at the Methodist church on Monday evening will long remember the pleasure and instruction gained from the orator's rich mine of learning and observation. The audience dispersed with feelings of gratitude to the speaker for inspiring them with a wholesome pride in their nationality and a confidence that the caustic question of Mr. Everett forty years ago "who reads an American book," will give place to the more flattering question of "who does not read an American book?"

The Eastern train at Newburyport at 6.45 Monday, ran over and killed an Irishman named John Maloney, who was walking on the track from the silver mines, where he worked. He was 65 years old and leaves a family. His body was literally crushed.

The democrats talk of running B. P. Shillaber Esq., for Senator from the Chelsea district.

The Wolfeboro' News says that at the recent meeting of the stockholders of the Wolfeboro' Railroad, Superintendent Sanborn reported that the business in freight and passengers had largely increased the last year, and given good encouragement of future advancement of the interest of all parties concerned. The following board of directors was unanimously chosen: John Wooldridge of Lynn; Frank Jones, Portsmouth; Geo. W. Burleigh, Great Falls; John M. Brackett, Joseph L. Avery, Blake Folsom of Wolfeborough; and John W. Sanborn, Wakefield. At a subsequent meeting of the board of Directors, John Wooldridge was chosen President.

It is hoped the Direct Cable will be repaired by Nov. 10th. The Faraday has sailed from London for the purpose.

The Black Crook play will be reproduced at the Temple on Friday evening next by Howard & Carle, under whose direction it has hithertofore been presented, and who hold the sole right to play the original drama in New England, and promise an entertainment equal, if not superior, to any of their previous efforts.

The fishing schooner Dashaway, of Newcastle, when off Whalesback light on Tuesday, was run into and sunk by schooner Gen Howard of Gardiner, Me. The Dashaway was recently purchased by Selden F. Wells and Jotham Emery of Newcastle, from William H. Thompson, of Boston, and was to have been used for Winter fishing by Messrs. Wells and Emery, upon whom the loss falls quite heavily. The Dashaway was returning from a fishing trip. Capt. Emery, Mr. Wells and Edward B. Amazeen, the master and crew, escaped in a dory, losing everything but the clothes they had on.

James Wright, of Seabrook, fourteen years old, was complained of before the Police Court, Tuesday, by a Boston detective, on the charge of setting fire to the Hampton Falls academy last May. He was held in the sum of $3000 to appear next Saturday.

Mr. Joseph W. Harlow is achieving quite a reputation as a silhouette artist, his latest achievement in that line being a perfect presentment of the worthy b flat player in the Naval Band.

The Circuit Court commenced a session in this city on Tuesday. The grand jurors are: Edwin A. Peterson, Greenland, Foreman; Henry A. Orne, Brentwood; Hiram Basford, Chester; Joseph F. Pease, Candia; Page A. Hunt, Danville; Benjamin S. Brown, Deerfield; Israel G. Goodwin, Derry; Nathaniel Bachelder, East Kingston; George S. Thompson, Epping; Joseph D. Marsh, Exeter; Joseph S. Dearborn, Fremont; Orin P. Chandler, Hampstead; Samuel W. Dearborn, Hampton; Charles C. Green, Hampton Falls; George W. Walton, Kensington; Alfred Towle, Kingston; William P. Nevins, Londonderry; William J. Yeaton, Newcastle; Jackson M. Hoyt, Newington; Andrew J. Doe, Newmarket; John M. Emery, Newton; George A. Boynton, North Hampton. The Grand Jury is out. There are seventeen prisoners for trial in Portsmouth jail, and fifteen at Exeter. Among them is David Magoun of Raymond for the poisoning of his wife Mehitable. His trial is fixed for Nov. 1.

Roberts Brothers, Boston have published another of Susan Coolidge's popular books for children entitled "NINE LITTLE GOSLINGS," being short stories based upon nine of Mother Goose's Rhymes. Illustrated; Price $1.50.

Sheldon & Company will publish in a few days a second series of "OUR FAVORITES," by Prof. A. C. Kendrick, of Rochester University, containing selections of longer English poems. The remarkable success of the first series proved that Dr. Kendrick, with his fine poetic taste, had made a selection of unusual excellence; and this new series will doubtless find a ready sale.

The premium engraving, issued by "Peterson's Magazine" for 1876, is of rare excellence and beauty. It is a first-class line and stipple engraving, executed in the highest style of art. The picture represents two charming little children, still in their night-dresses, at papa and mamma's chamber door, at early dawn, coming to wish them a "Merry Christmas." It is a picture that will go to every heart. You can get it, gratis, by raising a club for "Peterson" for 1876, or by remitting $2.50 for it and for the magazine, the magazine alone being two dollars. Address Chas. J. P. W. T. A. Society.

The annual meeting of the Portsmouth Washington Total Abstinence Society was held at the office of the Secretary, Mr. A. F. Craig, on Saturday evening, and the following officers elected:

President, J. Horace Kent;
Vice President, John A. Goss;
Sec. and Treas., A. F. Craig;
Exec. Com., Isaac Dow, Thos. E.O. Marvin, Wm. D. Fernald, John S. Rand, Frank W. Miller, B. F. Thorndike. A. P. Stevens.

The treasurer reported $350 of funds in bank, besides about $250 belonging to the Society which a former Treasurer has not yet paid over,

A committee appointed at the last annual meeting, to revise the roll of the Society, and return a list of the members who are known to be living and true to their pledge, reported about three hundred names, of whom only about one-half were accepted and endorsed by the meeting as true andworthy members. The old Society propose to take measures to renew and increase their roll; and any person whether old or young, male or female, desiring to join the Society, is invited to do so at any time, by signing their names, at Mr. Craig's office.

Another meeting of the Society, to discuss measures for the promotion of temperance, is to be held at the Secretary's office on Saturday evening, Oct. 30th, when all members, and others interested, are invited to be present.

—The Wabash Herald says: They tell a good one on our friend Rahilly, which is said to have found its way into the papers, but we confess that thus far, we have failed to see it though we have a faint recollection of having seen something like it applied to another man. At any rate it will do to tell again. It is said that he once opened a speech in the Senate after this fashion:

"Gentlemen, I am neither a scholar nor an aristocrat, but a plain man, brought up on a farm. More than that, gentlemen, I was born on a farm, and, in fact, grew up between two rows of corn"—at this a reckless chap in the gallery yelled out, "A pumpkin, by Jove."

—A woman, writing from Washington, says: "The custom of my own sex—in interchanging kisses whenever they meet—has been so much ridiculed that it is going out of fashion among refined people, and is kept alive in the rural districts, where railroad, telegraph, and newspaper facilities are unknown."

—In Mower County, Minn., an imprudent dog went to sleep under the tumbling-rod of a thrashing machine and was caught by the tail and wound up till the tail gave way and came out.

How to Vanquish the Stomach's Tormentor.

If the Enemy of mankind was permitted to exert his diabolical ingenuity in the invention of a new disease, he could scarcely devise one more worthy of his genius than dyspepsia. The dyspeptic sufferer is tormented by symptoms resembling those of almost every known malady, and is often worried into monomania by these conflicting and perplexing manifestations. A favorite though absurd hallucination of the victim of chronic indigestion is that he or she has heart disease. Dyspepsia has often been pronounced incurable, but experience has shown that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will vanquish it, together with the constipation and bilious derangement which usually accompany it. Diseases of the kidneys and supposed rheumatic pains are also frequent concomitants of dyspepsia, but they, too, succumb to the above named invaluable corrective.

A FAMOUS MEDICAL INSTITUTION.
From the Chicago Times.

"The name of Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has become as familiar to the people all over the country as 'household words.' His wonderful remedies, his pamphlets and books, and his large medical experience, have brought him into prominence, and given him a solid reputation. The Times, in the present issue, presents a whole page communication from Dr. Pierce, and our readers may gain from it some idea of the vast proportions of his business and the merits of his medicines. He has at Buffalo a mammoth establishment, appropriately named 'The World's Dispensary,' where patients are treated, and the remedies compounded. Here nearly a hundred persons are employed in the several departments, and a corps of able and skilled physicians stand ready to alleviate the suffering of humanity by the most approved methods. These physicians are in frequent consultation with Dr. Pierce, and their combined experience is brought to bear on the successful treatment of chronic cases. The Doctor is a man of large medical experience, and his extensive knowledge of materia medica has been acknowledged by presentations of degrees from two of the first Medical Colleges in the land."

If you would patronize Medicines, scientifically prepared by a skilled Physician and Chemist, use Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines. Golden Medical Discovery is nutritious, tonic, alterative and blood cleansing, and an unequalled Cough Remedy; Pleasant Purgative Pellets, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, constitute an agreeable and reliable physic; Favorite Prescription, a remedy for debilitated females; Extract of Smart-Weed, a magical remedy for Pain, Bowel Complains, and an unequalled Liniment for both human and horse-flesh; while his Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is known the world over as the greatest specific for Catarrh and "Cold in the Head" ever given to the public. They are sold by Druggists.

Unpleasantness Among the Sisters.

[Brunswicker.]

They came near having a row in a colored prayer meeting at Keyetesville a few nights ago. One of the sisters, who had a grievance, prayed:

"O, Lord! look down 'pon Dy resembled children hyar dis evenin', an' moob 'em with Dy grace. Tetch dyar harts wid de spirit ob all 'bounding lub. Build up dar faith so strong dat de debbil can't budge it, an' 'specially would we ax, if it am possible wid de Redeemer, dat Dou put a little moah sense into the obfusticated pate ob de yallaw wench what am a-gigglin' on de bench preopposite Dy belubbed servant."

"What's dat you'se sayin' to de Lord 'bout me?" asked the wench, rising to a point of order.

Not seeming to notice the interruption, the supplicator continued:

"Gib our fool and errin' sister more disgumption, O, Lord! to see de differumence atwixt right an' wrong, an' learn de huzzy to behave hersef in Dy holy sankchooary, 'stead of wrigglum 'round like she was swallowed a corkscrew, an' 'taminetin' dese saked presinks wid unholy winkin's at de male an' maskeline proportion ob dis assembled gaderin'. An' oh—"

"It's a lie! good Lord, it's a lie! an' Dou in Dy inflammable wisdom knows I neber done it?" shouted the traduced member, who had now become nearly wild with rage. "Dar's not one particle of troof in it. It's a lie, an' I can mash de liar!"

With these words she threw herself over the bench on to the back of the kneeling sister, plunged her hands into the bustle of that devout but indiscreet person and lifted her up bodily.

Confusion reigned and dire dismay was in many faces that but a moment before were bright with the hope of Heaven. But a stalwart deacon finally separated the females, calmed their excited feelings, and, addressing the relieved audience in an impressive tone, said:

"Bredren, it am better dat we dwell togeder in impunity. Less 'peal to de frone ob grace dat dar be no moah such 'graceful disruption in our midst. Will Brudder Johnson please make de 'peal in one ob his powerful prahrs?"

And the appeal was well and timely made.

—Scolding is mostly a habit. There is not much meaning in it. It is often the result of nervousness and an irritable condition of both mind and body. A person is tired or annoyed at some trivial cause, and forthwith commences finding fault with everything and everybody in reach. The habit is very easily formed. It is astonishing how soon one who indulges in it at all becomes addicted to it and confirmed in it. It is an unreasoning and unreasonable habit. Persons who once get in the way of scolding always find something to scold about. If there is nothing else, they fall to scolding at the mere absence of anything to scold at. It is an extremely disagreeable habit. It is contagious. Once introduced into a family, it is pretty certain, in a short time, to affect all the members. People in the country more readily fall into the habit of scolding than people in town. Women contract the habit more frequently than men. This may be because they live more constantly in a confined and heated atmosphere, very trying to the nervous system and the health in general; and it may be, partly, that their natures are more susceptible and their sensitiveness more easily wounded.

—A stone has fallen from the pagoda of Juggernaut at Ponce. The fall of the stone is a serious matter, as there is a prophecy that when the first stone is unfastened the Temple shall not stand. The Temple was built in the middle of the twelfth century, and during the last 700 years not a trowel has been laid upon it in the way of repairs. Whatever demerits Buddhism may have, it seems to have been a most excellent religion in the matter of contracts, and one that might be adopted with profit in these latter days, so far as public buildings are concerned.

OF MICHIGAN LANDS,
FOR SALE!
The Lands of the Jackson, Lansing & Saginaw Railroad Company are now Offered For Sale.
They are situated along its railroad and contain large tracts of excellent FARMING and PINE Lands. The farming lands include some of the most fertile and well-watered hardwood lands in the State. They are timbered mainly with hard-maple and beech; soil black, sandy loam, and abound in springs of pure, cool water. Michigan is one of the least indebted and most prosperous State in the Union, and its farmers have a greater variety of crops and resources than any Western state. While some of the Prairie States may produce corn in great abundance, they have no other resource, and when this crop fails destitution follows, as has been the case the past year in Kansas and Nebraska. For Maps, Circulars and further information, apply to or address O. M. BARNES, Land Commissioner, Lansing, Michigan.

NEW TESTIMONIALS.
— FOR —
Weak Lungs, Constipation, Lameness, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Paralysis, Poor Blood and Kidney Troubles.

One Box Dr. Quain's Condition Pills "Nearly Cured Where All Else Failed."
LOWELL, MASS, July 20th, 1874.
T. W. LANE:—I have used one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, am glad to state in my case they have proved all that you claim for them. I have been troubled with Bad Blood and all its consequent diseases, and have tried several kinds of Bitters and Pills without receiving much benefit, until I tried the CONDITION PILLS, and they have nearly cured where all else failed. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.
Yours, very truly,
J. D. WHITAKER.

Testimony of a Clergyman---Liver and Kidney Troubles.
EAST TILTON, N. H., April 14, 1875.
MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are not only the best, but the very best I ever used. My wife has been troubled with Kidney Complaint many years; one-half of a package has cured her, so that she feels as well as ever. I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years; one-half of a package has done me more good than all the Pills I ever took. One of my neighbors took them, who has been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years: three Pills have helped him. Your Pills, where used, commend their virtues. Please send to my address one package.
REV. JOHN DAVIS.

Liver Compaint and Rheumatism so that he Could not Sleep Nights.
I was born and always lived in Pittsfield, N. H.; am now 50 years old; been troubled with Liver Complaint for 30 years, and Rheumatism for 20 years, sometimes so I could not sleep nights. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good and relieved more suffering than all the medicine I have taken during my life.
S. S. RING.
Pittsfield, N. H., Dec. 17, 1874.

Fever and Ague.
NEW BOSTON, N. H., Feb. 1, 1875.
T. W. LANE.—SIR:—Last month I sent to you for a package of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS. I had tried five so-called ague cures, and I received more benefit from five of your pills than from all the "Cures" "Cholrogues," "Quinine," &c., that I have taken in two years. I cannot recommend it too highly for diseases resulting from long standing Fever and Ague.
Yours, most respectfully,
MRS. C. GARLAND.

Scaly Humor Cured by One Package---Liver Complaint Helped.
NORTH SALEM, N. H., Jan. 5, 1875.
MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—Your Pills are all they are recommended. I was troubled with a Scaly Humor on my legs; I took one package and my legs are quite smooth. My wife was troubled with Liver Complaint; she took one package and they helped her greatly.
Yours, with respect,
JOHN H. BLAKE.

From a Leading Citizen of Rindge.
WEST RINDGE, Cheshire Co., N. H., November 17, 1874.
THOS. W. LANE:—After taking three packages of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I am prepared to say they are the very best, for I have tried a great many kinds, and faithfully too, believing they would help me, to no effect.—These I do believe are the very best ever made; just the kind a man needs. May they be spread all over the wide world, and Dr. Quain's name a household word.
Yours truly,
ASA STICKNEY.

Felt Better, Stronger and Gained Flesh in One Week.

AFTER TAKING DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS.
ROLLINSFORD, N. H.
THOS. W. LANE:—I commenced to take DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and in one week I was heavier, felt better, and was stronger than before, and any one troubled with BAD BLOOD can find sure remedy in these Pills.
Nov. 3, 1874. L. M. YEATON.

CHESTER, N. H., Feb. 24, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been out of health for some time, and I took a very bad cold and it left my lungs in a very weak state. I received DR. Quain's Condition Pills and took them according to the directions, and my lungs are some better. I can recommend them to any one who is troubled with weak lungs, for they have done me good, and I think another package will cure me. Dr. Quain's Pills ought to be known throughout the world. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.
Yours, &c., CYRUS LANE.

HILLSBORO BRIDGE, Feb. 25, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—Dr. Quain's Condition Pills are the best I ever used for lameness and pain. The first dose I took removed the pain and lameness that I have been troubled with for several years. Others have used quite a number of the pills besides myself. Please send another package by return of mail.
MRS. DANIEL KIMBALL.

GILMANTON I. W., N. H., Feb. 25, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been taking Dr. Quain's Condition Pills, and can recommend them as far ahead of common pills for purification of the bowels; they do not have the debilitating effect of common purgatives I have taken.
MRS. J. B. GOODWIN.

NORTHWOOD CENTRE, March 1, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I saw Dr. Quain's Condition Pills highly recommended, and sent for a package, and I feel that they have done more for me than all the medicine I have taken for years, and can freely recommend them to others, as a good and sure medicine. Please send me another package as soon as possible.
MARTHA NORCROSS.

BRISTOL, N. H., Feb. 27, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have made a fair trial of those Condition Pills, and like them very much. I think they are all they are recommended. They are a good Liver invigorator.
N. F. DANFORTH.

SALEM DEPOT, N. H., March 8, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE:—I think these pills (Dr. Quain's Condition Pills) are all they claim to be. My wife and I are both victims of Liver and Kidney Complaint, and general debility. We have taken about half that package you sent me, and find a marked improvement in our health. I want four packages to give away in the north part of Vermont, to friends up there. I enclose $2.00, and if you can, send me four Packages.
ROYAL SCOTT.

SOUTH PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., March 11, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE:—I have given Dr. Quain's Condition Pills a trial, and find I can honestly recommend them, they having materially improved the soreness and lameness with which I was afflicted since getting upon my feet after the Paralysis of left side that I suffered last October. I desire you to send me another package as soon as convenient, as I have no intention of parting with them. Though not now a resident of New England, I have lived in Central Vermont more than any years, and trust Dr. Quain's Pills will not long be new in that section.
MOSES SHELDON.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have been troubled with Biliousness, Headache, and Dizziness, for a long time, and had the Dyspepsia so bad there were but few kinds of food my stomach would bear at all. I commenced taking your pills, have taken most of one package, and now enjoy eating as well as I ever did, am not troubled with dizziness unless by taking cold, and have been greatly benefited by the use of them.
A. L. PAGE.

FRANCESTOWN, March 18, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE:—I have found Dr. Quain's Condition Pills to be all you claim for them in Kidney Complaint, poor blood, and weak nerves. May they be circulated over the land and found in every household where medicine is needed. I enclose 50 cts. for another package as soon as convenient.
JOHN T. FELCH.

Better Health than for 10 Years.
CHESTER, N. H., Oct. 17, 1874.
MR. LANE:—I have taken one package of Condition Pills; find them in my case all they are recommended; have not enjoyed so good health for the last ten years as I have since I commenced taking the Condition Pills. Shall be happy to recommend them to others.
WILLIAM H. FELLOWS.

☞ DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are sold by the Agent of the American Medicine Co. A package will be forwarded upon receipt of fifty cents, by THOMAS W. LANE, agent, Manchester, N. H.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs
NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in a fair train to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges.
JOHN TAGGART."

LOCAL AGENTS
WANTED.
An Agent Wanted for Each Town and County in the United States.
Parties desiring to act as agents must accompany their application by a letter of recommendation as to character and responsibility from and signed by the Editor of a newspaper published in the town or county for which the agent proposes to act. The agency is to sell the bonds of the Industrial Exhibition Company.

BONDS, $20 EACH.
HALF BONDS, $10 EACH.
QUARTER BONDS, $5 EACH.

The Industrial Exhibition Company will furnish agents with circulars, &c., etc.
Each newspaper published in the town where an agent is located will, as soon as the agency is established, be given an advertisement, advertising such agency and the Company, and fully explaining the plans, purposes and objects of the Company. Such advertisement will continue in such papers as long as an agency is successfully conducted.
The Industrial Exhibition Company is the first to adopt the plan so long in use by the European governments of issuing bonds when the principal is made secure and not risked, but where there is a chance for a large premium, an investment of $20 is sure to return to the investor $21—one dollar more than cost—and the holder of a $20 Bond may obtain a premium either of $50, $100, $200, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000 or $100,000. The interest, which is ordinarily distributed to all the bondholders pro rata, is in this loan distributed by chance. The purchaser of a bond knows he will receive back his investment, with a small rate of interest, he has a chance in the above named premiums, which are simply the distribution of interest on the whole loan.
Each bond participates in four drawings each year, until it has drawn a premium, when it is surrendered, the premium paid, and the bond cancelled.
The Industrial Exhibition Company, under a special charter granted by the State of New York, is given authority to issue these bonds. The Legislature of the State, recognizing the great benefits which will arise from the success of this enterprise, have exempted all the real estate and property of the Company from taxation and assessments for five years, and has also conferred other great privileges.
Every American who understands the purposes of this Company will, of a necessity, feel a pride in aiding it to a successful termination.
Each individual who buys a bond becomes an owner and an interested party, and when he views the structure erected with his money can say, "I aided to erect in our country the most magnificent building the world has ever seen, a palace which, in truth, represents the industry, energy and mechanical genius of the American people."
The manufacturers and the inventors of America are peculiarly interested in the success of this enterprise, for the reason that it is to be their home, where all their inventions and manufactures can be exhibited and sold.
The building will contain 5,320,000 square feet of space.
Purchasers desiring Bonds before an agency is established where they reside, will communicate direct with this office, from where they can be supplied.
Parties desiring to act as agents or to purchase bonds will address

PULMOCINE.

Pulmocine Cordial.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England,
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

$100,000
GIVEN AWAY!
The Union Pocket Book Co.
having secured by cash purchase the entire bankrupt stock of Messrs H. Morlond & Co., consisting of 400,000 Portmonies,
(POCKET BOOKS,)
of the best manufacture and superb quality, each pocket book being made of Real Morocco Leather; to effect a speedy clearance sale and having in view the old motto of the house, Certain Profits with Quick Returns, the company have decided on giving each individual purchaser the full benefit of this remunerative bargain by giving away One Hundred Thousand Dollars, in
2818 MONEY PRIZES!
THE FIRST PRIZE BEING $20,000 CASH.
" SECOND " " $10,000 "
" THIRD " " $5,000 "
and 2815 other money prizes as follows, viz.:

25	PRIZES OF	$1000	CASH,	EACH.
40	"	"	500	"	"
50	"	"	100	"	"
100	"	"	50	"	"
200	"	"	20	"	"
400	"	"	10	"	"
2000	"	"	1	"	"

The above prizes with the cost of advertising and other incidental expenses, giving the purchasers two-thirds of the profits that accrue on the entire sale, and to enable every one to have an equal share in the profits, with the certainty of receiving treble the value for their small investment and the further opportunity of surely gaining a share in the distribution of $100,000, and this too by the riskless outlay of $1 only.
The Union Pocket Book Co. will deliver free to any address on receipt of One Dollar, a GENUINE MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK, together with a COUPON TICKET,
entitling and giving the holder a share in the drawing of 2818 CASH PRIZES, of the aggregate value of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS CURRENCY. The Company guarantee to return to each purchaser at least treble the value for his money.
How can this be accomplished? it is question many will doubtless ask themselves, and foreseeing this we offer the following lucid explanation.
The Trade assignee, anxious to dispose of and realize on the entire stock of the bankrupts in one sale, accepted our offer of $100,000 cash for the lot; after advertising same for sale for one month, and not receiving a single offer, which in the present depression of business and almost total stagnation of trade is not to be wondered at; notwithstanding that our offer was one third less than the actual cost of the manufacture of the Pocket Books. The assignee having to at once realize the effects of the bankrupts, in the interests of the creditors he had no alternative but to accept the offer and sell us the lot at our own price, thereby enabling us to distribute in prizes $100,000 amongst the purchasers, and at the same time retain a fair marginal profit for ourselves; thus you obtain fully double the value of the amount you forward us and it depends on your luck what amount you gain of the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Money Prizes.
THE SALE WILL POSITIVELY CLOSE ON
MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1875,
and orders for pocket books should therefore be forwarded to us at once—no application by letter after Saturday, November 20th, can be entertained.
1000 of the Pocket Books are of the patented manufacture, superior in value to the remainder, the retail price of the same being $8, and these will be forwarded to early purchasers until disposed of.
Therefore those who send immediate orders will reap the advantage of receiving a superior article.
Remittances can be sent us either for one or any number of pocket books by draft, post office orders, or greenbacks in registered letter by express, etc.
Post Office orders are dated but not made payable in favor of Frank Stewart, the Company's Manager; Post Office orders to be drawn on General Post Office, Philadelphia, and drafts on the First National Bank.
The Drawing of Prizes will take place at the Company's Principal Office, 630 Locust Street, Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, on
WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1875
and the winning numbers will be advertised in this Journal and the principal Philadelphia and New York newspapers of Saturday, November 27th.
The Prizes will be forwarded in drafts, greenbacks or by post office order per registered letter by Monday's morning mails, November 29th, or if preferred prizes can be paid over by express, or in any other manner purchasers may select, providing same be signified by them when forwarding orders for pocket books.
Remember this is no lottery, but a bona fide business system founded on a true financial basis which enables the Company to convert into money an otherwise surplus stock, and thus with a good profit to both the purchasers and themselves, effecting a speedy clearance stock which in the present dull times is the great desiderata that in no other way can be successfully attained.
We guarantee each pocket book to be of the best manufacture; of pure morocco leather and intrinsically worth in retail trade at the lowest rate of from $3 to $4.
This is an opportunity that should not be let pass by; one and all should embrace this chance; We afford every one an opportunity of realizing a share in $100,000 at the insignificant outlay of $1 (one dollar) for which they receive three fold and those who let this fortuitous chance escape them will have only themselves to blame.
All letters replied to same day as received. We advise inclosing postage stamps to forward order immediately which will prevent disappointment and receive prompt attention.
Remember, every one who sends ONE DOLLAR before November 20th, 1875, receives A MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK of the value of from $3 to $4 and a COUPON, giving them a share in the drawing of $100,000.
ADDRESS ALL ORDERS, LETTERS, ETC., TO
The Union Pocket Book Company,
SOUTH-EAST CORNER 6TH AND LOCUST STREETS,
PHILADELPHIA, PENN.
P. S.—Drawing absolute on Wednesday, November 24th. No postponement in the remote contingency of any number of the pocket books remaining unsold; a slight reduction not exceeding $5000 may be made proportionately from the prizes. (nov16

SCRIBNERS' MONTHLY for 1876.

The publishers invite attention to the following list of some of the attractive articles secured for Scribner's Monthly, for the coming year. In the field of fiction, besides numerous novelettes and shorter stories, there will be

TWO REMARKABLE SERIAL STORIES,

By American Authors.

The first of these, now complete in our hands,

"GABRIEL CONROY,"

By BRET HARTE,

Begins in the November number, and will run for twelve months. This is Mr. Harte's first extended work. The scenes and characters which the author has chosen from his favorite field, California, are painted with characteristic vividness and power; and the work is without doubt the most graphic record of California life that has yet appeared.

We shall also begin in the January number,

"PHILIP NOLAN'S FRIENDS,

OR, SHOW YOUR PASSPORTS,"

By EDWARD EVERETT HALE.

The scene of this story is laid in the Southwestern territory, now forming the States of Louisiana and Texas, at the time of Aaron Burr's treason. The characters lived in a section which was now American, now French, and now Spanish, and this record of their adventurous lives makes a story of intense and unflagging interest throughout.

A SECOND "FARMER'S VACATION,"

By Col. GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

Col. Waring is now in Europe, visiting, in a rowboat ride of two hundred and fifty miles, one of the most fertile and interesting of the vine growing valleys of Europe. This second series of papers promises to be even more interesting than that with which our readers are already familiar.

CENTENNIAL LETTERS,

Edited by John Vance Cheney.

A rare collection of Revolutionary Letters, mainly from stores in the hands of the descendants of Col. Joseph Ward. They are full of interest, and will be read with a rare relish in connection with the Centennial celebration of the year.

BRILLIANTLY ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES ON

AMERICAN COLLEGES,

Written respectively by their friends, will appear during the year. The revived interest in college life makes these papers especially timely, and will be sure for them unusual attention.

OLD NEW YORK,

Elegantly illustrated articles on Old New-York, by John F. Hines, will appear at once, and will attract the attention of all, in city or country, who mark with interest the development of the great metropolis, and remember the quaint peculiarities of its olden time.

Every number is profusely illustrated, thus enabling us to give to our descriptive and narrative articles, an interest and permanent value never attained in a non illustrated periodical. Under its accustomed management the magazine will in the future be devoted, as it has been in the past, to sound literature and Christian progress.

The Editorial Departments occupy over twenty pages of each number and contain Dr. Holland's vigorous and timely editorials, as well as Reviews of the latest works in Art, Literature, and Science.

TERMS:

$4.00 A YEAR, in advance; 35 cents a Number.

The 10 vols, complete, Nov. 1870, to Oct. 1875, bound in maroon cloth.....$20.00

do. do. bound in half morocco, 30.00

Vols. begin in November and May. Any of the earlier volumes (I to VIII) will be supplied separately to parties who wish them to complete sets at this rate, i. e., cloth, $2 00; half morocco, $3.00.

Booksellers and Postmasters will be supplied at rates that will enable them to fill any of the above offers.

Subscribers will please remit in P. O. Money Orders, or in Bank Checks or Drafts, or by registered letters. Money in letters not registered, at sender's risk.

Peterson's Magazine

POSTAGE PREPAID ON ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS.

☞ Every subscriber for 1876 will be presented with a superb, large sized steel engraving of Trumbull's celebrated picture of "The Signing of the Declaration of Independence." This will be "Peterson's" Centennial Gift. ☜

"PETERSON'S MAGAZINE" contains, every year, 1000 pages, 14 steel plates, 12 colored Berlin patterns, 12 mammoth colored fashion plates, 24 pages of music, and 900 wood cuts.

Great improvements will be made in 1876. Among them will be a series of illustrated articles on the Great Exhibition at Philadelphia, which will alone be worth the subscription price. They will be appropriately called

THE CENTENNIAL IN PEN AND PENCIL!

The immense circulation of "Peterson" enables its proprietor to steel more money on embellishments, stories, &c., &c., than any other. It gives more for the money than any in the world. Its

are the best published anywhere. All the most popular writers are employed to write originally for "Peterson." In 1876, in addition to the usual quantity of short stories, FIVE ORIGINAL COPYRIGHT NOVELETTES will be given, by Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Frank Lee Benedict, Mrs. F. H. Burnett, and others.

MAMMOTH COLORED FASHION PLATES

ahead of all others. These plates are engraved on steel, twice the usual size, and are unequalled for beauty. They will be superbly colored. Also, Household and other receipts; in short, everything interesting to ladies.

THE DUTY OF THE TEACHER TO THE PARENT.

[By Stephen W. Clarke, Prin. High School.]

The word Duty defines itself, and means something due from one party to another. It is something that we owe morally. Obligation comes from without, and when once assumed, a sense of duty from within should prompt to its fulfillment at any cost. To assume the obligations of the teacher is no light thing, and I have no sympathy with any person who would enter the profession without fully recognizing this fact. I can not see, however, that the teacher's duties can well be divided into several classes,—one to the committee, one to the parent, another to the pupil, and still another to himself. These are so interwoven that he who does his whole duty to one of the parties necessarily does it to all. We often talk of duty, as we talk of many other things, with ideas so dim and shadowy that no good comes of it to ourselves or to others.

One should not enter the profession, above all others, without a love for the work, and I can imagine no greater mistake than to persist in teaching, when it has become a mere irksome task. There is no higher calling on earth. Aristotle considered the domestic virtues of the highest importance, because in the family the young mind received the earliest and most lasting impressions. For a like reason teaching is the most important of the professions, for the teacher leaves the impress of his own mind and character upon those of the youth intrusted to his charge. If through his influence any young life becomes linked to some great truth or undying principle, he lives in that life to redeem still other lives, and thus gains a sort of earthly immortality. To give but a portion of one's self to such a work is almost a crime. He who enters the profession, should feel its sacred responsibility and give to it his undivided energies.

I know there is a temptation to look with longing, yes, almost covetous eyes upon the more stirring employments. And we sometimes hear a teacher grumble, because he thinks himself circumscribed and shut off from all preferment in the political world. But what of it? Ours is a profession that bestows upon the faithful an exceeding great reward. We have chosen our work, and we owe it to the world that that work be well and faithfully done. The parents of to-day hold us responsible, and their children will hereafter respect our memories, if we are true to them and to ourselves.

I appeal to him who has been longest in the school-room. Would you exchange the satisfaction you feel for having done your work well for a chance at back pay in Congress or a few shares in the Credit Mobilier? Let lawyers and doctors and ministers too, if they must and will, desert their honored professions to mingle with the half-frantic crowd who are elbowing their way to more questionable honors. We can not afford to do it! Let us maintain the dignity of our high calling, and keep ourselves unspotted before the world.

In order to make his services of the greatest possible value, the teacher should bring to his work the deepest and broadest culture he can acquire. He should know something beyond text-books. These serve well to insure study on the part of the pupil and method in the recitation room, but the ideas of the teacher should have a wider range. There is so much to be gained by the best possible use of the recitation hour, that the teacher should so prepare himself that none of its precious moments will be wasted. It is safe to say that the best teachers study the lessons with as much care as the best scholars among their pupils. When the work of recitation comes, they are not confined to the questions of the text-book, nor to the text-book itself.

One of the most thorough teachers I ever knew was Prof. Long of Dartmouth College, to whom it was my good fortune to recite in the most difficult of my college studies. His text-book was always carefully opened, and as carefully placed upon the desk, open side down. Then came the tug of war. For an hour the questions rained thick and fast, and not a single point in the lesson escaped him. Another such teacher was Dr. Hoyt, formerly Professor of Greek and Mathematics at Phillips' Academy, Exeter, save that he had greater power of illustration. Dr. Peabody speaks of "his success in the complete vivifying of the lesson in his own and to his pupils' consciousness." He was master of everything he pretended to teach, and perhaps with him the text book was of too little importance. I have heard him express his own idea of a good teacher in these two sentences: "His mind should be a fountain, and not a reservoir. His knowledge should gush up of itself, and not have to be drawn up by a windlass."

Pupils soon learn to respect a teacher who knows something, and ignorance is the last fault they will forgive. One of the earliest and latest and most constant duties of the teacher, or duty that he owes to all concerned, is daily study and reading, that his mental store-house may be well filled. His ideas should also be clear-cut and well-defined that the pupil will have no difficulty in understanding them, and above all the pupil should see that the teacher himself knows what he is talking about. I remember one of my school-masters who had a wonderful faculty of making everything as clear as mud, and many a time have I asked him a question, only to listen to a long harangue, set off with the most frantic gestures, and always ending as follows: "The whys and wherefores of all this are for your own edification;" but strange to say I never felt edified, and if I had never had better teachers, I should have looked upon the whole profession as a monstrous cheat.

Good teaching is the very foundation of everything that is good in a school. How can a teacher, who daily palms off on his pupils the most worthless counterfeit instead of sterling instruction, hope to instil good habits of thought and feeling? If his whole work is a fraud intel ectually, it will necessarily be so morally. If it is due the parent that the moral atmosphere of the school-room should be of the highest order, let us first of all do our teaching with religious fidelity; then the pupil will learn to do his work faithfully and well, and this is a morality that needs to be taught everywhere. When pupils are once interested in their work, the battle is more than half won. With tact and judgment on the part of the teacher, good order and a high sense of honor will then be readily attained.

What do we owe the parent on the score of discipline? The parent himself is first and chiefly responsible for the education of his child, physically, intellectually, morally and religiously. He delegates a part of his responsibility to the teacher, and for the time being the teacher acts for the parent. If there is anything that needs to be learned in this country of ours, it is that law should be held in high and solemn reverence. This should be the constant lesson of the school-room, and in the strictest obedience to the dictates of right and justice, the teacher himself should set the example. He should be firm, exacting and impartial, never harsh with the younger scholars and lax with the older. If the larger are made to behave, the smaller ones will. My own fingers tingle now from whippings which belonged to larger boys, who were mean enough to lie, and whom teachers were too cowardly to punish. But in matters of discipline there is little difficulty, when pupils once see that the teacher is kind and just, as well as firm.

Of course, there will be exceptions now and then, and harsher means must be used,—what, the teacher must decide for himself. When a lecturer or an essayist, in discussing this subject, leaves general principles and talks about special cases, he begins to show his ears. There are so many little circumstances and shadings connected with these special cases, that to judge of them rightly one has to be on the spot, and the teacher, if he has common sense, will almost always do what is best.

If there is, however, a really vicious pupil in school, it is due the parents of the other children that they be somehow protected from his contaminating influence.

Evil, when left unchecked, will communicate itself more rapidly than good. "Line upon line and precept upon precept" are needed to instil lessons of virtue, but evil only asks to be let alone, and it will gradually undermine the moral principle of too many who are not well and faithfully warned of its baneful influence and protected from it. We should make our pupils better, give them higher ideas of life and its possibilities, and never suffer the influences of the school room to make them worse.

We cannot always see the parents and talk with them about their children, but we can inform them by written or printed reports of their standing in both scholarship and deportment. If this is done once a month, it will awaken an interest on the part of the parents and tend to raise the standard in both scholarship and deportment. Parents need to know what is being done by their children, if they are expected to cooperate with the teacher.

There is another thing that teachers should remember. Many parents find it a burden to keep their children in school. there are so many expenses to be met, and perhaps the most burdensome of all seems to them to be the frequent change of text-books. This may be and generally is decided by the committee, but no committee will make frequent changes, unless urged to do so by the teachers. In the sciences recent discoveries and new theories may beget a great improvement, but often times changes are for the worse. We are too apt to think that the less there is in a book, especially of rules and principles, the better. There is now no royal road to learning more than there was years ago. Earnest study, and thorough and exhaustive teaching can alone make scholars. Let us not impose upon pupils and parents, but give the young something worthy to be called instruction.

The parent should have the sympathy of the teacher. The teacher justly claims that of the parent, and he should be willing to give, as well as to receive. We are too apt to think that when we have exacted from the pupil the highest possible per cent. in recitation, we have done our whole duty. This is not always the case. A year ago one of the candidates for the medals in my school had been absent two or three days to watch by the sick bed of her mother. In my opinion she was all the more deserving, and she received the medal, though a strict adherence to the letter of the conditions might have deprived her of it.

When the economy of our schools becomes a heartless one, we have lost the highest ends of all education.

The best lives are those of self-denial and sacrifice for the good of others.

From what I have said it is easy to infer what I think should be the teacher's intellectual and moral furnishing. If in addition to all this his scholarly acquirements should be irradiated by the light of a Christian faith, it would serve to give them a brighter lustre; even as "a lamp set in an alabaster vase brings out into bolder relief and clearer expression the beautiful figures which may be sculptured upon it."

The author of "Tom Brown at Rugby" speaks of the school as "a noble institution for the training of Christian Englishmen." It is our high privilege, fellow teachers, to make our schools noble institutions for the training of Christian Americans,—good men and women, good citizens, who will accept public trust only to serve the public, or in the private works of life will win the love and respect of those with whom they come in contact.

THURSSDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1875.

News and Notes

The average vote of Perrysburg, Ohio, at the recent election, was about four to each legal voter in the town. They all voted early and often, but the democrats managed to keep a little ahead. They overdid it, however, for the whole vote has been thrown out by the canvassers, so that Perrysburg really goes for nothing.

Governor Ames of Mississippi has concluded that he can get along without the use of troops.

Sixteenth Regiment, N. H. V.

At the Manchester Reunion, forty-seven members were present, and a Regimental Association was formed. The following officers were chosen:

President—Gen. Henry W. Fuller, late Lieut-Col., No. 5 Tremont St., Boston;

Adj. and Sec.—Rev. William A. Rand, late corporal Co. K., South Seabrook, N. H.;

Exec. Com.—Capt. Bela Sawyer, Co. A. Lyme, N. H., Lieut. David E. Burbank, Co. E., Norwich, Vt., Lucius B. Wright, Sergeant Co. B., No. 31 Pemberton Square, Boston.

A roster of the Regiment is being prepared, and information sent to the Secretary will be thankfully received.

Senator Morton asks: "What is the greenback?" It is the substance of things hoped for; the evidence of things not seen. It is a passport to favor and fawning; a whitener of character. It is an imitation of a dollar.

Two hundred dwellings, a synagogue and five schools in the town of Widsey, Russian Poland, have been burned. Some persons perished and 3000 are homeless.

Three inches of snow in Jericho, Vt.

The democrats of Mississippi are confident they can overcome the 30,000 republican majority there if they are kept well supplied with shotguns and ammunition.

The republican majority for Governor in Ohio is 5438.

About a week ago the Sheriff of Portage county, Wisconsin, named Baker, was killed by two brothers, named Ames and Isaac Cartwright, whom he attempted to eject from a building. A party of forty masked men went to the jail at Stevens' Point, seized the watch and put him in irons, beat down the outside doors, took out the Cartwrights and hanged them to a pine tree overhanging the road.

The total vote in Ohio is likely to go above 575,000, which is the largest vote ever given in the State.

As Stewart Fairweather of Dorchester, 17 years old, was on his way to school on the 13th, he was accidentally shot by George P. Sanborn, who was carrying a loaded gun. Over fifty shot struck his coat, and twenty-seven entered the body and neck of the unfortunate boy. It is thought he will recover.

The Cleveland Herald says it was the vote of the Western Reserve which saved Ohio, and that the vote was brought out by the school question.

The wife of Dea. Timothy Colby, of Hopkinton, placed some alcohol on the stove to heat, previously to application to a sick patient. Accidentally spilling a portion upon the heated iron, it took fire, and she attempted to smother it with her apron. Her dress became involved in the blaze and both her arms were badly burned to the elbows, while her neck was burned completely around. Her screams aroused her husband, who rushed to her from a distant apartment of the house, wrapped her in his coat and saved her life. Her wounds are not considered fatal.

The Charlestown (S. C.) News casts off the New York democrats, and says that the democracy of the South and West must be pusillanimous indeed if they submit any longer to their insolent and unscrupulous dictation.

The Western and Southern democratic inflation journals cling almost unanimously to their infatuation. A few of them are willing to compromise a little by making the currency a secondary issue, but the great part of them declare they will spill the party before they will take anything else as a leading question. A few days reflection will probably soften them some, but they are mad enough now to hold out a long time.

An unoccupied cottage in Bakersville, two miles from Manchester, owned by Col. Waterman Smith, was destroyed by fire on the 19th. Loss from $800 to $1200; insurance $400. Incendiary.

The Worcester Spy is in possession of facts that seem to settle conclusively that L. W. Pond, the missing man, is alive and a fugitive.

The Macon Telegraph seems quite free to announce that the defeat of the democracy in Ohio once more places the republicans within sight of the White House. The truth of this matter is the republicans have never lost sight of that agreeable and comfortable dwelling since 1860, and the probabilities are that they will keep in view of it so long as the country really needs their estimable services. It might be here remarked with all due modesty that from every indication perceivable it seems as though the country would need their services for many years to come.—Washington Republican.

The Cincinnati Enquirer estimates a loss of 25,000 votes to the Allen ticket in consequence of the issue made on the school question.

The Freshman class of Hamilton College, the Utica Observer says, has left that institution because three of its members were suspended for hoisting a carriage to the top of the observatory tower from which Prof. Peters has discovered so many asteroids.

It has been done. The Ashtabula Sentinel has nominated Gov. Hayes for the Presidency.

Moses Hoyt, chairman of the board of selectmen in Hampstead, who is in his 80th year, has done much of the work of assessing the new valuation of the real estate of the town, tramping through swamps and climbing the hills with as much vigor as his companions on the board.

The republican Congressional committee is feeding out ready-made editorials to the country press, whereof the Troy, Kan., Chieftain says: "We have no use for the concern, either in weekly installments or monthly bulk. We can write our own editorials. They may not be so able or high-toned as if selected from the ready-made concern. but they are our own and express our sentiments."

Michigan has abolished capital punishment.

Gen. Bartlett, in his letter declining to accept the democratic nomination for Lieut.-Governor in Massachusetts, refers to the party as the one which is "obliged to atone for its mistakes," and yet the organs tell us it was a complimentary letter.

Virginia and Kentucky report excellent tobacco crops.

Some kind people have said they had no doubt Uncle William would be killed by defeat. They do not know the vigor of that old North Carolina stock. Major Allen will retire to Fruit Hill with the impression that the solar system has a wabble in it. That is all.—Cincinnati Commercial.

The echo of Bill Allen's fall was heard in Jamaica. The earth quaked.

The report of the Red Cloud commission exonerates ex-Secretary Delano.

Only about $200,000 changed hands in Cincinnati on the election.

Ohio: Senate, republicans 21, democratic 16; House, republicans 65, democrats 46.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TO-DAY.

Programme of Nowell Brothers' Concert.
Millinery—J. M. Tebbetts.

Jottings.

The Supreme Judicial Court of York County closed a three weeks' session on Saturday, the term having been a very busy one, and an unusually large number of cases disposed of. Over 90 criminal, including appeal cases, were cleared off, and $1700 paid into court and jail in fines and costs in criminal cases, and fines and costs of cases carried up amounting to $1000 more. It is estimated the county has received and saved in the two years past $2000, by the vigorous prosecution of the prohibitory law.

The public library party at Franklin Hall was a great success. One of the most attractive costumes was that worn by Mrs. C. C. Akerman, trimmed with brilliant colored autumn leaves.

Rev. Mr. Sanborn of Eliot, Me., who sued the Boston Herald for libel and was nonsuited, has been taken in charge by the Piscataqua Association of Congregational ministers, which after due deliberation at a meeting in Kittery ou the 19th, passed the following vote: "It is the advice of this Association, that all things considered, Bro. Sanborn for the present should withdraw from the ministry." He is now farming at Fremont.

We publish to-day an interesting and instructive address delivered at the recent session of the Teachers' Association at Wolfeboro' by Stephen W. Clarke, Esq., Principal of the High School in this city.

Alvan Janvrin shot Chas. H. Souther in the right side, Saturday night, the 16th, with a knife, Souther having bounced him in the jaw because Janvrin kicked the brother of Souther for insulting Margaret Stewart—at South Seabrook. Mrs. Souther endeavored to prevent the row and got cut by Janvrin, who was inflated with apple juice. Janvrin and Souther were arrested and will be tried next Saturday.

The Circuit Court, Judge Foster presiding, is hearing equity cases. Jury trials will commence next Monday.

Mr. J. M. Tebbetts has opened a new and elegant stock of millinery goods, of the latest Fall and Winter styles, at No. 14 1-2 Market street, corner of Ludd, and invites the ladies to call and select from the many tempting hats and bonnets he has on hand. See advertisement.

Rev. E. H. Kraus of New York city will officiate at St. John's Church on Sunday next.

Hon. Frank Jones has disposed of five yoke of his prize team of oxen, each yoke weighing about 4500 pounds. The cattle were purchased by Boston gentlemen.

The Nowell Bros.' Concert.

The concert by the Nowell Brothers, next Tuesday evening, will be a fine one. At the musical convention at Worcester, last week, they received many encomiums. The Spy says "the programme proved equal to the public anticipation. The young artists, Masters Willis E. and Geo. M. Nowell, displayed talent, which with further development will place them high in the roll of artists. Master Willis' violin playing exhibited true genius. The grand old choral by Martin Luther was impressively sung with the added effect of brass instruments, in connection with the organ and piano."

The Swedish Quartet, who are to assist at the concert, are highly spoken of. A Newport, R. I., paper says: One of the richest musical treats to which we have ever listened was presented last evening at the Academy of Music by the Swedish Quartet. They appeared in four different costumes as worn by Swedish peasantry. Their singing is excellent in every respect and they are eminently worthy of patronage.

A Malden exchange says: A concert was given in the town Hall last evening in aid of the building fund of the First Congregational Church. Among the distinguished artists present were the Boston Swedish Quartet, who appeared in four different costumes. The performance provoked unbounded and wild applause, and some of the numbers, especially the quartettes, were repeatedly encored. As regards merit, the affair was an unqualified success.

Old Time Chronicles, No. 129.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

While the Province was under British rule, the royal Governors most of them, resided in these places so far as they resided in New Hampshire at all.

John Cutts was the first after the separation from Massachusetts in 1680. He resided in Portsmouth, but died after being in office about a year. He was a native of Wales, a part of the British Empire.

Richard Waldron succeeded, but resided in Dover. He was born in Somersetshire, England.

Edward Cramfield, a native of England, resided in Newcastle while Governor two years ending in 1625.

Walter Barefoot, born in England, was Governor about one year, ending in 1686, and resided in Newcastle.

Samuel Allen one year and we think resided in Newcastle.

John Wentworth was Lieut. Governor. He descended from a Wentworth in Dover, but while in office probably resided in Portsmouth.

Benning Wentworth, son of the above, was Governor about 25 years, ending in 1767, and resided in Portsmouth.

John Wentworth, nephew of the above, was in office next, resided in Portsmouth, but left the country when the Revolutionary struggle came on.

After New Hampshire became a State, John Langdon was Governor in 1785, 1788, 1805, 1806, 1807, 1808 and 1810. He was born in Portsmouth and resided there.

In 1823, Levi Woodbury was Governor. He was a native of Francestown, but his home was at this time in Portsmouth.

Ichabod Goodwin was Governor in 1859 and '60. He was a native of Berwick, Me., but for very many years has resided in Portsmouth.

Owning a Town.

A Boston correspondent of the Chicago Times unfolds a tale that is calculated to make the owners of real estate in the city of Little Rock, Ark, feel uneasy. According to this scribe, a party of heirs in Boston and vicinity, of whom Mr. D. Eldredge is the "visible head," are the rightful owners of the principal part of the city of Little Rock. It appears that one Nathaniel Philbrook, of Wakefield, N. H., an unmarried man, went to Little Rock about the year 1819. Philbrook purchased several parcels of land, selling the same and making considerable money. He subsequently came into possession of 1120 acres of land there, and the certificates of his ownership are properly recorded at St. Louis and at the general land office at Washington. When Philbrook died, in 1823, it was discovered that he had made a will devising the property left by him to his next of kin, seven in all, and it is recorded at Dover, Philbrook's native place. Shortly after the death of Philbrook an attempt was made by the heirs to recover the property by sending an agent to Little Rock to investigate. This agent, after a stay of three months, returned and abandoned the case, and the matter was allowed to rest for several years. Meanwhile the city of Little Rock has been built upon the land in question, and it has become immensely valuable. In 1835 the heirs were informed that the p operty left by Philbrook was worth starving for, but, they did not get waked up again until 1840. The heirs at this time made a feeble demonstration, but could not succeed in obtaining the services of an attorney who would give it the attention the case deserved. Nothing more was done about it until the summer of 1870, when the attention of Mr. Eldredge was called to it by hearing that his wife was an heiress to an immense estate in Arkansas. A careful examination and inquiry resulted in a firm conviction that the rumor had a foundation in fact. Then began a thorough examination of records, a correspondence with the heirs, a collection of maps, plans, abstracts, family registers, affidavits, etc., etc., the collection of which covered a period of nearly four years. The will was discovered and a printed copy sent to each heir. The following buildings are actually upon the claim: The State House, the market, a convent, colleges, and a large number of stores and dwellings, and these the costliest in the city. The heirs of Philbrook have the assurance over the signature of the Land Commissioner, at Washington that the patent has not been issued by the United States for the land purchased by Mr. Philbrook, but the issue would immediately follow a proper application for it by the heirs. This the heirs do not intend to apply for until they are ready to move in the matter with a force which will bring the Little Rockers to terms.

—Just now, when it seems as if corruption had a death-clutch on every city in the land, it is good to be able to say that Detroit has many honest men. An Ohio man, feeling that he was getting drunk, entered a Franklin street saloon recently, and loudly inquired, "Is there an honest man here who'd take charge of $61 for me?" "Yes, sir!" came from seventeen different men in reply, and it was in a place, too, where honesty would not be looked for.—Detroit Free Press.

—The Norristown Herald man says that the man who can put up a stove, and whistle all the time he is vainly endeavoring to fit the refractory sections of pipe, should have been born with wings, and a harp in his hands.

Daily Chronicle.

—Feed gold fish very little; a few crumbs a day will be sufficient. In the Winter they will need no food at all. Balls made of cracker dust and corn starch mixed are much better than bread. A dish of little tadpoles or pollywogs, served up alive, would be a great treat to them. The tank or globe should be placed where the sunlight will strike it. On the part next to the window, paste a piece of blue tissue paper, so that the sunlight can enter nowhere except at the top, then the manner in which natural ponds are lighted is imitated. If plants grow in your receptacle, introduce a water snail or two to devour the green scum which would otherwise accumulate on both sides of the globe or tank. The water should be changed very seldom; so long as it remains clear and fresh-looking do not disturb it, but when it begins to look murky change it. Fresh water should be introduced by pouring it through a watering pot; this aerates it. It can also be aerated, without changing, by means of a syringe.—Farmer's Journal.

—Professor Kolbe has demonstrated that by the addition of four per cent. of salicilic acid to fresh cow's milk, marking sixty-five degrees of heat, the milk will be preserved thirty-six hours longer from curdling than milk not treated by the acid. This quantity of acid is sufficient when the milk has to be transported to a distance; but pending periods of great heat, it would be well, as is the ordinary practice with extensive dairymen in France, to reduce the temperature of the milk to fifty-three degrees before employing the acid, which requires to be dissolved in cold water to the extent of ten per cent. of the milk, a dilution purchasers would not tolerate. It dissolves more readily in warm water; in this state, however, it would coagulate the milk. The acid is generally sold in the form of a powder difficult to moisten, and apt to run together, forming little lumps, despite the stirring of the milk. The best state in which to apply the acid is in the form of crystals, taking care that these are not too large.

—"My son," said old Keizer, appearing at the head of the stairs with a suspicious looking strap in his hand, "it is now the rosy time of morn, and Aurora shines high in the heavens, warming the heart of the lark as he soars aloft filling the air with his melodies. Awake, my son, and breathe thou the freshness of a new-born day!" "Let the world have on its ocean noise; I ask but sleep," said Tom, as he pulled the blanket close about and turned over; but old Keizer was not to be trifled with, and gathering the blankets in one hand, he roared: "But my son, the busy day, 'waked by the lark, hath roused the ribald crow, and them infernal hogs is in the cornfield raisin' blazes with the fodder! Git up, you lazy, snorin' hound, you, or I'll blister your hide wuss'n a yaller jacket!" "I come!" replied Tom, as he arose from his couch of rest and rye straw with the alacrity of a streak of spring lightning.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

—An observing policeman in the suburbs states that the average of young couples to a front gate per night has within the past two weeks fallen off from seven-tenths of a young couple per house to one and a quarter young couple per square. This betokens an early Winter, he says.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS.

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Examinations made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him for procuring their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

500,000 ACRES

OF MICHIGAN LANDS,

FOR SALE!

The Lands of the Jackson, Lansing & Saginaw Railroad Company are now Offered For Sale.

They are situated along its railroad and contain large tracts of excellent FARMING AND PINE Lands. The farming lands include some of the most fertile and well-watered hardwood lands in the State. They are timbered mainly with hard maple and beech; soil black, sandy loam, and abound in springs of purest water. Michigan is one of the least indebted and most prosperous State in the Union, and its farmers have a greater variety of crops and resources than any Western state. While some of the Prairie States may produce corn in great abundance, they have no other resource, and when this crop fails destitution follows, as has been the case the past year in Kansas and Nebraska. Utility, Durability and Brilliancy.

The following advantages are claimed for the

"BRILLIANT" PANTOSCOPIC SPECTACLES and EYE-GLASSES.

FIRST. That, from the peculiar construction of the Glasses and Frame, they assist and preserve the sight, rendering frequent changes unnecessary.

SECOND. That they confer a brilliancy and distinctness of vision unknown to the Lenses and Comfort not hitherto enjoyed by spectacle-wearers.

THIRD. That the material from which the Lenses are ground is manufactured especially for optical purposes, and is Pure, Hard and Brilliant, and not liable to become scratched.

☞ The "BRILLIANTS" are unrivalled for strengthening and preserving the Eyesight, and for their lasting qualities. Every pair is stamped F. L. B., and can be procured only from Resident Agents

☞ A full assortment of sizes, set in GOLD, STEEL, RUBBER and SHELL, of the FINEST QUALITY, and warranted not to break from any imperfection in the manufacture, can always be obtained of

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS.

NEW TESTIMONIALS.

— FOR —

Weak Lungs, Constipation, Lameness, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Paralysis, Poor Blood and Kidney Troubles.

LOWELL, MASS, July 20th, 1874.

T. W. LANE:—I have used one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, am glad to state in my case they have proved all that you claim for them. I have been troubled with Bad Blood and all its consequent diseases, and have tried several kinds of Bitters and Pills without receiving much benefit, until I tried the CONDITION PILLS, and they have nearly cured where all else failed. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, very truly,
J. D. WHITAKER.

Testimony of a Clergyman---Liver and Kidney Troubles.

EAST TILTON, N. H., April 14, 1873.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are not only the best, but the very best I ever used. My wife has been troubled with Kidney Complaint many years; one half of a package has cured her, so that she feels as well as ever. I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years; one-half of a package has done me more good than all the Pills I ever took. One of my neighbors took them, who has been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years: three Pills have helped him. Your Pills, where used, commend their virtues. Please send to my address one package.

REV. JOHN DAVIS.

Liver Compaint and Rheumatism so that he Could not Sleep Nights.

I was born and always lived in Pittsfield, N. H.; am now 50 years old; been troubled with Liver Complaint for 30 years, and Rheumatism for 20 years, sometimes so I could not sleep nights. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good and relieved more suffering than all the medicine I have taken during my life. S. S. RING.

Pittsfield, N. H., Dec. 17, 1874.

Fever and Ague.

NEW BOSTON, N. H., Feb. 1, 1875.

T. W. LANE.—Sir:—Last month I sent to you for a package of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS. I had tried five so-called sage cures, and I received about as much benefit from five of your pills than from all the "Cures" "Cholagogues," "Quinine," &c., that I have taken in two years. I cannot recommend it too highly for diseases resulting from long standing Fever and Ague.

Yours, most respectfully,
MRS. C. GARLAND.

Scaly Humor Cured by One Package---Liver Complaint Helped.

NORTH SALEM, N. H., Jan. 5, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—Your Pills are all they are recommended. I was troubled with a Scaly Humor on my legs; I took one package and they are now quite smooth. My wife was troub ed with Liver Complaint; she took one package and they helped her greatly.

Yours, with respect,
JOHN H. BLAKE.

From a Leading Citizen of Rindge.

WEST RINDGE, Cheshire Co., N. H., November 17, 1874.

THOS. W. LANE:—After taking three packages of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I am prepared to say they are the very best, for I have tried a great many kinds, and faithfully too, believing they would help me, to no effect.—These I do believe are the very best ever made; just the kind a man needs. May they be spread all over the wide world, and Dr. Quain's name a household word.

Yours truly,
ASA STICKNEY.

Felt Better, Stronger and Gained Flesh in One Week,

AFTER TAKING DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS.

ROLLINSFORD, N. H.

THOS. W. LANE:—I commenced to take DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and in one week I was heavier, felt better, and was stronger than before, and any one troubled with BAD BLOOD can find sure remedy in these Pills.

Nov. 3, 1874. L. M. YEATON.

CHESTER, N. H., Feb. 24, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been out of health for some time, and I took a very bad cold and it left my lungs in a very weak state. I received Dr. Quain's Condition Pills and took them according to the directions, and my lungs are some better. I can recommend them to any one who is troubled with weak lungs, for they have done me good, and I think another package will cure me. Dr. Quain's Pills ought to be known throughout the world. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, &c., CYRUS LANE.

HILLSBOROBRIDGE, Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—Dr. Quain's Condition Pills are the best I ever used for lameness and pain. The first dose I took removed the pain and lameness that I have been troubled with for several years. Others have used quite a number of the pills besides myself. Please send another package by return of mail. MRS. DANIEL KIMBALL.

GILMANTON I. W., N. H., Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been Dr. Quain's Condition Pills, and can recommend them as far ahead of common pills for constipation of the bowels; they do not have the debilitating effect of common purgatives I have taken.

MRS. J. B. GOODWIN.

NORTHWOOD CENTRE, March 1, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I saw Dr. Quain's Condition Pills highly recommended, and sent for a package, and I feel that they have done more for me than all the medicine I have taken for years, and can freely recommend them to others, as a good and sure medicine. Please send me another package as soon as possible. MARTHA NORCROSS.

BRISTOL, N. H., Feb. 27, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have made a fair trial of those Condition Pills, and liked them very much. I think they are all they are recommended. They are a good Liver invigorator.

N. F. DANFORTH.

SALEM DEPOT, N. H., March 8, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I think these pills (Dr. Quain's Condition Pills) are all they claim to be, my wife and I are both victims of Liver and Kidney Complaint, and general debility. We have taken about half that package you sent me, and find a marked improvement in our health. I want four packages to give away in the north part of Vermont, to friends up there. I enclose $2.00, and if you can, send me four Packages. ROYAL SCOUTT.

SOUTH PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., March 11, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have given Dr. Quain's Condition Pills a trial, and find I can honestly recommend them, they having materially improved the soreness and lameness with which I have been afflicted since getting upon my feet after the fever left of left side that I suffered last October. I desire you to send me another package as soon as convenient, as I am anxious to continue the use. Though not now a resident of New England, I have lived in Central Vermont more than fifty years, and trust Dr. Quain's Pills will not long be new in that section. MOSES SHELDON.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have been troubled with Biliousness, Headache and Dizziness for a long time, and had the Dyspepsia so bad there were but few kinds of food my stomach would bear at all. I commenced taking your pills, have taken one of one package, and now enjoy eating as well as I ever did, am not troubled with dizziness unless by taking cold, and have been greatly benefited by the use of them. A. L. PAGE.

FRANCESTOWN, March 13, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have found Dr. Quain's Condition Pills to be all you claim for them in Kidney Complaint, poor blood, and weak nerves. May they be circulated over the land and found in every household where medicine is needed. I enclose 50 cts. for another package as soon as convenient.

JOHN T. FELCH.

Better Health than for 10 Years.

CHESTER, N. H., Oct. 17, 1874.

MR. LANE:—I have taken one package of Condition Pills, and them in my case all they are recommended; have not enjoyed so good health for the last ten years as I have since I commenced taking the Condition Pills. Shall be happy to recommend them to others. WILLIAM H. FELLOWS.

☞ DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are sold by the Agent of the American Medicine Co. A package will be forwarded upon receipt of fifty cents, by THOMAS W. LANE, agent, Manchester, N. H.

For the convenience of the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity an agency for the sale of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS has been established at the N. E. P. Union Store, Market Street.

LOCAL AGENTS

WANTED.

An Agent Wanted for Each Town and County in the United States.

Parties desiring to act as agents must accompany their application by a letter of recommendation as to character and responsibility from and signed by the Editor of a newspaper published in the town or county for which the agent proposes to act The agency is to sell the bonds of the Industrial Exhibition Company.

BONDS, $20 EACH.
HALF BONDS, $10 EACH.
QUARTER BONDS, $5 EACH.

The Industrial Exhibition Company will furnish agents with circulars, etc., etc.

Each newspaper published in the town where an agent is located will, as soon as the agency is established, be given a newspaper puffing advertising such agency and the Company, and fully explaining the plans, purposes and objects of the Company. Such advertisement will continue in such papers as long as an agency is successfully conducted.

The Industrial Exhibition Company is the first to adopt the plan so long in use by the European governments of issuing bonds when the principal is made secure and not risked, but where there is a chance for a large premium, an investment of $20 is sure to return to the investor $21—one dollar more than cost—and the holder of a $20 Bond may obtain a premium either of $50, $100, $200, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000 or $100,000. The interest, which is ordinarily distributed to all the bondholders pro rata, is in this loan distributed by chance. The purchaser of a bond knows he will receive back his investment, with a small rate of interest, he has a chance in the above named premiums, which are simply the distribution of interest on the whole loan.

Each bond participates in four drawings each year, until it has drawn a premium, when it is surrendered, the premium paid, and the bond cancelled.

The Industrial Exhibition Company, under a special charter granted by the State of New York, is given authority to issue these bonds. The Legislature of the State, recognizing the great benefits which will arise from the success of this enterprise, have exempted all the real estate and property of the Company from taxation and assessments for five years, and has also conferred other great privileges.

Every American who understands the purposes of this Company will, of a necessity, feel a pride in aiding it to a successful termination.

Each individual who buys a bond becomes an owner and an interested party, and when he views the structure erected with money can say, "I aided to erect in our country the most magnificent building the world has ever seen, a palace which, in truth, represents the industry, energy and mechanical genius of the American people."

The manufacturers and the inventors of America are peculiarly interested in the success of this enterprise, for the reason that it is to be their home, where all their inventions and manufactures can be exhibited and sold.

The building will contain 5,320,000 square feet of space.

Purchasers desiring Bonds before an agency is established where they reside, will communicate direct with this office, from where they can be supplied.

Parties desiring to act as agents or to purchase bonds will address

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

s no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the luny trying climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

$100,000

GIVEN AWAY!

The Union Pocket Book Co.

having secured by cash purchase the entire bankrupt stock of Messrs H. Morland & Co., consisting of

400,000 Portmonies,

(POCKET BOOKS,)

of the best manufacture and superb quality, each pocket book being made of Real Morocco Leather; to effect a speedy clearance sale and having in view the old motto of the house, Certain Profits with Quick Returns, the company have decided on giving each individual purchaser the full benefit of this remunerative bargain by giving away One Hundred Thousand Dollars, in

2818 MONEY PRIZES!

THE FIRST PRIZE BEING $20,000 CASH.
" SECOND " " $10,000 "
" THIRD " " $5,000 "
and 2815 other money prizes as follows, viz.:

25	PRIZES OF	$1000	CASH,	EACH.
40	" "	200	"	"
50	" "	100	"	"
100	" "	50	"	"
200	" "	20	"	"
400	" "	10	"	"
2000	" "	1	"	"

The above prizes with the cost of advertising and other incidental expenses, giving the purchasers two-thirds of the profit that accrue on the entire sale, and to enable every one to have an equal share in the profits, with the certainty of receiving treble the value for their small investment and the further opportunity of surely gaining a share in the distribution of $100,000, and this too by the riskless outlay of $1 only.

The Union Pocket Book Co. will deliver free to any address on receipt of One Dollar, a GENUINE MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK, together with a COUPON TICKET,

entitling and giving the holder a share in the drawing of 2818 CASH PRIZES, of the aggregate value of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS CURRENCY. The Company guarantee to return to each purchaser at least treble the value for his money.

How can this be accomplished? is a question many will doubtless ask themselves, and foreseeing this we offer the following lucid explanation.

The Trade assignee, anxious to dispose of and realize on the entire stock of the bankrupts in one sale, accepted our offer of $100,000 cash for the lot; after advertising same for sale for one month, and not receiving a single offer, which in the present depression in trade and almost total suspension of trade is not to be wondered at; notwithstanding that our offer was one third less than the actual cost of the manufacture of the Pocket Books. The assignee having to at once realize the effects of the bankrupts, in the interests of the creditors he had no alternative but to accept this offer and sell us the lot at our own price, thereby enabling us to distribute in prizes $100,000 amongst the purchasers, and at the same time retain a fair marginal profit for ourselves; thus you obtain fully double the value of the amount you forward us and it depends on your luck what amount you gain of the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Money Prizes.

THE SALE WILL POSITIVELY CLOSE ON

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1875,

and orders for pocket books should therefore be forwarded to us at once—no application by letter after Saturday, November 20th, can be entertained.

1000 of the Pocket Books are of the patented manufacture, superior in value to the remainder, the retail price of the same being $8, and these will be forwarded to early purchasers until disposed of.

Therefore those who send immediate orders will reap the advantage of receiving a superior article.

Remittances can be sent us either for one or any number of pocket books by post office orders, or greenbacks in registered letter by express, etc.

Post Office orders and drafts to be made payable in favor of Frank Stewart, the Company's Manager; Post Office orders to be drawn on General Post Office, Philadelphia, and drafts on the First National Bank.

The Drawing of Prizes will take place at the Company's Principal Offices, 830 Locust Street, Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, on and the winning numbers will be advertised in this Journal and the principal Philadelphia and New York newspapers of saturday, November 27th.

The Prizes will be forwarded in drafts, greenbacks or by express, or post office order as per letter of Monday's morning mails, November 29th, or if preferred prizes can be sent by express, or in any other manner purchasers may select, providing same be signified by them when forwarding orders for pocket books.

Remember this is no lottery, but a bona fide business system founded on a true financial basis which enables the Company to convert into money an otherwise surplus stock, and this too with a good profit to both the purchasers and themselves, effecting a speedy clearance stock which in the present dull times is the great desiderata that in no other way can be successfully attained.

We guarantee each pocket book to be of the best manufacture; of pure morocco leather and intrinsically worth in retail trade at the lowest rate of from $3 to $4.

This is an opportunity that should not be let pass by; one and all should embrace this chance; We afford every one an equal opportunity of realizing a share in $100,000 at the insignificant outlay of $1 (one dollar) for which they receive value three fold and those who let this fortuitous chance escape them will have only themselves to blame.

All letters replied to same day as received. We advise intending purchasers to forward orders immediately which will prevent disappointment and receive prompt attention.

Remember, every one who sends ONE DOLLAR before November 20th, 1875, receives A MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK of the value of from $3 to $4 and a COUPON, giving them a share in the drawing of $100,000.

ADDRESS ALL ORDERS, LETTERS, ETC., TO

The Union Pocket Book Company,

SOUTH-EAST CORNER 6TH AND LOCUST STREETS,

PHILADELPHIA, PENN.

P. S.—Drawing absolute on Wednesday, November 24th. No postponement in the remote contingency of any number of the pocket books remaining unsold, a slight reduction not exceeding $5000 may be made proportionately from the prizes. mov18

SCRIBNERS' MONTHLY for 1876.

The publishers invite attention to the following list of some of the attractive articles secured for Scribner's Monthly, for the coming year. In the field of fiction, besides numerous novelettes and shorter stories, there will be

TWO REMARKABLE SERIAL STORIES,

By American Authors.

The first of these, now complete in our hands,

"GABRIEL CONROY,"

By BRET HARTE,

Begins in the November number, and will run for twelve months. This is Mr. Harte's first extended work. The scenes and characters, which he (author) has chosen from his favorite field, California, are painted with character-stic vividness and power; and the work is without doubt the most graphic record of California life that has yet appeared.

We shall also begin in the January number,

"PHILIP NOLAN'S FRIENDS,

OR, SHOW YOUR PASSPORTS."

By EDWARD EVERETT HALE.

The scene of this story is laid in the Southwestern territory, now forming the States of Louisiana and Texas, at the time of Aaron Burr's treason. The characters lived in a section which was now American, now French, and now Spanish, and this record of their adventures throws make a story of intense and unflagging interest throughout.

A SECOND "FARMER'S VACATION,"

By Col. GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

Col. Waring is now in Europe, visiting, in a row-boat ride of two hundred and fifty miles, one of the most fertile and interestidg of the vine growing valleys of Europe. This second series of papers promises to be even more interesting than that with which our readers are already familiar.

CENTENNIAL LETTERS,

Edited by John Vance Cheney.

A rare collection of Revolutionary Letters, mainly from stores in the hands of the descendants of Col. Joseph Ward. They are full of interest, and will be read with a rare relish in connection with the Centennial celebration of the year.

BRILLIANTLY ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES ON

AMERICAN COLLEGES,

Written respectively by their friends, will appear during the year. The revived interest in college life makes these papers especially timely, and will secure for them unusual attention.

OLD NEW YORK.

Elegantly illustrated articles on Old New York, by John F. Mines, will appear at once, and will attract the attention of all, in city or country, who mark with interest the development of the great metropolis, and delightfully remember the quaint peculiarities of its olden time.

Every number is profusely illustrated, thus enabling us to give to our descriptive and narrative articles, an interest and permanent value never attained in a non illustrated periodical. Under its accustomed management the magazine will in the future be devoted, as it has been in the past, to sound literature and Christian progress.

The Editorial Departments occupy over twenty pages of each number and contain Dr. Holland's vigorous and timely editorials, as well as Reviews of the latest works in Art, Literature, and Science.

TERMS:

$4.00 A YEAR, in advance; 35 cents a Number.

The 10 vols, complete, Nov. 1870, to Oct. 1875, bound in maroon cloth.....$20.00

do. do. bound in half morocco, 30.00

Vols. begin in November and May. Any of the earlier volumes (I to VIII) will be supplied separately to parties who wish them to complete sets at this rate, i. e., cloth, $2 00; half morocco, $3.00.

Booksellers and Postmasters will be supplied at rates that will enable them to fill any of the above offers.

Subscribers will please remit in P. O. Money Orders, or in Bank Checks or Drafts, or by registered letters. Money in letters not registered, at sender's risk.

POSTAGE PREPAID ON ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS.

☞ Every subscriber for 1876 will be presented with a superb, large sized steel engraving of Trumbull's celebrated picture of "The Signing of the Declaration of Independence." This will be "Peterson's" Centennial Gift. ☜

"PETERSON'S MAGAZINE" contains, every year, 1600 pages, 14 steel plates, 12 colored Berlin patterns, 12 mammoth colored fashion plates, 24 pages of music, and 900 wood cuts.

Great improvements will be made in 1876. Among them will be a series of illustrated articles on the Great Exhibition at Philadelphia, which will alone be worth the subscription price. They will be appropriately called

THE CENTENNIAL IN PEN AND PENCIL!

The immense circulation of "Peterson" enables its proprietor to spend more money on embellishments, stories, &c., &c., than any other. It gives more for the money than any in the world. Its

are the best published anywhere. All the most popular writers are employed to write originally for "Peterson." In 1876, in addition to the usual quantity of short stories, FIVE ORIGINAL COPYRIGHT NOVELETTES will be given, by Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Frank Lee Benedict, Mrs. F. H. Burnett, and others.

MAMMOTH COLORED FASHION PLATES

ahead of all others. These plates are engraved on steel, twice the usual size, and are unequalled for beauty. They will be superbly colored. Also, Household and other receipts; in short, everything interesting to ladies.

N. B.—As the publisher now prepays the postage to all mail subscribers, "Peterson" is cheaper than ever; in fact is the cheapest in the world.

TERMS (Always in Advance) $2.00 A YEAR.

IRON AND WOODEN VESSELS.

[Progressive Ship Builder.]

The navy, being one of the arms of defense, was not intended by the founders of the government to be an exponent of the potency of the nation's might upon the sea; nor will this ever become a national characteristic so long as republican institutions are maintained, and the people continue to hold sovereign authority in national affairs. Since the late arbitration at Geneva, political economists who study the weal and progress of nations have not been slow to discover the tendency among despotic as well as constitutional governments, to establish, by mutual consent, a law of nations, by which all questions of national polity shall be submitted to arbitrament and peaceful solution. When a congress of nations shall so determine, the disarmament of armies must follow, and peaceful production supplant destruction, trained cruelty, and brute force. And who that has studied the progressive march of science can doubt the consummation of an object so ameliorating in its purpose, so civilizing in its tendencies, and so advantageous in its results? With the disarming of armies upon the land, the demolition of aggressive navies upon the sea must follow beyond the necessities of an ocean police.

Under the light of a progressive civilization, no nation requires a naval force of impregnable armed vessels; and happily for the cause of human rights, the limitations of nature, under the lights of the present advanced state of scientific inquiry, have shown, that, no nation can obtain such a destructive force.

Since the invention of explosive shells, and their adaptation to naval ordnance, there has been confused haste in the efforts of the naval world to place the sides of their vessels beyond the power of penetration by these destructive missiles. While, on the one hand, the most formidable naval powers seek to so increase the thickness of their armor-plating that the shell may be broken against the side, and fall powerless for harm outside of the vessel, the less powerful are equally successful in their efforts to increase the power of their batteries of ordnance, by producing a gun which can drive a projectile through the thickest armored plate. Our own efforts as a minor naval power have been of some importance in these developments, as depleted naval appropriations have abundantly proved. The world has gone on, seemingly, without consideration in regard to a finality. The acme has at length been reached; the vessel is about to sink; she can bear no more; "the last straw has been put upon the camel's back." The manin for iron has culminated, both in mercantile and naval flotation. The underwriting world have ruled against iron vessels by their increased rates for insuring merchant vessels, and the most intelligent naval minds no longer seek security behind the exploded theory of impenetrable armor plates.

In the year 1874, England, with the largest mercantile iron fleet of any nation, lost four and one third per cent. of all her vessels. The United States, with no sailing vessels of iron, and comparatively few iron steamers, lost two and a quarter per cent. of shipping. If these governments could determine their naval losses with the same degree of accuracy that underwriters do, it would doubtless be found that a very much greater percentage of loss had been sustained in iron and armored vessels within the last decade. The deterioration in armored vessels is enormous.

One of the most effectual bars to an efficient navy may be found in the desire for large vessels, under the misapprehension that armored ships of largest tonnage are formidable war vessels.

Another impediment to efficiency in our vessels of war may be attributed to the bureau system of naval organization, which implies the absence of responsibility for errors of every type. Each bureau being a distinct division for the government of its department of the navy, has a right to alter or modify plans for outfit or repairs to suit its own regulations, without reference to the plans or regulations of another bureau. The consequence is, that the outfit of a vessel is a series of conflicting plans and a succession of alterations from the time of launching the vessel until the date of her going to sea. Alterations of the various parts of the vessel from the original design have become the rule instead of the exception, each bureau being permitted to mar the vessel with alterations for its own special requirements, preparing plans to suit these specialties, which, when brought to shipboard, results, as we have stated, in a succession of alterations, until the vessel goes to sea, causing delay, excessive cost, and an imperfect design, for which no one is held responsible.

In the construction, alterations, or repairs of a vessel, no part of the work should be commenced until the design of the vessel is completed in all its parts, which should embody all the requirements of all the bureaus, and the chief of the Bureau of Construction should be held responsible for the design of the vessel and its mechanical execution without alteration.

Doubtless we shall be in perfect accord with every intelligent officer in the navy in regard to the requirements of speed as one of the first requirements of a war vessel, however widely we may differ in regard to the number of nautical miles which should be considered as a fair day's sailing withou steam, or steaming without sail, or the best means of obtaining this desired speed. Another point upon which we shall doubtless harmonize will be the necessity of a relatively light draught of water. We shall be in harmony with the Bureau of Ordnance, we doubt not, when we announce that guns of the heaviest calibor consistent with the most penetrating power are the most effective, both for offensive and defensive warfare. But here the harmony ends. Perhaps in the methods of securing these desirable ends we shall differ widely. But as there can be no improvement without change, we ask that "the customs of the service" be suspended, and that we have a hearing without prejudice. Perhaps the first question to be settled should be that of the materials of which a war vessel should be built, it being essential that this shall be determined before we define the elements of the design. To determine this question satisfactorily, we submit the following as a test: Fill an iron ship of a determined weight or displacement with water up to her load-line, and fill a wooden ship of equal displacement with water up to her load-line. How much more buoyancy in air-tanks will one ship require than the other to hold her up, and which will require the most, the iron or the wooden one? How much more buoyancy, in the shape of casks, will be required to raise a sunken iron ship than a sunken wooden ship of the same size? How much more will iron weigh in the water than wood will weigh in water? See tables of specific gravity.

Economy of weight or displacement, and capacity or space in war vessels, is at once conceded as a necessity; therefore the question of material must be on the side of wood, and not of iron, inasmuch as iron bottoms are slower than wood, and foul much faster. The fact of the iron bottoms being about to be sheathed with wood for protection, settles the question, if practical demonstrations had not settled it long since.

The New Appointment.

President Grant has emphasized his declaration that he did not desire a third term, by the choice he has made for Secretary of the Interior; and the spectre that the democratic papers have been periodically frightening themselves with fades away into utter disappearance. Were the President ambitious, and did he seek to please the people for his own purposes, Zachariah Chandler would not have been Secretary. If there were any significance beyond this, it might shadow some unknown difficulty with Great Britain, for with that nation Mr. Chandler has always been at war in a time of profound peace. Seeking for motives on the part of the President, we have no other explanation of his recent action than the puny and pitiful one of mere spite, which we unhesitatingly reject as unworthy U. S. Grant as man or President.

Two things recommend Mr. Chandler: He is honest and has positive political convictions. But these characteristics were not all that were needed at this juncture. A manful struggle has been waged in one of the largest States of the Union, and a victory wrung from threatened disaster. Republicans all over the land see the necessity of retrieving the vantage ground taken from them last year. It was expected, or at least desired, that President Grant should aid by his action the healthy reaction that had already set in. The retirement of Mr. Delano from the Cabinet was a step in the right direction, and his succesion by a man somewhat fresher in politics, more self-denying in appetite, and possessed of as much honesty as Mr. Chandler, would have been far more creditable to the administration and the republican party.

The republican party needs healthy stimulants in Massachusetts, New York and Pennsylvania, in the shape of pure administration of office and the prosecution of reforms. The appointment of Mr. Chandler does not strengthen the party in these States, but is instead looked upon almost unanimously as tending to disturb the growing feeling of confidence. Many of the President's ways have been difficult to understand, and it is possible that the country is to be happily disappointed in Secretary Chandler. To accomplish this desirable result however, the new appointee must bend his latent energies to a prompt discharge of public duties, must prove by action that he has been misjudged, and must assuredly feed his appetite less and undertake the task set before him with a clear brain and indefatigable determination. This, and this alone, will convince the nation that his appointment was "eminently fit to be made."

News and Notes.

A few days since the son of Cyrus Emerson of Stetson, Me., eight years of age, went to a closet, took down a pistol and just for fun fired at his mother. An infant boy which she held in her arms was instantly killed.

Hon. Zachariah Chandler, the new Secretary of the Interior, is a native of Bedford, where he was born on the 10th of December, 1813. He was for a while a clerk in a store in Nashua, and had the reputation of being a good one. He went West when a young man, settled in Detroit, Michigan, engaged in trade, and was successful. He was elected mayor of Detroit in 1851, and in 1856 was elected to the United States Senate as the successor of Lewis Cass, who was also a native of New Hampshire. Mr. Chandler was twice re-elected to the Senate, but was defeated in a third attempt by Judge Christiancy in 1874. Mr. Chandler is very wealthy.

Sidney Dodge of New Boston went to his barn and found his oxen hanging by their necks, the floor having fallen from under them.

The Manchester Union, like most of the democratic papers, has sympathy with its "friends in Ohio," who it says "very narrowly escaped getting 50,000 majority." If coming within 55,000 of it is a "narrow mistake," what would be a wide one?

Judge Kelley thinks the Ohio election was a glorious victory for the inflationists.

Edwin Thomas, a negro convicted of the murder of Richard Sheffield, a fellow-convict, also colored, at the Auburn (N. Y.,) State Prison on the 10th of June last, has been sentenced to be hanged on the 10th of December.

The second trial of Moses Sawyer for the murder of Mrs. Emerson, will take place at Plymouth on the 15th of November.

On Sunday evening, Oct. 10, as Asa E. Swansey of Bethlehem was sitting in his house with his family, some person fired at him from without. Mr. Swansey took his gun and rushed to the door, when he was fired at again but not hit. He returned the fire and thinks he hit the villain, as the report of his gun was followed by a shriek.

Starch mills are running on full time at Jefferson, and are paying twenty cents a bushel for theirpotatoes.

Mr. James Arlen of Sandwich was accidentally shot with a revolver he was carrying in his coat pocket. While running after cattle he stumbled and the pistol was discharged in his pocket, the ball passing into the palm of his hand and up into his wrist, making a bad wound. Drs. Huntress and Scott were called and probed the wound, but did not succeed in finding the ball.

Gen. Butler seems to have the inside track as the rag-money candidate for the Presidency.

Talk about your fast mail trains; probably the quickest time yet made took place on the Claremont road on Sunday, when four flat cars loaded with old sleepers, on which were perched five French gentlemen, started of their own accord a few miles above Bradford, and did not stop until within a short way of Warner. Those who timed the runaway cars through Bradford thought they were going at the rate of a mile in forty seconds. Fortunately the cars kept the track, and no great damage was done. The Frenchmen are perfectly willing for some one else to try it the next time.

Mr. Hanson Libby of Sandwich has a young grafted apple tree which he supposed was grafted with greenings. This year the tree has borne about one half bushel of very peculiar apples. One part of the apple is very sour, while the other side of the same apple is very sweet.

Mr. Beecher has addressed a letter to George A. Bell, who recently resigned his office as a Superintendent of the Plymouth Bethel, asking him to reconsider his action and return and work with the church. He mildly rebuked Mr. Bell for his action, and intimated his belief that it was on account of personal feelings that he resigned. Mr. Bell explained that his troubles with Plymouth Church dated very far back, and that successive events had destroyed his sympathy with Mr. Beecher and with the church. He had not approved the church's action in reference to Tilton or in the Congregational Council. He should choose some other church to work for, and he expected very soon to ask for a letter of dismission from Plymouth Church.

At a citizens' meeting held at the Town Hall of Rochester, by the Rochester Legal Reform Club, a fund of $60,000 was subscribed to be taxed annually two per cent. for five years, if needed, to defray expenses incurred in the execution of the liquor law.

Three children, the oldest thirteen years of age, left temporarily alone by their mother in Oil City, Pa., attempted to kindle a fire with kerosene, when the contents of the can ignited. An explosion followed, firing the house, which was destroyed. One of the children was so badly burned that he died. Another escaped uninjured, while the third, a little miss of four years of age, ran into a closet and shut herself in, through fright, and after the conflagration was over, her charred remains were found in the ruins.

The New York Tribune, and in fact a large majority of the papers, condemn the appointment of Secretary Chandler, who "on the stump, twisting the tail of the British lion, until that miserable beast howls with anguish, is always a noble figure."

The Providence Journal says Secretary Chandler is a business man. He has acquired a great fortune by legitimate mercantile operations. He has distinguished himself by his advocacy of a sound currency, and has long been one of the most reliable and trusted leaders of the republican party. He is a man of great thoroughness and industry, for which he will find abundant opportunity in his new position, and he is not easily imposed upon. No man in public life has been more shamefully lied about, personally, politically, and in every way in which disappointed applicants, soured politicians, and repulsed black-mailers exhibit their venom; and nobody cares less about it.

It is estimated that the Government loses $1,000,000 revenue by the stoppage of the distilleries at the West, the owners of which have been defrauding the Treasury.

The Great Falls National and Somersworth Savings Banks, both using one vault, did no business for two days, the combination lock on the outside door of the vault being out of order. The maker of the lock examined it and decided that the door must be broken to get in.

The particulars of the suicide of the young lady, Agnes Rosler, in Pawtucket, are peculiarly distressing. She was living with her sister, and being missed from her home her sister went to look for her, and found her suspended from the limb of a tree in the back yard. She had stepped from a low bench after tying herself to the limb. Death must have been very sudden, as a corset lacing doubled two or three times was what was used to do the deed, and it had cut itself deep into the flesh. It is supposed that jealousy and disappointment caused the rash act. Her sister was to be married to a young man in about a week, and Agnes, it is supposed, had a great desire to marry the same man.

A San Francisco dispatch says returns of the election for State Superintendent of the Public Institutions, the only State officer voted for at this election, indicate that Carr, republican, is elected over Fitzgerald, democrat. The independent candidate withdrew some weeks ago, and Carr has also received the influence of the grangers. Recent damaging charges of bribery and corruption in his previous term of office have also probably injured Fitzgerald's chances. A month ago California elected a democratic Governor by a majority over the republican and independent candidates.

LePage, the suspected murderer of Josie Langmaid, attempted to escape from jail at Concord, Wednesday night, the 20th, but didn't succeed.

Simon Cameron's Disgust.

A Washington dispatch to the New York Herald, Oct. 19th, says: There is bad blood between the President and Simon Cameron. It seems that on last Saturday the ex-Secretary of War came down from Pennsylvania to get the Secretaryship for ex-Congressman Scofield, of Erie. The President, who was in no humor to see him, much less to listen to the demand, snubbed him. Ex-Senator Chandler heard of the trouble, and knowing Cameron's peculiar disposition, he went up to the hotel where Cameron was stopping on Sunday afternoon to console him. Chandler had been selected for, if not appointed to, the Secretaryship two weeks ago, but Cameron did not know it. Cameron was still angry, and on such occasions he always repeats his sentences. Both were standing before the fireplace when the amusing part of the interview took place. The gentleman from Michigan spit tobacco juice continually, while his Pennsylvania friend scratched the pimple on his Sewardian nose until it bled. Simon repeated a dozen times: "I am going home to-night," and as often as he said it Zachariah entreated.

"Now, Simon, don't go to-night. Stay a little longer. There will be a better chance to-morrow."

Cameron rejoined: "No, I am going on the next train. This is a h— of a time, any way. If I ask for the appointment of doorkeeper, Grant says, 'Cameron wants everything.' If I want a clerk appointed in the department, Grant says, 'Cameron wants everything.' I am going home on the next train. D— the Administration any how!"

Then the good Zachariah wrestled with his old Senatorial ally again:

"Now, don't talk that way, Simon. Things will be better, to-morrow." And all the while he was thinking of his own appointment two weeks before as Mr. Delano's successor, which Mr. Cameron did not appreciate in the way that his friend would have him.

During Cameron's brief visit he was asked to do a favor for a friend, to which he invariably replied:

"I can't do anything until after the Pennsylvania election; then I may have some authority."

It is understood that Cameron has demanded so much of the Administration that Grant would stand it no longer, and resolved to assert his independence of the great power which has ruled Pennsylvania for so many years.

The President Home Again.

"Mac," the entertaining Washington correspondent of the Boston Globe, writes under date of Oct. 18th:

After a continuous absence of nearly four and a half months, with the exception of one day, President Grant returned to the Executive Mansion last Friday. It is generally understood, though there is nothing official on the subject, that he is here for the season. The cares of State evidently sit lightly upon him, for, strolling along Pennsylvania avenue yesterday, he looked more fleshy than I have ever seen him, and I learn that he turns the scales at 187 pounds. Neither the terrible Bill Allen nor the bugaboo of inflation have interfered with his appetite, disturbed his digestion or murdered his sleep. He smoked his cigar as complacently yesterday as if Bristow, his Finance Minister, had five dollars in gold in the Treasury for every dollar of "rag money" there is afloat, and was ready to resume specie payments to-morrow; and as if the whole country was aglow with business prosperity. People who are in the habit of meeting Grant frequently, and who have given any study to human nature, can easily see why, out of the numerous aspirants, he became the great Captain of the late war. He is at once a philosopher and a fatalist; or, as his Scottish Presbyterian ancestors would have termed it, a believer in Providence. While the 600,000 voters in Ohio were working themselves into a white heat of enthusiasm, last Tuesday, on the question of inflation, the president no doubt took the view of every other sensible man, that whether Allen or Hayes were elected, the volume of the currency, as now fixed by law, would not be increased or diminished one dollar. A nervous man with a sanguine temperament, like President John Quincy Adams, with all his brain power, would have been a lamentable failure in Grant's place.

—He was smoking a cigar on a car where there were ladies. A lady took out her purse, got ten cents, and handed it to the smoker. "What's this for?" said he, "It's to buy you a good cigar when you smoke in presence of ladies." He threw the cigar out of the window, the scrip in the lady's lap, jerked the strap, and jumped out.

—A little boy, gazing upon an old picture of his mother, taken in a low dress, remarked "Mamma, you was mos' read for bed when dat picter was tooken!"

RATTAN WARE MANUFACTORY.

ONLY 4 Rattan Ware Factories in the United States, and one of them has just begun manufacturing in Portsmouth. The furniture made by this firm is made of the very best quality of East India Rattan, and for beauty, attractiveness, ease and durability is more desirable than any other furniture. We claim that the generality of our work is better than can be procured elsewhere in the United States. Few people comparatively have ever seen many pieces of this attractive furniture, and we cordially invite any one to call and examine our work even if they have no idea of purchasing. We warrant every piece of our ware to be as good as can be bought elsewhere and at less price.

Don't fail to call up, and see what few people in the United States have seen; viz. a collection of this ware. OVER FREEMAN'S OYSTER HOUSE, on Congress street, up one flight.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TO-DAY.

Found—A Bunch of Keys.

Jottings.

The Wolfe Tone Club is to give its fifth annual ball in this city at Congress Hall, on Thanksgiving eve.

Captains Becker and Tarlton, master of two Newcastle fishing vessels, with their crews attempted to raise the Dashaway," which was sunk by collision with a larger vessel, at the mouth of the harbor. Their generous efforts in behalf of their unfortunate neighbors were unsuccessful, owing to the great depth of the water. Application has been made to the authorities at the Navy Yard for assistance.

The following "Notis" is posted on a tree at the corner of Union and Middle streets: "For Sale—a valuable horse, or used to be. Enquire of William Sewell."

The Seamen's Friend Society is about opening coffee and reading rooms with dormitories attached, where sailors can find welcome, rest and refreshments. The Seamen's Aid Society of Concord have sent a library for the reading room, and other friends will undoubtedly furnish newspapers and magazines. Assured that many feel a deep interest in this enterprise, we take this means of offering them the privilege of furthering it, by sending to the Home, No. 8 State street, any articles of furniture for the table, reading room or dormitories. H. C. KNIGHT, Sec.

A rude boy ran against a gentleman who was mailing a letter, and got a box in the post office.

Howard & Carle's Black Crook Company appear at the Temple this evening. We select the following extract from the St. John Globe of Oct. 1st, where the company appeared lately: "It was almost impossible to get even standing room at the performance last evening, so great was the crowd. We hope the size of the audience was not owing to any expectation of seeing a performance not considered moral. If any had this expectation they must have been disappointed; for the entertainment was legitimate enough in every part. There was good dancing, and those who admire that style of manual exercise must have been pleased. There were admirable acrobatic feats by the Snow Brothers, and the tricks of the learned dogs showed to what extent even the dumb animal may be instructed. The scenery in some parts was admirable. The audience was delighted with the whole performance; and at its repetition this evening there will doubtless be another full house."

The regular weekly meetings of the Women's Temperance League will hereafter be held at the Young People's Union rooms at 3 o'clock every Friday afternoon. All ladies are invited.

The speediest cure of the epizootic that we hear of in this city made Paymaster A. J. Clark, U. S. N., and his horse happy. The horse had a severe attack, and Mr. Clark placed a half-dozen onions in the crib with the regular food. The horse tackled three of the onions immediately, and by the time he had swallowed them began to cough and sneeze and prance about, appearing quite indignant and refusing to touch the remaining onions. For full five minutes he wept at the nose, and then—he was a cured horse. He has not had a cough, a sneeze nor any symptom of the epizootic since, but he did have the courage to eat the onions remaining in the crib the next day after the cure.

Miss Jennie M. Franklin, teacher of singing in our public schools, has tendered her resignation, to take effect, Nov. 1st.

The following divorces have been decreed by the Circuit Court: Phebe R. Little from Wm. C. Little; John W. Lear from Adeline Lear; George W. Frost from Sarah E. Frost,—divorce and custody of child decreed as prayed for; Nancy J. Foss from Ezra W. Foss.

The Eastern railroad has taken the land on the northerly side of the Capt. Godfrey mansion on Elm street, for street purposes, and removed the trees and opened a passage way for teams from Railroad avenue around to Vaughan street between their tracks and the house.

Arrest of a Persevering Rogue.

[Boston Globe.]

From time to time there has appeared in these columns, accounts of the loss of several yachts by theft, and the rascal in every case appeared to have succeeded in escaping, but the punishment which is sure sooner or later to overtake the least, as well as the greatest criminal, has overtaken this thief, for on Monday evening, William Deane was arrested at Portsmouth, as a suspicious character, the officers thinking that his movements and the disposition he made of a large lot of property not just right. He was brought to this city and identified by Mr. Ansel P. Howes as an individual who was prowling about Dorchester some two weeks since when Howe's yacht, the Helen Mar, was stolen from Dorchester Bay, and from what has been since learned he repaired to Dennis, Cape Cod, and while there after stripping the boat of every available article of any value, brought his booty on board of another valuable yacht in that harbor called the New Era. This latter yacht he stripped as he did the first, and finally made off with stolen property in still another yacht called the Minnehaha, from the same harbor. The thief was a good mariner, and to dispose of the stolen property went to Portsmouth, where he was arrested as above stated. Deane, who is rather taciturn and reserved, is supposed to be an old thief who has been plying his vocation on the North-eastern coast for the past year. The value of the stolen property was about $1500.

Affairs in Spain.

We give below an extract from the correspondence of the Boston Journal, dated Madrid, Sept. 18th. The statements seem exaggerated and incredible, but the Journal vouches for the reliability of its correspondent:

Revolution is again imminent in Spain. The usual precursors of a storm (clandestine handbills addressed to the army and to the people) have already made their appearance on the streets, and are slyly passed from hand to hand under the very noses of the police, and in spite of all their efforts to suppress them. The spirit of revolution is just now doubly fomented by a mysterious and foul tragedy, all knowledge of which the authorities are vainly endeavoring to cover up. Several persons have already been arrested and hurried off into dungeons, nobody knows where, simply for having been heard speaking of the subject on the streets or in the cafes. The newspapers have been threatened, and not one of them dares lisp a syllable on the subject. But it is constantly talked of in bated breath, with closed doors; in fact the whole story has been printed on small slips of paper and secretly circulated.

The facts appear to be as follows: The King and the Duke of Sexto have been corrupting the daughter and the wife of an officer in the army, whose home is second or third door from Mr. Cushing's. He was in the North fighting, but hearing of the King's frequent visits at his house he came suddenly to the city, and entering his house late at night, found the King and the Duke of Sexto in the house; shot at the King, but missed him, and was himself shot dead by the Duke of Sexto, who was behind him. The street police heard the pistol shots, and came running to the rescue, but were sent about their business. The body was given to a night watchman, who carried it nobody knows where, and is now receiving, it is said, $400 a month. The maid servant, who was an eye witnes of the murder, disappeared the next day--some say was assassinated. But she had time to tell her lover. When he found she was disposed of, he hid himself for some days, but venturing out at last, was found dead in the street, stabbed, one morning.

The judge before whom the case of the first murder should have come, being a man of more than usual firmness of character, and having a knowledge of the facts, was determined that some kind of justice should be done. Many flattering official positions were offered him if he would desist from his purpose, which he sternly refused to do, when suddenly one of the papers announced that he has committed suicide! The other papers do not dare even to mention his death, or to make any comments. And the courts have taken no notice of the whole business, though the story is already repeated from Lisbon to Barcelona. The mother and daughter have been privately hurried off to Bayonne.

How to Vanquish the Stomach's Tormentor.

If the Enemy of mankind was permitted to exert his diabolical ingenuity in the invention of a new disease, he could scarcely devise one more worthy of his genius than dyspepsia. The dyspeptic sufferer is tormented by symptoms resembling those of almost every known malady, and is often worried into monomania by these conflicting and perplexing manifestations. A favorite though absurd hallucination of the victim of chronic indigestion is that he or she has heart disease. Dyspepsia has often been pronounced incurable, but experience has shown that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will vanquish it, together with the constipation and bilious derangement which usually accompany it. Diseases of the kidneys and supposed rheumatic pains are also frequent concomitants of dyspepsia, but they, too, succumb to the above named invaluable corrective.

A FAMOUS MEDICAL INSTITUTION.

From the Chicago Times.

"The name of Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has become as familiar to the people all over the country as 'household words.' His wonderful remedies, his pamphlets and books, and his large medical experience, have brought him into prominence, and given him a solid reputation. The Times, in the present issue, presents a whole page communication from Dr. Pierce, and our readers may gain from it some idea of the vast proportions of his business, and the character of his medicines. He has at Buffalo a mammoth establishment, appropriately named 'The World's Dispensary,' where patients are treated, and the remedies compounded. Here nearly a hundred persons are employed in the several departments, and a corps of able and skilled physicians stand ready to alleviate the suffering of humanity by the most approved methods. These physicians are in frequent consultation with Dr. Pierce, and their combined experience is brought to bear on successful treatment of all obstinate cases. The Doctor is a man of large medical experience, and his extensive knowledge of materia medica has been acknowledged by presentations of degrees from two of the first Medical Colleges in the land."

If you would patronize Medicines, scientifically prepared by a skilled Physician and Chemist, use Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines. Golden Medical Discovery is nutritious, tonic, alterative and blood cleansing, and an unequalled Cough Remedy; Pleasant Purgative Pellets, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, constitute an agreeable and reliable physic; Favorite Prescription, a remedy for debilitated females; Extract of Smart-Weed, a magical remedy for Pain, Bowel Complains, and an unequalled Liniment for both human and horse-flesh; while his Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is known the world over as the greatest specific for Catarrh and "Cold in the Head" ever given to the public. They are sold by Druggists.

Why Gold Does not Go Down.

[N. Y. Post, October 13.]

The following shows the value, in gold, of $100 in greenbacks, at the same hour on each of the days named:

Oct. 13.	Oct. 12.	Oct. 11.	Oct. 9.	Oct. 8.	Oct. 7.
$86.29	$86.20	$85 83	$85. 92	85.74	$85.67

Attention will naturally turn to the Wall street markets, to see what effect the Ohio news has on them. If they were free to be influenced by the news, their course after its receipt would properly reflect public sentiment, just as a thermometer reflects the atmosphere in the room or place where it is hung. If, however, a hot or cold substance is placed on the bulb which contains the mercury, the thermometer ceases to be the indicator of the temperature of the room. The gold market, of all others, should tell whether the Ohio election is constructed as in favor or as against the public credit. Of course there can be no question that the defeat of the people who proposed to indefinitely defer the demand obligations of the Government, and some of whom openly advocated repudiation, should improve the public credit. It is the failure of an attempt to injure or destroy the credit. These demand obligations of the Government—the legal tender currency of the country—by every method of reasoning should become much more valuable than they were before it was certainly known that the proposition, backed by a formidable party, never to pay them, would be unsuccessful. And yet it will be said that the price of gold has fallen by reason of the defeat of the inflationists less than half of one point. Now the fact is that there are special influences which overrule at the moment all others bearing on the price of gold. Chief of these is the small supply, there being less than $7,000,000 gold in the New York market, not enough to make settlements in foreign exchange easy. This gold is concentrated in few hands, and is as completely under control as is the price of a watch which the owner does not wish to sell. This being so, the gold market ceases to be an indicator or public credit. Those who sold gold expecting that the price would fall much on account of the defeat of Allen simply walked into a trap, and, today, the owners of the gold in the market compelled them to pay as high as 2.32 of one per cent. per day for the use of gold with which to make deliveries. The speculators who bought gold a few weeks ago expecting that Allen would be elected sold out, last week, at 117 1-2 to 117 as we then noted. As to the stock market, prices have declined, and this because of special reasons. The leading speculators are, and have been, directing their efforts to depress prices, and so far as some stocks concerned have had excellent reason for so doing; but good stocks have fallen with worthless ones. The defeat of inflation ought to make good securities better and poor ones of less value. There is, however, as yet no discrimination so far as stocks other than Governments are concerned; they are higher because there is no speculation in them, and because the influence of the Ohio news finds no special influence to work against. In due time, after special influences have been withdrawn or removed, the price of gold should decline and good properties should improve.

It is safe to assume that inflation, yesterday, received its death-blow, and that the danger which threatened the country on account of it have been removed for all time.

This means that, instead of another era of riotous speculation ending in disaster and ruin, the country will enter on a career of substantial prosperity, in which legitimate trade will at least have as good a chance as speculation. While there is much to be done to secure a sound currency, it is certain that whatever steps are taken will be to that end instead of away from it. This will give confidence to capital, which, instead of being locked up, will now seek employment in such enterprises as promise fair returns. The times are exceptionally favorable for capitalists. Prices have been reduced during the past two years to ante-war figures; wages are down, and the cost of everything which enters into the expenses of business has fallen. The one element that was wanted, was confidence, and nothing could strengthen that more than the defeat of the inflationists.

—A Saratoga boy who had done errands during the Summer for a New York man who departed without paying the seventy-five cents due for the last week's service, collected his bill, after two ineffectual attempts, by sending a letter beginning in this way: "I didn't think that a great big old chap like you would beat a little orphan like me out of six shillin's; and how do you suppose I'm to be hooped up for winter duds when you fellows don't ante up?" Continuing in this style for over a page and a half of foolscap, the youth concluded by saying that "if you don't come to time, I'll just call on you in a day or two—I will—when I come to the city; and that's the kind of a hair-pin I am, boss." The next mail brought his seventy-five cents.

—Dickens and Thackeray were walking in Convent Market one day, when they came to a place where there were two piles of oysters in a window, one pile being marked ninepence a dozen and the other sixpence a dozen. Thackeray stood with his hands behind him and said to Dickens: "How they must hate each other."

—"Are those oxen yours," asked a witty fellow who met a countryman driving a miserable looking team. "Yes; they be," said the indignant rustic. "What made you ask that question?" "Oh," was the reply, "they are so thin I thought somebody had a lien on them."

—Little Harry, five years old, was called to see the new baby. After a moment's contemplation he turned to his expectant papa with: "We didn't need that!"

500,000 ACRES

OF MICHIGAN LANDS,

FOR SALE!

The Lands of the Jackson, Lansing & Saginaw Railroad Company are now Offered For Sale.

They are situated along its railroad and contain large tracts of excellent FARMING and PINE Lands. The farming lands include some of the most fertile and well-watered hardwood lands in the State. They are timbered mainly with hard-maple and beech; soil black, sandy loam, and abound in springs of pure, cool water. Michigan is one of the least indebted and most prosperous States in the Union, and its farmers have a greater variety of crops and resources than any Western state. While some of the Prairie States may produce corn in great abundance, they have no other resource, and when this crop fails destitution follows, as has been the case the past year in Kansas and Nebraska. For Maps, Circulars and further information, apply to or address O. M. BARNES, Land Commissioner, Lansing, Michigan.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS.

NEW TESTIMONIALS.

— FOR —

Weak Lungs, Constipation, Lameness, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Paralysis, Poor Blood and Kidney Troubles.

LOWELL, Mass, July 20th, 1874.

T. W. LANE:—I have used one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, am glad to state in my case they have proved all that you claim for them. I have been troubled with Bad Blood and all its consequent diseases, and have tried several kinds of Bitters and Pills without receiving much benefit, until I tried the CONDITION PILLS, and they have nearly cured where all else failed. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, very truly,
J. D. WHITAKER.

Testimony of a Clergyman---Liver and Kidney Troubles.

EAST TILTON, N. H., April 14, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are not only the best, but the very best I ever used. My wife has been troubled with Kidney Complaint many years; one half of a package has cured her, so that she feels as well as ever. I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years; one-half of a package has done me more good than all the Pills I ever took. One of my neighbors took them, who has been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years: three Pills have helped him. Your Pills, where used, commend their virtues. Please send to my address one package.

REV. JOHN DAVIS.

Liver Compaint and Rheumatism so that he Could not Sleep Nights.

I was born and always lived in Pittsfield, N. H.; am now 50 years old; been troubled with Liver Complaint for 30 years, and Rheumatism for 20 years, sometimes so I could not sleep nights. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good and relieved more suffering than all the medicine I have taken during my life.

S. S. RING.

Pittsfield, N. H., Dec. 17, 1874.

Fever and Ague.

NEW BOSTON, N. H., Feb. 1, 1875.

T. W. LANE.—Sir:—Last month I sent to you for a package of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS. I had tried five so-called ague cures, and I received more benefit from five of your pills than from all the "Cures" "Cholagogues," "Quinine," &c., that I have taken in two years. I cannot recommend it too highly for diseases resulting from long standing Fever and Ague.

Yours, most respectfully,
MRS. C. GARLAND.

Scaly Humor Cured by One Package---Liver Complaint Helped.

NORTH SALEM, N. H., Jan. 5, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—Your Pills are all they are recommended. I was troubled with a Scaly Humor on my legs; I took one package and my legs are quite smooth. My wife was troubled with Liver Complaint; she took one package and they helped her greatly.

Yours, with respect,
JOHN H. BLAKE.

From a Leading Citizen of Rindge.

WEST RINDGE, Cheshire Co., N. H.,
November 17, 1874.

THOS. W. LANE:—After taking three packages of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I am prepared to say they are the very best, for I have tried a great many kinds, and faithfully too, believing they would help me, to no effect.—These I do believe are the very best ever made; just the kind a man needs. May they be spread all over the wide world, and Dr. Quain's name a household word.

Yours truly,
ASA STICKNEY.

Felt Better, Stronger and Gained Flesh in One Week,

AFTER TAKING DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS.

ROLLINSFORD, N. H.

THOS. W. LANE:—I commenced to take DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and in one week I was heavier, felt better, and was stronger than before, and any one troubled with BAD BLOOD can find sure remedy in these Pills.

Nov. 3, 1874. L. M. YEATON.

CHESTER, N. H., Feb. 24, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been out of health for some time, and I took a very bad cold and it left my lungs in a very weak state. I received Dr. Quain's Condition Pills and took them according to the directions, and my lungs are some better. I can recommend them to any one who is troubled with weak lungs, for they have done me good, and I think another package will cure me. Dr. Quain's Pills ought to be known throughout the world. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, &c., CYRUS LANE.

HILLSBORO BRIDGE, Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—Dr. Quain's Condition Pills are the best I ever used for lameness and pain. The first dose I took removed the pain and lameness that I have been troubled with for several years. Others have used quite a number of the pills besides myself. Please send another package by return of mail.

MRS. DANIEL KIMBALL.

GILMANTON I. W., N. H., Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been taking Dr. Quain's Condition Pills, and can recommend them as far ahead of common pills for constipation of the bowels; they do not have the debilitating effect of common purgatives I have taken.

MRS. J. B. GOODWIN.

NORTHWOOD CENTRE, March 1, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I saw Dr. Quain's Condition Pills highly recommended, and sent for a package, and I feel that they have done more for me than all the medicine I have taken for years, and can freely recommend them to others, as a good and sure medicine. Please send me another package as soon as possible.

MARTHA NORCROSS.

BRISTOL, N. H., Feb. 27, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have made a fair trial of those Condition Pills, and liked them very much. I think they are all they are recommended. They are a good Liver invigorator.

N. F. DANFORTH.

SALEM DEPOT, N. H., March 8, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I think these pills (Dr. Quain's Condition Pills) are all they claim to be; my wife and I are both victims of Liver and Kidney Complaint, and general debility. We have taken about half that package you sent me, and find a marked improvement in our health. I want four packages to give away in the north part of Vermont, to friends up there. I enclose $2.00, and if you can, send me four Packages.

SOUTH PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., March 11, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have given Dr. Quain's Condition Pills a trial, and find I can honestly recommend them, they having materially improved the soreness and lameness with which I have been afflicted since getting upon my feet after the Paralysis of left side that I suffered last October. I desire you to send me another package as soon as convenient, as I am anxious to continue their use. I am not now a resident of New England, I have lived in Central Vermont more than fifty years, and trust Dr. Quain's Pills will not long be near a stranger.

MOSES SHELDON.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have been troubled with Biliousness, Headache, and Dizziness, for a long time, and had the Dyspepsia so bad there were but few kinds of food my stomach would bear at all. I commenced taking your pills, have taken most of one package, and now enjoy eating as well as I ever did, am not troubled with dizziness unless by taking cold, and have been greatly benefited by the use of them.

A. L. PAGE.

FRANCESTOWN, March 13, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have found Dr. Quain's Condition Pills to be all you claim for them in Kidney Complaint, poor blood, and weak nerves. May they be circulated over the land and found in every household where medicine is needed. I enclose 50 cts. for another package as soon as convenient.

JOHN T. FELCH.

Better Health than for 10 Years.

CHESTER, N. H., Oct. 17, 1874.

MR. LANE:—I have taken one package of Condition Pills; find them in my case all they are recommended; have not enjoyed so good health for the last ten years as I have since I commenced taking the Condition Pills. Shall be happy to recommend them to others. WILLIAM H. FELLOWS.

LOCAL AGENTS WANTED.

An Agent Wanted for Each Town and County in the United States.

Parties desiring to act as agents must accompany their application by a letter of recommendation as to character and responsibility from and signed by the Editor of a newspaper published in the town or county for which the agent proposes to act. The agency is to sell the bonds of the Industrial Exhibition Company.

BONDS, $20 EACH.
HALF BONDS, $10 EACH.
QUARTER BONDS, $5 EACH.

The Industrial Exhibition Company will furnish agents with circulars, etc., etc.

Each newspaper published in the town where an agent is located will, as soon as the agency is established, be given an advertisement, advertising such agency and the Company, and fully explaining the plans, purposes and objects of the Company. Such advertisement will continue in such papers as long as an agency is successfully conducted.

The Industrial Exhibition Company is the first to adopt the plan so long in use by the European governments of issuing bonds when the principal is made secure and not risked, but where there is a chance for a large premium, an investment of $20 is sure to return to the investor $21—one dollar more than now—and the holder of a $20 Bond may obtain a premium either of $50, $100, $200, $500, $1,000, $3,000, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000 or $100,000. The interest, which is ordinarily distributed to all the bond holders pro rata, is in this case distributed by chance. The purchaser of a bond knows he will receive back his investment, with a small rate of interest, he has a chance in the above named premiums, which are simply the distribution of interest on the whole loan.

Each bond participates in four drawings each year, until it has drawn a premium, when it is surrendered, the premium paid, and the bond cancelled.

The Industrial Exhibition Company, under a special charter granted by the State of New York, is given authority to issue these bonds. The Legislature of the State, recognizing the great benefits which will arise from the success of this enterprise, have exempted all the real estate and property of the Company from taxation and assessments for five years, and has also conferred other great privileges.

Every American who understands the purposes of this Company will, of a necessity, feel a pride in aiding it to a successful termination.

Each individual who buys a bond becomes an owner and an interested party, and where he views the structure erected with his money can say, "I aided to erect in our country the most magnificent building the world has ever seen, a palace which, in truth, represents the industry, energy and mechanical genius of the American people."

The manufacturers and the inventors of America are peculiarly interested in the success of this enterprise, for the reason that it is to be their home, where all their inventions and manufactures can be exhibited and sold.

The building will contain 5,320,000 square feet of space.

Purchasers desiring Bonds before an agency is established where they reside, will communicate direct with this office, from where they can be supplied.

Parties desiring to act as agents or to purchase bonds will address

BILLIARD TABLE FOR SALE!!

A BARGAIN—common size, bevel table. Will be sold cheap. Address X, Box 1302, P. O., Portsmouth, N. H.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the luny trying climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

A CHANCE FOR ALL!

$100,000

GIVEN AWAY!

The Union Pocket Book Co.

having secured by cash purchase the entire bankrupt stock of Messrs H. Morland & Co., consisting of

400,000 Portmonies;

(POCKET BOOKS,)

of the best manufacture and superb quality, each pocket book being made of Real Morocco Leather, to effect a speedy clearance sale and having in view the old motto of the house, Certain Profits with Quick Returns, the company have decided on giving each individual purchaser the full benefit of this remunerative bargain by giving away One Hundred Thousand Dollars, in

2818 MONEY PRIZES!

THE FIRST PRIZE BEING $20,000 CASH.
" SECOND " " $10,000 "
" THIRD " " $5,000 "

and 2815 other money prizes as follows, viz.:

25 PRIZES OF $1000 CASH, EACH.

40	"	"	500	"	"
50	"	"	100	"	"
100	"	"	50	"	"
200	"	"	20	"	"
400	"	"	10	"	"
2000	"	"	1	"	"

The above prizes with the cost of advertising and other incidental expenses, giving the purchasers two-thirds of the profits that accrue on the entire sale, and to enable every one to have an equal share in the profits, with the certainty of receiving treble the value for their small investment and the further opportunity of surely gaining a share in the distribution of $100,000, and this too by the riskless outlay of $1 only.

The Union Pocket Book Co. will deliver free to any address on receipt of One Dollar, a GENUINE MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK, together with a COUPON TICKET,

entitling and giving the holder a share in the drawing of 2818 CASH PRIZES, of the aggregate value of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS CURRENCY. The Company guarantee to return to each purchaser at least treble the value for his money.

How can this be accomplished? is a question many will doubtless ask themselves, and foreseeing this we offer the following lucid explanation.

The Trade assigned, anxious to dispose of and realize on the entire stock of the bankrupts in one sale, accepted our offer of $100,000 cash for the lot; after advertising same for sale for one month, and not receiving a single offer, which in the present depression of business and almost total stagnation of trade is not to be wondered at; notwithstanding that our offer was one third less than the actual cost of the manufacture of the Pocket Books. The assignee having to at once realize the effects of the bankrupts, in the interests of the creditors he had no alternative but to accept this offer and sell us the lot at our own price, thereby enabling us to distribute in prizes $100,000 amongst the purchasers, and at the same time retain a fair marginal profit for ourselves; thus you obtain fully double the value of the amount you forward us and it depends on your luck what amount you gain of the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Money Prizes.

THE SALE WILL POSITIVELY CLOSE ON

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1875,

and orders for pocket books should therefore be forwarded to us at once—no application by letter after Saturday, November 20th, can be entertained.

1000 of the Pocket Books are of the patented manufacture, superior in value to the remainder, the retail price of the same being $8, and these will be forwarded to early purchasers until disposed of.

Therefore those who send immediate orders will reap the advantage of receiving a superior article.

Remittances can be sent us either for one or any number in postage stamps, by post-office orders, or greenbacks in registered letter by express, etc.

Post Office orders and drafts to be made payable in favor of Frank Stewart, the Company's Manager; Post Office orders to be drawn on General Post Office, Philadelphia, and drafts on the First National Bank.

The Drawing of Prizes will take place at the Company's Principal Offices, 530 Locust Street, Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, on and the winning numbers will be advertised in this Journal and the principal Philadelphia and New York newspapers of Saturday, November 27th.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1875

The Prizes will be forwarded in full, per express, as soon as possible after the drawing, and those who prefer to have their prizes sent by express, or in any other manner than now specified, may select, providing same be signified by them when forwarding orders for pocket books.

Remember this is no lottery, but a bona fide business system founded on a true financial basis which enables the Company to convert into money an otherwise surplus stock, and this too with a good profit to both the purchaser and the Company, effecting a speedy clearance stock which in the present dull times is the great desiderata that in no other way can be successfully attained.

We guarantee each pocket book to be of the best manufacture; of pure morocco leather and intrinsically worth in retail trade at the lowest rate of from $3 to $4.

This is an opportunity that should not be let pass by; one and all should embrace this chance; We afford every one an opportunity of realizing a share in $100,000 at the insignificant outlay of $1 (one dollar) for which they receive value three fold and those who let this fortuitous chance escape them will have only themselves to blame.

All letters replied to same day as received. We advise intending purchasers to forward orders immediately which will prevent disappointment and receive prompt attention.

Remember, every one who sends ONE DOLLAR before November 20th, 1875, receives A MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK of the value of from $3 to $4 and a COUPON, giving them a share in the drawing of $100,000.

ADDRESS ALL ORDERS, LETTERS, ETC., TO

The Union Pocket Book Company,

SOUTH-EAST CORNER 6TH AND LOCUST STREETS,

PHILADELPHIA, PENN.

—P. S.—Drawing absolute on Wednesday, November 24th. No postponement in the remote contingency of any number of the pocket books remaining unsold; a slight reduction not exceeding $5000 may be made proportionately from the prizes. (nov16

Secretary Chandler's Record.

Whether Secretary Chandler will feel inclined to exterminate the thieves in the Interior department is a question which his action alone can answer. The following incidents of his experience while in the Senate are interesting at this time, as showing that he has all the pluck necessary to such an encounter:

In December, 1857, the Thirty-Fifth Congress assembled, there being a democratic majority in both the Senate and House of Representatives. The exciting topic then before the country was as to the admission of Kansas under a constitution which protected slavery, the measure being urged by the President in his annual message. The majority in each House was under the control of the Southern leaders, who became violent in their abuse of the republican opponents of the measure.

They sought to take advantage of the sentiment in the North against the dueling system, thinking they could do so with impunity, as the Northern Representatives would be deterred from a resort to personal combat in defense of their principles; some of them, as Sumner, Seward and others, being known to be opposed, on principle, to this mode of conducting a controversy. The assaults of the violent Southern leaders upon some of the ablest and purest republicans in the Senate, known to be non-combatants, finally became unbearable to some of the less scrupulous republicans, until in the midst of one of the most denunciatory tirades of one of the fire-eaters, there was noticed a little group of the lately-admitted republicans in a side consultation on the floor of the Senate. Precisely what was said in consultation is not known to the writer, nor is it likely that it will transpire during the lifetime of either of the three gentlemen engaged. It is, however, known that the group was composed of Senators Wade, Cameron and Chandler; that it was agreed between them substantially that the business of insulting republican Senators on the floor of the Senate had gone far enough, and that it must cease. And further, that in case of any renewed insolence to any other republican Senator, of the character which had been practiced, it should be the duty of one of the three to take up the quarrel and make it his own to the full extent of the code—to the death if need be. The compact was not only made, but signed and sealed, and remainssealed to this day. Its import, however, became known, and the demeanor of the Southern fire-eaters, though still violent and disloyal, soon after became courteous personally toward republican Senators.

They did, however, feel around a little to ascertain whether the whisperings as to the fighting Senators could be relied on. They had a scheme to assault Senator Chandler in the street, but a little inquiry as to strength and skill led to its sudden abandonment. A blustering Southerner took offense at the remarks of Senator Wade, who had said, in a relation to a statement made by him, that such a statement would only come from a liar or a coward. Of course this could not be borne by the high-toned cavalier, and his friend or agent or servitor called on Senator Wade, not with a formal challenge, but to ascertain how Wade would probably act in the event of a challenge. As soon as Wade pierced the diplomacy of the agent, so far as he became aware of his purpose, he told him to tell the —— old coward that he dare not fight. This was not quite satisfactory; the agent or spy seemed anxious to know what kind of weapons Wade would choose in case of a contest. On learning this, Wade said, "rifles at twenty paces, with a white paper the size of a dollar pinned over the heart of each combatant, and tell him if I do not hit the one on his breast at the first shot, he may fire at me all day."

These inquiries seemed to cure all further desire on the part of the chivalry for personal combats. Threats, however, continued to be made of street assaults and caning, generally pointing to the more prominent of the non-combatants in the republican ranks.

Certain of the republicans went thoroughly armed all the time, and these for weeks together, took turns in walking with their non-belligerent colleagues to and from the Capitol to protect them from personal assault.

Senator Chandler was a member of the committee on the conduct of the war, and made a speech in the U. S. Senate defending Gen. Pope. After rehearsing the facts connected with Pope's campaign, which was planned to create a diversion of Lee's army for the extrication of McClellan's forces from the peninsula, in conformity with a suggestion of the late Gen. Wadsworth, and showing that Pope had frequently requested to be relieved from the hazardous campaign laid out for him; that he had only a force of forty-two thousand men scattered between Harper's Ferry and Aquia creek, Mr. Chandler said he asked him in the presence of the committee: "What is to prevent you from being struck by a superior force of the enemy and overwhelmed?" Said he; "Nothing on earth is more probable than that I shall be struck by a superior force and shall be whipped; but I will keep my troops near the mountains, and there are no ten miles where there is not a gulch up which I can take my men and small-arms, and by abandoning my artillery and baggage, save my men; I shall probably be whipped; but it must be done." Any military man can see and appreciate the difficulties and responsibilities of so desperate a campaign. "Yet," said he, "it must be done."

Well, sir, General Pope started on that campaign. Had he announced to the newspaper press of Washington or of the North the number of his men or his object, the object itself would have been defeated. General Pope did what I believe is allowable in war: he perpetrated a ruse de guerre. He sent his scouts all through the mountains of Virginia proclaiming that he had an army of one hundred and twenty thousand men. And, sir, he fooled the newspaper correspondents of the city of Washington and of the whole North. General Pope, when he started on that campaign, had no more idea of going to Richmond than he had of following Elijah to Heaven in a chariot of fire without seeing death. He started with one single object, and that was to save the army of McClellan, or to do all that was in his power to save it. He massed his troops, and that terrible battle of Cedar Mountain was fought; and by that battle he not only fooled the people of this country, but he fooled the rebels. The rebels believed that he had one hundred and twenty thousand men, and that unless they fought him and crushed him before he could unite with the Army of the Potomac their cause was lost; and he drew upon his shoulders with that little force the whole rebel army, so that when McClellan started for Yorktown there was not even a popgun fired at his troops. The ruse was a perfect success, and, as I told General Pope then, "I consider that your campaign has been one of the most brilliant that has been fought up to this time," which was February, 1863; "you saved two armies; you first saved the Army of the Potomac, and then you saved your own."

Sir, General Pope fought for eleven days, fought night and day, fought the whole rebel army with his little force, his force never having exceeded seventy thousand men, comprising not simply his own army, but also General Burnside's forces and the twenty thousand men who had in thirty days been brought up from the Army of the Potomac, and of whom Porter's corps was part. The force which he had met with these was that originally in his front, but overwhelmingly augmented by that rebel force from which McClellan, with his ninety thousand men, had had to be delivered by a demonstration in their rear. He fought, for time. He defended every brook, every barn, every piece of woods, every ravine. He fought for time for the Army of the Potomac to reach him and unite with him, so as to crush the advancing and overwhelming force of the rebels.

During the pendency of Fitz-John Porter's trial, Porter said in the presence of my informant, who is a man whom most of you know, and who is to-day in the employment of Congress, and whose word I would take as soon as I would most men's—though I told him I would not use his name, but I will give his sworn testimony, taken down within two minutes after the utterance was made—Fitz-John Porter said in his presence, "I was not true to Pope, and there is no use in denying it."

Mr. President, what was "not true to Pope?" If he was not true to Pope, whom was he true to? Being true to Pope was being true to the country: "not true to Pope" was being a traitor to the country. Sir, "not true to Pope" meant the terrific fight of the 30th of August, with all the blood and all the horrors of the bitter day; "not true to Pope" meant the battle of Antietam, with its thousands of slain and its other thousands of maimed; "not true to Pope" meant the first battle of Fredericksburg, with its twenty thousand slain and maimed; "not true to Pope" covered the battles of the Wilderness and Cold Harbor, and all the dreadful battles that followed. Had Fitz-John Porter been true to his Government, Jackson would have been destroyed on the 29th of August, and on the 30th the rebels could scarcely have offered any resistance to our victorious army. "Not true to Pope" meant three hundred thousand slain and two thousand millions of additional dollars expended.

Sir, I wish to put this on the record for all time, that it may remain. Let Fitz-John Porter thank God that he yet lives, and that he was not living at that time under a military Government. I told General Pope in the first interview I had with him that I had but one fault to find in the whole conduct of the campaign. He asked, "What is that?" Said I, "That you ever allowed Fitz-John Porter to leave that battle-field alive!"

—Either trouble or happiness borrowed from the future is apt to prove fallacious.

News and Notes

Detective Dearborn and officer Hildreth have obtained a confession from a party in Suncook implicating LePage.

Latest advices from New Jersey give most flattering promises of a sweeping republican victory in that State. The party have placed a class of men in the field who meet the warmest approbation of the people, and from the best informed and most reliable sources it is believed that the election will result in securing both the Senate and House to the republicans. The result in Ohio and Iowa, added to the splendid victory of the republicans in the Newark charter election, has greatly encouraged the party all over the State, and correspondingly depressed the democrats.

The States that hold elections Nov. 2d are Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Kansas, Maryland, Mississippi, Minnesota, Missouri and Texas.

A melancholy suicide occurred in Barnstable, Mass., on the 20th. Miss Carrie Holmes, aged about 21 years, had been sick for a month. Sometime before daylight she left her bed and in her night-dress proceeded to the wharf and threw herself into the water. Her body was found at daylight.

A band of twenty-two citizens, masked, went on board of a boat and shot a murderer named Dugan, who was in charge of a Sheriff, en route to Clarendon, Ark., to be there delivered to the Sheriff of the latter county on a change of venue under a reversion of decision. He had previously been sentenced to be hanged.

Dr. Ballard, formerly of Texas, residing near Marion, Ark., while riding with a lady near his place, was waylaid and shot by a man named Andrews, who fired one barrel of a shot-gun at the doctor, the charge taking effect in his face and neck, knocking him off his horse. After falling, Ballard asked Andrews to raise him up, which he did, into a sitting posture, and then placing the gun near his head, discharged the other barrel, literally blowing Ballard's head off. Andrews then went to Marion and surrendered himself to the authorities. Andrews had been employed by Ballard, and a few days before Ballard had knocked him down twice. Ballard is represented as having been a violent man, and had recently waylaid and shot his wife's nephew, Andrew Fraser.

A fire occurred at the Grafton County Poor Farm, Thursday afternoon, consuming the two large houses and most of their contents, the stable and contents, and woodshed with a large amount of wood. The inmates, consisting of the overseer and family and about one hundred paupers, were all saved. The fire broke out in the attic. The cause is, however, unknown. The loss will be about $30,000; insured for $20,000.

Hon. Lucius W. Pond, whose mysterious disappearance the Worcester papers have been lamenting, turns out to have been a forger to a great extent, having altered notes by applying an acid removing the original writing, and inserted amounts to suit his own convenience. A microscopic examination revealed the frauds. The Gazette says "nobody knows how much of Mr. Pond's indebtedness consists of the forged paper, but it is set as high as $100,000 by interested parties. In all these cases, the loss will fall on the money lenders, who have been furnishing Mr. Pond with money, all this time, without detecting the fraud. The endorsers of Mr. Pond will be released from a corresponding amount, and naturally feel somewhat easier. Two or three years ago a man was in Worcester selling an acid to remove blots and errors from account books. The preparation was looked upon at the time by bank men with considerable alarm and disfavor, from its possible use for wrong purposes. It is quite likely that Mr. Pond bought the acid of the travelling pedlar, and trying experiments first out of curiosity, was led to use it in the way described.

The Pennsylvania correspondent of the New York Times—the same who went through the Ohio campaign—says that one result of the latter has been to compel the democracy to keep quiet on the inflation issue. He says that the information received by the republican committee is most encouraging. It inspires confidence in the conclusion that Hartranft will have a majority of thirty or forty thousand.

In the town of Junius, N. Y., recently, a man named Theodore Bodine, who was feeding a threshing machine, was killed in a curious manner. He and others were threshing loose oats. A coil of fence wire had somehow got mixed with the grain, and he shovelled it unseen into the hopper. One end of it caught in the cylinder and the other end around his neck, and quicker than a flash his head was drawn upon the machine and torn from his shoulders. It was only when blood and brains were seen coming out of the spout below with threshed grain that the man underneath attending to that part of the work called the attention of the others to the fact that something awful had taken place. The unfortunate man leaves a wife and two children.

Frederic Hudson, for thirty years connected with the New York Herald, rising from a humble beginning to the position of managing editor, was fatally hurt by a railroad accident at Concord, Mass., Wednesday night, the 20th, and died next morning. He leaves an invalid wife, to care for whom he relinquished his lucrative position on the Herald in 1866, and a son who has just entered Harvard College. Mr. Hudson's "History of Journalism," issued in 1872, was a most welcome and important contribution to the history of newspaper progress in this country, and it is a loss to journalism that he has not been able to supplement it by a second volume.

Butler, His Houses and Business.

[Washington cor. Boston Globe.]

General Butler is among the recent arrivals here, and in addition to his enormous law business in the courts and before the departments is busily engaged in superintending the finishing of his new house on Capitol Hill. You are already aware that the General has built three houses within a few rods of the Capitol. They form one of the curiosities of the city, and, when a visitor has "done" the Capitol, the next inquiry is apt to be, "Where are General Butler's houses?" The most prominent of the group is the house on the corner of New Jersey avenue and South B street, bordering on the extended grounds of the Capitol. It is of solid Cape Ann granite, four stories high above the basement, was planned by the General himself, and is in all respects the handsomest and most substantial residence in the District. Nothing obstructs the view from the upper stories but the dome of the Capitol, and on a clear day the eye takes in the Potomac, the Virginia hills beyond the Maryland border, and the entire city lying between. This house has been rented to Senator Jones, the Nevada millionnaire, for $13,000 a year. Butler's enemies, while these houses were in course of erection, circulated the story that he was building them to rent to the Government, a favorite dodge here of certain real estate speculators who desire to realize certainly and handsomely upon their investments. But any person who will take the trouble to examine the house will see that he had no such intention. The mechanics were all from Boston. Indeed, it would be almost impossible to procure men south of Philadelphia to do such work. The house rented by Senator Jones contains about twenty-five rooms, exclusive of kitchen, servants' quarters, closets and bath-rooms. It is finished in hard wood and frescoed in the most tasteful and yet elaborate manner. Senator Jones expects to occupy the house about the first of December, and it is understood that he will entertain with the lavish hospitality of a prince. General Butler will be his neighbor, occupying the house next door, and he will propably reside here most of the winter.

The fact that Butler is not a member of the next House does not seem to detract in the least from his popularity, or from his influence at the White House and with the Executive Department. His law office is constantly crowded, and many find it more difficult to have an interview with him than to see President Grant. Had he twenty brains like his own, and as many pairs of hands and eyes, with a constitution and a physique like Hercules, he would still have more than his share of work. Somehow or other people of all shades of politics have faith in Butler's star, or rather in his ability to achieve success. I heard a story recently, which is but a sample illustration of this. There was an old rebel here from Georgia, who was the owner of a large cotton claim, and who was shrewd enough when Sherman was making his famous march to the sea to take the oath of allegiance and thus place himself and his property under the protection of the Government. Swallowing the oath of fealty, he was a rebel still, and like all of his class, placed General Butler in the same category with the devil. He obtained judgment in the Court of Claims for over $700,000, but the Attorney General appealed the case to the Supreme Court of the United States, which meant that the old man might go to his grave without his money. When he heard of the action of the Attorney General he retired to his lodgings and, abandoning all hope, gave himself up to despair. A friend suggested, as a last resort, that he engage General Butler as counsel. Anxious as he was to secure his money, his soul rebelled against the idea of getting it through Butler. "Butler!" said he, almost weeping, "Ben Butler! I would as soon engage the devil." "Never mind," said his friend; "what you want is the money for your cotton, and if Butler can get it for you, what is the odds about his politics?" After considerable argument, the old rebel concluded to apply to Butler. He finally engaged him to take charge of the case for a fee of $25,000. The point was to have the appeal of the Supreme Court withdrawn or dismissed. I forget now whether the case ever reached the Supreme Court, or whether Butler arranged the matter with the Attorney General. At all events, the appeal from the Court of Claims was withdrawn. But the old man was not yet out of hi stroubles, nor was Butler's work entirely completed. A lawyer here named Bartley, a brother-in-law of General Sherman, set up a claim for $100,000 for legal services, and procured an injunction from one of the District Courts to prevent the Secretary of the Treasury from paying the old rebel's warrant. On the morning of the day upon which the argument on the injunction was to be heard, General Butler, accompanied by his client, visited the Treasury Department, procured the warrant for the seven hundred and odd thousand dollars, passed it through its various stages, a process usually occupying several hours, had it signed by the Secretary and cashed. Taking out his own twenty five thousand-dollar fee and stuffing it into his vest pocket, and giving the balance to his client, with the advice that he should take the first train for Baltimore, and thereby avoid the numerous Washington sharks always laying in wait for such prey, Butler proceeded to the court to argue the injunction. He had scarcely stated the case when the judge, recognizing the fact that no court can enjoin the Secretary of the Treasury from performing his executive duty, dissolved the injunction, and Butler proceeded to meet another client with another big fee.

—A lunatic lately tried the Washington monument, and found it sufficiently high to kill him in jumping off. If the officers of the association would only jump off, men might be found who would complete the monument.—New Orleans Republican.

You are generally correct, young paragraphist, but you have struck the wrong tombstone this time, certain. The unfortunate lunatic failed to immortalize our monument, but gave all the fame to the one in Baltimore.—Washington Republican.

RATTAN WARE MANUFACTORY.

ONLY 4 Rattan Ware Factories in the United States, and one of them has just begun manufacturing in Portsmouth. The furniture made by this firm is made of the very best quality of East India Rattan, and for beauty, attractiveness, ease and durability is more desirable than any other furniture. We claim that the generality of our work is better than can be procured elsewhere in the United States. Few people comparatively have ever seen many pieces of this attractive furniture, and we cordially invite any one to call and examine our work even if they have no idea of purchasing. We warrant every piece of our work to be as good as can be bought elsewhere and at less price.

Don't fail to call up, and see what few people in the United States have seen; viz. a collection of this ware. OVER FREEMAN'S OYSTER HOUSE, on Congress street, up one flight.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TO-DAY.

Lost—A Pocket Book.

Jottings.

Ammi R. H. Fernald, Esq., who has been the faithful paymaster of the Factory (now Kearsarge Mills) for 29 years, having been appointed August 13th, 1846, has never missed making payments, until pay day of the 13th of the present month, at which time he was detained at home by sickness.

The subject of Rev. Mr. DeNormandie's lecture for Sunday evening will be "The Sin of Thoughtlessness."

Mr. Charles S. Tucker, formerly of this city and now a leading grocer in Framingham, Mass., has been elected chief engineer of the fire department of that town.

Col. Jos. Cushing has lost one of his baby lions. He took it up to the Northwood Fair, where it took cold or something befel it so that it died. The Colonel valued the pet at $500.

The best remedy for the epizootic is to feed the horse with soft food, blanket warmly, bandage his legs loosely, give him two or three table-spoonfuls of common ginger in his feed, morning and night, and keep the horse-doctor of the neighborhood at least half-a-mile off. If your horse dies under such treatment, send his bill to us and we—will think over it!—Parson Murray in the Golden Rule.

The Naval Band went to Newburyport, Thursday, to aid in the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the Cushing Guards.

The efficient pastor of the North Church has succeeded in awakening an increasing interest among his people in the Missionary Concert. Various brethren are appointed to look after the interests of the different benevolent societies, and report thereupon. The women also, among whom is the Secretary of the State Branch of the Woman's Board, Mrs. H. C. Knight, report the doings of this Board.

Dr. Preston reports an early demand for reserved seats, for the Nowell Brothers' concert next Tuesday evening. Those who secure their tickets this week will no doubt have reason to congratulate themselves on their good fortune, as there is every indication of a full house.

The U. S. S. Marion was taken out of the dry dock, on Friday, and hauled under the shears to receive her guns.

Mr. Joseph H. Berry, blacksmith at the Navy Yard in the department of Construction, met with a painful accident on Friday. A piece of hot iron that had been cut off was hurled with great force into his left eye, almost destroying the sight. It was cut out by the Yard physicians and Mr. B. was sent to his home in this city.

The alarm of fire last evening was caused by the burning of a church at Newburyport.

At the Boston Stock Exchange, Friday, Eastern shares were further depressed, declining from 18 1-4 to 16, It is reported that the President has sent in his resignation. The Bonds are steady at 66 to 66 1-4 for the sinking funds.

Aldermanic.

At the Thursday evening meeting the following resolutions were adopted:

A resolution relating to the Police department: Resolved, that the committee on Police be instructed to inquire whether any and what reduction can be effected in the expense of that department, having due regard to its efficiency; and whether any change should be made in the organization or rules of the Police force;

A resolution relating to the Fire department:—Resolved that the Committee on Fire department inquire into and report upon the feasibility and expediency of making some arrangements by which at an alarm of fire the section or district of the city where it may be, shall be indicated.

Circuit Court.

On Friday, Jane Williams was divorced from Elias Williams, with custody of child.

At half-past four o'clock in the afternoon, the grand jury came in and reported the following indictments:

John Law and John Martin, of Londonderry, breaking, entering and larceny;

John Cross and Gilbert Shumway, South Newmarket, larceny;

Jeremiah O'Conner, Salem, larceny;

George B. Nash, Deerfield, breaking, entering and larceny—and another indictment for larceny;

George W. Felch, Newburyport, harboring felon;

Samuel F. Eaton, Seabrook, assault with intent to commit sodomy;

Geo: H. Brown, West Boylston, Mass., larceny;

John Merchant, Newmarket, larceny;

John Wright, Old Town, Me., and Robert Cotter, Dover, assault and larceny from person.

Portsmouth persons were indicted as follows:

Alexander Thompson, breaking and entering schooner T. J. Trafton;

Sam. Wilson, disorderly house;

Andrew L. Wilson, resisting police;

Thomas Lancy, John Hogan and Wm. Mitchell, larceny.

A Kittery Sensation.

The Boston Globe of Friday has the following:

"Some few days since there appeared in the columns of the Globe an account of a colonization scheme for settling a large tract of land in Marshfield, Vt., and an awkward and suspicious 'hitch' in the programme by which the settlers had been left, with their household goods, at the Fitchburg or Lowell depots. The matter was brought to the notice of the police authorities, and the principal was yesterday arrested at Kittery, Me. The history of the case is as follows: Some three weeks since Martin V. Stimson advertised in the daily papers for fifty men, or more, to go to Marshfield, Vt., to settle a tract of 1900 acres of land in the above named village which he represented that he owned. Stimson said that there was a lumber mill on the tract and that he wanted these men to clear the land, build other mills and engaged in the lumber trade; he said that he had bought the land, at a moderate price and wished it settled, and in consideration of a note for $500 from each of the men he would guarantee them a passage over the Fitchburg Railroad to Marshfield and give them a certain amount of land. As his proposition appeared very fair, likewise the terms of the contracts which he offered in return for the $500 each, he had no difficulty in persuading the men to accept his terms and to sign the contracts; he also presented in support of his claims a recommendation purporting to be signed by ex-Governor Perham of Maine and which was signed by Governor Gaston; he also used the name of Colonel Charles H. Taylor of the Globe in support of his scheme, and said that he was employed on the Globe.

The men who signed his contracts and gave their notes for $500, in view of such a respectable showing, believed fully and explicitly in the scheme and in furtherance of it sold out, and packing together their household goods, a week ago last Monday, they appeared at the Fitchburg Railroad depot and waited in vain for the arrival of the projector of the scheme, Mr. Stimson. The railroad authorities knew nothing about any arrangements for them and had made none with Stimson. There were about fifty men in the party and after waiting a day or two they reported their case at the Central Office. Meanwhile, on Tuesday last Joel Perham, who appears to have acted as Stimson's agent, visited the men and told them that their notes and the contracts would be returned to them, and in a day or two he appeared to each man and gave him his individual note with his name cut off and the contract which he had signed with his (Stimson's) name cut off.

As soon as the police authorities were notified, Detectives Woods and Hines were given the case, and upon learning that Stimson was in Kittery, Me., they procured a warrant and a requisition from Governor Gaston, who had signed his name to the recommendation which Stimson had presented to him, and which he persuaded His Excellency was from ex-Governor Perham of Maine. The detectives started on Tuesday for Augusta, Me., thence they went to Lewiston, where they obtained a requisition from the Governor. Upon information obtained that Stimson was in Portland, they visited that city, where, although they did not find the object of their search, they learned that Stimson was once the editor of the Portland State, a newspaper which was afterward merged into the Portland Star. From Portland they went to Portsmouth, and thence to Kittery, Me., where, with the assistance of Deputy Sheriff Joseph Remick of Kittery, they arrested their man at his own house yesterday morning. Stimson was immediately brought to this city by the detectives, yesterday.

Stimson is a man of about forty-five years, of medium height, light complexion and in his own town is known as a politician. He does not own an acre of land in Marshfield, Vt., and appears to have undertaken the scheme for what money he could raise by the sale of the notes and then to trust to luck to escape the consequences of his crime. The total value of the notes and papers which he obtained was $26,000, but just what the sum total he obtained from his dupes was is not known. The land on which he proposed to settle his little colony is in the possession of one McKenna, but is really owned by one Sawtelle of Cambridge, Mass., who has mortgages upon the property for its full value."

Mr. Stimson is a prominent citizen of Kittery, of considerable energy, and has possibly been misjudged to some extent in the matter referred to. He was formerly a clerk at the navy yard, and has since been identified with several impracticable schemes. The Globe account puts a bad face on the Marshfield matter, but Mr. Stimson's neighbors and friends hope he will clear himself from the charge of intention to swindle.

News and Notes.

The Cape Ann Advertiser publishes the particulars of a bold robbery of a vessel in Boston harbor. The coasting schooner Samuel Knights, of Eastport, Me., which arrived at Gloucester Thursday afternoon, reports that in the morning at half-past one o'clock, while lying off South Boston flats, she was boarded by three men, disguised with canvas masks and armed with revolvers. They entered the cabin where Capt. George E. Clark and his two men, George H. Murray and George Beal, were sleeping. Capt. Clark was awakened by hearing some one prowling about the cabin, and seeing three men, two of whom were engaged in lifting a barrel of flour, asked them what they were about. One of them at once came alongside his berth, and drawing a Colt's revolver, said he would blow out the brains of any one who made an alarm. The three scamps then went to work and took most all the available property in the cabin, consisting of provisions, all the best clothing they could find, and money as follows; from Capt. Clark, $105.75, and from the men $21. The provisions were worth about $20. It was a very bold affair, and as they left the cabin they told the men if they came on deck while they were within shooting distance, they would blow their brains out. Under these circumstances they deemed it best to remain quiet until they were entirely out of sight, when the alarm was given.

LaPage attempted as follows to escape from Concord jail: By means of an iron brace, which he wrenched from the bed frame in his cell, he succeeded in digging out sixteen bricks from the wall in the back side of his cell. Had he got through the wall he would have been let into another cell, of which fact he was probably not aware. He will be more carefully looked after in the future, probably, and it will be regarded as unfortunate for him, if innocent of the charge against him, that he made this futile attempt.

Best Milk Producing Food.

[Cor. Lewiston Journal.]

There is no doubt of a difference in the quality of milk in different cows, some being rich in caseine or cheese, and that of the others in butter; yet as a rule the milk will be in a great measure what it is made by the feed of the cow. The milk from the same cows may be varied by feed from eighty, by the lactometer, up to a hundred and fifteen degrees, the highest number being the best, and such as is produced by the heaviest feed.

In a carefully tried experiment which I made last Winter I found that heavy feed such as corn, wheat and rye shorts, fed to twelve cows, pound for pound, did not make as much milk as wheat-bran, into nine quarts a day, and I have no doubt for a time this would invariably be the result, yet I should not dare to continue for any considerable length of time, to feed my cows upon wheat bran, alone, as it would undoubtedly diminish the strength of the cow and reduce her to a condition that she would be incapable of giving very much milk. I am now feeding to twelve cows two bushels of wheat-bran mixed with one bushel of corn meal ground in the cob, with very satisfactory results. The milk is good, the strength of the animal is kept up and a diminished amount of hay will keep the cow in good thriving condition. I feed twice a day.

It is yet an open question whether the feed should be fed dry or wet. There is no doubt that in cold weather it would be much better if the water, which is required by cows in milk, could be warmed. If taken into the system while at a very low temperature the process of digestion will be retarded until the temperature of the water is raised to blood-heat. In warming this water digestion is not only retarded, but there will be a loss of a certain amount of food, which, like fuel, is consumed in keeping up the heat of the body; and this accounts for the fact that a herd of cattle require very much more food in extremely cold weather. It will be evident, therefore, that a large amount of food may be saved by warm stabling in cold weather and consequently a much greater secretion of milk secured.

The great mass of the community are, no doubt, ignorant in regard to the great difference in the quality of milk made by the different kinds of feed. Milk made from a cow fed upon turnips and buckwheat-bran or buckwheat-shorts, is totally unfit for a young child, or its mother, and there is no doubt that the mortality among children is often caused by improper food of which milk is made. The physician knows the importance of having the milk from a new milch cow assigned for a young child; the why and wherefore very likely he does not know. He probably does not know that the milk from a farrow cow is one-third heavier and one-third richer in caseine than that from a new milch cow, and therefore is not as well adapted to the wants of the child's illness, owing to some improper food eaten by the cow. If I were desirous of making a given amount of milk the best to be adapted to the use of the greatest number of children, I would feed the cows on equal parts (in pounds) of oats, wheat-bran and Indian corn and the best of hay and apples.

Until we become accustomed to trying experiments, we shall not know for a certainty the quantity and quality of food that will, when fed to a lot of cows, produce the greatest amount of really good milk for a given amount of feed, nor shall we know whether the cutting of hay for our milch cows in Winter will pay for the extra expense and labor of doing it. Some of our milkmen who have tried cutting are of the opinion that it pays well for the trouble and some contemplate steaming.

Roots, especially carrots, increase the flow of milk and will tend to keep the cow in good health. Apples will increase the quantity of milk nearly as much as turnips, and much better quality.

In making milk there is nothing more important than good early-cut hay. Without this it may be doubted whether milk can be made with profit.

—Corn cobs are extensively used in Europe for fire lighters. They are first steeped in hot water containing two per cent. of saltpetre, and after being dried at a high temperature, are saturated with fifty per cent. of resinous matter. These lighters, which are sold at from $3 to $4 per 1000, are employed with advantage and economy in private houses and for lighting furnaces.

500,000 ACRES OF MICHIGAN LANDS, FOR SALE!

The Lands of the Jackson, Lansing & Saginaw Railroad Company are now Offered For Sale.

They are situated along its railroad and contain large tracts of excellent FARMING and PINE Lands. The farming lands include some of the most fertile and well-watered hardwood lands in the State. They are timbered mainly with hard-maple and beech; soil black, sandy loam, and abound in springs of pure cast water. Michigan is one of the least indebted and most prosperous States in the Union, and its farmers have a greater variety of crops and resources than any Western state. While some of the Prairie States may produce corn in great abundance, they have no other resource, and when this crop fails destitution follows, as has been the case the past year in Kansas and Nebraska. For Maps, Circulars and further information, apply to or address O. M. BARNES, Land Commissioner, Lansing, Michigan.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS.

NEW TESTIMONIALS.

— FOR —

Weak Lungs, Constipation, Lameness, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Paralysis, Poor Blood and Kidney Troubles.

LOWELL, MASS, July 20th, 1874.

T. W. LANE:—I have used one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, am glad to state in my case they have proved all that you claim for them. I have been troubled with Bad Blood and all its consequent diseases, and have tried several kinds of Bitters and Pills without receiving much benefit, until I tried the CONDITION PILLS, and they have nearly cured where all else failed. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, very truly,
J. D. WHITAKER.

Testimony of a Clergyman---Liver and Kidney Troubles.

EAST TILTON, N. H., April 14, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are not only the best, but the very best I ever used. My wife has been troubled with Kidney Complaint many years; one-half of a package has cured her, so that she feels as well as ever. I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years; one-half of a package has done me more good than all the Pills I ever took. One of my neighbors took them, who has been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years; three Pills have helped him. Your Pills, where used, commend their virtues. Please send to my address one package.

REV. JOHN DAVIS.

Liver Compaint and Rheumatism so that he Could not Sleep Nights.

I was born and always lived in Pittsfield, N. H.; am now 50 years old; been troubled with Liver Complaint for 20 years, and Rheumatism for 20 years, sometimes so I could not sleep nights. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good and relieved more suffering than all the medicine I have taken during my life. J. S. S. RING.

Pittsfield, N. H., Dec. 17, 1874.

Fever and Ague.

NEW BOSTON, N. H., Feb. 1, 1875.

T. W. LANE.—Sir—Last month I sent to you for a package of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS. I had tried five so-called ague cures, and I received more benefit from five of your pills than from all the "Cures" "Cholagogues," "Quinines," &c., that I have taken in five years. I cannot recommend it too highly for ague cases resulting from long standing Fever and Ague.

Yours, most respectfully,
MRS. C. GARLAND.

Scaly Humor Cured by One Package---Liver Complaint Helped.

NORTH SALEM, N. H., Jan. 5, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—Your Pills are all they are recommended. I was troubled with a Scaly Humor on my legs; I took one package and my legs are quite smooth. My wife was troubled with Liver Complaint; she took one package and they helped her greatly.

Yours, with respect,
JOHN H. BLAKE.

From a Leading Citizen of Rindge.

WEST RINDGE, Cheshire Co., N. H., November 17, 1874.

THOS. W. LANE:—After taking three packages of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I am prepared to say they are the very best, for I have tried a great many kinds, and faithfully too, believing they would help me, to no effect.—These I do believe are the very best ever made; just the combination needed. May they be spread all over the wide world, and Dr. Quain's name a household word.

Yours truly,
ASA STICKNEY.

Felt Better, Stronger and Gained Flesh in One Week.

AFTER TAKING DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS.

THOS. W. LANE:—I commenced to take DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and in one week I was heavier, felt better, and was stronger than before, and any one troubled with BAD BLOOD can find sure remedy in these Pills.

L. M. YEATON.
Nov. 5, 1874.

CHESTER, N. H., Feb. 24, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been out of health for some time, and I took a very bad cold and it left my lungs in a very weak state. I received Dr. Quain's Condition Pills and took them according to the directions, and my lungs are some better. I can recommend them to any one who is troubled with weak lungs, for they have done me good, and I think another package will cure me. Dr. Quain's Pills ought to be known throughout the world. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, &c., CYRUS LANE.

HILLSBOROBRIDGE, Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—Dr. Quain's Condition Pills are the best I ever used for lameness and pain. The first dose I took removed the pain and lameness that I have been troubled with for several years. Others have used quite a number of the pills besides myself. Please send another package by return of mail. MRS. DANIEL KIMBALL.

GILMANTON I. W., N. H., Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been taking Dr. Quain's Condition Pills, and can recommend them as far ahead of common pills for constipation of the bowels; they do not have the debilitating effect of common purgatives I have taken.

MRS. J. B. GOODWIN.

NORTHWOOD CENTRE, March 1, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I saw Dr. Quain's Condition Pills highly recommended, and sent for a package and I feel that they have done more for me than all the medicine I have taken for years, and can freely recommend them to others, as a good and sure medicine. Please send me another package as soon as possible. MARTHA NORCROSS.

BRISTOL, N. H., Feb. 27, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have made a fair trial of those Condition Pills, and liked them very much. I think they are all they are recommended. They are a good Liver invigorator.

N. F. DANFORTH.

SALEM DEPOT, N. H., March 8, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I think these pills (Dr. Quain's Condition Pills) are all they claim to be; my wife and I are both victims of Liver and Kidney Complaint, and general debility. We have taken about half that package you sent me, and find a marked improvement in our health. I want four packages to give away in the north part of Vermont, to friends up there. I enclose $2.00, and if you can, send me four Packages. ROYAL SCOTT.

SOUTH PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., March 11, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have given Dr. Quain's Condition Pills a trial, and find I can honestly recommend them, they having materially improved the soreness and lameness with which I have been afflicted since getting upon my feet after the Paralysis of left side that I suffered in last October. I desire you to send me another package as soon as convenient, as I am anxious to continue their use. Though not now a resident of New England, I have lived in Central Vermont more than fifty years, and trust Dr. Quain's Pills will not long be new in that section. MOSES SHELDON.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have been troubled with Biliousness, Headache, and Dizziness, for a long time, and had the Dyspepsia so bad these were but few kinds of food my stomach would bear at all. I commenced taking your pills, have taken most of one package, and now enjoy eating as well as I ever did, am not troubled with dizziness unless by taking cold, and have been greatly benefited by the use of them. A. L. PAGE.

FRANCESTOWN, March 13, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have found Dr. Quain's Condition Pills to be all you claim for them in Kidney Complaint, poor blood, and weak nerves. May they be circulated over the land and found in every household where medicine is needed. I enclose 50 cts. for another package as soon as convenient.

JOHN T. FELCH.

Better Health than for 10 Years.

CHESTER, N. H., Oct. 17, 1874.

MR. LANE:—I have taken one package of Condition Pills; find them in my case all they are recommended; have not enjoyed so good health for the last ten years as I have since I commenced taking the Condition Pills. Shall be happy to recommend them to others. WILLIAM H. FELLOWS.

☞ DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are sold by the Agent of the American Medicine Co. A package will be forwarded upon receipt of fifty cents, by THOMAS W. LANE, agent, Manchester, N. H.

LOCAL AGENTS WANTED.

An Agent Wanted for Each Town and County in the United States.

Parties desiring to act as agents must accompany their application by a letter of recommendation as to character and responsibility from and signed by the Editor of a newspaper published in the town or county for which the agent proposes to act. The agency is to sell the bonds of the Industrial Exhibition Company.

BONDS, $20 EACH.
HALF BONDS, $10 EACH.
QUARTER BONDS, $5 EACH.

The Industrial Exhibition Company will furnish agents with circulars, etc., etc.

Each newspaper published in the town where an agent is located will, as soon as the agency is established, be given an advertisement, advertising such agency and the Company, and fully explaining the plans, purposes and objects of the Company. Such advertisement will continue in such papers as long as an agency is successfully conducted.

The Industrial Exhibition Company is the first to adopt the plan so long in use by the European governments of issuing bonds when the principal is made secure and not risked, but where there is a chance for a large premium, an investment of $20 is sure to return to the investor $21—one dollar more than cost—and the holder of a $20 Bond may obtain a premium either of $30, $100, $200, $500, $1,000, $2,000, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000 or $100,000. The interest, which is ordinarily distributed to all the bond holders pro rata, is in this loan distributed by chance. The purchaser of a bond knows he will receive back his investment, and a small rate of interest, he has a chance in the above named premiums, which are simply the distribution of interest on the whole loan.

Each bond participates in four drawings each year, until it has drawn a premium, when it is surrendered, the premium paid, and the bond cancelled.

The Industrial Exhibition Company, under a special charter granted by the State of New York, is given authority to issue these bonds. The Legislature of the State, recognizing the great benefits which will arise from the success of this enterprise, have exempted all the real estate and property of the Company from taxation and assessments for five years, and has also conferred other great privileges.

Every American who understands the purposes of this Company will, of a necessity, feel a pride in aiding it to a successful termination.

Each individual who buys a bond becomes an owner and an interested party, and when he views the structure erected with his money can say, "I aided to erect in our country the most magnificent building the world has ever seen, a palace which, in truth, represents the industry, energy and mechanical genius of the American people."

The manufacturers and the inventors of America are peculiarly interested in the success of this enterprise, for the reason that it is to be their home, where all their inventions and manufactures can be exhibited and sold.

The building will contain 5,320,000 square feet of space.

Purchasers desiring Bonds before an agency is established where they reside, will communicate direct with this office, from where they can be supplied.

Parties desiring to act as agents or to purchase bonds will address

PULMOCINE.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

The above prizes with the cost of advertising and other incidental expenses, giving the purchasers two-thirds of the profits that accrue on the entire sale, and to enable every one to have an equal share in the profits, with the certainty of receiving treble the value for their small investment and the further opportunity of surely gaining a share in the distribution of $100,000, and this too by the riskless outlay of $1 only.

The Union Pocket Book Co. will deliver free to any address on receipt of One Dollar, a GENUINE MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK, together with a COUPON TICKET,

entitling and giving the holder a share in the drawing of 2818 CASH PRIZES, of the aggregate value of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS CURRENCY. The Company guarantee to return to each purchaser at least treble the value for his money.

How can this be accomplished? is a question many will doubtless ask themselves, and foreseeing this we offer the following lucid explanation.

The Trade assignee, anxious to dispose of and realize on the entire stock of the bankrupts in one sale, accepted our offer of $100,000 cash for the lot; after advertising same for sale for one month, and not receiving a better offer, which in the present depression of business and almost total stagnation of trade is not to be wondered at; notwithstanding that our offer was one third less than the actual cost of the manufacture of the Pocket Books. The assignee having to at once realize the effects of the bankrupts, in the interests of the creditors he had no alternative but to accept this offer and sell us the lot at our own price, thereby enabling us to distribute in prizes $100,000 amongst the purchasers, and at the same time retain a fair marginal profit for ourselves; thus you obtain fully double the value of the amount you forward us and it depends on your luck what amount you gain of the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Money Prizes.

THE SALE WILL POSITIVELY CLOSE ON

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1875,

and orders for pocket books should therefore be forwarded to us at once—no application by letter after Saturday, November 20th, can be entertained.

1000 of the Pocket Books are of the patented manufacture, superior in value to the remainder, the retail price of the same being $8, and these will be forwarded to early purchasers until disposed of.

Therefore those who send immediate orders will reap the advantage of receiving a superior article.

Remittances can be sent us either for one or any number of pocket books by draft, post office orders, or greenbacks in registered letter by express, etc.

Post Office orders to be made payable and drafts to be made payable in favor of Frank Stewart, the Company's Manager; Post Office orders to be drawn on General Post Office, Philadelphia, and drafts on the First National Bank.

The Drawing of Prizes will take place at the Company's Principal Offices, 530 Locust Street, Philadelphia, in the presence of disinterested parties,

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1875

and the winning numbers will be advertised in this Journal and the principal Philadelphia and New York newspapers of Saturday, November 27th.

The Prizes will be forwarded in drafts, greenbacks or by post office order per registered letter by Monday's morning mails, November 29th, or if preferred prizes can be sent by express, or in any other manner purchasers may select, providing same be sighted by them when forwarding orders for pocket books.

Remember this is no lottery, but a bona fide business system founded on a true financial basis which enables the Company to convert into money an otherwise surplus stock, and this too with a good profit to both the purchasers and themselves, effecting a speedy clearance stock which in the present dull times is the great desideratum that in no other way can be successfully attained.

We guarantee each pocket book to be of the best manufacture; of pure Morocco leather and intrinsically worth in retail trade at the lowest rate of from $3 to $4.

This is an opportunity that should not be let pass by; one and all should embrace this chance; We afford every one an opportunity of realizing a share in $100,000 at the insignificant outlay of $1 (one dollar) for which they receive value three fold and those who let this fortuitous chance escape them will have only themselves to blame.

All letters replied to same day as received. We advise intending purchasers to forward orders immediately which will prevent disappointment and receive prompt attention.

Remember, every one who sends ONE DOLLAR before November 24th, 1875, receives A MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK of the value of from $3 to $4 and a COUPON, giving them a share in the drawing of $100,000.

ADDRESS ALL ORDERS, LETTERS, ETC., TO

The Union Pocket Book Company,

SOUTH-EAST CORNER 6TH AND LOCUST STREETS,

PHILADELPHIA, PENN.

P. S.—Drawing absolute on Wednesday, November 24th. No postponement in the remote contingency of any number of the pocket books remaining unsold; a slight reduction not exceeding $5000 may be made proportionately from the amount. inov18

Portsmouth Chronicle.

Nathaniel's Courtship.

[St. Louis Republican.]

A traveller tells us something of the singular weapon used by the natives of Australia, the boomerang. He saw them used by the natives. They ranged from two feet to thirty-eight inches in length, and were of various shapes, all curved a little, and looking, as he describes them, like a wooden new moon. They were made of a dark, heavy wood, and weighed from one to three pounds. In thickness they vary from half an inch, and taper to a point at each end.

One of the natives picked up the piece of wood, and, poising it an instant, threw it, giving it a rotary motion. For the first one hundred feet or more it went straight ahead. Then it tacked to the left and rose slightly, still rotating rapidly. It kept this latter course for a hundred feet or more, perhaps, but soon veered to the left again, describing a broader curve, and a moment later fell to the earth six or eight feet in front of the thrower, having described nearly a circle in the air.

Another native then took the same boomerang and cast it, holding it with the same grip. It took the same course, but made broader curves, and as it came round the black caught it handsomely in his right hand.

Another native next threw it, and lodged it on the ground about twenty feet behind him, after it had described a circle of two hundred yards or upward. After him they all tried it, and but one of them failed to bring the weapon back to the spot where they stood.

Carboon, a native, then selected from the heap of boomerangs another one, and cast it with a sort of jerk. It flew very quickly for 40 or 50 yards, whirling like a top. Then it darted into the air, mounting fully one hundred feet, and came over our heads where it seemed to hang stationary for a moment, then settle slowly, still whirling, till he caught it. Two others of the blacks then did the same thing.

Meanwhile I had with my knife shaved a little of the wood from the convex side of the boomerangs. This is now offered to one of them to throw. He took it without noticing what I had done, poised it, but stopped short, and with a contemptuous glance at my improvement threw it down and exclaimed:

"Bale budgery!" (no good.)

The others then looked at it cautiously, but it was a bale budgery also to them. No one could be induced to throw it.

Myers asked them why they did not use it, but they could not give a definite answer. It was plain that they did not like the way it poised, when held in the hand, yet I could not distinguish any difference whatever between this and the other weapons.

Burleigh then walked a distance of 200 feet or more from the blacks and bid Carnboo throw to him. The native looked at him a moment rather curiously, then, comprehending what was wanted, he selected one of the heaviest of the missiles, and, turning half round, threw it with great force in a direction almost opposite from that where Burleigh stood.

The weapon sped smartly for 60 or 70 feet, then tacked in an instant and flew directly at Burleigh, and, had he not most expeditiously ducked, he would have received a hard thump, if nothing worse. It struck the ground 20 or 30 paces beyond. This feat brought out a broad grin and something like a chuckle from the whole of them. Carnboo even intimated that he would like to try another cast, but Burleigh expressed himself fully satisfied.

Mr. Smith, however, offered to "take a shot," but not at too short a range. We were standing in front of one of the storehouses. Carnboo placed Smith in front of the door and stood with his back to him, with Smith's hand on his shoulder.

None of us knew what sort of a manœuvre he had in mind, not even Myers. Standing in his position, the black threw the boomerang straight ahead. Immediately it curved in the air. Then it disappeared around the corner of the building, and, before he had time to guess what was meant, it came round the other end (having passed completely around the storehouse) and gave him a sounding slap on the back, which made his eyes snap.

—A New York paper has the following good one: Mr. James T. Fields, in an article on Barry Cornwall in the November Harper, tells how he was overcome at seeing Rogers, the old poet. Rogers had seen Keats! Fields saw Rogers! Moreover Rogers had seen a man who heard Dr. Johnson shuffling around inside the door of his house in Bolt Court, but was so overcome at the idea of meeting him that he turned tail and ran. And Fields saw the man who saw the man who came so near seeing the great lexicographer! What opportunities Mr. Fields has had! We wonder if Rogers was as much flabbergasted at seeing Fields as Fields was at seeing Rogers. It seems very funny.

Gen. Bartlett is in favor of a union of "the honest halves of both parties." But what is to become of the dishonest halves? If they should come together wouldn't they be strong enough to carry everything before them?—Portland Transcript.

C. Frank Burns has been arrested at Portland while threatening to shoot the world in general. As he went though the same performance at the same place last week he is supposed to be insane.

Wonderful Dexterity.

[Chicago Tribune.]

He sat one side of the room in a big white-oak rocking chair. She on the other side, in a little white-oak rocking chair. A long-eared deerhound, snapping at flies, was by his side; a basket of sewing by hers. Both rocked incessantly, that is, the young people, not the dog and the basket. He sighs heavily and looks out the west window at a crape myrtle tree; she sighs lightly and looks out the east window—at the turnip patch. At last he remarks:

"This is mighty good weather to pick cotton."

"'Tis that, if we only had any to pick."

The rocking continues.

"What's your dog's name?"

"Coony."

Another sigh-broken stillness.

"What is he good fur?"

"What is who good fur?" said he, abstractedly.

"Your dog, Coony."

"Fur ketchin' 'possums."

"Silence of half an hour.

"He looks like a deer dog."

"Who looks like a deer dog?"

"Coony."

"He is; but he's kinder bellowsed an' gettin' old an' slow now. An' he ain't no 'count on a cold trail."

In the quiet ten minutes that ensued, she took two stitches in her quilt. It was a gorgeous affair, that quilt was, made by the pattern called "Rose of Sharon." She is very particular about the nomenclature of her quilts, and frequently walks fifteen miles to get a new pattern, with a "real putty name."

"Your ma raisin' many chickens?"

"Forty odd."

Then more rocking, and, somehow, after awhile, the big rocking chair and the little rocking chair were jammed side by side.

"How many has your ma got?"

"How many what?"

"Chickens."

"Nigh on to a hundred."

By this time the chairs were so close together that rocking was impossible.

"The minks has eat all ours."

Then a long silence reigns. At last he observes:

"Makin' quilts!"

"Yes," she replies, brightening up, "I've just finished a 'Roarin' Eagal of Brazeal,' a 'Sitting Sun,' and a 'Nasion's Pride.' Have your ever saw the 'Yellow Rose of the Parary?'"

"No."

More silence; then he says:

"Do you love cabbage?"

"I do that."

Presently his hand is accidentally placed on hers. She does not know it—at least does not seem to be aware of it. Then after a half hour spent in sighs, coughing and clearing of throats, he suddenly says:

"I's a great a-mind to bite you."

"What you great a-mind to bite me fur."

"Kase you won't have me."

"Kase you ain't axed me."

"Well, now, I ax you."

"Then, now, I has you."

Then Coony dreams he hears a sound of kissing.

The next day the young man goes to Tigerville after a marriage license, Wednesday, the following week. No cards.

—A good old Methodist lady, very particular and very pious, once kept a boarding house in Boston. Staunch to her principles, she would take no one to board who did not hold to the eternal punishment of a large portion of the race. But the people were more intent on carnal comforts than spiritual health, so that in time her house became empty, much to her grief and alarm.

After some time, a bluff old sea-captain knocked at the door, and the old lady answered the call.

"Servant, ma'am. Can you give me board for two or three days? Got my ship here, and shall be off as soon as I load."

"Wa'al, I don't know." said the old lady.

"Oh, house full, eh?"

"No, but——"

"But what, ma'am?"

"I don't take any unclean or carnal people in my house. What do you believe?"

"About what?"

"Why, do you believe that any one will be condemned?"

"Oh, thunder, yes."

"Do you?" said the good woman brightening up. "Well, how many souls do you think will be in fire eternally?"

"Don't know, ma'am, really—never calculated that."

"Can't you guess?"

"Can't say—perhaps fifty thousand."

"Wa'al, hem!" mused the good woman: "I guess I'll take you; fifty thousand is better than nothing."

—The reporters and correspondents of the New York papers, who have been making a study of Philadelphia preparatory to their work at the Centennial, have been astonishing New Yorkers with their accounts of the houses of Philadelphia. New York proper, with its population of nearly a million, lives in 64,044 dwellings, or did in 1870, an average of nearly fifteen person to each dwelling. In nine of the twenty-two wards of the city, 365,000 persons were crowded into 17,110 dwellings, or an average of 21 1-3 persons to each. Taking New York, Brooklyn and Jersey City together, there are about 1,700,000 persons living in less than 120,000 dwellings, or an average of little more than fourteen in each. In Philadelphia on the other hand, there are nearly 135,000 dwellings for a population o about 800,000; that is her population of a little over three quarters of a million actually own and occupy more houses than the million and three quarters of New York, Brooklyn and Jersey City. By comparing the number of people with the number of houses it will be seen that on an average only six persons occupy each house. As this calculation includes the boarding-houses and the large establishments of the wealthy, it may be fairly assumed that in Philadelphia it is the rule, and not the exception for each family to occupy a separate dwelling. That is, her mechanics, her laborers, and even her shiftless poor are not crowded into filthy tenements, but possess ample room to allow of the cultivation of decency, cleanliness and self-respect.

Daily Chronicle.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1875.

News and Notes.

The democrats of this State propose to throw Judge Roberts overboard, choose Sulloway of Franklin chairman of the State committee, and nominate Warren F. Daniell as their candidate for Governor.

A dispatch to the New York Tribune says the grand torchlight parade in Philadelphia, Thursday evening, was a remarkably brilliant and successful effort, and compared favorably with great demonstrations of Presidential campaigns. Although the procession marched eight abreast, it was 105 minutes passing a given point. The front of this army of voters left the corner of South and Broad streets at 8 1-2 o'clock, and it was nearly 11 when the rear passed the reviewing stand. It is estimated that there were over 30,000 men in line. The column was reviewed by Govs. Hayes and Hartranft. Most of the transparencies carried mottoes that were manifestly echoes of the Ohio campaign. "Hard Money and Free Schools" was the most frequent device. The imposing character of the demonstration shows what an effective organization and plenty of money will do. There is popular enthusiasm to bring out such an immense array of men; and so well disciplined are the republican voters of the city that the party leaders have only to issue their orders to the various ward clubs to bring out their forces and create a parade that has seldom been equaled in times of intense political excitement. The Tribune predicts Gov. Hartranft's election by at least 15,000 majority. Last year the democrats carried the State by 4679 majority.

Mrs. Le Barron of Holderness was very badly scalded by fainting while carrying a pail of hot water.

Work has ended on the Burke mine, at least for this year, and has begun on the old Madison mine, where the prospect is considered good. Mr. S. White has bonded his mine at a high price. The Burke mine men propose to begin mining at once on another portion of the same vein.

Charles Jackson has found another mine at Ossipee that promises well. Gold is said to have been discovered.

A new dress improves a country weekly 34 10-19 per cent., and the Lake Village Times has one, which so delights Mart. Haynes that the Times sparkles all over, mentally and with shining habiliments. Mart. is one of those modest chaps whom one is obliged to listen attentively, in order to catch the low whispers that emerge from his lips, but he can rival Oscar Laighton, the world-wide embodiment of good nature, as a hearty laugher.

The North Church at Newburyport was damaged $2500 by an incendiary fire, Friday evening.

The next State election will occur in Oregon on Monday to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Congressman La Dow, who was elected last year by a vote of 9642 against 9340 for his republican opponent, thus giving a democratic majority of 302.

The city of New York has obtained judgment for the recovery of $500,000 against the estate of Watson, the former book-keeper of the Tweed ring.

Rev. I. H. Coe of New Bedford, a pronounced advocate of the prohibitory law, declares himself in favor of a further trial of the license law. He expresses hope that republicans will not permit another Massachusetts election of a democratic Governor.

The Marquis of Lorne, son-in-law to Queen Victoria, has been writing a love-poem of some 3,000 lines.

Last year, the democracy carried Ohio by over 17,000 majority. This year the republicans carry the State by over 5,500—a gain of more than 22,500. How is that for the "tidal wave?"

Wm. Delany, convicted of the murder of Capt. Lawrence, on board his schooner in Cow Bay, Long Island, is sentenced to be hanged the 10th of December.

A shocking murder and suicide occurred in the town of Mercer, Me., Friday morning. Mrs. Walton, the divorced wife of Hiram Walton, living with Greenleaf Tracy, was shot by Tracy, who fled to the woods and shot himself. Both were found dead. Cause, jealousy.

The farm buildings, house, barn and shed of George M. Munsey, in Chichester, were burned Wednesday night, the 20th. Loss, $2000.

The Haverhill Gazette man announces that he is seventy years old, and makes a half-column description of his experience with a carbuncle, his leading article. How much he must use the personal pronoun in conversation!

"Billy Bedamned" is what the Chicago Times heads the Ohio election returns.

The Lake Village Times tells of a cute resident of that town who lost, some nights since, a number of turkeys and several heads of cabbage. Suspicion fell upon three young men who had been slighted in an invitation to a festal party at Mr. Davis', and he went to their domicile armed and equipped with a formidable looking search-warrant. With the intuition of a born detective, he took with him the stumps from which the cabbages had been taken, and was rewarded by finding a cabbage which just fitted one of the stumps. Using this fact as a "persuader," the young men were finally brought to an acknowledgment of their crime, and settled by paying for the property taken, and for the trouble which had been occasioned.

The republicans have 1700 majority in San Francisco and 7000 in the State.

The brig John and Isabella has been totally lost near Stone Haven, on the Scottish coast. The crew, numbering twelve, perished. Two large vessels have been lost off Peterhead, in the same vicinity, with all on board. This makes five vessels which have gone down with their crews, in a distance of forty miles, which have been reported within the last two days.

The Cincinnati Times says that Mr. L. D. Sine, the blind man who has for fifteen or twenty years conducted a very successful lottery business in that city, has become so enfeebled in mind as to necessitate the appointment of a guardian for him as an imbecile.

The London Times has the following: "We learn from the Drapers' Trade Journal that a Manchester firm has begun to import calicoes from the United States. The fact is significant, and as the importers say the goods are of much better quality and appearance than ours, Manchester, it appears, has found a competitor at least, but that must depend upon the price."

Matthias Keller, author of "Keller's American Hymn," died in Boston on Tuesday, Oct. 12th, aged 62 years.

Washington is becoming lively in comparison to its condition during the past six months. The hotels have large lists of daily arrivals, and there is a good demand for suites of rooms and eligible houses of the better class. A considerable number of Congressmen and residents of remote cities have already put in an appearance there, many of whom have engaged houses for their families. The ensuing Winter promises to be exceedingly lively.

No wonder that the democrats want the people to stop looking at past records and accept promises of future good conduct. Their past record won't bear much inspection and promises are cheap.

A terrible coal mine accident occurred at La Salle, Illinois, Friday morning. James Price and his nephew, John Dalton, stepped into one of the cages in the Taylor shaft to descend to work, when the axle of the pulley broke. The cable snapped, causing the cage to fall to the bottom of the shaft, a distance of 360 feet. Both men were instantly killed. Nine men descended by the same cage fifteen minutes before.

The Brooklyn District Attorney has nol prossed the indictments against Francis D. Moulton and Theodore Tilton, notwithstanding Mr. Moulton's demand for a trial.

A monument and headstones in Colonel E. F. Emerson's lot in a cemetery at Nashua, have been shamefully defaced and mutilated three times within the last three years. The outrage was repeated for the third time on the 20th, when the base of the monument was covered with a coat of tar, and a cross at the grave of a little child was demolished. The Telegraph says that this villainy was probably committed by some one who had a grudge because of having justice meted out to him at the Police Court tribunal when Colonel Emerson was a Police Justice.

Secretary Chandler says that if he finds any clerks in his department who were not loyal during the war he shall weed them out. Tally one for Chandler!

The Boston Pilot says that the trial of Piper for the murder of Mabel Young has been postponed till January, and thinks the next news will be that he has been set at liberty. It also says that he was arrested for the Landergan murder, and though there was strong evidence against him, he was set at liberty by the police and the public never knew of the arrest. Had his arrest then been known, it is more than probable that the missing links of evidence against him would have been supplied in a few hours. The persons arrested for the murder of Mrs. Ellen Dennehy in Boston, some months ago, have been quietly discharged without trial, and the crime is buried in forgetfulness. There is need of supervision in the police department of Boston.

A young man about 20 years old, calling himself A. T. Laurens, of New York, has swindled a large number of Manchester ladies out of from 25 cents to $1.25 each, within the last ten days, representing himself as agent for a superior polish to be used in cleansing silver ware, and that one hundred chromos with elegant frames, worth $25 each, were to be given away among the first families of Manchester, as an advertisement of the goods. His manner of proceeding was to collect 25 cents to bind the bargain, in a day or two call and collect $1, promising to deliver the picture and frame, of which he showed a sample, in a few days. But he left suddenly, leaving an unpaid hotel bill.

About forty dwelling houses have been built in Dover during the Summer.

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction has called a meeting of the prominent educators of the State, at his office, Oct. 30, for the purpose of devising measures for an educational exhibition at the National Centennial.

Henry Brown, the negro who killed Philip Pfarr, a German living a few miles from St. Louis, and then outraged and robbed his wife, on the 25th of May, was hanged on Friday. He made a brief speech on the scaffold, admitting the murder of Pfarr, but denying the outrage.

The Mystery Unravelling.

On the day that La Page was arrested at Suncook, Detective Dearborn and officer Hildreth searched his house and found two razors and a knife, all very sharp. The knife had a blade three and a half inches long; they also found a piece of cloth covered with blood, as if bloody hands had been wiped upon it. Three young girls have stated to them that they were chased in the woods by La Page previous to the Pembroke tragedy. The story told by La Page's wife concerning the Canadian outrage is to the effect that she formerly lived with La Page at Chester, about forty miles below Montreal, and that about five years ago her sister, twenty-two years of age, went one afternoon about five o'clock to get the cows. As she was putting up the bars she was seized by a man who wore a black mask, with eye holes in it. In the struggle that ensued she pulled his mask off and discovered that it was La Page. She was knocked down, severely beaten, ravished and left for dead. La Page immediately fled the country. Some two years ago while La Page was living at St. Albans he went about fifty miles into the country and bought a horse of his cousin and at the same time outraged her in a most shocking manner.

Detective Sargent says the Ball murder was committed by a man who wore moccasins, and La Page is known to be in the habit of wearing them, which is a strong link in the chain connecting him with that crime.

A mask was found tied with withes near where the body of Miss Ball was found, and withes were found tied about trees there and at Pembroke, and La Page is known to be an expert in the tying of withes, and has even mended his harness with them. He has chased girls at St. Albans, and in an interview with the officers his wife stated that he had made attempts to ravish his own daughter, fifteen years old, since living in Suncook, but was prevented by her efforts. She also states that the family have been afraid of their lives, on account of his brutality. She professes to know nothing of his connection with the crimes at St. Albans and Pembroke, though she considers that, after what had already happened, he is fully capable of committing them. She says that the shirt he wore on the day of the Pembroke tragedy is missing; that she washed it but noticed nothing peculiar about it, but that the sleeve was torn. She says it was taken from the line where it was hung out to dry. Detectives Sargent and Dearborn, Officer Hildreth and City Marshal Connell are now working up the case and are confident that La Page is the guilty man, and will probe the matter to the bottom.

The detectives describe Mrs. La Page as a woman heart-broken and worn out by grief and abuse. La Page denies any knowledge of the murder, and claims that he made no attempt to escape from jail in Concord. He says that the bricks had been taken from the cell wall before he was placed in it. He was heard dragging the bricks out, however, by some persons connected with the jail. Taking into consideration his attempt to break jail, his remark to Jailor Davis, "No talk, no proof," in answer to a question, and the horrid confession of his previous sickening deed, the exact counterpart of the St. Albans and Pembroke tragedies, his presence in both places, and his whereabouts unaccounted for at the time of their occurrence, there can be but one impression, and that that La Page is the demon whose work has been so heart-sickening, and whose damning record has never been equalled. It is understood that other important links in the chain of evidence against La Page are in possession of the detectives, and will soon be disclosed.

The Search for Charlie Ross.

Mr. Baker, a respectable citizen of Philadelphia, who recently received a letter stating that little Charlie Ross is in England, has been furnished with funds to pay his expenses to Europe, and New York in a Cunard steamer for Liverpool on Saturday. Mr. Baker has an order from Nelse Booth saying he assisted in the abduction and knew of the whereabouts of Charlie Ross, and urging Baker to use the knowledge thus far given him in restoring the child. Booth has given Baker the following order upon the person who has the child:

Sam Harbet, give to this man Baker my little boy, which I gave you to keep for me last October in York. I have sent him over for him. I have made up with the old woman and we are all going to live together. I have had a big stake and I guess we can live all right. If I owe you anything, send me werd by Baker and I will fix it. You know who I mean—little Charlie Sprague, my son. Baker is already to come to York, so don't detain him, and oblige Hiram Sprague, your old friend Boston.

BY THE JUDGE OF PROBATE FOR SAID COUNTY.

To the heirs at law and creditors to the estate of Ann Pickett, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased, testate, and all persons interested in said estate, greeting:

You are hereby notified that Almira J. Goodrich, executrix of the will of said deceased will present her account of administering said estate at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in and for said County, on the second Tuesday of November next, at 10 o'clock A. M., for examination and allowance. And at the same Court will be taken into consideration for allowance, and to be added to the list of claims, the private claim of said executrix against said estate amounting to $344.

You are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court to be heard thereon, and to make such objections as you may then have. And notice is hereby required to be given by causing this citation to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least one week prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge,
WM. M. HUNNEWELL,
Register of Probate.

Martin Van Buren Stimson has been he'd in the sum of $5000 by the Municipal Court in Boston for examination on Friday next on the charge of attempting to swindle. He declares that no fraud was intended, but that he was unfortunate in not obtaining certain funds, which was the cause of the abandonment of the project. Joel Perham, who, it was asserted, acted as his agent, denies that either he or his brother had any connection whatever with the land speculation. The Portland Advertiser says Mr. Stimson was for several months business manager of that paper. His management was not altogether satisfactory, but the trouble with his accounts was ascribed at the time to his heedless and unbusinesslike habits and not to dishonesty.

Schooner "Dashaway," which was sunk at the mouth of the harbor last week, was raised Friday, and towed into Newcastle.

We have received from O. Ditson & Co. Boston, the following pieces of new music: "Silver and gold." Ballad By Kate R. Fowler. "I'm an orphan poor and friendless." (Porpanello). Romanza. By L. Hackensollner. "It goes against the grain," or "We have to grin and bear it." Song. By Chas. Cook. "Fragrant Rose." Polka. By Chas. T. Doru.

The public library fund is increased about $75 by the proceeds from the fancy dress party.

G. W. Berry, while at work at the Cape Granite Quarry at Bay View, was fatally injured Friday morning by the parting of a derrick, throwing him into a deep pit. On examination it was found that the skull was fractured, caused by being thrown into the pit. He died in the afternoon. He belonged in Rye.

A Repeater Interviewed.

[Lake Village Times.]

We found ourselves in Exeter, one day last week, with a little leisure on our hands. Learning that the cases of the Manchester repeaters were then being tried before the U. S. District Court, we wended our way toward the Court house, intent upon learning the ways both of justice and of ballot-box stuffers.

The grave demeanor with which we approached and entered the temple of justice may be imagined. Removing our hat as we came near the door of the court-room, with bated breath and open eyes we slid through the entrance and into the first seat that conveniently presented itself. This happened to be by the side of the little inclosure of iron pickets.

We were taking in, mentally, a profound impression of the surroundings—the judge in his dignity and knowledge, the marshal behind his little desk, the group of eminent lawyers before the bar—when we felt a light tap upon our shoulder and a subdued voice rasped into our ears:

"How are ye, Manchester? Now ye'll see what divlish dirty scrape ye got us byes into and not a bit do yees hilp us out."

We looked up with surprise. It was the prisoner at the bar who was addressing us, but we had never seen him before, and so informed him.

"Nonsense," he replied with a contemptuous twist of his nose; "Didn't I see yees in Dan. Connor's last 'lection day, when they told me to go ahead and vote on every name yees gave me? And didn't I come all the way from Boston and vote seventeen times, and didn't the beaks haul me, and haint I been rottin' in Portsmouth jail for the last seven months, and not a man to bail me out of the scrape?"

We saw that he was obstinately bent upon mistaking our indentity, so abandoned all attempts to set him right.

"Is your case on now?" we inquired with an air of deep concern.

"Not a bit of it; they've got poor Lyons on trial now. But they won't cook him, the blackguards, the way they did Tremble yesterday. Hatch and Little looked out for that."

"How is that?" we innocently inquired.

"Why, you see, Little told us that we was all safe enough,—that there was democrats on the jury and they wouldn't see us convicted, when we'd helped the party so much. And then what d'yer s'pose they did?"

"We can't imagine."

"Well ye see that gray headed old rascal there by the door."

"We see him. He has a decided air of respectability."

"Respectable! Why he's the biggest blackguard in the crowd. That's old Penniman, from 'way up in Sandwich. Don't you think, now, he was on the jury yesterday—that rinnigade dimmicrat—and he helped bring in a verdict against poor Tremble. He just made a speech to those jurymen, so I've heard, and told them they must lay aside all partisan feeling and go in for justice wherever it hit, and lots of such nonsense. And he just talked them other dimmicrats over wid his fine tongue till they forgot all about their duty to their friends and brought Tremble in guilty of repeating. You'd ought to 've seen Little and Hatch, and the rest of 'em wilt when the foreman gave in that verdict. But they won't play that again. Hatch got old Penniman boosted off this jury, and we've just got the thing fixed all right for the rest. There's democrats there now that understand their duty, and there won't be any more juries agree unless they agree to acquit the prisoner."

"But the Government appears to be making a clear case against Lyons," we ventured to suggest.

"Clear! of course! Them fellows knows what they seed. But wait till we bring in our witnesses. Little Bill hasn't been drillin' the boys on their stories for nothing. I tell ye the jury ain't goin' to agree—mark that!"

Our quondam acquaintance was right in his prophecies. The jury after being out several hours, reported themselves as unable to agree, and were discharged. A smile of satisfaction lit up his face, and he complacently remarked, "Now I'll have a chance, and when my jury can't agree I'll get my bail reduced and get out of that devilish jail."

The afternoon of the following day we dropped into the court room again. It was evident something had happened. The lawyers were picking up their papers, and marshal Patterson was paying off the eager crowd of jurymen and witnesses, and all the indications were that there was a breaking up of the Court.

Our acquaintance of the day before was there, his face covered with a look of blank dismay and disgust.

"What's to pay now?" we inquired with pathetic interest.

"H——l's to pay!" he responded with terrible emphasis. "Here the Court's gone and adjourned over 'till January, and I haven't got a trial nor bad my bill reduced. Seven months in jail so far, and three months more to come."

Our heart bled for him, and we told him so.

"You'll probably get out in season to come up and help us next Spring—we shall need a little more of your assistance then," we suggested with insinuating grace.

"I'll see you hanged first!" he replied, turning savagely upon us. "If I ever get out of this scrape you'll have a chance to do your own voting for all me. I'll stay in Boston."

We lifted our hat with knightly grace, wafted a kiss to him from the ends of our pearly fingers, bade him "By-by" in sweet and dulcet tones, and left him to his pleasant meditations and his prison fare.

How to Vanquish the Stomach's Tormentor.

If the Enemy of mankind was permitted to exert his diabolical ingenuity in the invention of a new disease, he could scarcely devise one more worthy of his genius than dyspepsia. The dyspeptic sufferer is tormented by symptoms resembling those of almost every known malady, and is often worried into monomania by these conflicting and perplexing manifestations. A favorite though absurd hallucination of the victim of chronic indigestion is that he or she has heart disease. Dyspepsia has often been pronounced incurable, but experience has shown that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will vanquish it, together with the constipation and bilious derangement which usually accompany it. Diseases of the kidneys and supposed rheumatic pains are also frequent concomitants of dyspepsia, but they, too, succumb to the above named invaluable corrective.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.

Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers, the voice is changed and has a nasal twang, the breath is offensive, smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, mental depression, hacking cough, and general debility. Only a few of the above named symptoms are, however, likely to be present in any one case. There is no disease more common than Catarrh, and none less understood by physicians.

DR SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY

is, beyond all comparison, the best preparation for Catarrh ever discovered. Under the influence of its mild, soothing and healing properties, the disease soon yields. The Golden Medical Discovery should be taken to correct the blood, which is always at fault, and to act specifically upon the diseased glands and lining membrane of the nose. The Catarrh Remedy should be applied warm with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche—the only instrument by which fluids can be perfectly injected to all the passages and the chambers of the nose from which discharges proceed.

These medicines are sold by Druggists.

Treating the Girls.

[Burlington Hawkeye.]

People have noticed that one of the handsomest young men in Burlington has suddenly grown bald. Ah, no; he went to a church sociable the other week, and took three charming girls out to the refreshment table, let them eat all they wanted, and then found he had left his pocket-book at home, and a deaf man that he had never seen before at the cashier's desk. The young man, with his face aflame, bent down and said softly:

"I am ashamed to say I have no change with—"

"Hey?" shouted the cashier.

"I regret to say," the young man repeated on a little louder key, "that I have unfortunately come away without any change to—"

"Change two?" chirped the deaf man, "Oh, yes, can change a five, if you want it.

"No," the young man explained in a terrible, penetrating whisper, for a half dozen people were crowding up behind him, impatient to pay their bills and get away, "I don't want to change, because—"

"Oh, don't want no change?" the deaf man cried, gleefully. "'Bleeged to ye, 'bleeged to ye. 'Taint often we get such generous donations. Pass over your bill."

"No, no," the young man explained, "I have no funds—"

"Oh, yes, plenty of fun," the deaf man replied, growing tired of the conversation and noticing the long line of people waiting with money in their hands; "but I haven't time to talk about it now. Please settle and move on."

"But the young man gasped out, "I have no money—"

"Go Monday?" queried the deaf cashier. "I don't care when you go. You must pay, and let these other people come up."

"I have no money!" the mortified young man shouted, ready to sink into the earth, while the people all around him, and especially the three girls he had treated were giggling and chuckling audibly.

"Owe money?" the cashier said. "Of course you do; $2.75."

"I can't pay!" the youth screamed, and by turning his pocket inside out and yelling his poverty to the heavens he finally made the deaf man understand. And then he had to shriek his full name three times, while his ears fairly rang with the half stifled laughter that was breaking out all around him; and he had to scream out where he worked, and roar when he would pay, and he couldn't get the deaf man to understand him until some of the church members came up to see what the uproar was, and, recognizing their young friend, made it all right with the cashier. And the young man went out into the night and clubbed himself, and shred his locks away until he was bald as an egg.

—At a recent lecture upon the steam engine of to-day, some one exclaimed, in the midst of the learning being pour d forth, "But what is steam, old fellow?" There was a great deal of tittering at the disconcerted appearance of the engine savant, and he proceeded to lecture. This would not do, and the same voice exclaimed, "But what is steam, old fellow?" "Well," said he, after a moment, "I think it might be described as water in a state of extraordinary perspiration."

—A Tennessee girl, riding on the cars, crossed the aisle, kicked a young man up against the window, and remarked: "I was brung up never to allow a yeller-eyed man to wink at me."

—Lying is trying to hide in a fog; if you move about you are in danger of bumping your head against the truth; as soon as the fog blows up, you are gone anyhow.

500,000 ACRES OF MICHIGAN LANDS,

FOR SALE!

The Lands of the Jackson, Lansing & Saginaw Railroad Company are now Offered For Sale.

They are situated along its railroad and contain large tracts of second FARMING and PINE Lands. The farming lands include some of the most fertile and well-watered hardwood lands in the State. They are timbered mainly with hard-maple and beech; soil black, sandy loam, and underlaid in springs of pure water. Michigan is one of the least-indebted and most prosperous State in the Union, and its farmers have a greater variety of crops and resources than any Western state. While some of the Prairie States may produce corn in great abundance, they have no other resource, and when this crop fails destitution follows, as has been the case the past two years in Kansas and Nebraska. For Maps, Circulars and further information, apply to or address O. M. BARNEY, Land Commissioner, Lansing, Michigan.

Utility, Durability and Brilliancy.

The following advantages are claimed for the

"BRILLIANT" PANTOSCOPIC SPECTACLES and EYE-GLASSES.

FIRST. That, from the peculiar construction of the Glass and Frame, they assist and preserve the sight, rendering frequent changes unnecessary.

SECOND. That they confer a brilliancy and distinctness of vision, with an amount of Ease and Comfort not hitherto enjoyed by spectacle wearers.

THIRD. That the material from which the Lenses are ground is manufactured especially for optical purposes, and is Pure, Hard and Brilliant, and not liable to become scratched.

The "BRILLIANTS" are unrivalled for strengthening and preserving the Eyesight, and for their lasting qualities. Every pair is stamped F. L. B., and can be procured only from Resident Agents.

☞ A full assortment of sizes, set in GOLD, STEEL, RUBBER and SHELL, of the FINEST QUALITY, and warranted not to break from any imperfection in the manufacture, can always be obtained of

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS.

NEW TESTIMONIALS.

FOR

Weak Lungs, Constipation, Lameness, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Paralysis, Poor Blood and Kidney Troubles.

One Box Dr. Quain's Condition Pills "Nearly Cured Where All Else Failed."

LOWELL, MASS, July 20th, 1874.

T. W. LANE:—I have used one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, am glad to state in my case they have proved all that you claim for them. I have been troubled with Bad Blood and all its consequent diseases, and have tried several kinds of Bitters and Pills without receiving much benefit, until I tried the CONDITION PILLS, and they have nearly cured where all else failed. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, very truly,
J. D. WHITAKER.

Testimony of a Clergyman---Liver and Kidney Troubles.

EAST TILTON, N. H., April 14, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are not only the best, but the very best I ever used. My wife has been troubled with Kidney Complaint many years; one half of a package has cured her, so that she feels as well as ever. I have been troubled with Liver Compaint for many years; one-half of a package has done me more good than all the Pills I ever took. One of my neighbors took them, who has been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years: three Pills have helped him. Your Pills, where used, commend their virtues. Please send to my address one package.

REV. JOHN DAVIS.

Liver Compaint and Rheumatism so that he Could not Sleep Nights.

I was born and always lived in Pittsfield, N. H.; am now 36 years old; been troubled with Liver Complaint for 30 years, and Rheumatism for 20 years, sometimes so I could not sleep nights. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good and relieved more suffering than all the medicine I have taken during my life. JS. S. RING.

Pittsfield, N. H., Dec. 17, 1874.

Fever and Ague.

NEW BOSTON, N. H., Feb. 1, 1875.

T. W. LANE,—Sir:—Last month I sent to you for a package of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS. I had tried five so-called ague cures, and I received most benefit from five of your pills than from all the "Cures" "Cholagogues," "Quinine," &c., that I have taken in two years. I cannot recommend it too highly for diseases resulting from long standing Fever and Ague.

Yours, most respectfully,
MRS. C. GARLAND.

Scaly Humor Cured by One Package---Liver Complaint Helped.

NORTH SALEM, N. H., Jan. 5, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—Your Pills are all they are recommended. I was troubled with a Scaly Humor on my legs; I took one package and now the skin is smooth. My wife was troubled with Liver Complaint; she took one package and they helped her greatly.

Yours, with respect,
JOHN H. BLAKE.

From a Leading Citizen of Rindge.

WEST RINDGE, Cheshire Co., N. H., November 17, 1874.

THOS. W. LANE:—After taking three packages of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I am prepared to say they are the very best, for I have tried a great many kinds, and faithfully too, believing they would help me, to no effect.—These I do believe are the very best ever made; just the kind a man needs. May they be spread all over the wide world, and Dr. Quain's name a household word.

Yours truly,
ASA STICKNEY.

Felt Better, Stronger and Gained Flesh in One Week,

AFTER TAKING DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS,

ROLLINSFORD, N. H.

THOS. W. LANE:—I commenced to take DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and in one week I was better, felt better, and was stronger than before, and any one troubled with BAD BLOOD can find sure remedy in these Pills.

Nov. 3, 1874. L. M. YEATON.

CHESTER, N. H., Feb. 24, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been out of health for some time, and I took a very bad cold and it left my lungs in a very weak state. I received Dr. Quain's Condition Pills and took them according to the directions, and my lungs are some better. I can recommend them to any one who is troubled with weak lungs, for they have done me good, and I think another package will cure me. Dr. Quain's Pills ought to be known all over the world. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, &c., CYRUS LANE.

HILLSBORO BRIDGE, Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—Dr. Quain's Condition Pills are the best I ever used for lameness and pain. The first dose I took removed the pain and lameness that I had been troubled with for over two years. Others have used quite a number of the pills besides myself. Please send another package by return of mail. MRS. DANIEL KIMBALL.

GILMANTON I. W., N. H., Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and can pronounce them as far ahead of common pills for constipation of the bowels; they do not have the debilitating effect of common purgatives I have taken.

MRS. J. B. GOODWIN.

NORTHWOOD CENTRE, March 1, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I saw Dr. Quain's Condition Pills highly recommended, sent for a package, and I feel that they have done more for me than all the medicine I have taken for years, and can freely recommend them to suffering mankind as a medicine. Please send me another package as soon as possible. MARTHA NORCROSS.

BRISTOL, N. H., Feb. 27, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have made a fair trial of those Condition Pills, and liked them very much. I think they are all they are recommended. They are a good Liver invigorator.

N. F. DANFORTH.

SALEM DEPOT, N. H., March 8, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I think those pills (Dr. Quain's Condition Pills) are all they claim to be; my wife and I are both victims of Liver and Kidney Complaints, and general debility. We have taken about half that package you sent me, and find a marked improvement in our health. I want four packages to give away in the north part of Vermont to finish up there. I enclose $2.00, and if you can, send me four Packages. ROYAL SCOTT.

SOUTH PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., March 11, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have given Dr. Quain's Condition Pills a trial, and find I can heartily recommend them, they having materially improved the soreness and lameness with which I have been afflicted since getting upon my feet after the Paralysis of left side that I suffered last winter. I advise you to send me another package as soon as convenient, as I am anxious to continue their use. Though not entirely relieved of the Paralysis, I think in Central Vermont more than fifty years, and trust Dr. Quain's Pills will not long be near in that section. MOSES SHELDON.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have been troubled with Biliousness, Headache, and Dizziness, for a long time, and had no appetite to eat; there were but few kinds of food my stomach would bear at all. I commenced taking your pills, have taken most of one package, and now eat as well as I ever did, am not troubled with dizziness unless by taking cold, and have been greatly benefited by the use of them. A. L. PAGE.

FRANCESTOWN, March 13, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have found Dr. Quain's Condition Pills to be all you claim for them in Kidney Complaint, poor blood, and weak nerves. May they be circulated over the land and found in every household where medicine is needed. I enclose 50 cts. for another package as soon as convenient.

JOHN T. FELCH.

Better Health than for 10 Years.

CHESTER, N. H., Oct. 17, 1874.

MR. LANE:—I have taken one package of Condition Pills, and them in my case all they are recommended; have not enjoyed so good health for the last ten years as I have since I commenced taking the Condition Pills. Shall be happy to recommend them to others. WILLIAM H. FELLOWS.

☞ DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are sold by the Agent of the American Medicine Co. A package will be forwarded upon receipt of 80 cents, by THOMAS W. LANE, agent, Manchester, N. H.

SCRIBNERS' MONTHLY for 1876.

The publishers invite attention to the following list of some of the attractive articles secured for Scribner's Monthly, for the coming year. In the field of fiction, besides numerous novelettes and shorter stories, there will be

TWO REMARKABLE SERIAL STORIES,
By American Authors.

The first of these, now complete in our hands,

"GABRIEL CONROY,"
By BRET HARTE,

Begins in the November number, and will run for twelve months. This is Mr. Harte's first extended work. The scenes and characters, which the author has chosen from his favorite field, California, are painted with character-istic vividness and power; and the work is without doubt the most graphic record of California life that has yet appeared.

We shall also begin in the January number,

"PHILIP NOLAN'S FRIENDS,
OR, SHOW YOUR PASSPORTS,"
By EDWARD EVERETT HALE.

The scene of this story is laid in the Southwestern territory, now forming the States of Louisiana and Texas, at the time of Aaron Burr's treason. The characters lived in a section which was now American, now French, and now Spanish, and this record of their adventurous lives makes a story of intense and unflagging interest throughout.

A SECOND "FARMER'S VACATION,"
By Col. GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

Col. Waring is now in Europe, visiting, in a row-boat ride of two hundred and fifty miles, one of the most fertile and interesting of the vine growing valleys of Europe. This second series of papers promises to be even more interesting than that with which our readers are already familiar.

CENTENNIAL LETTERS,
Edited by John Vance Cheney.

A rare collection of Revolutionary Letters, mainly from stores in the hands of the descendants of Col. Joseph Ward. They are full of interest, and will be read with a rare relish in connection with the Centennial celebration of the year.

BRILLIANTLY ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES ON AMERICAN COLLEGES,

Written respectively by their friends, will appear during the year. The revived interest in college life makes these papers especially timely, and will secure for them unusual attention.

OLD NEW YORK,

Elegantly illustrated articles on Old New-York, by John F. Mines, will appear at once, and will attract the attention of all in city or country who mark with interest the development of the great metropolis, and affectionately remember the quaint peculiarities of its olden time.

Every number is profusely illustrated, thus enabling us to give to our descriptive and narrative articles, an interest and permanent value never attained in a non illustrated periodical. Under its accustomed management the magazine will in the future be devoted, as it has been in the past, to sound literature and Christian progress.

The Editorial Departments occupy over twenty pages of each number and contain Dr. Holland's vigorous and timely editorials, as well as Reviews of the latest works in Art, Literature, and science.

TERMS:

$4.00 A YEAR, in advance; 35 cents a Number.

The 10 vols, complete, Nov. 1870, to Oct. 1875, bound in maroon cloth.....$20.00
do. do. bound in half morocco, 30.00
Vols. begin in November and May. Any of the earlier volumes (7 to 12) can be supplied separately to parties who wish them to complete sets at this rate, i. e., cloth, $2 00; half morocco, $3.00.

Booksellers and Postmasters will be supplied at rates that will enable them to fill any of the above offers.

POSTAGE PREPAID ON ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS.

☞ Every subscriber for 1876 will be presented with a superb, large size steel engraving of Trumbull's celebrated picture of "The Signing of the Declaration of Independence." This will be "Peterson's" Centennial Gift. ☜

"PETERSON'S MAGAZINE" contains, every year, 1000 pages, 14 steel plates, 12 colored Berlin patterns, 13 mammoth colored fashion plates, 24 pages of music, and 900 wood cuts.

Great improvements will be made in 1876. Among them will be a series of illustrated articles on the Great Exhibition at Philadelphia, which will alone be worth the subscription price. They will be appropriately called

THE CENTENNIAL IN PEN AND PENCIL!

The immense circulation of "Peterson" enables its proprietor to spend more money on embellishments, stories, &c., than any rival. It gives more for the money than any in the world. Its

are the best published anywhere. All the most popular writers are employed to write originally for "Peterson." In 1876, in addition to the usual quantity of short stories, FIVE ORIGINAL COPYRIGHT NOVELETTES will be given, by Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Frank Lee Benedict, Mrs. F. H. Burnett, and others.

MAMMOTH COLORED FASHION PLATES

ahead of all others. These plates are engraved on steel, twice the usual size, and are unequalled for beauty. They will be superbly colored. Also, Household and other receipts; in short, everything interesting to ladies.

N. B.—As the publisher now prepays the postage to all mail subscribers, "Peterson" is cheaper than ever; in fact is the cheapest in the world.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent its spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LOCAL AGENTS WANTED.

An Agent Wanted for Each Town and County in the United States.

Parties desiring to act as agents must accompany their application by a letter of recommendation as to character and responsibility from and signed by the Editor of a newspaper published in the town or county for which the agent proposes to act The agency is to sell the bonds of the Industrial Exhibition Company.

BONDS, $20 EACH.
HALF BONDS, $10 EACH.
QUARTER BONDS, $5 EACH.

The Industrial Exhibition Company will furnish agents with circulars, etc., etc.

Each newspaper published in the town where an agent is located will, as soon as the agency is established, be given an advertisement, advertising such agency and the Company, and fully explaining the plans, purposes and objects of the Company. Such advertisement will continue in such papers as long as an agency is successfully conducted.

The Industrial Exhibition Company is the first to adopt the plan so long in use by the European governments of issuing bonds when the capital is made secure and not risked, but where there is a chance for a large premium, an investment of $20 is sure to return to every investor one dollar more than cost—and the holder of a $20 Bond may obtain a premium either of $50, $100, $200, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $25,000, $10,000, $25,000 or $100,000. The interest, which is ordinarily distributed to all the bond holders pro rata, is in this loan distributed by chance. The purchaser of a bond knows he will receive back his investment, with a small rate of interest, by han a chance in the above named premiums, which are simply the distribution of interest on the whole loan.

Each bond participates in four drawings each year, until it has drawn a premium, when it is surrendered, the premium paid, and the bond cancelled.

The Industrial Exhibition Company, under a special charter granted by the State of New York, is given authority to issue these bonds. The Legislature of the State, recognizing the great benefits which will arise from the success of this enterprise, have exempted all the real estate and property of the Company from taxation and assessments for five years, and has also conferred other great privileges.

Every American who understands the purposes of this Company will see the necessity, feel a pride in aiding it to a successful termination.

Each individual who buys a bond becomes an owner and an interested party, and when he views the structure erected with his money can say, "I aided to erect in our country the most magnificent building the world has ever seen, a palace which, in truth, represents the industry, energy and mechanical genius of the American people."

The manufacturers and the inventors of America are peculiarly interested in the success of this enterprise, for the reason that it is to be their home, where all their inventions and manufactures can be exhibited and sold.

The building will contain 5,320,000 square feet of space.

Purchasers desiring Bonds before an agency is established where they reside, will communicate direct with this office, from where they can be supplied.

Parties desiring to act as agents or to purchase bonds will address

2000	" "	1	" "

The above prizes with the cost of advertising and other incidental expenses, giving the purchasers two-thirds of the profit on the entire sale, and to enable every one to have an equal share in the profits, with the certainty of receiving treble the value for their small investment and the further opportunity of surely gaining a share in the distribution of $100,000, and this too by the riskless outlay of $1 only.

The Union Pocket Book Co. will deliver free to any address on receipt of One Dollar, a GENUINE MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK, together with a COUPON TICKET,

entitling and giving the holder a share in the drawing of 2818 CASH PRIZES, of the aggregate value of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS CURRENCY. The Company guarantees to return to each purchaser at least treble the value for his money.

How can this be accomplished? is a question many will doubtless ask themselves, and in reseeing this we offer the following lucid explanation:

The Trade assignee, anxious to dispose of and realize on the entire stock of the bankrupts in one sale, accepted our offer of $40,000 cash for the lot; after advertising same for sale for one month, and not receiving a single offer, which in the present depression of business and almost total stagnation of trade is not to be wondered at; notwithstanding that our offer was one third less than the actual cost of the manufacture of the Pocket Books. The assignee having to at once realize the effects of the bankrupts, in the interests of the creditors he had no alternative but to accept the offer and sell the lot at our own price, thereby enabling us to distribute in prizes $100,000 amongst the purchasers, and at the same time make a handsome marginal profit for ourselves; thus you obtain fully double the value of the amount you forward us and it depends on your luck what amount you gain of the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Money Prizes.

THE SALE WILL POSITIVELY CLOSE ON

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1875,

and orders for pocket books should therefore be forwarded to us at once—no application by letter after Saturday, November 20th, can be entertained.

1000 of the Pocket Books are of the patented manufacture, superior in value to the remainder, the retail price of the same being $8, and these will be forwarded to early purchasers until disposed of.

Therefore those who send immediate orders will reap the advantage of receiving a superior article.

Remittance may be made in any manner most convenient of pocket books by draft, post office orders, or greenbacks in registered letter by express, etc.

Post Office orders to be made payable to the Sole Agent in favor of Frank Stewart, the Company's Manager; Post Office orders to be drawn on General Post Office, Philadelphia, and drafts on the First National Bank.

The Drawing of Prizes will take place at the Company's Principal Office, 230 Dock street, Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, on and the winning numbers will be advertised in this Journal and the principal Philadelphia and New York newspapers of Saturday, November 27th.

The Prizes will be forwarded in drafts, greenbacks or by post office order per registered letter by Monday's morning mail, November 29th, or if preferred prizes can be sent by express, or in any other manner purchasers may select, providing same be signified by them when forwarding orders for pocket books.

Remember this is no lottery, but a bona fide business system founded on a true financial basis which enables the Company to convert into money an otherwise surplus stock, and this too with a good profit to both the purchasers and themselves, effecting a speedy clearance sale which in the present dull times is the great desiderata that in no other way can be successfully attained.

We guarantee each pocket book to be of the best manufacture; of genuine morocco leather and intrinsically worth in retail trade at the lowest rate of from $3 to $4.

This is an opportunity that should not be let pass by; one and all should embrace this chance; We afford every one an opportunity of realizing a share in $100,000 at the insignificant outlay of $1 (one dollar) for which they receive value three fold and those who let this fortuitous chance escape them will have only themselves to blame.

All letters replied to the same day as received. We advise intending purchasers to forward orders immediately which will prevent disappointment and receive prompt attention.

Remember, every one who sends ONE DOLLAR before November 20th, 1875, receives A MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK of the value of from $3 to $4 and a COUPON, giving them a share in the drawing of $100,000.

ADDRESS ALL ORDERS, LETTERS, ETC., TO

The Union Pocket Book Company,

SOUTH-EAST CORNER 6TH AND LOCUST STREETS,

PHILADELPHIA, PENN.

P. S.—Drawing absolute on Wednesday, November 24th. No postponement in the remote contingency of any number of the pocket books remaining unsold; a slight reduction not exceeding $5000 may be made proportionately from the prizes. tnov16

Innocence and Obstinacy.

[Detroit Free Press.]

The other evening a Detroit joker slipped a little pink love-letter into the pocket of a staid old citizen as they were riding on the street car. Of course the old citizen's wife made a dive for his overcoat pockets as she passed through the hall, and when she had digested the love letter she determined to commit suicide. While going up stairs after her bonnet she got mad and changed her mind. Walking into the room where he sat before a cheerful fire, she exclaimed:

"Loves you better than her own life, eh?"

"Who—what!" he inquired.

"And she wants to know how that bald-headed wife of yours gets along, eh?"

"I really—I can't—"

"And she wants $50 to buy her a set of furs, does she?"

"Why, Mary—why, what are you talking about?"

"Oh! it's come out—I've got the proofs!" she shouted, making a dash for his hair,

The worthy man has sworn the most solemn oaths to his innocence; offered to let her employ a detective to shadow him; counted for every hour of his absence during the past year, and furnished fifty theories in regard to the letter, and yet the wife coldly remarks that she is staying there solely on the children's account.

—Mr. George W. Adair, a citizen of Atlanta, Ga., writes to an exchange:

"Before the war I kept four negroes on my lot. 'Wash,' a man-of-all-work, valued at fifteen hundred dollars; Sarah, a No. 1 cook, fifteen hundred dollars; Harriet, a house girl, twelve hundred dollars, and Nancy, a nurse, nine hundred dollars. The legal interest (seven per cent.) on the value of these slaves was three hundred and fifty dollars per annum, and I had to feed, clothe, pay doctor's bills, etc. Now I have the same service performed at three hundred dollars per annum. I feed these hired servants, but furnish no clothing nor pay doctor's bills, and get the same service per month for less money than when I owned slaves, and if they die I lose nothing. Now, when I acquire my capital I can put it in other property, instead of locking it up in slaves. This, I think, illustrates the whole question. The land-owner can avail himself of negro labor to-day at less cost than when he had to pay for the slave and take care of him. This labor cannot be controlled as absolutely as slave labor, and more or less irregularities grow out of it; still it is available and susceptible of being used to great profit by the land-owner. Planters who owned slaves, who now remain upon their land and give personal attention to the crops, can make more clear money from the soil than under the old system. The South is becoming every year more familiar with free labor, and understands better how to manage it. She is becoming more self-reliant and self-sustaining."

—"T. F. P." thus writes of setting hens in the Framingham Gazette: "I've got a hen that would set, whether or no; allers would set. I tried every way in the world to stop her, and never could do it. But last Sunday as I was coming home from metin', an idee struck me. No, it wasn't nothin' in the sermon; nothin' to do with the sermon; it was chestnut burrs. I went to the hen-house, and I pulled her off the nest and just put three likely lookin' burrs snug into the nest, and waited to see what would turn up. Well, sir, you would ha' laffed; she giv a squawk and jumped up onto the edge o' the nest and looked round at the burrs. You ought to have seen that hen look at them burrs; and there she sot and sot, and looked out o' the door and considered: and every now and then she'd look round at the burrs and consider. Well, sir, she considered for just exactly two hours, and then she came down amongst the other hens, and hain't been nigh the nest since. Fact, just as I tell ye."

—One dark night, not long ago, a burglar entered a private residence on Broadway. On ascending one flight of stairs he observed a light in a chamber, and while deliberating what to do, a large woman suddenly descended upon him, seized him by the throat, pushed him down through the hall, and forced him into the street before he had time to think. "Heroic Repulse of a Burglar by a Woman" was the way the story was told the next day. But when friends called and congratulated her upon her courage, she exclaimed: "Good gracious! I didn't know it was a burglar! If I had, I should have been frightened to death. I thought it was my husband come home drunk, and I was determined he shouldn't stay in the house in that condition."

—Last evening a fellow staggering under a load of enjoyment passed down C street. In front of Mallon's store were piled four empty boxes; consequently there was a collision. When at length the heap of enjoyment was segregated from the wreck, and assumed a wavering, upright position, the proprietor thereof, thinking he had been knocked down for some impertinent remark, apologized by saying, "S'za that's darn'd lie—nev' zed't."—Virginia (Nev.) Enterprise.

—A married lady found her two sons quarreling, and in hope of putting an end to their difference, uttered the following; "You young rascals, if you don't desist directly, I'll tell both your fathers."

Newspaper Notes.

Forepaugh's menagerie at Rock New York State, On Thursday, the giraffe, valued at $7000, died at Schenectady, is supposed from the cold weather, and, the next day, the rhinoceros, valued at $20,000, was so severely injured by his wagon breaking through the bridge near Hoffman's Ferry, that he will probably die.

The Chicago Times editor was mulcted in damages some months ago, to the tune of $25,000 for libeling a Miss Early, amount of Rockford, Illinois. The Times was innocent of any malicious intent, but published a letter making scandalous charges against the young lady without attempting to ascertain whether they were true or not. The amount awarded was excessive, perhaps, and the plaintiff consented to accept fifteen thousand dollars rather than have the case appealed. But Mr. Storey demurred and took an appeal to the Supreme Court, where the case is yet pending. Now comes the really disgraceful part of the affair: F. B. Wilkie, an assistant editor of the Times, is said to have been sent to Rockford with instructions to obtain evidence against the character of the plaintiff with a view to the reduction of the damages. The lady bears an irreproachable character and belongs to one of the first families of the town. Wilkie employed the reputable ex-sheriff in an attempt to bribe various parties to make affidavits of the sort he desired, but was caught at it. Both of them have been indicted for conspiracy, and Mr. Storey will probably have to pay the full amount of $25,000, and be deprived of the services of his enterprising assistant by the compulsory retirement of that person to the Illinois penitentiary.

Gen. Sol. Meredith one of the most prominent of Indiana generals during the war, died on the 21st, from a cancer of the stomach, originating from his being crushed beneath his horse at the battle of Gainesville. Since the war, deceased has been one of the most successful fancy stock breeders in the West.

The Bubier dilemma still continues to nonplus the city council of Lewiston. The Journal says: It was voted to import the whole tribe into this city from the wilds of Dallas Plantation, and a commission was dispatched to the distant wilderness to do the importing; but the Dallas Bubiers refused to be imported, and that Amazonian female who struck that tragic attitude before Councilman Holman, lifted her big boot once more upon a stump and defied the whole city of Lewiston to move it. Recent advices report some of the Bubiers self-supporting, while others are nearly naked and almost destitute of food. Yet these affirm they can support themselves through the Winter. The city council has now voted to allow all the Bubiers to remain except two or three families which, it is insisted, shall be transplanted. We shall endeavor to send a special reporter to Dallas when the overseers of the poor go there to execute their commission. It is one thing to vote to resume specie payment, and another thing to resume. To vote to remove the Bubiers is one thing; but actually to remove the Bubiers, this is work, this is labor!

In Woonsocket, R. I., Thursday evening, an elderly woman, just arrived on a train, accepted the proffered guidance of a young rascal, who promised to show her the residence of her sister. He led her into an obscure place, threw her down, attempted a gross outrage seized her valise and fled. He is known, and probably will be arrested.

One of the frankest comments made by a disgusted democratic journal the morning after the Ohio election was the following from the Macon Telegraph: "As we have been fearing for some days, democracy has gone to the devil with a rush, and radicalism is more alive right now than it has been any day in eighteen months. The defeat of the democracy has brought the White House once more in sight of the Jacobins. For this result the Ohio democrats are sorely responsible. They threw away or ignored issues that gave them 13 out of 20 Congressmen, and a majority of nearly 27,000 last year, and took up one that places them on the defensive from the jump. Instead of fighting Grant and the corruptions and villainies of his infamous administration, they set up a howl for 'more currency.' Of all the imbecile, jackassical, fat-witted performances, this heads the procession."

The Great Falls Journal objects to Somersworth being called "Great Falls."

"The New Hampshire Democrat" is the name of a new seven-column democratic weekly published at Exeter. It reads well, is neatly printed, and has patent outsides. L. G. Hoyt is managing editor.

The dwelling-house and furniture owned by Mr. Alonzo Johnson, at Manchester, were damaged about $1000 by fire and water, Saturday night. Origin of fire unknown. Insured.

The Ocean House, stable and outbuildings, of which George Hobbs was proprietor, at Wells, were entirely destroyed by fire Friday night. It is supposed to have caught from a defect in the chimney. Loss $9000. The house was built of wood, was three stories in height, and would accommodate fifty guests.

A large number of petty burglaries have been committed in Manchester, during the last ten days, the frequency of which excites the public interest. There is supposed to be an organized band of young roughs, whom the authorities are trying to ferret out. The city has been free from their operations since last Spring, when one of a similar gang was shot in the leg and captured

A remarkable escape from burial alive happened in the town of Bradford, Mass., a few days since. The facts of the case, according to a correspondent, are as follows: A lady in the above town had been sick for some time, and to all appearances had died; arrangements were accordingly made for the funeral to take place on the third day after her supposed decease. The preparations for burial had progressed so far that on the day of the funeral the lady was placed in a coffin, when it was observed that one of her eyes was partially opened. Nothing, however, was thought of it, as it was supposed to be the result of muscular contraction, and the arrangements for burial were all completed, when the supposed corpse astonished her attendants by asking to be placed on her side. The house of mourning was suddenly turned into one of joy, and at last accounts the lady was doing finely, with every prospect of a complete recovery.—Boston Herald.

Four large barns belonging to Samuel Southard at North Haverhill, were burned Friday night, with all their contents—one hundred tons of hay, one thousand bushels of corn, three valuable horses, five hogs, wagons, harnesses and three hundred fleeces of wool. Insurance small. Estimated loss not ascertained.

Charlie, son of Charles E. Young of Manchester, has been missing since Friday morning, and no clue to his whereabouts has been obtained except that he told a playmate he was "going to a nice place." The boy is thirteen years old, with a light complexion, light hair cut short, blue eyes, rather small for his years, and had on gray clothes, the different parts of the suit being of nearly the same color, and a dark wove hat.

The Albany Journal says: We have no desire to excite false hopes, but we assure our readers that the best informed republicans expect to carry the State.

Pennsylvania democrats have been so cruel as to invite Gov. Allen to take the stump for them. Have they forgotten this remark made by him a few weeks ago: "Suppose I should be beat like h—l in my own State, wouln't I be a pretty looking thing making speeches in Pennsylvania!" There can be only one answer to that question.

The Pembroke Murderer.

The Concord Patriot says: Lapage says he is sorry that he tried to dig out the bricks, as he thought it would hurt his case. Saturday forenoon, Lapage is about five feet, eight or nine inches in height, has black hair and beard, and restless, ugly, black eyes. His lips are thin, and when he smiles, as he frequently does, the expression of his face is sinister ann cold-blooded. He seemed willing to answer questions, though he speaks in broken English and understands anything that is said to him with difficulty. He states that he "will be 39 years old pretty soon," but could not tell when he left Canada to go to Montreal. He it very restless and uneasy, and sleeps but little, it is said, getting up and walking snout his cell during the night time. The iron with which he dug the bricks out of the cell wall, was wrenched from the bed frame. It is nineteen inches long and a little over one inch wide, and would have been a formidable weapon in his hands had he succeeded in getting into the corridor as he evidently hoped to do.

On visiting Lapage's cell after dinner, Saturday, Jailor Davis found that he had broken up his bed frame. On examination, it was found that one of the braces, similar to that used in digging the bricks from the wall, was missing. It could not be found at first, but after a careful search was discovered between Lapage's shirt and undershirt, close up under his arm. He had also a knife made from a piece of hoop iron taken from the bed frame. It was also found that he had taken a quantity of excelsior from his mattress, which he stuffed into the ventilator of the cell. It was learned that he asked some of the prisoners near him for a match, probably to set the excelsior on fire. He was removed to another cell and placed in irons. Lapage is evidently a desperate character and probably intended to add another murder to his list of crimes, when he secreted the iron brace and knife.

Detectives Sargent, Dearborn and Hildreth and City Marshal Connell were with LaPage nearly all day Sunday, taking his statement through an interpreter from Suncook. The detectives are very reticent as to what evidence was obtained, but it is understood that they have in their possession facts of a most important character to implicate him in the Pembroke murder. Detective Sargent stated that he had made some sort of a confession, but he declined to state what it was. The girls from Suncook were taken to the jail and positively identified La Page as the man who had chased them in the night on several occasions. On the Saturday before the murder was committed, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Towle, of Pembroke, were riding along about fifty rods from where the murder was committed, when they met a man carrying a club of sawed wood about 3 1-2 feet long and an inch square, such as was found near the scene of the murder and which they thought might be the same one, though they could not tell positively, as they noticed the man more than the stick. He carried the stick behind him in both hands. They visited the jail Sunday morning and identified La Page as the man they met and picked the coat out he wore from a number of others. The detectives express a decided opinion that La Page is guilty of the Pembroke murder.

Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 23.

The appointment of Ex-Senator Chandler as Secretary of the Interior was most unexpected and has been received with varied expressions of sentiment, but generally with condemnation. The New York Press have been singularly unanimous in their fierce denunciation of it as one unfit to be made, and yet I venture to predict that in point of efficiency and administrative ability the new Secretary will be found the full equal of his predecessors. No candid man would say there were not some "outs" in Zach. Chandler, but in a service covering eighteen years in the Senate, no breath of suspicion was ever raised against his integrity; neither has he been connected in any way with extravagant expenditures on jobs of any kind. He was seldom absent from his seat, and never when an important question called for a long session, testing the endurance of members to reach a vote. You were almost as certain to find Chandler in his seat as Sumner or old Ben. Wade, whom he resembled for his bold and sometimes rough strength of diction, and positive and direct methods of action. In the days when the slave power was domineering and insolent they were the two men who always escaped insult. For a long time when Sumner was threatened with personal violence, Chandler was his constant attendant outside the Senate, and ready for any kind of attack, while Sumner always refused to carry arms. I doubt if there were ever two men in the Senate at the same time who had greater muscular ability to take care of personal assailants. When secession began and war was evident, the positive qualities of Senator Chandler were every where felt. He had little patience with shams, trimmers or traitors, and the country had no more earnest or efficient Senator than he proved to be in his action as one of the committee on the conduct of the war. In the work of reconstruction and reorganization of the South, he was unsparing in his personal services and contributions. In debate he was always clear, direct and positive. His speech in the Senate during the debate on finance in the Winter of '73-'74, was one of the most practical and convincing made during that debate. The half-and-half-men who have been getting ready for a democratic administration, feel considerably disturbed at his appointment, and the free-traders don't like it, but I shall be mistaken if he does not give satisfaction to the country and to all who have business relations with him, except those "on the make."

THE ELECTIONS.

Five thousand majority in 590,000 votes shows how close parties were divided in Ohio, and yet the result is very decisive in some aspect. The German element was lost to the democracy on the school and money question, while twenty thousand voters were added to the democratic column from the republican ranks on the money question alone. The action of the New York democracy by discouraging the Ohio democracy and stimulating the republicans, ver possibly turned the scale. It has hopelessly divided the party any way. The anti-contractionists of the democratic party, who outnumber the others four to one, are exceedingly bitter toward those who contributed to their defeat, and there is more chance for two democratic candidates than for one on the New York platform. The result in Ohio tells powerfully on Pennsylvania, and gives strong hope for success. There is no estimating how many republicans in the mining and iron districts may be gained by the democracy on the financial issue or how many democrats will be gained by the republicans. The fact that the democracy gained in more counties than they lost in Ohio shows the uncertainty of all calculations. In ordinary elections there is a uniformity in the ratio of gains or losses. The temperance element, which draws from the republican side, gains this year from the repeal of the local option law, which possibly will be made up by German accessions. The vote will be a very light one compared with Ohio, and the prospects favorable to the republicans. Still I would not be much surprised to see the democratic financial position gain them success. There is no school issue in Pennsylvania to aid the republicans as in Ohio.

THE STREET PAVEMENTS.

I have had occasion to remark on the utter worthlessness of wood pavements here. Several streets have been repaved with concrete where the wooden blocks put down for three years were so rotten that not one in four would hold together to pull up.

RESUMPTION.

I have shown as I thought, on several occasions in your columns, that it was impossible to go to specie payments within any time that has been named by its advocates. It may not be in order for a republican to take that position, but I have a reason for that belief which seems to have good foundation.

In 1874, we expanded more merchandise than we imported by the sum of $25,807,417 in gold values. In 1875, we imported, $11,298,712 more merchandise than we exported. Is not the story told in those facts why gold was $1.09 in 1874 and $1.17 in 1875? In 1874, we exported $31,244,780 of specie more than was imported. In 1875, we exported $62,966,412 more of specie than was imported. We have an interest account of $80,000,000 to pay abroad every year or increase our debt. Now if your readers who take issue with me can tell how specie payment is to oe resumed until in our transactions with foreign nations we have a balance in our favor, I would like to see how they propose to accomplish it, when we have contracted the paper currency three hundred millions, and increased our merchandise exports so that it will not require the whole product of our mines to settle up the balance of our foreign transactions. EXE.

—Gammon loves his little joke. A few days since an impecunious looking individual came to him, craving a job of some kind, and expressing a willingness to "take his pay out of the shop." "Oh, yes," Gammon blandly answered; "you know where they are building my new store." "That I do." "Well, I want the cellar bailed out, and I'll give you five dollars to do the job." "Call it seven, and I'll do it," haggled the contractor. "Well," says the accommodating Gammon, "I won't stand for two dollars;" and the fellow started off post haste to borrow a bucket and earn his seven dollars That is the last seen of him. He hasn't been observed upon the job lately. Gammon's building stands directly over the canal.—Lake Village Times.

—A traveler endeavored to walk into a Vicksburg hotel, temporarily closed for repairs, but was unable to effect an entrance.

"That house is closed, mister," said a pedestrian as he passed along.

The traveler banged away on the door, and the pedestrian called out:

"You, there—that house is closed!"

The traveler twisted away at the knob, and once more the pedestrian called:

"I say, that house is closed!"

"Don't you suppose I know it, you durned fool!" roared the traveler; "what I'm trying to do is to open it!"

—A handsome youth, being questioned by a rather stylish lady as to his occupation, replied that he was an "adjuster of movable alphabets." He was simply a printer.

Two Houses to Let.

The Eastern Railroad.

Mr. John Cummings has resigned as a director in the Eastern Railroad corporation, and having been interviewed by a reporter of the Boston Herald, reveals some interesting facts in regard to the wretched management of this unfortunate road. Mr. Cummings is a wealthy manufacturer, who entered the directory for the sake of ascertaining what the trouble was. After considerable delay he succeeded in obtaining the information that President Wooldredge was drawing an annual salary of $20,000—$10,000 from the Eastern, $5000 from the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway, and $5000 from the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth, the late Samuel Hooper having ordered it. On Mr. Cummings' order, this extravagant salary was stopped. He urged on President Wooldredge that the strictest economy should be enjoined in all departments, and had a dispute with the same gentleman in regard to a sale of $300,000 worth of bonds to some of the directors at 85 per cent., when the same class of bonds could not be purchased in the market at less than 90, a syndicate having been formed to float $2,000,000 of new bonds.

Continuing his investigations, he found that the debt of the road was $15,000,000, and that from Dec. 1, 1874, to Sept. 1, 1875, (just nine months) the earnings of the road did not pay the interest on the debt for the same time by $300,000. Further investigation showed that 2100 annual passes had been issued and that from 250 to 400 trip passes were being issued daily; that from various competing points with other roads freight was being carried at less than $3 for ten tons; that the affairs at the ticket offices had not been examined for thirty months; and that there was no way to check frauds or count tickets taken.

Excuse was made that there was not room in the station at Boston to keep accounts with each ticket agent. Mr. Cummings suggested that it be done at Salem, but President Wooldredge and Manager Hatch opposed it, and it was not attempted.

At a recent meeting of the directors, President Wooldredge tendered his resignation, which was laid on the table. At a later meeting, he was requested to withdraw it, Mr. Cummings alone voting in the negative. Since then, two of the directors had waited upon him, declaring that the management was embarrassed on account of the division in the board, whereupon Mr. Cummings resigned.

Mr. Cummings' statement leaves no room for doubt that the earnings of the road have been unscrupulously squandered. The stockholders who have no voice in the management have seen their property frittered away by a mismanagement such as no ordinary business man would allow in his own transactions. The controlling owners of the stock may toss it up and down to their hearts' content, and there is no redress for their associates. Just how much it cost the Eastern Railroad to elect Hon. Frank Jones to Congress and Hon. John W. Sanborn to the State Senate will never be known. But the thousands of passes issued for political purposes account for but little of the great losses sustained by bad management. There will be music when next the annual meeting is held, unless there shall be a change for the better in the next two months. Portsmouth is largely interested in the stock, and many families feel keenly the loss of their former regular dividends, while there is a general regret that the old order of things is changed, when Jere. Prescott superintended the road at a small salary. Mr. Cummings believes the franchises of the road to be good property; that if properly operated, it cannot fail to make good returns; that although the branches are not profitable, they can be run judiciously as feeders; and that with the affairs of the road properly and economically managed, it may be brought up to a dividend-paying business. But will the present generation witness such a desirable result without a change of management?

Jottings.

A red-hot democrat named Joseph G. Todd, who voted the copperhead ticket all through the rebellion and never drew a loyal breath during the controversy, has been promoted to a better position in the Boston custom house. His claim for an office was that he voted for President Grant. In 1868, a republican clerk at this navy yard was removed by Gideon Welles to make way for this same Todd, who was a "Johnson man." It is such little occurrences as this man's appointment to a lucrative government position that cause disgust on the part of men who were and are republicans at heart.

Your venerable Uncle Samuel sells by auction to-day at the navy yard, at ten o'clock, A. M., provisions, clothing, stores and old junk enough to start a corner grocery.

The Concert by the Nowell Brothers and Swedish Quartette takes place this evening. The Portland Advertiser says: The concert by the Swedish Singers last evening was well attended, and the programme was long enough to suit the most rapacious concert-goer. Fifteen numbers were marked down and in addition to these must be added a good many encores. The quartette not only possess very pleasing voices but they fully equalled expectation. The tenor and the basso are soloists, the former with a good quality, high ranged, well cultivated and effective voice; the latter with a rich and sonorous one.

A bazar, to continue three evenings, at Franklin Hall, is soon to be given under the direction of Rebecca Degree Lodge, I. O. O. F., of this city. The proceeds will be devoted to the relief of the widows and orphans of the order.

Postmaster Peirce took a petition, numerously signed by our citizens, to Boston on Monday, requesting the Eastern Railroad officials to resume the old time-table for the first morning train to this city, so that the mail may arrive here at ten o'clock. He was informed that a meeting of the directors would be called to consider the subject, and that the only reason for changing it was that 7.30, A. M., was too early for the patrons of the road to take the train for this city and Portland.

Schooner Mary Cobb, from Baltimore for this port, with 430 tons of coal consigned to C. E. Walker & Co., before reported ashore on Chatham bar, will be a total loss. Cargo insured.

Mr. William Critchley, senior, lost the first joint of the fore-finger of his right hand on Monday at the navy yard, while assisting in moving plate iron, through the carelessness of the other workmen, who let go the iron without proper notice, the plate catching his finger and doing a neat job of amputation.

Mr. John Stokell has broken ground on the corner of Rockingham and McDonough streets for a block of five tenements.

Near Seabrook on Sunday night, a freight train ran into some sleepers placed upon the track, throwing them out of the way; however, only a slight detention was the result of what was evidently a design to throw the entire train from the rails for the purpose of robbery. Four men were seen in the immediate vicinity by the train hands, but on finding themselves observed they disappeared.

Rev. Mr. O'Callaghan, pastor of the Catholic church at Augusta, Me., has been transferred to Portsmouth.

The aqueduct is doing nobly. On Monday, notwithstanding it was the city's wash-day, water climbed forty-five feet and dripped steadily from the pump in the second story of this office, and overflowed in the room below to such an extent that Superintendent Ayers was obliged to put in a "stop" in the cellar. Well done, old moistness.

Caldwell & Carpenter will make mesmeric fun at Franklin Hall on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. See advertisement.

The Sovereigns of Industry are building a store on Bridge street, below Hanover.

The Hall signal houses along the track of the Eastern Railroad have been taken down. They were built at a cost of over $100 each.

Card of Thanks.

Permit me space in your valuable paper, to express through its columns my gratitude to those kind and faithful friends, who have done so much for me at the time of my late severe accident at the Navy Yard.

First, to the officers at the Yard, for their untiring zeal and thoughtfulness; to Dr. Cleborne, surgeon at the Yard, I feel deeply grateful for the skill and humanity exhibited while at the hospital.

To Dr. Potter (to whose skill and judgment, and constant and assiduous care, I owe my life) I am utterly at loss to express in words my sense of obligation. I trust our Father in Heaven will reward him, as I feel I am totally inadequate.

To Messrs. Eaton, Putnam, Hobbs, Thompson, Mozart, Kennison, and one and all of those kind-hearted fellow-workmen who have so generously by money and time aided me during these weeks of pain, I can only say "God Bless You," and if the time should come for me to reciprocate your kindness, you may rest assured I shall gladly perform my duty.

With many thanks, Mr. Editor, for this insertion, I am yours very truly,

FRANK G. NORTON.

—A Vicksburg wife went into the country on a visit, without saying anything to, or leaving word for, her husband. He was uneasy on returning home, and made inquiries among the neighbors.

"Gone!—missing!" exclaimed one woman: "why, I should think you'd be uneasy about her!"

"I am," he replied, wearing a sorrowful look, "for some one has got to split the wood to get breakfast with!"

DIED.

WHIDDEN. In Newington, Oct. 24, Mr. Joseph W. Whidden, aged 58 years, 2 months.

☞ Funeral services will be held at the church on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Daily Chronicle.

—In a large majority of cases says the Journal of Health, it will be found that the best a breakfast meal of the day should be eaten in the morning. If the closing repast of the day has been eaten hastily or has not been excessive in quantity or indigestible in quality, the stomach will be rested and active in the morning after an individual has enjoyed a cool bath. The stomach will then respond quickly with necessary gastric juice for the solution of food, and, if a fair amount of exercise is taken during the day, a large mass of food will be assimilated and converted into blood and tissue. With a good substantial breakfast no great amount of food will be required during the remainder of the day. One further meal will be ample, and that might better be taken at from two to three o'clock than at any other period, if business engagements only permitted it. The breakfast may be made from any kind of wholesome food, and the fewer kinds the better. The dinner should be light and readily digested, if sound sleep is desired and strong appetite and perfect powers of digestion next day. If hunger comes, a bowl of sweet milk and well cooked mush of Indian meal, or other unbolted grain, will allay it, and will digest quickly. One "square meal" in every twenty-four hours is all that can be taken care of by many weak stomachs, and more than this is an excess and induces headache, nausea and distress. If dinners were abandoned, especially late and heavy dinners, myriads of dyspeptics would be cured. But under the exigences of city life a late dinner cannot be well avoided. The n[illegible] dious meal it is customary to make it, if the breakfast be substantial and nutritious, and not a thing of slops and biscuits, as it too often is.

—Belmont, formerly the magnificent country residence of Wm. C. Ralston, has been incorporated with the Palace Hotel, and is to be reserved for the summer resort of its guests. Everything about this enterprise has been on a scale of the utmost magnificence. The projectors aimed to give San Francisco a hotel building the most thoroughly-planned and executed in the world.

"The very best ladies' magazine published."—Seneca Falls (N. Y.) Courier.

☞ CHEAPEST AND BEST! ☜

Peterson's Magazine

POSTAGE PREPAID ON ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS.

☞ Every subscriber for 1876 will be presented with a superb, large sized steel engraving of Trumbull's celebrated picture of "The Signing of the Declaration of Independence." This will be "Peterson's" Centennial Gift. ☜

"PETERSON'S MAGAZINE" contains, every year, 1000 pages, 14 steel plates, 12 colored Berlin patterns, 12 mammoth colored fashion plates, 24 pages of music, and 900 wood cuts.

Great improvements will be made in 1876. Among them will be a series of illustrated articles on the Great Exhibition at Philadelphia, which will alone be worth the subscription price. They will be appropriately called

THE CENTENNIAL IN PEN AND PENCIL!

The immense circulation of "Peterson" enables its proprietor to send more money on embellishments, stories, &c., &c., than any other. It gives more for the money than any in the world. Its

are the best published anywhere. All the most popular writers are employed to write originally for "Peterson" in 1876. In addition to the usual quantity of short stories, FIVE ORIGINAL COPYRIGHT NOVELETTES will be given, by Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Frank Lee Benedict, Mrs. F. H. Burnett, and others.

MAMMOTH COLORED FASHION PLATES

ahead of all others. These plates are engraved on steel, twice the usual size, and are magnificent for beauty. They will be superbly colored. Also, Household and other receipts; in short, everything interesting to ladies.

N. B.—As the publisher now prepays the postage to all mail subscribers, "Peterson" is cheaper than ever; in fact is the cheapest in the world.

500,000 ACRES OF MICHIGAN LANDS,

FOR SALE!

The Lands of the Jackson, Lansing & Saginaw Railroad Company are now Offered For Sale.

They are situated along its railroad and contain large forests of valuable PINE, HARDWOOD and PINE Lands. The farming lands include some of the most fertile and well-watered hardwood lands in the State. They are timbered mainly with hard-maple and beech; soil black, sandy loam, and abound in springs of purest water. Michigan is one of the least indebted and most prosperous State in the Union, and its farmers have a greater variety of crops and resources than any Western state. While some of the Prairie States may produce corn in great abundance, they have no other resources, and when little else flourishes, as follows, as has been the case the past year in Kansas and Nebraska. For Maps, Circulars and further information, apply to or address O. M. BARNES, Land Commissioner, Lansing, Michigan.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS.

NEW TESTIMONIALS.

— FOR —

Weak Lungs, Constipation, Lameness, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Paralysis, Poor Blood and Kidney Troubles.

One Box Dr. Quain's Condition Pills "Nearly Cured Where All Else Failed."

LOWELL, MASS, July 20th, 1874.

T. W. LANE:—I have used one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, am glad to state in my case they have proved all that you claim for them. I have been troubled with Bad Blood and all its consequent diseases, and have tried several kinds of Bitters and Pills without receiving much benefit, until I tried the CONDITION PILLS, and they have nearly cured where all else failed. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, very truly,
J. D. WHITAKER.

Testimony of a Clergyman---Liver and Kidney Troubles.

EAST TILTON, N. H., April 14, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are not only the best, but the very best I ever used. My wife has been troubled with Kidney Complaint many years; one half of a package has cured her, so that she feels as well as ever. I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years; one-half of a package has done me more good than all the Pills I ever took. One of my neighbors took them, who has been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years: three Pills have helped him. Your Pills, where used, commend their virtues. Please send to my address one package.

REV. JOHN DAVIS.

Liver Compaint and Rheumatism so that he Could not Sleep Nights.

I was born and always lived in Plainfield, N. H.; am now 50 years old; been troubled with Liver Complaint for 30 years, and Rheumatism for 20 years sometimes so I could not sleep nights. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, am sure they have done me more good and relieved more suffering than all the medicine I have taken during my life. JOS. S. RING.

Pittsfield, N. H., Dec. 17, 1874.

Fever and Ague.

NEW BOSTON, N. H., Feb. 1, 1875.

T. W. LANE,—Sir:—Last month I sent to you for a package of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS. I had tried five so-called ague cures, and I received more benefit from five of your pills on from all the "Cures" "Chargogues," "Quinine," &c., that I have taken in two years. I cannot recommend it too highly for diseases resulting from long standing Fever and Ague.

Yours, most respectfully,
MRS. C. GARLAND.

Scaly Humor Cured by One Package---Liver Complaint Helped.

NORTH SALEM, N. H., Jan. 5, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—Your Pills are all they are recommended. I was troubled with a Scaly Humor on my legs; I took one package and my legs are quite smooth. My wife was troubled with Liver Complaint; she took one package and they helped her greatly.

Yours, with respect,
JOHN H. BLAKE.

From a Leading Citizen of Rindge.

WEST RINDGE, Cheshire Co., N. H., November 17, 1874.

THOS. W. LANE:—After taking three packages of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I am prepared to say they are the very best, for I have tried a great many kinds, and faithfully too, believing they would help me, to no effect.—These I do believe are the very best ever made; just the kind a man needs. May they be spread all over the wide world, and Dr. Quain's name a household word.

Yours truly,
ASA STICKNEY.

Felt Better, Stronger and Gained Flesh in One Week,

AFTER TAKING DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS.

ROLLINSFORD, N. H.

THOS. W. LANE:—I commenced to take DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and in one week felt heavier, felt better, and was stronger than before, and any one troubled with BAD BLOOD can find sure remedy in these Pills.

Nov. 3, 1874. L. M. YEATON.

CHESTER, N. H., Feb. 24, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been out of health for some time, and I took a very bad cold and it left my lungs in a very weak state. I received Dr. Quain's Condition Pills and took them according to directions, and my lungs are quite better. I can recommend them to any one who is troubled with weak lungs, for they have done me good, and I think another package will cure me. Dr. Quain's Pills ought to be known throughout the world. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, &c., CYRUS LANE.

HILLSBOROBRIDGE, Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—Dr. Quain's Condition Pills are the best I ever used for lameness and pain. The first dose I took removed the pain and lameness that I have been troubled with for complaints of them; have used quite a number of the pills besides myself. Please send another package by return of mail. MRS. DANIEL KIMBALL.

GILMANTON I. W., N. H., Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been taking Dr. Quain's Condition Pills, and can recommend them as far as they have gone. They relieved pains of the back and sides; they do not have the debilitating effect of common purgatives I have taken.

MRS. J. B. GOODWIN.

NORTHWOOD CENTRE, March 1, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I saw Dr. Quain's Condition Pills highly recommended, and sent for a package, and I find that they have done me more good than all the medicine I have taken for years, and can freely recommend them to others, as a good and sure medicine. Please send me another package as soon as possible. MARTHA NORCROSS.

BRISTOL, N. H., Feb. 27, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have made a fair trial of those GOLDEN PRIMA PILLS and liked them very much. I think they are all they are recommended. They are a good Liver invigorator.

N. F. DANFORTH.

SALEM DEPOT, N. H., March 8, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I think those pills (Dr. Quain's Condition Pills) are all they say. I, my wife and I are both victims of Liver and Kidney Complaint, and general debility. We have taken about half a box of your pills between us, and we find an improvement in our health. I want four packages to give away in the north part of Vermont, to friends up there. I enclose $2.00, and if you can, send me four Packages. ROYAL SCOTT.

SOUTH PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., March 11, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have given Dr. Quain's Condition Pills a trial, and find I can honestly recommend them, they having materially improved the soreness and lameness in which I was afflicted since getting upon my feet after the Paralysis of left side that I suffered last October. I desire you to send me another package as soon as convenient, as I am anxious to continue their use. Though not now a resident of New England, I have lived in Central Vermont more than fifty years, and trust Dr. Quain's Pills will not longe be unknown to the second. MOSES SHELDON.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have been troubled with Biliousness, Headache, and Dizziness, for a long time, and had the Dyspepsia so bad there were but few kinds of food my stomach would bear at all. I commenced taking your pills, have taken most of one package, and now enjoy eating as well as I ever did, am not troubled with dizziness unless by taking cold, and have been greatly benefited by the use of them. A. L. PAGE.

FRANCESTOWN, March 13, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have found Dr. Quain's Condition Pills to be all you claim for them in Kidney Complaint, poor blood, and weak nerves. May they be circulated over the land and found in every household where medicine is needed. I enclose 50 cts. for another package as soon as convenient.

JOHN T. FELCH.

Better Health than for 10 Years.

CHESTER, N. H., Oct. 17, 1874.

MR. LANE:—I have taken one package of Condition Pills; find them in my case all they are recommended; have not enjoyed so good health for the last ten years as I have since I commenced to use the Condition Pills. Shall be happy to recommend them to others. WILLIAM H. FELLOWS.

☞ DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are sold by the Agent of the American Medicine Co. A package will be forwarded upon receipt of fifty cents, by THOMAS W. LANE, agent, Manchester, N. H.

For the convenience of the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity an agency for the sale of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS has been established at the N. E. P. Union Store, Market Street.

SCRIBNERS' MONTHLY for 1876.

The publishers invite attention to the following list of some of the attractive articles secured for Scribner's Monthly, for the coming year. In the field of fiction, besides numerous novelettes and shorter stories, there will be

TWO REMARKABLE SERIAL STORIES,

By American Authors.

The first of these, now complete in our hands,

"GABRIEL CONROY,"

By BRET HARTE,

Begins in the November number,

and will run for twelve months. This is Mr. Harte's first extended work. The scenes and characters, which the author has chosen from his favorite field, California, are painted with character, stic vividness and power; and the work is without doubt the most graphic record of California life that has yet appeared.

We shall also beginin the January number,

"PHILIP NOLAN'S FRIENDS,

OR, SHOW YOUR PASSPORTS,"

By EDWARD EVERETT HALE.

The scene of this story is laid in the Southwestern territory now forming the States of Louisiana and Texas, at the time of Aaron Burr's treason. The characters lived in a section which was now American, now French, and now Spanish, and this record of their adventurous lives makes a story of intense and unflagging interest throughout.

A SECOND "FARMER'S VACATION,"

By Col. GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

Col. Waring is now in Europe, visiting, in a rowboat ride of two hundred and fifty miles, one of the most fertile and interesting of the vine growing valleys of Europe. This second vacation will be given in [illegible] ises to be even more interesting than that with which our readers are already familiar.

CENTENNIAL LETTERS,

Edited by John Vance Cheney.

A rare collection of Revolutionary Letters, mainly from stores in the hands of the descendants of Col. Joseph Ward. They are full of interest, and will be read with a rare relish in connection with the Centennial celebration of the year.

BRILLIANTLY ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES ON

AMERICAN COLLEGES,

Written respectively by their friends, will appear during the year. The revived interest in college life makes these papers especially timely, and will secure for them unusual attention.

OLD NEW YORK.

Elegantly illustrated articles on Old New-York, by John F. Mines, will appear at once, and will attract the attention of all, in city or country, who mark with interest the development of the great metropolis, and tenderly remember the quaint peculiarities of its olden time.

Every number is profusely illustrated, thus enabling us to give more descriptive and narrative articles, an interest and permanent value never attained in a non illustrated periodical. Under its accustomed management the magazine will in the future be conducted, as it has been in the past, to sound literature and Christian progress.

The Editorial Departments occupy over twenty pages of each number and contain Dr. Holland's vigorous and timely editorials, as well as Reviews of the latest works in Art, Literature, and science.

TERMS:

$4.00 A YEAR, in advance; 35 cents a Number. The 10 vols, complete, Nov. 1870, to Oct. 1875, bound in maroon cloth [illegible] $20.00

do. do. bound in half morocco, 30.00

Vols. begin in November and May. Any of the earlier volumes (I to VIII) will be supplied separately to parties who wish them to complete sets at this rate, 4.4, cloth, $2.00; half morocco, $3.50.

Booksellers and Postmasters will be supplied at rates that will enable them to fill any of the above offers.

Subscribers will please remit in P. O. Money Order, or in Bank Checks or Drafts, or by registered letters. Money in letters not registered, at sender's risk.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved investors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ one more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

PULMOCINE.

SUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LOCAL AGENTS WANTED.

An Agent Wanted for Each Town and County in the United States.

Parties desiring to act as agents must accompany their application by a letter of recommendation as to character and responsibility from and signed by the Editor of a newspaper published in the town or county for which the agent proposes to act The agency is to sell the books of the Industrial Exhibition Company.

BONDS, $20 EACH.
HALF BONDS, $10 EACH.
QUARTER BONDS, $5 EACH.

The Industrial Exhibition Company will furnish agents with circulars, etc., etc.

Each newspaper published in the town where an agent is located will, as soon as the agency is established, be given an advertisement, advertising such agency and the Company, and fully explaining the plans, purposes and objects of the Company. Such advertisement will continue in each papers as long as an agency is successfully conducted.

The Industrial Exhibition Company is the first to adopt the plan so long in use by the European government of issuing bonds when the principal is made secure and not risked, but where there is a chance for a large premium, an investment of $20 is sure to return to the investor one hundred dollars, more than cost—and the holder of a $20 Bond may obtain a premium either of $50, $100, $200, $500, $1,000, $3,500, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000 or $100,000. The interest, which is ordinarily distributed to all the bondholders pro rata, is in this loan distributed by chance. The purchaser of a bond knows he will receive back his investment, with a small rate of interest, but has a chance in the above named premiums, which are simply the distribution of interest on the whole loan.

Each bond participates in four drawings each year, until it has drawn a premium, when it is withdrawn, the premium paid, and the bond cancelled.

The Industrial Exhibition Company, under a special charter granted by the State of New York, is given authority to issue these bonds. The Legislature of the State, recognizing the great benefits which will arise from the success of this enterprise, have exempted all the property belonging to the Company from taxation and assessments for five years, and has also conferred other great privileges.

Every American who understands the purposes of this Company will, of a necessity, feel a pride in aiding it to a successful termination.

Each individual who buys a bond becomes an owner and an interested party, and when he views the structure erected with his money can say, "I aided to erect in our country the most magnificent building the world has ever seen, a palace which, in truth, represents the industry, energy and mechanical genius of the American people."

The manufacturers and the inventors of America are peculiarly interested in the success of this enterprise, for the reason that it is to be their home, where all their inventions and manufactures can be exhibited and sold.

The building will contain 5,320,000 square feet of space.

Purchasers desiring Bonds before an agency is established where they reside, will communicate direct with this office, from where they can be supplied.

Parties desiring to act as agents or to purchase bonds will address

GIVEN AWAY!

The Union Pocket Book Co.

having secured by cash purchase the entire bankrupt stock of Messrs H. Morland & Co., consisting of

400,000 Portmonies,

(POCKET BOOKS,)

of the best manufacture and superb quality, each pocket book being made of Real Morocco Leather; to effect a speedy clearance sale and having in view the old motto of the house, Certain Profits with Quick Returns, the company have decided on giving each individual purchaser the full benefit of this remunerative bargain by giving away One Hundred Thousand Dollars, as follows:

2818 MONEY PRIZES!

THE FIRST PRIZE BEING		$20,000 CASH.
" SECOND "	"	$10,000 "
" THIRD "	"	$5,000 "

and 2815 other money prizes as follows, viz.:

25	PRIZES OF	$1000	CASH,	EACH.
40	"	500	"	"
50	"	100	"	"
100	"	50	"	"
200	"	20	"	"
400	"	10	"	"
2000	"	1	"	"

The above prizes with the cost of advertising and other incidental expenses, giving the purchasers two-thirds of the profit is that recrue on the entire sale, and to enable every one to have an equal share in the profits, with the certainty of receiving treble the value for their amount and the further opportunity of surely gaining a share in the distribution of $100,000, and this too by the riskless outlay of $1 only.

The Union Pocket Book Co. will deliver free to any address on receipt of One Dollar, a GENUINE MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK, together with a COUPON TICKET,

entitling and giving the holder a share in the drawing of 2818 CASH PRIZES, of the aggregate value of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS CURRENCY. The Company guarantee to return to each purchaser at least treble the value for his money.

How can this be accomplished? is a question many will doubtless ask themselves, and foreseeing this we offer the following lucid explanation.

The Trade as[illegible]ge, anxious to dispose of and realise on the entire stock of the bankrupts in one sale, accepted our offer of $ 00,000 cash for the lot; after advertising same for sale for one month, and not receiving a single offer, which in the present depression of business and almost total stagnation of trade is not to be wondered at; notwithstanding that our offer was one third less than the actual cost of the manufacture of the Pocket Books. The assignee having to at once realize the effects of the bankrupts, in the interest of the creditors he had no alternative but to accept this offer and sell us the lot at our own price thereby enabling us to distribute in prizes $400,000 more than the purchase, and at the same time retain a fair marginal profit for ourselves; thus you obtain fully double the value of the amount you forward us and it depends on your luck what amount you get out of the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Money Prizes.

THE SALE WILL POSITIVELY CLOSE ON

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1875,

and orders for pocket books should therefore be forwarded to us at once—no application by letter after Saturday, November 20th, can be attended to.

1000 of the Pocket Books are of the patented manufacture, superior in value to the remainder, the retail price of the same being $8, and these will be forwarded to early purchasers until disposed of.

Therefore those who send immediate orders will reap the advantage of receiving a superior article.

Remittances can be sent us either for one or any number of pocket books by draft, post office orders, or express, and should be addressed letter by express, or

Post Office orders and drafts to be made payable in favor of Frank Stewart, the Company's Manager; Post Office orders to be drawn on Lemuel Pepper, Office, Philadelphia, and drafts on the First National Bank.

The Drawing of Prizes will take place at the Company's Private Drawing Office, 536 Locust Street, Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, on and the winning numbers will be advertised in this Journal and the principal Philadelphia and New York newspapers of Saturday, November 27th.

The Prizes will be forwarded in drafts, greenbacks or by post office order per registered letter by Monday morning following the drawing, and the deferred prizes can be sent by express, or in any other manner purchasers may select, providing same be signified by them when forwarding orders for pocket books.

Remember this is no lottery, but a bona fide business system founded on a true financial basis which enables the Company to convert into money an otherwise surplus stock, and this too with a good profit to both the purchasers and themselves, effecting a speedy clearance sale which in the present dull times is the great desiderata that in no other way can be successfully attained.

We guarantee each pocket book to be of the best manufacture, of pure morocco leather and intrinsically worth in retail trade at the lowest rate of from $3 to $4.

This is an opportunity that should not be let pass by; one and all should embrace this chance; We afford every one an opportunity of realising a share in $100,000 at the insignificant outlay of $1 (one dollar) for which they receive value three fold and those who let this fortuitous chance escape them will have only themselves to blame.

All letters will receive same day as received. We advise intending purchasers to forward orders immediately which will prevent disappointment and receive prompt attention.

Remember, every one who

PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

Anecdote of Lincoln.

A gentleman named Chandler, now of Chandlerville, Cass County, Ill., moved from New York to this State in the year 1829; he entered, soon after his arrival, under the acts of Congress, eighty acres of land, and it was then the custom among the old settlers—a custom as strong as law—that each man had a right to enter as many as 120 acres adjoining his first entry and in addition thereto. About the year 1832 a kinsman of Chandler came to Illinois and stopped with him six months or more, free of charge. He was told by Chandler and others what was the custom among the people, and woe to him who violated it! I have seen old settlers armed to the teeth with rifle and knife to defend and enforce this custom. Woe to the speculator who violated the law! By this custom Mr. Chandler owned eighty acres adjoining his first entry: it was so rich, so fertile, lay so fairly to the sun and was so justly and evenly divided between tree and prairie, that his kinsman fixed his eye upon it. So gathering up all that he could borrow, in addition to what he had honestly made, he started for the land office in Springfield one morning by daybreak. Mr. Chandler, when informed by his neighbors of this plot against him, said it was impossible. He was soon, however, convinced of the truth of their statement. So, catching his fleetest horse, he put spur for the land office, about about thirty-five miles distant. His neighbors gave him the money to enter his eighty acres. He ran his horse as rapidly as possible for about twenty-five miles, and when within ten miles of Springfield, he overtook two young men—one a short, red faced man and the other a long, tall, uncouth looking lad—both utter strangers to him. Chandler's horse was quite exhausted and so was he. He halted for a few moments, and was asked by one of them why this hurry. Chandler told them the story, when the tall young man, who was riding a fleet horse, said: "Stranger, you take my mare; she is fresh and yours is worn out; put her under whip and spur and she will take you to Springfield in one hour—won't she, Green?" "Yes, in a short sixty minutes," said Green. "Beat the scoundrel to the land office, by all means. We are all strangers, but your face looks right, and I'll risk the mare. We will all meet at Herndon's store in Springfield in two or three hours. Come, be off, quickly," said the tall young man. Mr. Chandler and the stranger exchanged horses. The kinsman, supposing that Chandler was ignorant of his purpose, rode leisurely along, conversing with those he met, so that Chandler got ahead of him, and, arriving in Springfield in the short sixty minutes, walked into the land office, threw his hundred gold dollars ringing on the table, and entered his eighty acres of land, much to his joy and subsequent profit. Well, who was this tall, uncouth young stranger? Who was he? It was one who loved justice and fair play, honor and truth,—it was Abraham Lincoln.

—A Vicksburg wife informed her husband that she was working herself into the grave for the want of a hired girl, and as he went out, she leaned back and fell to weeping. The children were making a noise in the hall as he passed out, and he called out:

"You want to stop this racket! Your mother there won't live a week, and when you get a stepmother here next Spring, she won't put up with any such fooling!"

When he came home to dinner his wife met him with a smile, and said:

"Isn't ours a cozy home, Richard, with only our own little family to look after?"—Vicksburg Herald.

—The following given in the last "Annual Record of Science and Industry" looks well in theory and may be found effectual in practice, as it is claimed for it that it will cure a cold in about ten hours: Take 10 drops of carbolic acid, 7.5 drops of iodine and 7.5 drops of chloroform. Heat a few drops of the mixture over a spirit lamp, in a test tube, applying the mouth of the tube to the nostrils as the liquid vaporizes. Repeat the operation at an interval of two minutes, when a number of vigorous sneezes will result and the troublesome symptoms will soon disappear.

—While a small group of politicians were, yesterday, talking on the City Hall steps about "Bill Allen having been laid out," a stranger, banging to the fence for support, called out:

"Whaz zhat 'bout Allen?"

"He's been licked," replied one of the group.

'Yaz, eh?" mused the man, his head bobbing around as if his neck had a hinge in it; "well, 'f Bill Allen's bin licked the fel'r muss got hold iz year, might's well giv up 'er med'jtly!"—Detroit Free Press.

—A Detroit boy ran across the road to where several lads were building a bonfire of leaves, and called out:

"'Mon and see the fun. A policeman is jawing my mother about straw in the alley, and she's sassing back, and he says she'd better look out, and she says she isn't afraid of no policeman with his front teeth out, and I'll bet there'll be a tussel, and she'll lick, and—hurry, boys, hurry!"

—A Western critic objects to female barbers "on account of the disastrous shave which Mrs. Samson gave her husband." It's very mean to keep raking up those little bits of unpleasantness.

Daily Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1875.

News and Notes.

The returns thus far received indicate that the republicans have carried Colorado Territory, and that they will have a considerable majority in the Constitutional convention. All the points heard from so far report republican majorities.

The most notorious counterfeiter known in the business was arrested last Friday by Chief Washburne of the secret service force of the Treasury department. The name of the criminal is Ben. Boyd, and the detectives have been looking for him for ten years. He was arrested at Fulton, Illinois, a small town on the Mississippi river. When the officers came upon him he was in company with two notorious associates named Nelson Driggs and Charles Stadtfelt, who both fled across the country. They were chased eight miles on horseback by Chief Washburne, and did not halt until several shots had been fired at them. Boyd is the man who has been supplying the whole country with the "queer." He cut the plate from which the most dangerous counterfeit, the $1,000 bill on the Traders Bank of Chicago, was printed. In addition to securing his arrest the officers became possessed of all the tools and materials, with which he worked. They ascertained that his mill was at Centralia, Illinois, a small town on the Ohio and Mississippi railroad. Proceeding there they found in Boyd's house, plates for the printing of $20, $50 and $1,000 notes. These have been taken possession of by the officers. This arrest is considered as one that will tend largely to break up the counterfeiting business, because Boyd was the most skillful printer known, and it will be hard to supply his place to the trade who operate in spurious money.

A citizens' meeting in the interest of hard money was held at Manchester, on Saturday evening. It is proposed to effect a permanent organization and to elect delegates to the Cincinnati hard money convention.

Mr. James Arlen of Sandwich was accidentally shot last Sunday with a revolver which he was carrying in his coat pocket. While running after cattle he stumbled, and the pistol was discharged in his pocket, the ball passing into the palm of his hand and up into his wrist, making a very bad wound.

The following postmasters have been appointed in the State: Arthur C. Newell, of Farmington; John C. Ordway, Lyndeboro'; David P. Walker, North Dunbarton; Benj. H. Smith, Shaker Village.

The stable buildings of the Merrimack County Agricultural Society, Concord, were burned, Monday evening. Loss small. The fire is supposed to have been set by a tramp who had been seen about the woods in the vicinity, and who was tracked as far as Suncook.

The number of new pensioners created during the last year is 11,557; those of the dropped number 12,977—a net decrease of 1420. The Government had in all, June 30, 1875, 234,821 pensioners.

It is no wonder the Cincinnati Enquirer keeps up the cry for "more money." It has the best of reasons for it. During the campaign a gentleman of Chillicothe accepted a bet of $1,000 which a member of the Enquirer Company offered on Allen, and he is now in Cincinnati looking after the money. When he went to the bank where it had been deposited, he was informed that notice had been given to refuse payment. He threatens to sue for it. Meantime the Enquirer will doubtless yell for soft money more vigorously than ever.

Melvin Merrill, a young man working at the Great Falls Bleachery, caught his right hand in a calender, Monday, mangling it so badly that amputation will be necessary.

The Supreme Court of Wisconsin has reversed the action of the canvassers in throwing out the vote of Lincoln County, which left a majority of one for George W. Cate, democrat, on which the Secretary of State awarded him a certificate as Congressman-elect from the Eighth District, instead of A. S. McDill, republican, who, it is decided, had a majority of votes. This will give the republicans one seat more in the House.

Between the 14th and 22d of this month, fifty-five persons have lost their lives by shipwreck on the eastern coast of Scotland, between Pitteween and Peterhead. Thirteen persons have perished by the floods at Nottingham and six at Burton-on-Trent. The floods are subsiding.

Another incendiary fire has occurred at Horse Meadow, North Haverhill. The house, shed and barn of Michael Gonyon, with all the furniture and provisions, were burned Sunday night.

A story is circulated in Epping about two young men, one of them residing in the northern part of the County, who were enamored with one and the same young lady. The affections of the lady were about equally divided between the two. Hard words and blows failed to settle the difficulty. As a last resort the Rockingham county man agreed to relinquish all his rights and title to the fair damsel for the sum of $100. The other chap couldn't see it. Rockingham county showed a willingness to do the square thing by then offering to give $100 and take the disputed property himself. Strafford county scorned the offer. Our man raised the bid to $125, which was not accepted; $150 failed to reach him; but, when the bid was raised to $160, it proved to be too much for his cupidity, and with earnestness he cried out, "Take her." At this time the expectant bride stood looking on, an indifferent spectator, apparently caring not whether Rockingham or Strafford county finally came out ahead. The winning man gave his note for $160, with the bride's father for indorser, and the marriage took place without delay. And now, we understand, the parties propose to resist the payment of the note on the ground of "no value received."—Exeter Democrat.

The Manchester Union is getting crazier than a bomb proof bedbug. It says the democratic party did not "once defend slavery."

General Hayes is looming up as a candidate for President. He has in his favor the fact that he has defeated—each time under disadvantageous circumstances—three of the strongest democrats in the State—Thurman, Pendleton and Allen. Added to that, General Hayes appears to be free from enemies among the prominent politicians, makes friends among the people wherever he goes, by his apparent candor, fairness and good sense. Ohio will be a power in the great National contest next year, and the fact that General Hayes will be almost morally certain to be able to carry a majority of her votes, will make him a strong competitor for the nomination.

A Washington dispatch says that Ex-Senator Sprague has written a letter to a Western banker favoring a greenback currency.

The piercing of an iron target a foot thick, at the distance of nearly a mile, by Mr. Wiard, in his experimental practice in Boston harbor, on Saturday, is said to be the most effective shot on record.

A carriage was precipitated into the Schuylkill at Philadelphia, Sunday, and three of the five occupants were drowned.

The Courier-Journal says Hayes' majority is no great shakes after all, but it shakes William Allen out of his gubernatorial boots.

By the will of the late Jacob S. Prescott the sum of $2000 was given to Tilden Ladies Seminary at West Lebanon.

Sam Bowles went to church in Springfield, Mass., and, feeling the effects of his severe editorial labors through the week, went to napping. By and by he was awakened by the preacher, who struck his desk and shouted: "Who shall be able to stand up in the presence of the Lord on that awful day?" And Sam Bowles, rising in his pew, ramarked: "Charles Francis Adams is the only man that can do it, and I nominate him for the position."—Chicago Times.

The republicans of Iowa have 62 majority on joint ballot, in the new legislature, while in the last one they had but 16.

The champion woodchuck hunter is Mr. B. F. Davis, of Grafton, who killed the past Summer 44 woodchucks. He killed four of them at one shot.

The Grafton Commissioners have decided to rebuild the poor-house immediately, on the old site.

Parties in the inner circle of politics in Washington think we are on the eve of startling events; and difficulties which seem trivial between the United States and foreign nations are not unlikely to assume gigantic proportions immediately after, if not before, the meeting of Congress in December. There is constant warfare upon our Mexican border, and the demand has become urgent that the boundary line between the countries should be set back from the Rio Grande to the chain of mountains West of the river. Matters with Spain are manifestly approaching a crisis, and those who ought to know say the President is determined that he will not leave the Cuban difficulty to be settled by the incoming administration; he feels that it is due to his own reputation, after having in his messages for several years successively called the attention of Congress to the condition of affairs in Cuba, to invite them to settle the difficulty in a way consonant with the honor of the United States, and with the interests of humanity. It is certain that important communications have been made by Minister Cushing to the Spanish government. These the Spanish papers by the last mail allude to.

The shoe business is very brisk in Dover, one firm there employing 250 hands and having a weekly pay-roll of nearly $5000.

The New York Sun says that John K. Hackett, the republican nominee, should be triumphantly elected to the office of recorder, and adds: "Yet all the thieves, burglars, highwaymen and murderers will vote against him." There is characteristic rottenness in New York democracy when its own organs are obliged to speak thus.

The republican torchlight procession in Philadelphia is said to have cost $10,000.

Frank M. Fisher, of Walpole, who was arrested for burglarizing the jewelry store of C. T. Davis, of Walpole, on the 16th inst. and who confessed this guilt, but managed to escape from the officers the same night at Westminster, Vt., was rearrested at Windsor, Vt. The jewelry was found suspended by a towel from the limb of a tree, near Walpole depot, by some boys. Considerable jewelry was also found on Fisher's person when he was arrested.

The State Poultry Society will hold its next exhibition at Concord, February 1, 2 and 3.

New Hampshire people will be surprised to learn from the Boston Globe that the Exeter News-Letter "is getting too aged to be of much service as a lively newspaper." The News-Letter is a sterling newspaper, fresh, readable and ably edited. Some designing person must have deceived the Globe.

Messrs. Collins of Gilson have leased the woollen mills of Milan Harris & Co. of Harrisville, for a term of five years, and will begin operations immediately. They will manufacture a special class of goods.

Shortly before eleven o'clock Friday evening, the residence of Mrs. Susan Bradley, on the village green at Cheshire, Conn., was discovered to be on fire. Five or six persons were in the house at the time, including Mr. and Mrs. Peter Murray, who slept in a room in the ell. Mrs. Bradley, who discovered the fire, gave the alarm, but too late to save Mr. and Mrs. Murray, who were suffocated while sleeping. Mrs. Bradley is a widow lady, and Mr. Murray was recently married to her adopted daughter—Miss Hattie Baker, a young lady about twenty years of age. Mrs. Bradley aroused Dr. Chamberlain and Mr. Barto, who instead of breaking in the door of Mr. and Mrs. Murray's sleeping-room, and arousing them from their extreme peril, rushed out to give the alarm in the street. In the meantime the fire had gained rapid headway, enwrapping the room in which Mr. and Mrs. Murray were sleeping in flames, and rendering it impossible to render them any aid, either from the inside or outside of the building. It is almost certain that they were not at any time aroused to the consciousness of their danger, but were overcome, if not fully suffocated by the smoke before the flames reached them. The building was entirely consumed, and the charred remains of Mr. Murray were found literally fried into the iron springs of the bed on which he slept, while those of Mrs. Murray were wrapped in the bed clothes, and consequently less severely charred.

The shoe manufacturers at Pittsfield will reduce the wages of their hands fifteen per cent. until the first of January, after which they will return to the old rates.

Mr. Jacob G. Webster was stopped by a would-be highway robber while crossing the Messer covered bridge at Laconia, Saturday evening, but a slash across the face with a whip was all the scamp gained.

The bones of an infant, enclosed in a box, were found buried under J. A. Blake's blacksmith shop, at Walpole, Saturday. They had apparently been under ground for at least four years.

The conviction of Col. J. A. Joyce, the head of the whisky ring at St. Louis, is the cause of much congratulation at the Treasury department, and it is not believed he will be able to secure a new trial, or if he does, that he can escape conviction.

Mr. Carruth, the editor who was shot by Landis, the Vineland speculator, on March 19th, died at Vineland, Sunday. Landis has been surrendered by his bondsman and taken to jail.

Our Florida Correspondence.

FEDERAL POINT, Fla., Oct. 21.

Editor Chronicle; Your readers will notice (should they take the trouble to read my letters) that there is neither system nor order in their composition, but instead, a jumble of subjects, and odd mixture of ideas, indicating an entire lack of any well conceived plan. This lack of order is certainly to be condemned, but can be much better excused in matters of this kind than it could be in other affairs where the development of a well or ill-conceived plan was to stand recorded in the arrangements of a homestead and its surroundings. It is with this idea that I would endeavor to impress upon your readers the necessity of mature consideration upon all matters pertaining to the permanent improvement of their property, and especially should this be the case with those who are just starting in a new country like Florida. When the immigrant has purchased his land for the purpose of fruit raising, his next step should be to make a careful draft thereof, dividing and subdividing his land into lots, avenues, ditches, and building sites; and then with a few well prepared stakes see that his place is measured and staked off in accordance with his plan. He can then go to work intelligently and arrange his place with a view to beauty as well as convenience, rendering the home in after years one that shall be attractive to the eye as well as profitable in a money point, and without the addition of a single dollar in extra labor.

The orange is the staple fruit produced here, yet there are many other varieties that will succeed here, which the thrifty fruit grower will not neglect to cultivate along with his orange grove. The fig will become I think, a fruit of considerable importance. It is much more hardy to resist cold, than the orange. It sheds its foliage every Fall, standing dormant during the Winter months. In the Spring, when the leaves begin to appear, there grows at the same time the fruit, coming out of the limb at the junction of the leaf with the limb. There is no blossom to be seen, although botanists tell us there is a blossom contained in the fruit. This theory may be a fact I am unable to refute, yet have never had other evidence than than their "say so." The fruit simply grows until it matures, which event transpires during the month of July. Then the leaves are shed, followed by another crop of leaves and fruit. This second crop is matured about November, when the tree sheds its leaves the second time and remains in that condition until the following Spring. The process of drying changes the flavor of the fruit very much, and a person unacquainted with it in its green state would not be likely to recognize it as the dried fruit of commerce. Peaches are produced here in abundance and of fine quality; the tree is much longer-lived than that grown in colder climates. The guava is a tropical fruit, and is very tender, being unable to withstand any severe frost, but is a very rapid growing bush and is a profuse bearer. The fruit is unsuited to my taste, unless cooked, either made into sauce or jelly. The jelly made from it is the finest known in the market. The size and form of the fruit resemble a pear, but its flavor resembles but a guava, or in other words there is no fruit known in your Northern markets, by which to compare it. We praise it much here, and in the tropics it is in continuous bearing, and enters largely into the compositions of the luxuries of those countries.

The great variety of fruit trees, with their different forms and colored foliage, as well as the beautiful flowering vines, renders it possible and even practicable to so arrange the grounds that a truly beautiful effect shall be produced without detracting from the profits of the homestead. To meet with gratifying success, great care should be taken in all the preliminary operations, for it must be borne in mind that the result is not to be obtained in one season; but it is the laying of the foundations for a growth that shall continue for a generation. The virgin soil has a growth of trees which must first be cut down and cleared away, and then the stumps and roots must be taken out. It is in "grubbing" or getting out the roots that the expense of clearing land here is mostly incurred; to lessen that expense and also save time, the ground, where a fruit tree is to be set, can be "grubbed" for a space of ten or twelve feet in diameter, then throwing over the ground so dug up, grass, brush, roots, or anything to cover it, and letting it remain for two or three months, you will find the place all nicely pulverized and in good condition to receive a tree. The trees can then be set, and the space between them left for a more convenient time. In setting the trees, the ambition should not be to see how many can be set in a day, but how well. In taking up any tree great care should be used to preserve as many roots uninjured as possible; then cut back the top to correspond with the reduced roots, carefully convey the tree to its place of destination, and then with your hands lay out the roots as nearly in a natural position as possible, working the fine earth about them, being sure that no vacant spaces are left unfilled among the roots; leaving the tree when the operation is complete, with its surface or upper roots on a level with the top of the ground, and the dirt pressed firmly about them The orange tree is very tenacious of life and will endure greater mutilation than any fruit tree in my knowledge, yet appreciates kind treatment as well as the most delicate.

I am often asked by correspondents "if it be safe here for a Northern man to live. And is he well received by the Southern people? These questions always give me pain, evincing as they do an entire misconception of the Southern people. You will find the high and middle classes of Southern people to be high-toned, energetic and possessing a peculiar grace and ease of manner peculiar to themselves, free from the patronizing air of superiority toward their inferiors that is noticeable in people of other sections; hospitable and very pleasing in their social relations. They are fully alive to the needs of their country, and extend a welcome hand to all well disposed persons who propose to abide with them, giving them all the information and assistance in their power. In the heat of political discussion great injustice has been done them, as the unbiased mind can but admire their indomitable courage, their sacrifices for the preservation of their old-time cherished principles and institutions; all of which were made with a lofty patriotism and cheerfulness that can but attract the admiration of the world. The affection cherished by them for their servants was in many instances, to my knowledge, pure and genuine. I have since the war seen a wealthy and richly dressed lady, with all appearances of genuine pleasure, hasten across a muddy street to grasp the hand of an old negro who was dressed in rags and tottering along with a bulky load on his head. I could cite many more instances of a like nature that have come under my observation. I will further add that at the close of the war, when the negro was declared free, that many a master divided his last dollar with his servant, each departing his own way to carve out his future destiny. These have been "trying times," and I very much doubt if any people under the sun could have more bravely met the lot which has been theirs, or have shown more energy and skill in recovering the position they are entitled to fill. The change they have undergone has been very great; their old labor system broken, their offices of trust placed in the hands of strangers, who accepted positions in many instances but to abuse them. When you contemplate all this and see the evidences of thrift and enterprise about us, you could but appreciate them and regret that there could have ever existed any but the most cordial feelings to mar the confidence among the brethren of our common country. J. F. TENNEY.

The Pembroke Murderer.

Several parties have fully identified La Page as a man seen from time to time dodging in and about the woods of Pembroke. Much damaging evidence has been secured against the prisoner.

The Nashua Telegraph has a feeling of satisfaction "that such an unnatural criminal is not a product of our New England civilization."

The Concord Monitor says La Page has "a villainous face which mirrors the character of the man."

Says Dodd to Thompson.

[Philadelphia North American.]

Said Dodd to Thompson, "Will a thousand majority in Wood county help you any?" And Thompson replied, "It would help." But Wood county happened to give a republican majority of about five hundred. Here is one case of cheating. Dodd would have cooked up a thousand majority, then, for Allen only for the fact that his little game leaked out prematurely. But had Dodd cooked up the majority, and had that been enough to defeat Hayes, does anybody suppose that Mr. Thompson would have said a word about fraud? Well, no, we guess not. We don't happen to know any democratic leader who ever objected to cheating in the interest of his party. We never heard that even Governor Tilden was indignant because John T. Hoffman was returned elected Governor of New York when in fact he was not elected at all. These virtuous democrats only object to losing the monopoly of cheating. That is all.

Jottings.

Mr. M. V. B. Stimson publishes the following card: I beg you to ask the patience of the public, before judging me too harshly relative to my difficulty in Boston. I can assure you, it is all a base attempt to extort money out of me, and prevent the success of an enterprise that was likely to turn me a handsome fortune. I shall be abundantly able to prove my innocence of the charge against me, at the trial on the 29th, and will give the particulars in due time.

Major Edward A. Phalon, mail agent from Boston to Bangor, has been arrested for pilfering valuable letters from the mail. He has heretofore borne a good reputation as one of the most efficient agents on the route.

The high character of the lectures at the Autumn lyceum course in the Methodist church was well sustained by the excellent address of Rev. Mr. Millen, Monday evening; subject "The Golden Age." He contrasted the past with the present, exhibiting the wonderful superiority of the present age and all its predecessors in science, art, literature, and religion, culminating in flights of true eloquence at the close, as he portrayed with stirring pathos the Golden Age yet to bless mankind. Mr. Millen has a fine voice, and a presence adapted to the platform, cooperating well with the literary finish of his lecture.

Chief Engineer E. J. Whittaker, U. S. N., formerly on duty at this naval station, is ordered to duty connected with the construction of boilers at the South Boston Iron works.

Schooner Enos Briggs, Capt. Crosby, from Navassa for Baltimore, foundered at sea on the 21st inst. Crew saved. The Enos Briggs was 83 tons, built in 1870 at Kennebunk, and formerly owned by V. Doane, Esq., of this city.

There will be a Harvest Supper this evening at the Methodist chapel on Daniel St. Admission, including supper, 25 cents.

The Methodist chapel on Daniel street is to be sold at auction.

Gov. William Allen has re-appointed Col. William H. Hackett, of this city, commissioner of deeds for the State of Ohio.

Mr. J. S. Pfeiffer announces that his stock of nice goods, ribbons, laces, fringes, ornaments, hosiery, gloves, etc., at No. 73 Congress street, will be sold at cost until Nov. 13th. See advertisement.

Ship Semiramis, of this city, now in New York, has been sold to parties in Baltimore.

Circuit Court.

On account of the continued illness of Judge Foster, the Circuit Court was not in session on Monday and Tuesday.

The following are the names of the petit jurors for the second and third weeks:

Moses T. French, Samuel F. Rowe, Candia; True W. Currier, Jeremy Rollins, Jr., Deerfield; Charles Adams, George I. Choate, Derry; Gilbert Rollins, John S. Rowell, Exeter; Simon Mullins, Jonathan W. Peabody, Londonderry; Alien Pride, John J. Hanson, Newmarket; Thomas Wardwell (Ward 1), Gardner J. Greenleaf, William F. Lane (Ward 3), Samuel W. Moses, Jr., William Nowell, (Ward 5), Martin Hoyt (Ward 7), Portsmouth: Joseph W. Emerson, Nathaniel H. Paul, Salem; James Smith, Henry C. Chase, Seabrook; Leonard A. Morrison, Charles H. Barker, Windham; Jesse A. Sawyer, William F. Knight, Atkinson; Kendrick Emery, David P. Brickett, Auburn; Joseph P. Averill, Brentwood; George Wells, Chester.

The trial of indictments in State cases will begin to-day. Thirty-four special jurors have been summoned for Tuesday, November 2d, the day assigned for the trial of David L. Magoon of Raymond for murder.

—The London Advertiser says that a Sarnia man bet ten dollars that he could ride the fly-wheel of a saw-mill, and as his widow paid the bet, she remarked: "William was a kind husband, but he did not know much about fly-wheels."

—"Poor fellow—he had a good deal in him," was the sorrowing remark of a Mississippi editor over the body of a subscriber shot in a gin mill. The coroner's inquest subsequently verified the assertion.

—Touching conclusion of an obituary notice in an Indiana newspaper: "He was an elder in the Methodist Church and the leader of the brass band in the village."

—Politeness is the mother of peace. She keeps familiarity and impudence from being knocked to death, and often saves herself a broken head.

—The best paper now issued is the greenback signed by Treasurer New. It is not on our exchange list however.—Whitehall Times.

—The difference between perseverance and obstinacy is that one often comes from a strong will, and the other from a strong won't.

—Our devil says he likes to work after hours, because it is past-time.

How to Vanquish the Stomach's Tormentor.

If the Enemy of mankind was permitted to exert his diabolical ingenuity in the invention of a new disease, he could scarcely devise one more worthy of his genius than dyspepsia. The dyspeptic sufferer is tormented by symptoms resembling those of almost every known malady, and is often worried into monomania by these conflicting and perplexing manifestations. A favorite though absurd hallucination of the victim of chronic indigestion is that he or she has heart disease. Dyspepsia has often been pronounced incurable, but experience has shown that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will vanquish it, together with the constipation and bilious derangement which usually accompany it. Diseases of the kidneys and supposed rheumatic pains are also frequent concomitants of dyspepsia, but they, too, succumb to the above named invaluable corrective.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.

Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers, the voice is changed and has a nasal twang, the breath is offensive, smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, mental depression, hacking cough, and general debility. Only a few of the above named symptoms are, however, likely to be present in any one case. There is no disease more common than Catarrh, and none less understood by physicians.

DR SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY

is, beyond all comparison, the best preparation for Catarrh ever discovered. Under the influence of its mild, soothing and healing properties, the disease soon yields. The Golden Medical Discovery should be taken to correct the blood, which is always at fault, and to act specifically upon the diseased glands and lining membrane of the nose. The Catarrh Remedy should be applied warm with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche—the only instrument by which fluids can be perfectly injected to all the passages and the chambers of the nose from which discharges proceed.

These medicines are sold by Druggists.

—Jake sauntered up to where Pete was sitting mending a whip-lash.

"Pete, please, sir, lend me a quarter?"

"Is you a fool?" said Pete.

"Pay yer back nex' week, 'clar to grash-us."

"Takin' up a kerlection to get into de circus, am ye?" again queried Pete.

"No, I ain't—I swar I min't—I'm got a pretickular use for dat quarter, to-day!" earnestly urged Jake.

"Well, I can't nergoshearte de quarter fer ye to-day, Jake."

"Pay ye back, shore, Pete; ef I don't I hope I may die."

"Yer can't do it, chile, I tell ye! Dere's mighty hard times comin' nex' week—de cirkus 'll be hyar an'll bankrup' de town. 'Spose ye don't remember dat de cirkus wid one elemphant last year nigh busted Atlanta, and now dis on's got four—tink o' dat! —four elemphants, an' I tell yer money's gwyne to be skeercer dan freedman banks round hyar nex' week! Go 'long chile!"

And the child went off minus the quarter,

—I will ask the reader to cook two turnips in two different ways. The first is to be peeled and sliced, and left to soak in cold water for an hour or more. The slices are to be boiled until quite tender, and then are to be drained and nicely mashed with butter. This is the most common way of cooking them, and it has the demerit of washing out the gum and the sugar and the other fine constituents of the root, consequently the flavor is very much reduced. The other root is to be washed quite clean; but it is not to be peeled, or cut or soaked. Boil it whole in its "jacket." It will take twice as long as to cook the one that was cut. When, by trying it with a fork, you find it quite tender, take it up, peel it, press it moderately, and mash it with butter. Instead of being, perhaps as you will expect, strong, rank, or bitter, it will be deliciously full flavored, and will contain all the nourishment that was in it before it was cooked.—Gardener's Magazine.

—"What is this Delano that all the papers are making such a fuss about?" said a fond young woman, on Carpenter street, yesterday, to her poetical, but non-political adorer. "Is it a new sort of dress goods?" "No," said the young man, with the confidence of conviction and superior knowledge. "She's the woman in Tennyson's 'Maud,' you know. It begins 'Delano fair, Delano loveable.'" "Oh, Augustus," said the admiring and awe-struck young girl, as she leaned her false hair against his shirt-front, and increased his washing bill for the incoming week by ten cents; "Oh, Augustus, how much you do know, and what a silly stupid little thing I am! But when we are married, you will—" And Augustus rapturously compressed her corset with his trusty right arm, and said he would. Chicago Tribune.

—"We knows the public is down on us," remarked the old milkman as he dipped out the desired quart from one of his big cans, "but the public is mistaken. In the first place we put in a leetle water—only a bit, to make up for shrinkage. It goes to the big dealers, and they ain't a bit keerful when they gits to pouring in water. They sells to the grocers, and they put in chalk with one hand and water with the other, and they are thinking of politics and get in too much. The servant gal goes after milk for the family, drinks a third of it, and she puts in water to make up the measure; and, you see, when the family gets it the taste ain't there, the look ain't there, and they goes for us, poor old men who hasn't a dishonest hair in our heads. That's the way, mister—gee up, there, Homer!"—Detroit Free Press.

—Last year a commercial man, generally known as a "runner," was travelling, and stopped at a farmer's house, when the following conversation took place:

"Well, how do you like Kansas?"

"Don't like it at all," said the farmer; "you can't raise anything; and when you do, the plagued grasshoppers take it all! I'm going to leave as soon as I can get out of it."

Happening along this Summer, he met the man again and said:

"Hello! you here yet?"

"Yes, but I'm going to leave."

"What are you going to leave for? You surely have raised enough this year?"

"Yes, but that's the b—— of it. Got mor'n I want this year, and can't sell a cent's worth."

—Some months since Mr. W. Washburn, of Minneapolis, failed and assigned his property for the benefit of his creditors. The assignees have paid his debts dollar for dollar, principal and interest, and returned to him a balance of $300,000 with which he will at once commence business.

—In the "sweet by and by," when three California counties produce a hundred million pounds of honey annually, let us hope that honey will cost something less than a dollar a thingful—an awfully small thingful at that.—Worcester Gazette.

—Here's philosophy: "The particles that day before yesterday were grains of wheat, and yesterday were nerve and muscle, today are sparkling thought. Hence life; hence oysters and all other folks."

—"The fashion of putting welts on the sides of pants is revived," says a fashion exchange; and little Charley says he hopes the fashion of putting welts on the seats of boys' pants will soon go out.

—Jennie June is out with a letter saying that trousers of single thickness have no right to criticise a tight skirt of several thicknesses.

—There are about 1,000,000,000 people on the globe, and 800,000,000 of them, according to Chamber's Journal, use tobacco.

500,000 ACRES
OF MICHIGAN LANDS,
FOR SALE!

The Lands of the Jackson, Lansing & Saginaw Railroad Company are now Offered For Sale.

They are situated along its railroad and contain large tracts of excellent FARMING and PINE lands. The farming lands include some of the most fertile and well-watered hardwood lands in the State. They are timbered mainly with hard-maple and beech; soil black, sandy loam, and abound in springs of purest water. Michigan is one of the least indebted and most prosperous States in the Union, and its farmers have a greater variety of crops and resources than any Western state. While some of the Prairie States may produce corn in great abundance, they have no other resources, and when this crop fails destitution follows, as has been the case the past year in Kansas and Nebraska. For Maps, Circulars and further information, apply to or address D. M. BARNES, Land Commissioner, Lansing, Michigan.

Utility, Durability and Brilliancy.

WEAR THE BEST. TRADE MARK. F.L.B.

The following advantages are claimed for the

"BRILLIANT" PANTOSCOPIC SPECTACLES and EYE-GLASSES.

FIRST. That, from the peculiar construction of the Glasses and Frame, they assist and preserve the sight, rendering frequent changes unnecessary.

SECOND. That they confer a brilliancy and distinctness of vision, with an amount of Ease and Comfort not hitherto enjoyed by spectacle-wearers.

THIRD. That the material from which the Lenses are ground is manufactured especially for optical purposes, and is Pure, Hard and Brilliant, and not liable to become scratched.

CONDITION PILLS.
NEW TESTIMONIALS.
— FOR —
Weak Lungs, Constipation, Lameness, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Paralysis, Poor Blood and Kidney Troubles.

One Box Dr. Quain's Condition Pills "Nearly Cured Where All Else Failed."

LOWELL, MASS, July 20th, 1874.
T. W. LANE:—I have used one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, am glad to state in my case they have proved all that you claim for them. I have been troubled with Bad Blood and all its consequent diseases, and have tried several kinds of Bitters and Pills without receiving much benefit, until I tried the CONDITION PILLS, and they have nearly cured where all else failed. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.
Yours, very truly,
J. D. WHITAKER.

Testimony of a Clergyman---Liver and Kidney Troubles.

EAST TILTON, N. H., April 14, 1875.
MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are not only the best, but the very best I ever used. My wife has been troubled with Kidney Complant many years; one half of a package has cured her, so that she feels as well as ever. I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years; one-half of a package has done me more good than all the Pills I ever took. One of my neighbors took them, who has been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years: three Pills have helped him. Your Pills, where used, commend their virtues. Please send to my address one package.
REV. JOHN DAVIS.

Liver Compaint and Rheumatism so that he Could not Sleep Nights.

I was born and always lived in Pittsfield, N. H.; am now 59 years old; been troubled with Liver Complaint for 30 years, and Rheumatism for 20 years, sometimes so I could not sleep nights. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good and relieved more suffering than all the medicine I have taken during my life.
S. S. RING.
Pittsfield, N. H., Dec. 17, 1874.

Fever and Ague.

NEW BOSTON, N. H., Feb. 1, 1875.
T. W. LANE.—Sir:—Last month I sent to you for a package of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS. I had tried six so called ague cures, and I received more benefit from five of your pills than from all the "Cures" "Cholagogues," "Quinine," &c., that I have taken in two years. I cannot recommend it too highly for vile cases resulting from long standing Fever and Ague.
Yours, most respectfully,
MRS. C. GARLAND.

Scaly Humor Cured by One Package---Liver Complaint Helped.

NORTH SALEM, N. H., Jan. 5, 1875.
MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—Your Pills are all they are recommended. I was troubled with a Scaly Humor on my legs; I took one package and my legs are smooth. My wife was troubled with Liver Complaint; she took one package and they helped her greatly.
Yours, with respect,
JOHN H. BLAKE.

From a Leading Citizen of Rindge.

WEST RINDGE, Cheshire Co., N. H.,
November 17, 1874.
THOS. W. LANE:—After taking three packages of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I am prepared to say they are the very best, for I have tried a great many kinds, and faithfully too, believing they would help me, to no effect.—These I do believe are the very best ever made; just the kind a man needs. May they be spread all over the wide world, and Dr. Quain's name a household word.
Yours truly,
ASA STICKNEY.

Felt Better, Stronger and Gained Flesh in One Week.

AFTER TAKING DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS.

ROLLINSFORD, N. H.
THOS. W. LANE:—I commenced to take DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and in one week I was heavier, felt better, and was stronger than before, and any one troubled with BAD BLOOD can find sure remedy in these Pills.
Nov. 3, 1874. L. M. YEATON.

CHESTER, N. H., Feb. 24, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been out of health for some time, and I took a very bad cold and it left my lungs in a very weak state. I received Dr. Quain's Condition Pills and took them according to the directions, and my lungs are some better. I can recommend them to any one who is troubled with weak lungs, for they have done me good, and I think another package will cure me. Dr. Quain's Pills ought to be known throughout the world. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.
Yours, &c., CYRUS LANE.

HILLSBOROUGH BRIDGE, Feb. 25, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—Dr. Quain's Condition Pills are the best I ever used for lameness and pain. The first dose I took removed the pain and lameness that I have been troubled with for several years. Others have used quite a number of the pills besides myself. Please send another package by return of mail.
MRS. DANIEL KIMBALL.

GILMANTON I. W., N. H., Feb. 25, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been taking Dr. Quain's Condition Pills, and can recommend them as far ahead of common pills for constipation of the bowels; they do not have the debilitating effects of common purgatives I have taken.
MRS. J. B. GOODWIN.

NORTHWOOD CENTRE, March 1, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I saw Dr. Quain's Condition Pills highly recommended, and sent for a package, and I find that they have done more for me than all the medicine I have taken for years, and can freely recommend them to others, as a good and sure medicine. Please send me another package as soon as possible.
MARTHA NORCROSS.

BRISTOL, N. H., Feb. 27, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have made a fair trial of those Condition Pills, and find them very useful. I think they are all they are recommended. They are a good Liver invigorator.
N. F. DANFORTH.

SALEM DEPOT, N. H., March 8, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE:—I think those pills (Dr. Quain's Condition Pills) are what they claim to be. my wife and I are both victims of Liver and Kidney Complaint, and general debility. We have taken about half the package you sent us, and find a decided improvement in our health. I want four packages to give away in the north part of Vermont, to friends up there. I enclose $2.00, and if you can, send me the four Packages.
ROYAL SCOTT.

SOUTH PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., March 11, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE:—I have given Dr. Quain's Condition Pills a trial, and find I can honestly recommend them, they having materially improved the sorest case of Liver Complaint which I have had, afflicted since getting upon my feet after the Paralysis of left side that I suffered last October. I desire you to send me another package as soon as you can, as I am anxious to continue their use. Though not now a resident of New England, I have lived in Central Vermont more than fifty years, and trust Dr. Quain's Pills will not long be unknown in that section.
MOSES SHELDON.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have been troubled with Biliousness, Headache, and Dizziness, for a long time, and had the Dyspepsia so bad there were but few kinds of food my stomach would bear at all. I commenced taking your pills, have taken most of one package, and now enjoy eating as well as I ever did, am not troubled with dizziness unless by taking cold, and have been greatly benefited by the use of them.
A. L. PAGE.

FRANCESTOWN, March 13, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE:—I have found Dr. Quain's Condition Pills to be all you claim for them in Kidney Complaint, poor blood, and weak nerves. May they be circulated over the land and found in every household where medicine is needed. I enclose 50 cts. for another package as soon as convenient.
JOHN T. FELCH.

Better Health than for 10 Years.

CHESTER, N. H., Oct. 17, 1874.
MR. LANE:—I have taken one package of Condition Pills; find them in my case all they are recommended; have not enjoyed so good health for the last ten years as I have since I commenced taking the Condition Pills. Shall be happy to recommend them to others.
WILLIAM H. FELLOWS.

SCRIBNERS' MONTHLY for 1876.

The publishers invite attention to the following list of some of the attractive articles secured for Scribner's Monthly, for the coming year. In the field of fiction, besides numerous novelettes and shorter stories, there will be

TWO REMARKABLE SERIAL STORIES,
By American Authors.

The first of these, now complete in our hands,

"GABRIEL CONROY,"
By BRET HARTE,

Begins in the November number, and will run for twelve months. This is Mr. Harte's first extended work. The scenes and characters, which the author has chosen from his favorite field, California, are painted with character-istic vividness and power; and the work is without doubt the most graphic record of California life that has yet appeared.

We shall also begin in the January number,

"PHILIP NOLAN'S FRIENDS,"
OR, SHOW YOUR PASSPORTS,"
By EDWARD EVERETT HALE.

The scene of this story is laid in the Southwestern territory, now forming the States of Louisiana and Texas, at the time of Aaron Burr's treason. The characters lived in a section which was now American, now French, and now Spanish, and this record of their adventurous lives makes a story of intense and unfailing interest throughout.

A SECOND "FARMER'S VACATION,"
By Col. GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

Col. Waring is now in Europe, visiting, in a row-boat ride of two hundred and fifty miles, one of the most fertile and interesting of the vine growing valleys of Europe. This second series of papers promises to be even more interesting than that with which our readers are already familiar.

CENTENNIAL LETTERS,
Edited by John Vance Cheney.

A rare collection of Revolutionary letters, mainly from stores in the hands of the descendants of Col. Joseph Ward. They are full of interest, and will be read with a rare relish in connection with the Centennial celebration of the year.

BRILLIANTLY ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES ON AMERICAN COLLEGES,

Written respectively by their friends, will appear during the year. The revived interest in college life makes these papers especially timely, and will secure for them unusual attention.

OLD NEW YORK.

Elegantly illustrated articles on Old New-York, by John F. Mines, will appear at once, and will attract the attention of all, in city or country, who mark with interest the development of the great metropolis, and affectionately remember the quaint peculiarities of its olden time.

Every number is profusely illustrated, thus enabling us to give to our descriptive and narrative articles a pictorial and permanent value never attained in a non illustrated periodical. Under its accustomed management the magazine will in the future be devoted, as it has been in the past, to sound literature and Christian progress.

The Editorial Departments occupy over twenty pages of each number and contain Dr. Holland's vigorous and timely editorials, as well as Reviews of the latest works in Art, Literature, and Science.

TERMS:

$4.00 A YEAR, in advance; 35 cents a Number. The 10 vols, complete, Nov. 1870, to Oct. 1875, bound in maroon cloth.....$20.00
do. do. do. bound in half morocco, 30.00
Vols. begin in November and May. Any of the earlier volumes (I to VIII) will be supplied separately to parties who wish them to complete sets at this rate, $2.00, $2.00, half morocco, $3.00.

Booksellers and Postmasters will be supplied at rates that will enable them to fill any of the above offers.

Subscribers will please remit in P. O. Money Orders, or in Bank Checks or Drafts, or by registered letters. Money in letters not registered, at sender's risk.

POSTAGE PREPAID ON ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS.

☞ Every subscriber for 1876 will be presented with a superb, large sized steel engraving of Trumbull's celebrated picture of "The Signing of the Declaration of Independence." This will be "Peterson's" Centennial Gift.☜

"PETERSON'S MAGAZINE" contains, every year, 1000 pages, 14 steel plates, 12 colored Berlin patterns, 12 mammoth colored fashion plates, 24 pages of music, and 900 wood cuts.

Great improvements will be made in 1876. Among them will be a series of illustrated articles on the Great Exhibition at Philadelphia, which will alone be worth the subscription price. They will be appropriately called

THE CENTENNIAL IN PEN AND PENCIL!

The immense circulation of "Peterson" enables its proprietor to spend more money on embellishments, "Series" &c., than any other work. It gives more for the money than any in the world. Its

are the best published anywhere. All the most popular writers are employed to write originally for "Peterson." In 1876, in addition to the usual quantity of short stories, FIVE ORIGINAL COPYRIGHT NOVELETTES will be given, by Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Frank Lee Benedict, Mrs. F. H. Burnett, and others.

MAMMOTH COLORED FASHION PLATES

ahead of all others. These plates are engraved on steel, twice the usual size, and are unequalled for beauty. They will be superbly colored. Also, Household and other receipts; in short, everything interesting to ladies.

N. B.—As the publisher now prepays the postage to all mail subscribers, "Peterson" is cheaper than ever; in fact is the cheapest in the world.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Brchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby earned himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LOCAL AGENTS
WANTED.
An Agent Wanted for Each Town and County in the United States.

Parties desiring to act as agents must accompany their application by a letter of recommendation as to character and responsibility from and signed by the Editor of a newspaper published in the town or county for which the agent proposes to act. The agency is to sell the bonds of the Industrial Exhibition Company.

BONDS, $20 EACH.
HALF BONDS, $10 EACH.
QUARTER BONDS, $5 EACH.

The Industrial Exhibition Company will furnish agents with circulars, etc., etc.

Each newspaper published in the town where an agent is located will, as soon as the agency is established, be given an advertisement, advertising such agency and the Company, and fully explaining the plans, purposes and objects of the Company. Such advertisement will be done in such papers as long as an agency is successfully conducted.

The Industrial Exhibition Company is the first to adopt the plan so long in use by the European governments of issuing bonds when the principal is made secure and not risked, but where there is a chance for a large premium, an investment of $20 is sure to return to the investor $21—one dollar more than cost—and the holder of a $20 Bond may obtain a premium either of $50, $100, $200, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000 or $100,000. The interest, which is ordinarily distributed to all the bond holders pro rata, is in this loan distributed by chance. The purchaser of a bond knows he will receive back his investment, with a small rate of interest, he has a chance of the above premiums, which are simply the distribution of interest on the whole loan.

Each bond participates in four drawings each year, until it has drawn a premium, when it is surrendered, the premium paid, and the bond cancelled.

The Industrial Exhibition Company, under a special charter granted by the State of New York, is given authority to issue these bonds. The Legislature of the State, recognizing the great benefits which will arise from the success of this enterprise, have exempted all the real estate and property of the Company from taxation and assessments for five years, and has also conferred other great privileges.

Every American who understands the purposes of this Company will, of a necessity, feel a pride in aiding it to a successful accomplishment.

Each individual who buys a bond becomes an owner and an interested party, and when he views the structure erected with his money can say, "I aided to erect in our country the most magnificent build ing the world has ever seen, a palace which, in truth, represents the industry, energy and mechanical genius of the American people."

The manufacturers and the inventors of America are peculiarly interested in the success of this enterprise, for the reason that it is to be their home, where all their inventions and manufactures can be exhibited and sold.

The building will contain 5,320,800 square feet of space.

Purchasers desiring Bonds before an agency is established where they reside, will communicate direct with this office, from where they can be supplied.

Parties desiring to act as agents or to purchase bonds will address

A CHANCE FOR ALL!
$100,000
GIVEN AWAY!
The Union Pocket Book Co.

having secured by cash purchase the entire bankrupt stock of Messrs H. Moriond & Co., consisting of

400,000 Portmonies,
(POCKET BOOKS,)

of the best manufacture and superb quality, each pocket book being made of Real Morocco Leather; to effect a speedy clearance sale and having in view the old motto of the house, Certain Profits with Quick Returns, the company have decided on giving each individual purchaser the full benefit of this remunerative bargain by giving away One Hundred Thousand Dollars, in

2818 MONEY PRIZES!

THE FIRST PRIZE BEING $20,000 CASH.
" SECOND " " $10,000 "
" THIRD " " $5,000 "
and 2815 other money prizes as follows, viz.:

25 PRIZES OF $1000 CASH, EACH.
40 " " 500 " "
50 " " 100 " "
100 " " 50 " "
200 " " 20 " "
400 " " 10 " "
2000 " " 1 " "

The above prizes with the cost of advertising and other incidental expenses, giving the purchasers two-thirds of the profits that accrue on the entire sale, and to enable every one to have an equal share in the profits, with the certainty of receiving treble the value for their small investment and further opportunity of surely gaining a share in the distribution of $100,000, and this too by the riskless outlay of $1 only.

The Union Pocket Book Co. will deliver free to any address on receipt of One Dollar, a GENUINE MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK, together with a COUPON TICKET,

entitling and giving the holder a share in the drawing of 2818 CASH PRIZES, of the aggregate value of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS CURRENCY. The Company guarantee to return to each purchaser at least treble the value for his money.

How can this be accomplished? is a question many will doubtless ask themselves, and foreseeing this we offer the following lucid explanation.

The Trade assignee, anxious to dispose of and realize on the entire stock of bankrupts in one sale, accepted our offer of $100,000 cash for the lot; after advertising same for sale for one month, and not receiving a single offer, which in the present depression of business and almost total stagnation of trade is not to be wondered at; notwithstanding that our offer was one third less than the actual cost of the manufacture of the Pocket Books. The assignee having to at once realize the effects of the bankrupts, in the interests of the creditors he had no alternative but to accept this offer and sell us the lot at our own price, thereby enabling us to distribute in prizes $100,000 amongst the purchasers, and at the same time retain a fair marginal profit for ourselves; thus you obtain fully double the value of the amount you forward us and it depends on your luck what amount you gain of the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Money Prizes.

THE SALE WILL POSITIVELY CLOSE ON

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1875,

and orders for pocket books should therefore be forwarded to us at once—no application by letter after Saturday, November 20th, can be entertained.

1000 of the Pocket Books are of the patented manufacture, superior in value to the remainder, the retail price of the same being $8, and these will be forwarded to early purchasers until disposed of.

Therefore those who send immediate orders will reap the advantage of receiving a superior article.

Remittances should be made for one or any number of pocket books by draft, post office orders, or greenbacks in registered letter by express, etc.

Post Office orders and drafts to be made payable in favor of Frank Stewart, the Company's Manager; Post Office orders to be drawn on General Post Office, Philadelphia, and drafts on the First National Bank.

The Drawing of Prizes will take place at the Company's Principal Offices, 830 Locust Street, Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, on

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 24,1875

and the winning numbers will be advertised in this Journal and the principal Philadelphia and New York newspapers of Saturday, November 27th.

The Prizes will be forwarded in drafts, greenbacks or by post office order per registered letter by Monday's morning mails, November 29th, or if preferred prizes can be sent by express, or in any other manner purchasers may select, providing same be signified by them when forwarding orders for pocket books.

Remember this is no lottery, but a bona fide business system founded on a true financial basis which enables the Company to convert into money an otherwise surplus stock, and this too with a good profit to both the purchasers and themselves, effecting a speedy clearance stock which in the present dull times is the great desiderata that in no other way can be successfully attained.

We guarantee each pocket book to be of the best manufacture, of pure morocco leather and all fraudulently worth in retail trade at the lowest rate of from $3 to $4.

This is an opportunity that should not be let pass by, and all should embrace this chance; We afford every one an opportunity of realizing a share in $100,000 at the insignificant outlay of $1 (one dollar) for which amount we receive value for those who let this fortuitous chance escape them will have only themselves to blame.

All letters replied to same day as received. We advise intending purchasers to send forward orders immediately which will prevent disappointment and receive prompt attention.

Remember, every one who sends ONE DOLLAR before November 20th, 1875, receives A MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK of the value of from $3 to $4 and a COUPON, giving them a share in the drawing of $100,000.

ADDRESS ALL ORDERS, LETTERS, ETC., TO

The Union Pocket Book Company,
SOUTH-EAST CORNER 6TH AND LOCUST STREETS,
PHILADELPHIA, PENN.

P. S.—Drawing absolute on Wednesday, November 24th. No postponement in the remote contingency of any number of the pocket books remaining unsold; a slight reduction not exceeding $5000 may be made proportionately from the prizes. thov15

SECRETS OF THE DEAD LETTER OFFICE.

A special correspondent of the Chicago Inter-Ocean, writing from Washington, lets a little light in upon the mysteries of the dead-letter office: The reports of last year go to show that the dead-letter office handled 4,600,000 dead letters. Frequently after being sent to several different post offices, and being returned each time with information regarding the writer, the letter, with its valuable or invaluable, it may be, contents, finally reaches its nomadic writer. Letters have been known to travel around a year or more in this way. When the writer is found the receipt is returned with his signature; the fact is recorded on the books with the other record. Often it happens that neither the writer nor the person to whom a letter containing money is addressed, can be found, and in this case, after a reasonable search the letter is numbered and filed, and the money deposited in the United States treasury to the account of the dead-letter office, from which it can be reclaimed by the sender any time within four years, providing satisfactory evidence can be shown that the claimant is entitled to the same. After four years, an act of Congress only can restore it to its original possessor. The same is done with checks, drafts, bills of exchange and commercial paper of this character, although those are more easily traceable because of the signatures, endorsements, etc. Very frequently large sums of money are found to have strayed into this "pound" for vagrants, almost always because of the carelessness of the sender. The other day a check for $10,000 was found in a partially directed letter. The drawer of the check was easily known from his signature and the letter head used, and he has receipted for his valuable enclosure, it is to be hoped, by this time. Several months ago a check for $25,000, drawn to bearer, came to light when an unstamped envelope was found.

The largest piece of commercial paper ever known to come into the dead-letter office was a bill of exchange, from a San Francisco bank on a Chicago for about $3,000,000. This was in 1873, and it will be noticed that the value of the dead-letters that year was somewhat larger than it ever was before. But perhaps the most remarkable incident in the history of the dead-letter service occurred the other day. There lives in Brooklyn an eminent clergyman, whose name has been very prominently before the public for the past year. This clergyman has a wealthy friend in the West. The wealthy friend had occasion recently to send the prominent clergyman some money, whether as a donation, or a loan, or as the payment of a debt, I could not ascertain, but he sent it in the form of a draft, payable to the prominent clergyman's order, and enclosed in it a very friendly letter. Singularly, he forgot to put on the usual stamp, and the friendly letter, with the remarkable enclosure, came to the dead-letter office. One of the clerks into whose hands it came, is an ardent admirer of the prominent clergyman, and swears by the Inter-Ocean's defence of him in a recent attempt to destroy his reputation and ruin his usefulness. At the instance of this clerk the letter did not take the usual course of being sent with a circular through the Brooklyn postmaster, but was enclosed with an explanatory note to the Brooklyn pastor, who has written from his temporary resort in the mountains a polite and grateful acknowledgment.

The property department is quite as curious as any, but the young man who has the duty of opening the numberless packages that come into his hands must have his curiosity very much blunted by this time. Every package is recorded as is the case in the other branches, with the name of the sender and the intended receiver, if possible, the contents, etc., so that it can be easily traced. Every imaginable article comes to the surface in their investigations. All liquids, all inflammable or explosive substances, or articles of any character that can in any way injure those with whom they come in contact, or damage other articles that may be with them in the mail bag or elsewhere, are what are called unmailable, and are always destroyed. Also all improper books, pictures, or articles of any kind. There is a large cabinet of these curiosities of the mails kept on exhibition in the dead-letter office, and its contents are worth an examination. There are several snakes preserved in alcohol that were taken alive from the mails, grasshoppers and potato bugs, frogs and horned toads, lizards and reptiles of all sorts. These were mailed from the West to some German university, and the proper postage not being paid, they came into the dead-letter office, where their contraband character was discovered. There is an old-fashioned apple-parer, which is historical for having come into the post office under the frank of Congressman Platt several years ago. Jewelry is abundant. Several handsome gold watches are on exhibition, a diamond ring, prized by an expert at $200, and other varieties of jewelry to a large extent. Perhaps there is more jewelry than of any other single class. There is a bottle of holy water, a lump of opium weighing eleven ounces, and various other drugs; fancy work of all character; false hair, undergarments, gloves, veils, neckties, ribbons, stockings, etc., too numerous for description; a bushel or more of valentines and specimen letters and envelopes to show the chirography and style of some of our countrymen and country women. One envelope in particular is worthy of attention. It is illustrated in water colors, and from the letter it contained, an interpretation of the following design was found:

	W. F. Burton, Esq.,
Picture of a bridal couple at the altar.	Picture of the interior of an empty hall.	Picture of the interior of a crowded hall.
	Dubuque, Iowa

It seems that Mr. Burton and his friend who wrote him the letter were partners in the lecturing business, Burton doing the business management and his friend doing the lecturing, with crayon caricature to illustrate the talk. Burton left his partner to run the machine alone, while he went off to get married, and the partner writes an account of his business success or rather want of success, running it alone. The picture at the left represents Burton and bride at the altar. The picture at the right represents the crowded houses they used to have under Burton's management. The centerpiece represents a desolate, empty hall, with the lecturer on the stand, and the janitor the only "audience," asleep at the door. It is a pity Mr. Burton never got his letter, but his friend forgot to put on a stamp. Every four years, in which time these relics become so numerous that their storage becomes a serious difficulty, an auction sale is had, which any person has the privilege of attending, and all the stock is sold. But each sale, with the price obtained, is recorded, so that if an attempt is made to reclaim the lost package, the owner can have the equivalent in cash, when he proves the justice of his claim. But this is seldom the case, for after four years' vagrancy these articles seldom wander back to their original owners.

It would be an interesting task to calculate what the carelessness of its citizens, in this particular, costs the government, but anything like an approximate would be difficult to determine. About one letter in 180 that are written goes to the dead-letter office. Hence 1-180th of the expense of the service should be charged to the office, which would be about $1,200,00) per year. There are ninety-five clerks employed in the dead-letter office proper, at an aggregate salary of $94,000, but of course this does not include the cost of transportation, stationery, nor the labor of handling the 5,000,000 dead-letters that are sent annually from the different post offices in the country to Washington, more than half of them being returned to the writers. But the service is really invaluable. The amount of money that is shown by the report to have been returned to its owners during one year demonstrates it. Some time ago, in a bank in New York, the person who had charge of the mails and express packages carelessly allowed a package, which was intended to have been sent by express, to get into the mail bag. It was sent to the post office and from there came to the dead-letter office, because the postage was unpaid. When opened here it was found to contain fifteen $1000 bills. The assistant postmaster-general telegraphed at once to the cashier of the bank from which it came, either to come to Washington immediately himself, or to send a person in whom he had confidence. A gentleman came in response to the telegram, bearing the prescribed credentials, and was very much astonished when he was presented with $15,000. I mentioned among the list of curiosities in the cabinet a valuable diamond ring. This has its romance,

"The same old story of love and grief:
The same passion that was forsworn."

The ring came to the dead-letter office in an envelope marked "uncalled for." It was post-marked St. Louis, and addressed San Francisco. The letter inclosed gave no clue to either of the parties interested in this very delicate matter, but this may come to either one of them, perhaps, and he may find out in this way why she never sent him back his pledge of love, and she, why he never acknowledged this kind but cruel letter:

"I don't know that it is necessary for me to write anything to accompany this enclosure. I think the ring itself has a language that you can understand, and will carry my message as well as paper. But I cannot let it go without at least expressing my esteem and regret for him who gave it to me two short years ago. Our past, Henry, has been, until this difference, nothing but happiness; but I think it best for both of us that from this time we part. I have considered it again as you asked me, but I cannot alter my decision. Spare me the pain that any more thought on this subject must cause. I wish you much joy hereafter. I hope that you will find a heart that will be a thousand times more precious to you than ever mine would have been. Forget me; but remember that no love, however unworthily bestowed, was ever wasted."

The Pembroke Murderer.

Attorney General Clark and Solicitor Flanders were in consultation with the detectives on Tuesday. The Attorney General has summoned the Grand Jury to meet at eleven o'clock to-day, when the evidence against La Page will be laid before them, and the Attorney General expresses confidence that he will be indicted.

Among the persons who went to Concord to identify La Page, was Miss Hattie M. Gault of Pembroke, who states that between eight or nine o'clock on the morning of the murder she was standing in the door of the Pembroke Academy where she attended school, when a man passed by and turned down the road on which the murder was committed. He carried an axe on his shoulder. The academy is about five minutes' walk from the scene of the murder. It was nearly nine o'clock when he passed by. She immediately identified La Page as the man, when she saw him at the jail.

A Mrs. Watson of Pembroke also identified La Page, as the man who chased her in the woods with a club on the Sunday previous to the murder.

Phalon, the Mail Robber.

The Globe says later developments in the the case of Major Edward A. Phalon, arrested for stealing valuable letters from the mails, while employed as head clerk on the Bangor postal car, prove him to have been a shrewd and systematic thief for at least two years, and so adroitly has he managed his rascally business that the shrewdest devices of the detective officers to catch him or the supposed thief have proved unavailing until Special Agent Charles Field of the Mail Service Detective Bureau, having had his suspicions excited that the robberies were committed on the postal car running between Boston and Bangor, determined to execute a plan he had devised to entrap the thief. Taking into his confidence one of the route clerks, Mr. Field started down the line on the train which leaves Boston for Bangor, via the Eastern Railroad, daily at 3:15 P. M. He took a seat in a passenger car and awaited developments.

Arriving at Salem he followed in the footsteps of Major Phalon and requested him to walk up to the Salem Post Office, where he wanted to have an interview with him. The two entered the private office of General Peirson, the Postmaster, and then in the presence of one of the clerks, Mr. Field informed Phalon of his suspicions and proceeded to search him. Phalon took from a pocket of his outside coat fifteen letters, which he declared were all he had in his possession; but upon searching his inner coat Mr. Field found thirteen more letters, making twenty-eight in all which Phalon had stolen on the trip from Boston to Salem. Fifteen of the letters were mailed in Boston, while the remainder were in transit from places South of Boston. All of them were destined to points on the route to Bangor and to various places in Maine. When charged with the offence of which he stood self-convicted, Phalon offered no defence and made no confession. He was brought before United States Commissioner Hallett on a complaint charging him with the larceny from the United States Postal Mail Service of a letter directed to Mrs. A. W. Keene, Searsmont, Me. Phalon was not required to plead to the charge, and as neither the Government nor the defendant was ready to proceed with an examination, Phalon was held in the sum of $5000 for his appearance.

He received his appointment about five years ago, upon the recommendation of General Butler, and has previously born a good reputation, and been regarded as one of the most efficient officers on the route, receiving a salary of $1400 per annum. It is thought that he has been guilty of pilfering valuable letters for at least two years, and although no letters addressed to Mr. Gregory, the seed-man of Marblehead, were found upon his person, it is fully believed that Phalon knows what has become of several thousands containing remittances, which have never come to hand. The method by which the accused has carried on his operations so long without detection now appears very clear. He lived in Salem, where he has a wife and one child, and where he was an active politician. He was employed on the postal car which runs through from Boston to Bangor in the night. For some time past he has been in the habit of going from Salem in the afternoon, and returning in the postal car which leaves for Portland at 3.15 P. M., ostensibly for the purpose of assisting the clerks in distributing the mails sent out from the Boston office. While thus engaged and enjoying the confidence of his associates, he has filled his pockets with letters, and at Salem left the car. It is surmised that having become alarmed at his operations on his own car, he adopted the plan of stealing from another car in order to divert suspicion from himself and fasten it upon others. There are no means, save from his confession, of ascertaining the amount of his peculations, but from the expensive habits of the accused and the great number of letters which have been lost, he is believed to have obtained large sums. Phalon is about thirty-five years of age.

News and Notes.

Advices from Portland, Oregon, say the election for a Congressman, brought out a very light vote. Lane, democrat, is probably elected by 1200 majority.

A great fire was raging on Monday at Virginia City, Nevada. The principal part of the city is destroyed, and 10,000 people are homeless. The fire was checked by blowing up buildings. The hotels, churches, county buildings, newspaper, telegraph and express offices, mills and hoisting works were burned, the latter entailing a loss of $1,000,000 within a radius of 100 feet. The total loss will reach $10,000,000.

The Lebanon Town library has opened, having 800 volumes on the shelves.

A baby show was inaugurated and successfully carried out by the owners of babies not exceeding fifteen months old, in two school districts in New Hampton. The two oldest exhibited were fourteen months old, and weighed twenty-six pounds each, and the four youngest were ten months old and weighed fifteen pounds each. There were eight on exhibition, and a more promising convention of hopefuls never before convened in that town.

A Plymouth servant girl, after doing a hard week's work, left it to her ladyship to pay her what she thought a fair price, but was somewhat surprised upon receiving a promise of twenty-five cents. The girl thinks she will make a bargain beforehand when she hires out again.

A dispatch from Owensboro', Ky., says that Professor Atkinson, aeronaut, was seriously injured at that place, in making an ascension at the Calhoun Fair to please the spectators. By the burning of the balloon, when several hundred feet high, he was precipitated to the ground and so severely injured that his recovery is very doubtful.

David S. Thomas, P. T. Barnum's press agent, recently made an ascension in the balloon "Barnum No. 4" from New Haven, Conn. The aeronaut was sent off at a little after 1 P. M., and when at an elevation of 2000 feet he discharged sixty pounds of ballast. When half way to North Haven he had risen to an altitude of 6700 feet—a mile and a quarter. About this time he discovered that a small rent in the balloon some distance above the basket was rapidly enlarging and that the gas was escaping. The upward course of the rent was soon stopped by a patch, but not until enough of gas had escaped to ensure a descent, which was made in Montowese at 1.45 P. M. He then discharged ballast and went up again. At 2.40 P. M. he made another landing on the farm of William W. Ives of Wallingford. Leaving his anchor and grapnel there, he went up once more and at 4 o'clock reached a point in East Meriden, two miles from the city proper, on the farm of A. R. Waterman. Here Mr. Thomas alighted and took off the basket in order to continue his journey to Hartford in a rope seat, but at the first jump the balloon landed him a on stone wall. He therefore decided to stop.

Forest Saunders of Peterboro, a boy fifteen years old, was recently run over by a heavy wagon, and both of his legs and one arm were cut off. His injuries will prove fatal.

A large mound stands near the Maine Central track, about a mile from the village of Cumberland Centre, Me., and in plain sight from the road. Mr. Sweat, a trackman has several times lately seen two men standing near the mound and pointing toward it. Recently, the mound was discovered to have been disturbed. It had been dug into in a slanting direction five feet and then down five feet. The prints of a box were plainly discernible, two and a half feet long by one and a quarter feet broad. Mr. Sweat's description of one of the men answers to a man named Elisha Phillips, aged about seventy years, who is a native of the village, and was convicted twenty or twenty-five years ago in Massachusetts for robbing a Boston bank. At the time, he pretended to be able to point out where the treasure was hid to the officers, but ran away from them and was afterward recaptured. His term of imprisonment must have expired not very long ago, and the villagers think he returned for the bank treasure.

Moses E. Piper's barn at Ashland was burned Oct. 25th, with its contents. Loss $800.

Foster's Democrat says: Since the mining interests have been at such a pitch in this part of the country, most everybody has been digging for something somewhere. We understand that their efforts in that direction were not well rewarded over in the vicinity of Newmarket. But, instead, they struck another kind of a mine, a formidable oyster mine. It has been known for years that delicious bivalves existed in Great Bay in moderate quantities, but now a huge bed has just been opened of such quality as to be really astonishing. Parties are already engaged in their capture, and two men can fill an ox cart in a very short time. They are found in deep water, which makes it very difficult to get at them. Within a few years large quantities have been "bedded" in that vicinity, procured South and elsewhere. Whether they are the parent oysters or not, is mere conjecture, but it is enough to know that a new crop has arrived from somewhere. A great deal of excitement exists in consequence of the discovery.

Asa A. Chase, having confessed to setting fire to Samuel Southard's barn, North Haverhill, Friday night, Oct. 22d, and Michael Gonyon's barn, Sunday, was arraigned before Justice E. G. Parker. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the Manchester Reform School to remain until his majority. He takes the matter very calmly and denies that he set fire to the county buildings, as he is suspected of having done.

At a meeting of the Dartmouth Boating Association, F. W. Mitchell, C. S. D., '76, was appointed college trainer with authority to select, train and take charge of a University crew, in preparation for the next intercollegiate regatta until one is chosen by them.

Debt and Taxation.

The Nashua Telegraph, in a well considered article, has the following:

Too little account is made by everybody who talks about taxation, of the marvelous growth and recuperation of the country in the last ten years. We have not only added some seven millions to our population, but the aggregate wealth of the country has nearly doubled. From 1860 to 1870 the increase was upwards of thirteen billions. The aggregate wealth of the country is now about $35,000,000,000, and it is upon this aggregate that the aggregate annual taxation of seven hundred millions is based. This would be an average rate of five per cent., which is at least double the actual average rate of the country. Nearly one-half this aggregate amount is drawn however by the National government from indirect and special sources. Why is it, then, that under such a weight of taxation there has been such a marvelous growth and increase of wealth? The reason is not far to find. Six-sevenths of our taxation is paid among ourselves. It is paid from one pocket to the other. It is well known that at every increase of the British debt the alarmists predicted that it would prove the ruin of the British nation. In less than two hundred years it has risen to four billions of dollars, and yet the British nation was steadily and enormously increasing in wealth during all this time. Mr. Macaulay concluded that it is easier for the people of Great Britain to pay the interest on her present enormous debt than it was for the Great Britain of a hundred and fifty years ago to pay the interest on a few millions.

It is certain that we shall never get back to the very low rate of taxation that prevailed before the war, but with economy, honesty and wisdom in the management of public affairs, we can get back, if we have not already, to the point where it will be as easy to pay taxes as it was before the Rebellion rolled upon the country this mountain of debt and taxation. Under the wise and faithful management of the republican party we have seen this mountain of debt on the national side reduced one-fifth, or $580,000,000. We have seen the interest account cut down from $143,000,000 to $107,000,000. Better still, we have seen the aggregate of national taxes reduced from $490,000,000 in 1866 to $265,000,000 in 1874. If the States, counties, towns and cities have not reduced their debts and taxes proportionally, it is mainly because they have engaged in improvements, as many have, or because the management has been both enterprising and dishonest, as it has been in New York city, in the city of Washington, and in some of the Southern States. Many States have reduced their debts; some have paid their debts entirely. Most of the cities and many of the counties of the country have added to their debts. Here is where a reform is most needed.

Murder.

On Tuesday night between eleven and twelve o'clock a marine named Edwards was assaulted on Noble's Island by some parties as yet unknown, and beaten about the head in such a horrible manner that it is thought he cannot recover. It appears that Edwards, in company with another marine named Graham visited this city, and after taking a friendly drink in a saloon kept by George Scott, they departed, Graham coming down Market street into town and the other starting for Kittery. Shortly after, Graham also concluded to go to Kittery, and on arriving at Noble's Island bridge he heard groans as of some one in distress and hastening on he found Edwards lying upon the ground, just beyond the farther end of the bridge, in an insensible condition, badly beaten and bruised as above stated.

Taking his comrade upon his shoulder he carried him over into Kittery, when becoming completely exhausted, he was compelled to leave him and go to the Barracks, where he reported the affair, and a conveyance was dispatched and the wounded man taken to the hospital. The surgeon examined his head and found several contusions, two of which were so severe as to cause portions of the brain to protrude. The skull was likewise fractured, and the man bore evidences of having been assaulted from behind, as all of the blows were near the base of the back brain. On Wednesday evening the unfortunate marine was still living, and strange to say, was conscious, although he can give no information in regard to the persons who struck him.

Edwards is said to be a quiet and unoffending individual, and is not addicted to liquor drinking. The cause of the assault is unknown, although City Marshal Marden informs us that there has long been an animosity existing against the whole marine corps by a few quarrelsome individuals living at the North End, and it is believed that Edwards was a sufferer by their malice. The perpetrators of so dastardly a deed as that above described should be ferreted out, if possible, and be made to suffer to the full extent of the law. It is stated that there are at the present time four marines lying at the Hospital at this station, suffering from injuries inflicted by assaults made upon them in such a manner as that experienced by Edwards on Tuesday night!

Edwards died last evening, and Coroner Rider summoned a jury.

Jottings.

The "Old Folk's concert" this evening at the Universalist church, to be given by the teachers of the Sabbath School, assisted by some of the musical talent of the city, will consist of sacred choruses and secular music. Some of the quaint costumes to be worn have a historic interest of no mean value. Admission twenty cents.

Miss Jennie M. Franklin, who has resigned her position as teacher of music in our public schools, will we hear spend a part of the Winter at Washington. Her many friends in this city will regret her departure.

Profs. Cadwell and Carpenter commence this evening at Franklin Hall a series of amusing entertainments, which are highly entertaining and afford profound study for the philosophically inclined. Messrs. Carpenter and Cadwell are said to be the greatest mesmerists living, and their success was so great at Great Falls that they remained eight evenings. Tickets of admission, twenty-five cents. Reserved seats ten cents extra.

President John Wooldredge of the Eastern Railroad has resigned, and Gen. S. C. Lawrence is President pro tem.

It appears from Treasurer New's statement, that the net revenue of the United States for the year ending June 30, 1875, was between thirteen and fourteen millions. This sum has been applied to the reduction of the public debt, which has been further reduced by retiring six or seven millions of currency.

The contract for building the fence on Richards Avenue—about four thousand feet—has been awarded to Messrs. James Hall and Supply Trefethen for 22 3-4 cents per foot. The highest bid was about 37 1-2 cents per foot.

—It is right to put the dish of beans and the pan of brown bread into the oven Saturday night, and to let them finish their baking Sunday morning, in time for breakfast. Is it, then, or is it not, equally right for one man, a baker, to undertake to do all that same Sunday morning, cooking for fifty or a thousand families in his neighborhood, they to send to his shop in due season for their brown bread and baked beans! And would it, or would it not, be right for a family living in a city, to close up the domestic kitchen on the Sabbath, and step out to the restaurant around the corner for their meals that day? Again, no one questions the propriety of a Sabbath conversation on Sabbath themes between two relatives or friends. Is it, then, or is it not, proper to write on that day on such themes to a relative or friend who may be far away? And if it be right to write such a letter, but wrong to post it, how does it become less wrong to post any letter on Saturday night, when its destination and route are such that it must help to swell a Sunday mail? Few of the many people who would never read a Sunday morning newspaper do not hesitate to read a Monday morning newspaper. Yet if Sabbath labor be the influencing consideration, why should the latter be allowed and the former forbidden? Many people use the horse cars on the Sabbath without a scruple, who would feel it very wrong to use the steam cars. Yet is it not probable that the latter would make in proportion less work for man and beast than the former? It is right, we will suppose, to ride in your own carriage one mile to church on the Lord's day. Is it right to ride two miles? Five? Ten? And if not? why not?—The Congregationalist.

—A Detroit boy surprised his father by asking:

"Father, do you like mother?"

"Why, yes, of course."

"And she likes you?"

"Of course she does."

"Did she ever say so?"

"Many a time, my son."

"Did she marry you because she loved you?"

"Certainly, she did."

The boy looked the old man over and after a long pause asked:

"Well, was she as near-sighted then as she is now?"

—Out in Uniontown, Ky., the practice of matching pennies, throwing dice, and playing cards for drinks has given way to the system of feeling the noses of the sufferers, the one who has the coldest having to treat the party.

—"Now," said Secretary Chandler, going into the Interior Department, "here is an item charging the Fort Dick Agency with two barrels of gin and four loaves of bread. What's the use of four loaves of bread?"

—By putting Sam Cary on their ticket the Courier-Journal thinks that the Ohio democrats committed hari-Cary.

A Visit.

[New Orleans Times.]

There was a quiet yet determined look in his eye that told plainly of a deep, settled resolve. The hurried smile that once in a while rippled along beneath his ferocious mustache could not be mistaken for the genuine, for the flash of his eye stood out a flat contradiction to such an inference. He had come in, he said, for the purpose of fighting somebody, and he proposed to commence with Joe, the modest young gent. who is the busy attendant of the office, but he considered him hardly a fit opponent. He had just been married, and owing to some unforeseen circumstance the notice of the marriage was placed under the head of deaths; hence his anger.

As good luck would have it everybody was out, and he stalked down stairs muttering objurgations, and peace reigned; but a small negro boy who happened to meet the gentleman, received a sly tap on the head as a gentle reminder that his connection with journalism did not excuse him from its penalties and pains. The man is wandering around loose, and the prospects are that before night he will be locked up. Newly married men ought not to read the papers if they feel sore upon such a mere matter of mistake.

TO THE JUDGE OF PROBATE FOR THE COUNTY OF ROCKINGHAM:

The undersigned, who has been appointed by the Judge of Probate for said County a trustee under the will of MARY JEWETT, late of Derry, in said County, deceased, respectfully represents that the sale of the following real estate situated in said Derry bounded as follows to wit: Parcel 1st. South by the highway leading from Derry Village to Manchester, East by land of Geo. W. Dickey, North by land of Capt D. Brown, and West by land of said Dickey, containing thirty acres and fifty square rods, more or less; Parcel 2d, bounded South by land of one Baker, East by land of Geo. W. Dickey, North by said highway and land of said Dickey, and West by land of said Dickey, containing sixteen acres and forty-six rods more or less; parcel 3d, bounded by aforesaid highway, East by land of said Dickey and said Brown, North by the highway leading from Chester to Auburn, West by a certain highway leading by the dwelling-house of William Clark to the first aforesaid highway, containing forty-eight acres and forty-six and one-half rods more or less; parcel 4th, bounded N-E-ly by said highway leading from Derry to Manchester, West by land of George Choate, South by land of one Menter, East by land of said Dickey, containing twenty three acres and one hundred and four rods more or less; which estate included in said trust, will be most for the interest of all persons concerned therein. Wherefore he prays that a license to sell said property and direct deeds as to the time and manner of said sale and the investment and disposition of the proceeds thereof

Dated at Derry in said County of Rockingham this 24th day of October in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and seventy five.

FRANCIS E. JEWETT.

ROCKINGHAM, SS.—Probate Office at Exeter in said County, on the 18th day of October A. D. 1875.

Upon the foregoing Petition it is ordered that a hearing be had thereon at a Court of Probate to be holden at Exeter in said County, on the Wednesday next following the second Tuesday of November next, at ten o'clock A. M.; and that the Petitioner notify all persons concerned or interested therein to appear at said Court and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said Petition should not be granted, by causing said Petition and this order to be republished three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least one week prior to said Court.

One Box Dr. Quain's Condition Pills "Nearly Cured Where All Else Failed."

LOWELL, MASS, July 20th, 1874.

T. W. LANE:—I have used one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, am glad to state in my case they have proved all that you claim for them. I have been troubled with Bad Blood and all its consequent diseases, and have tried several Bitters or Bitters and Pills without receiving much benefit, until I tried the CONDITION PILLS, and they have nearly cured where all else failed. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Testimony of a Clergyman---Liver and Kidney Troubles.

EAST TILTON, N. H., April 14, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are not only the best, but the very best I ever used. My wife has been troubled with Kidney Complaint many years; one half of a package has cured her, so that she feels as well as ever. I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years; one-half of a package has done me more good than all the Pills I ever took. One of my neighbors took them, who has been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years; three Pills have helped him. Your Pills, where used, commend their virtues. Please send to my address one package.

Fever and Ague.

NEW BOSTON, N. H., Feb. 1, 1875.

T. W. LANE.—Dear Sir—Last month I sent to you for a package of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS. I had tried five so-called ague cures, and I received more benefit from five of your pills than from all the "Cures" "Cholagogues," &c., that I had taken in the previous 20 years. I cannot recommend it too highly for diseases resulting from long standing Fever and Ague.

THOS. W. LANE:—After taking three packages of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I am prepared to say they are the very best, for I have tried a great many kinds, and faithfully too, believing they would help me, to no effect—These I do believe are the very best ever made; just the kind a man needs. May they be spread all over the wide world, and Dr. Quain's name a household word.

Yours truly,

ASA STICKNEY.

Felt Better, Stronger and Gained Flesh in One Week,

AFTER TAKING DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS.

ROLLINSFORD, N. H.

THOS. W. LANE:—I commenced to take DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and in one week I was heavier, felt better, and was stronger than before, and any one troubled with BAD BLOOD can find sure remedy in these Pills.

Nov. 5, 1874. L. M. YEATON.

CHESTER, N. H., Feb. 24, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been out of health for some time, and I took a very bad cold and it left my lungs in a very weak state. I received Dr. Quain's Condition Pills and took them according to the directions, and my lungs are some better. I can recommend them to any one who is troubled with weak lungs, for they have done me good, and I think another package will cure me. Dr. Quain's Pills ought to be known throughout the world. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, &c., CYRUS LANE.

HILLSBOROBRIDGE, Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—Dr. Quain's Condition Pills are the best I ever used for lameness and pain. The first dose I took removed the pain and lameness that have been troubling me for several years. Before I have used quite a number of the pills besides myself. Please send another package by return of mail. MRS. DANIEL KIMBALL.

GILMANTON I. W., N. H., Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been taking Dr. Quain's Condition Pills, and they are working me so far ahead of common pills for constipation of the bowels; they do not have the debilitating effect of common purgatives I have taken.

MRS. J. B. GOODWIN.

NORTHWOOD CENTRE, March 1, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I saw Dr. Quain's Condition Pills highly recommended, sent for a package, and I feel that they have done more for me than all the medicine I have taken for years, and can freely recommend them to others, as a valuable medicine. Please send me another package as soon as possible.

MARTHA NORCROSS.

BRISTOL, N. H., Feb. 27, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have made a fair trial of those Condition Pills, and liked them very much. I think they are all they are recommended. They are a good Liver invigorator.

N. F. DANFORTH.

SALEM DEPOT, N. H., March 8, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I think those pills (Dr. Quain's Condition Pills) are all they claim to be; my wife and I are both victims of Liver and Kidney Complaint, and both have debility. We have taken about half that package you sent me, and find a marked improvement in our health. I want four packages to give away in the north part of Salem, so send me up there. I enclose $2.00, and if you can, send me four Packages. ROYAL SCOTT.

SOUTH PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., March 11, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have given Dr. Quain's Condition Pills a trial, and find I can honestly recommend them, they have relieved me of constant soreness and lameness with which I have been afflicted since getting upon my feet after the Paralysis of left side that I suffered in February. I desire you to send me another package as soon as convenient, as I am anxious to continue their use. Though not now a resident of New York, I have lived in Central Vermont more than fifty years, and trust Dr. Quain's Pills will not long be new in that section. MOSES SHELDON.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have been troubled with Biliousness, Headache, and Dizziness, for a long time, and had the Dyspepsia so bad there was but few kinds of food my stomach would bear at all. I commenced taking your pills, have taken most of one package, and now enjoy eating as well as I ever did, am not troubled with dizziness unless by taking cold, and have been greatly benefited by the use of them. A. L. PAGE.

FRANCESTOWN, March 13, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have found Dr. Quain's Condition Pills to be all you claim for them in Kidney Complaint, poor blood, and weak nerves. May they be circulated over the land and found in every household where medicine is needed. I enclose 50 cts. for another package as soon as convenient.

JOHN T. FELCH.

Better Health than for 10 Years.

CHESTER, N. H., Oct. 17, 1874.

MR. LANE:—I have taken one package of Condition Pills; find them in my case all they are recommended. I have not enjoyed so good health for the last ten years as I have since I commenced taking the Condition Pills. Shall be happy to recommend them to others. WILLIAM H. FELLOWS.

☞ DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are sold by the Agent of the American Medicine Co. A package will be forwarded upon receipt of fifty cents, by THOMAS W. LANE, agent, Manchester, N. H.

For the convenience of the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity an agency for the sale of Dr. QUAIN'S PILLS has been established at the N. E. P. Union Store, Market Street.

RE-OPENING OF THE

BAY STATE HOUSE,

ON THE European and American Plan.

The Bay State House, situated on Hanover street, Boston, less than ten minutes' ride from the Northern and Eastern Depots, having undergone thorough and extensive repairs, with the addition of a new and spacious dining-room, a fine Billiard Hall, and several suites of private parlors, together with new furniture and carpets, and the introduction of all the appliances of a first-class hotel, making it one of the finest houses in Boston, was OPENED OCTOBER 1ST, 1875, under the management of FRANK S. BROCKWAY, long known in Boston and elsewhere, as an accomplished and successful landlord. None but good servants will be employed, and no pains spared for the comfort of guests.

Horse cars pass the house every few minutes to various parts of the city, and near all places of amusement.

Coaches will be at the depots and boats to convey passengers to the house.

Terms $1.50 to $2 per day, including rooms.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms. Also, diligent researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are hereby saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.'

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as I feel they may be sure of the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges.

JOHN TAGGART."

Boston, Jan. 1, 1875. 1y

SCRIBNERS' MONTHLY for 1876.

The publishers invite attention to the following list of some of the attractions for serial and short stories, they will be given in the year. In the field of fiction, besides numerous novelettes and shorter stories, there will be

TWO REMARKABLE SERIAL STORIES,

By American Authors.

The first of these, now complete in our hands,

"GABRIEL CONROY,"

By BRET HARTE,

Begins in the November number,

and will run for twelve months. This is Mr. Harte's first extended work. The scenes and characters, which the author has chosen from his favorite field, afford a rare opportunity with characteristic vividness and power, and the work is without doubt the most graphic record of California life that has yet appeared.

We shall also begin in the January number,

"PHILIP NOLAN'S FRIENDS,

OR, SHOW YOUR PASSPORTS,"

By EDWARD EVERETT HALE.

The scene of this story is laid in the Southwestern territory, now forming the States of Louisiana and Texas, at the time of Aaron Burr's treason. The characters live in a section which was then American French, and now Spanish, and this record of their adventurous lives makes a story of intense and unflagging interest throughout.

A SECOND "FARMER'S VACATION,"

By Col. GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

Col. Waring is now in Europe, visiting, in a row boat ride of a hundred and odd miles, some of the most fertile and interestidg of the vine growing valleys of Europe. This second series of papers promises to be even more interesting than that with which our readers are already familiar.

CENTENNIAL LETTERS,

Edited by John Vance Cheney.

A rare collection of Revolutionary Letters, mainly from and to men in the hands of the descendants of Col. Joseph Ward. They are full of interest, and will be read with a rare relish in connection with the Centennial celebration of the year.

BRILLIANTLY ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES ON

AMERICAN COLLEGES,

Written respectively by their friends, will appear during the year. The revived interest in college life makes these papers especially timely, and will secure for them unusual attention.

OLD NEW YORK.

Elegantly illustrated articles on Old New-York, by John W. Mason, will appear at once, and will attract the attention of all, in city or country, who mark with interest the development of the great metropolis, and affectionately remember the quaint peculiarities of its olden time.

Every number is profusely illustrated, thus enabling us to give to our descriptive and narrative articles, an interest and permanent value never attained in a non illustrated periodical. Under its accustomed management the magazine will in the future be devoted, as it has been in the past, to sound literature and Christian progress.

The Editorial Departments occupy over twenty pages of each number and contain Dr. Holland's vigorous and timely editorials, as well as Reviews of the latest works in Art, Literature, and Science.

TERMS:

$4.00 A YEAR, in advance; 35 cents a Number. The 10 vols, complete, Nov. 1870, to Oct. 1875, bound in maroon cloth.....$50.00
do. do. bound in half morocco, 80.00

Vols. begin in November and May. Any of the earlier volumes (I to VIII) will be supplied separately to parties who wish them to complete sets at this rate, i. e., cloth, $4.00; half morocco, $6.00.

Booksellers and Postmasters will be supplied at rates that will enable them to fill any of the above offers.

Subscribers will please remit in P. O. Money Orders, or in Bank Checks or Drafts, or by registered letters. Money in letters not registered, at sender's risk.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LOCAL AGENTS

WANTED.

An Agent Wanted for Each Town and County in the United States.

Parties desiring to act as agents must accompany their application by a letter of recommendation as to character and responsibility from and signed by the Editor of a newspaper published in the town or county for which the agent proposes to act The Agency is to sell the bonds of the Industrial Exhibition Company.

BONDS, $20 EACH.
HALF BONDS, $10 EACH.
QUARTER BONDS, $5 EACH.

The Industrial Exhibition Company will furnish agents with circulars, etc., etc.

Each newspaper published in the town where an agent is located will, as soon as the agency is established, be given an advertisement, advertising such agency and the Company, and fully explaining the plans, purposes and objects of the Company. Such advertisement will continue in such papers as long as an agency is successfully conducted.

The Industrial Exhibition Company is the first to adopt the plan so long in use by the European governments of issuing bonds when the principal is made secure and not risked, but where there is a chance for a large premium, an investment of $20 is sure to receive a premium, and the chances are more than cost—and the holder of a $20 Bond may obtain a premium either of $50, $100, $200, $500, $1,000, $2,500, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000 or $100,000. The interest, which is ordinarily distributed to all the bond holders pro rata, is in this loan distributed by chance. The purchaser of a bond knows he will receive back his investment, with a small rate of interest, he has a chance in the above named premiums, which are simply the distribution of interest on the whole loan.

Each bond participates in four drawings each year, until it has drawn a premium, when it is surrendered, the premium paid, and the bond cancelled.

The Industrial Exhibition Company, under a special charter granted by the State of New York, is given authority to advertise these bonds. The Legislature of the State, recognizing the great benefits which will arise from the success of this enterprise, have exempted all the real estate and property of the Company from taxation and assessments for five years, and has also conferred other great privileges.

Every American who understands the purposes of this Company will, of necessity, feel a pride in aiding it to a successful termination.

Each individual who buys a bond becomes an owner and an interested party, and when he views the structure erected with his money can say, "I aided to erect to our country these magnificent building the world has ever seen, a palace which, in truth, represents the industry, energy and mechanical genius of the American people."

The manufacturers and the inventors of America are peculiarly interested in the success of this enterprise, for the reason that it is to be their home, where all their inventions and manufactures can be exhibited and sold.

The building will contain 5,320,000 square feet of space.

Purchasers desiring Bonds before an agency is established where they reside, will communicate direct with this office, from where they can be supplied.

Parties desiring to act as agents or to purchase bonds will address

$100,000

GIVEN AWAY!

The Union Pocket Book Co.

having secured by cash purchase the entire bankrupt stock of Messrs H. Morioud & Co., consisting of

400,000 Portmonies,

(POCKET BOOKS,)

of the best manufacture and superb quality, each pocket book being made of Real Morocco Leather; to effect a speedy clearance sale and having in view the old motto of the house, Certain Profits with Quick Returns, the company have decided on giving each individual purchaser the full benefit of this remunerative bargain by giving away One Hundred Thousand Dollars, in

2818 MONEY PRIZES!

THE FIRST PRIZE BEING		$20,000	CASH.
" SECOND	"	$10,000	"
" THIRD	"	$5,000	"

and 2815 other money prizes as follows, viz.:

25	PRIZES OF	$1000	CASH,	EACH.
40	"	500	"	"
60	"	100	"	"
100	"	50	"	"
200	"	20	"	"
400	"	10	"	"
2000	"	1	"	"

The above prizes with the cost of advertising and other incidental expenses, giving the purchasers two-thirds of the profit, will accrue on the entire sale, not to exceed one dollar on an equal share in the profits, with the certainty of receiving treble the value for their small investment and the further opportunity of surely gaining a share in the distribution of $100,000, and this too by the riskless outlay of $1 only.

The Union Pocket Book Co. will deliver free to any address on receipt of One Dollar, a GENUINE MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK, together with a COUPON TICKET,

entitling and giving the holder a share in the drawing of 2818 CASH PRIZES, of the aggregate value of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS CURRENCY. The Company guarantee to return to each purchaser at least treble the value for his money.

How can this be accomplished? is a question many will doubtless ask themselves, and foreseeing this we offer the following lucid explanation.

The Trade as is agree, anxious to dispose of and realize on the entire stock of the bankrupts in one sale, accepted our offer of $.00,000 cash for the lot; after advertising same for sale for one month, and not receiving a single offer, which in the present depression of business and almost total a stagnation of trade is not to be wondered at; notwithstanding that our offer was one third less than the actual cost of the manufacture of the Pocket Books. The assignees having in charge the estate, the effects of the bankrupts, in the interests of the creditors he had no alternative but to accept this offer and sell as the lot as one single piece. The company realizing up to distribute in prizes $100,000 amongst the purchasers, and at the same time retain a fair marginal profit for ourselves; thus you obtain fully double the value of the amount you forward us and it depends on your luck what amount you gain of the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Money Prizes.

THE SALE WILL POSITIVELY CLOSE ON

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1875,

and orders for pocket books should therefore be forwarded to us at once so application by letter after Saturday, November 20th, can be entertained.

1000 of the Pocket Books are of the patented manufacture, superior in value to the remainder, the retail price of the same being $8, and these will be forwarded to early purchasers until disposed of.

Therefore those who send immediate orders will reap the advantage of receiving a superior article.

Remittances can be sent us either for one or any number of pocket books by draft, post office orders, or greenbacks by registered letter, at our risk.

Post Office orders and drafts to be made payable in favor of Frank Stewart, the Company's Manager; Post Office orders can be drawn on General Post Office, Philadelphia, and drafts on the First National Bank.

The Drawing of Prizes will take place at the Company's Principal Office, 630 Locust Street, Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, on

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 24,1875

and the winning numbers will be advertised in this Journal and the principal Philadelphia and New York newspapers of Saturday, November 27th.

The Prizes will be forwarded in drafts, greenbacks or by post office order per registered letter by Monday's morning mail, November 29th, or if preferred prizes can be sent by express, or in any other manner purchasers may select, providing same be signified by them when forwarding orders for pocket books.

THE STATESMAN AND HEIRESS.

William L. Marcy was called to the bar in October, 1811. Acting under the advice of friends, he opened an office in Troy, N. Y., and commenced the practice of his profession. He was surrounded by experienced and gifted lawyers who controlled the honors and emoluments of their profession. Young Marcy, deficient in those brilliant and ready talents so attractive to the public, though possessing erudition and strong intellectual powers, did not at first meet with professional success, but, taking an appeal to the future, he patiently awaited the developments of time. With great labor and perseverance he perfected himself in these old acquirements, which subsequently rendered him conspicuous before the world as a lawyer, judge, diplomatist and statesman.

Among the characteristics that distinguished the early days of Mr. Marcy's professional life was carelessness in regard to dress. Though he was not, like Martin Grover, accustomed to appear in dilapidated attire, still he held fashion and her votaries in contempt. His boots were often left for weeks without polish, and his hair, to say the least, never appeared in Hyperion curls, and withal, by casual acquaintances he was regarded as a very dull and inactive young man. But his personal appearance was in his favor. He wrs slightly above the ordinary height, "stout and masculine, but not gross; his forehead bold and full, his eyebrows heavy, his eyes deep and expressive, his mouth and chin firmly moulded; his manners were affable and courteous, free from pretence, yet dignified." He was easy, pleasing and graceful in conversation. In really refined and cultivated circles young Marcy, notwithstanding his indifferent attire, was a favorite, though coxcombs attempted to make him the subject of raillery.

His office was in a small one-story building, surrounded by a railing or veranda. Directly opposite his office there was a fashionable female seminary. In pleasant weather he would seat himself on the veranda, with his feet elevated on the top of it, and in this position watch the gambols of the young ladies on the play-ground of the school or engage in pursuing his favorite studies. His unpolished boots thus conspicuously exhibited, were often the subject of merriment among the fair students. Though young Marcy was wanting in those external qualities constituting what is called "a ladies' man," his society was by no means distasteful to the fair sex, especially to those who had the penetration to understand the real beauties of his character and to appreciate his abilities. Among the more advanced pupils of the seminary was a Miss Dubois, a young lady from Springfield, Mass., an heiress and very beautiful. Marcy had frequently met her at the residence of a lady in Troy. For some time a respectful friendship existed between her and the young lawyer. She was pleased with the graces of his mind, the variety and extent of his knowledge, the superiority of his intellect. There was a charm in his conversation which unconsciously revealed the mental resources of the future statesman, stimulating intelligence in others. Miss Dubois possessed that charming versatility that belongs of right to woman—the faculty of suiting her fine intellect to all whom it encountered—of so tempering her subtle wit with feminine grace as to exempt her from enmity or malice, and that pride which is the necessary result of superiority she wore easily and gracefully. They were those elements in the friendship between young Marcy and Miss Dubois which naturally ripen into deep attachment and ardent love; yet, singular as it may appear, there was no affair of the heart blended with it. But those who were aware of their intimacy, not understanding its nature, naturally put another construction upon it, and a report reached the ears of the faculty of the seminary that Marcy was an accepted suitor of Miss Dubois. The rule of the institution strictly forbade the young ladies from receiving any attention from gentlemen; and the parents of the lady had strongly enjoined upon the faculty the enforcement of this rule in regard to their daugater. Therefore the report of her relations with the young lawyer caused an unpleasant sensation in the seminary, and Miss Dubois was strictly forbidden to have any further association with Marcy. The report even reached her father, who hastened to Troy, determined to remove his daughter from the seminary. But her explanation of the matter was sufficient, and he returned home satisfied that all reports concerning the name of his daughter with Mr. Marcy were groundless.

A few weeks after her father's visit, Miss Dubois obtained permission to visit Albany with some friends. Some time after her departure it occurred to one of the pupils of the seminary who had interested herself in the affair of Miss Dubois and Mr. Marcy, to quite an extent, that, although the day was delightful, the young lawyer had not been seen in his accustomed place on the veranda of his office. On making proper inquiry she learned that he had not been there at all that day. This aroused her curiosity and excited her suspicions, leading her to make further inquiry, and she was informed that he accompanied Miss Dubois to Albany. Without further consideration she believed that an elopement had taken place, and immediately informed the faculty that young Marcy and Miss Dubois had fled to Albany for the purpose of being clandestinely married. This aroused them to the highest pitch of excitement. The rumor ran like wildfire through the institution, reaching the city in a short space of time. There was a strange hurrying "to and fro" in the seminary—consternation was everywhere mingled with the silent mirth which the affair had created among many of the young ladies who really enjoyed the scene. Cupid had slyly found a lodgment within those walls dedicated to science and study, though all thought the little winged god was sternly forbidden there—to many known only in the beautiful dreams of girlhood. Yet he had actually been a sojourner in that temple of science. One of its fairest inmates had yielded to his witchery—had fled to his enchanted bower. Fearing that the wrath and influence of the young lady's father and her other friends would be turned against the institution, and dreading the odium which an elopement would bring upon it, an immediate pursuit was decided upon. The sheriff of the county, with a posse comitatus, was sent in pursuit and proceeded with hot haste to Albany. Learning that the lady was at one of the principal hotels in the city he rushed thither, eager to forbid the bans before it was too late. Sans ceremony he rushed in to the ladies' parlor. Miss Dubois was there enjoying herself with her friends, but, to the astonishment of the sheriff, young Marcy was not present. The officer had entered the room sternly determined on breaking the chains that love had forged with the strong arm of the law. He had anticipated tears, cries, and shrieks from the lady, mingled with deep curses from the lover; but no ardent lover was there—no priest about to pronounce the solemn but happy union could be seen.

The lady and her friends, taken by surprise at the sudden entrance of the sheriff and his assistants, started to their feet in alarm. One of the ladies present summoned courage enough to demand of the officer what he meant by his intrusion. Confused and embarrassed by the awkward position he found himself in, he said:

"We—we—have—that is—we want to find Lawyer Marcy and Miss Dubois. We are told——"

"I am Miss Dubois, sir. As for Mr. Marcy, I have not seen him to-day. What do you mean, sir?"

"Why, the people at the seminary said that you and he had gone off together to—to get married, and— "

"And so they sent you in pursuit of us, I suppose? You will not arrest me on mere suspicion, will you?"

"We had to obey orders, madam. I have a warrant against Mr. Marcy for abduction—that is carrying you off—for they made that out before the justice," said the officer.

The deep, clear, silvery laugh of Miss Dubois, in which her companions joined, rang through the room at this announcement, while the sheriff and his assistants finding themselves "sold," as the saying is, retired, greatly chagrined at their singular adventure. It happened that shortly after Miss Dubois and her friends left Troy, Mr. Marcy, having business in Albany, proceeded to the city alone by stage. Having transacted his business he returned home alone, as he came, to the surprise of the citizens and his friends who verily believed he had eloped with the pretty heiress. His own astonishment was unbounded when informed of the commotion and excitement he had unconsciously caused—at the seminary, when he learned that during the day it was believed throughout the city that he had absconded, with a clandestine marriage in view; that for the time being he had abandoned the law for Gretna Green. Nothing could exceed the mortification at the seminary at the useless and ludicrous excitement they had produced. For a long time this elopement made much merriment to all circles, both at Troy and Albany. None, however, enjoyed the joke with a keener relish than Marcy and his fair friend.

At length she graduated and returned to her friends, leaving the young lawyer to plod on toward the fame that awaited him. In the course of time Miss Dubois married a highly respectable citizen of Boston, with whom she lived in great happiness and prosperity. With the lapse of time honors accumulated upon William L. Marcy. He was elevated to the bench of the Supreme Court of the State of New York. He occupied the gubernatorial chair, and afterward became a member of the United States Senate, and then Secretary of State in the Cabinet of the President of the United States, gaining honors as Minister of State which few of his predecessors had attained. While a Senator in Congress he attended one of those splendid receptions given by a distinguished official to the heads of departments, Senators, members of Congress, and other eminent persons entitled to an invitation. In the course of the evening a lady, whose beauty, accomplishments, fascinating manners, and reputed wealth attracted much attention in the fashionable circles of Washington, approached Mr. Marcy. She was leaning on the arm of a dignified and courtly gentleman. "Senator," she said with a graceful salutation, "I cannot resist my desire to renew an acquaintance with you, once the source of great pleasure and profit to me. Do you not recognize in me an old friend?"

"Certainly I do. You are, or rather were, Miss Dubois. I am delighted to meet you again; nothing could give me greater pleasure," said Mr. Marcy, after a moment's hesitation.

"Permit me to introduce to you my husband, Mr. D——, of Boston," said the lady. "Mr. D——," she continued, "this is the Hon. William L. Marcy, whom you know so well by reputation. He is an old friend of mine. I once eloped with him; but I trust you will forgive him; as you have me, for it was only an indiscretion of our youth."

"Such elopements are easily forgotten, Senator," said Mr. D——, "especially since the one Mrs. D—— alludes to has afforded us a fund of amusement from our first acquaintance."

"It was so well managed that neither of us knew anything about it until it was all over," said Marcy.

The story of the elopement soon found its way into Washington society, where it was the subject of much merriment.

"Marcy," said President Jackson, at one of his receptions, at which Mrs. D—— and her husband were present; "Marcy, by the Eternal, if I had been in your place I should have given full occasion for the report of an elopement with that splendid woman. Why did you not?"

"Because, Mr. President. I have my eyes on a still lovelier woman—the future Mrs. Marcy," was the reply.

"Ah, that was all right; an excellent explanation," said the President.

Daily Chronicle.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1875.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

In accordance with a practice, at once wise and beautiful, we have been accustomed, as the year is drawing to a close, to devote an occasion to the humble expression of our thanks to Almighty God for the ceaseless and distinguished benefits bestowed upon us as a nation, and for His mercies and protection during the closing year. Amid the rich and free enjoyment of all our advantages we should not forget the sources from whence they are derived and the extent of our obligations to the Father of all mercies. We have full reason to renew our thanks to Almighty God for favors bestowed upon us during the past year.

By His continuing mercy, civil and religious liberty have been maintained; peace has reigned within our borders; labor and enterprise have produced their merited rewards, and to his watchful providence we are indebted to security from pestilence and other National calamity. Apart from National blessings, each individual among us has occasion to thoughtfully recall and devoutly recognize the favors and protection which he has enjoyed. Now, therefore, I, Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States, do recommend that on Thursday, the 25th day of November, the people of the United States, abstaining from all secular pursuits and from their accustomed avocations, do assemble in their respective places of worship, and, in such form as may seem most appropriate in their own hearts, offer to Almighty God their acknowledgments and thanks for all His mercies and their humble prayers for a continuance of His Divine favor. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this 27th day of October, in the year of our Lord 1875 and of the Independence of the United States the 100th.

(Signed) U. S. GRANT.

By the President:
HAMILTON FISH, Secretary of State.

The Pembroke Murderer.

The evidence against La Page is "tightening up." One of the detective officers states that they have evidence which positively locates him in or very near the spot where the murder was committed within ten minutes of the time Josie Langmaid was last seen alive, and that the evidence in general against him is ample to secure an indictment at once.

A tramp who gave his name as John Peters, has been arrested in Bethlehem, on suspicion that he was implicated in the Pembroke tragedy. He wore gaiters when first seen, but afterward got rid of them. In giving his whereabouts for the past few weeks he spoke of being in Pembroke, and his stories were somewhat contradictory. The man was very well dressed for a tramp, but spoke poor English. He claims to be a Frenchman, but not a Canadian. He will be disposed of for the present according to the provisions of the tramp law.

The Attorney-General expresses himself as greatly surprised at the strength and clearness of the chain which has been woven around La Page, whom he regards from the evidence to be guilty of the crime without hardly the shadow of a doubt. It is understood that the detectives are in possession of certain facts bearing upon La Page's guilt, which they have thus far withheld from the public, which are of the most damaging character against the accused.

News and Notes.

Carry Massachusetts? Of course the republicans will carry Massachusetts, and by a handsome majority, too. We would as soon expect the sun to freeze the life out of all humanity as to contemplate with any degree of apprehension the possibility of the most intelligent commonwealth in the Union encouraging by the choice of a democratic Governor a party which justified secession and rebellion, apologized for slavery, and would now boldly advocate inflation and repudiation if it dared. Starvation even, would not eliminate from the democratic party its disposition to do evil, when success has given it confidence.

Charlie Young, Manchester's lost boy, has been found in New York, where he had gone to visit relatives.

A friend at Federal Point, Florida, writes that the article we copied from the New York Com. Adv. about the rainy season in Florida is untrue. The rains are not regular, "as any navigator will say that Florida lies in the 'uncertain latitude.'" He says "it may rain, and it may not, any season. The advantages offered are sufficient to induce emigration without a resort to exaggeration or falsehood. I saw a paragraph in the Boston Journal that 'bananas will grow in Florida without cultivation.' It seems to me that any person possessed of common sense should know better than that. The banana is a rank grower and requires rich soil and proper cultivation in order to amount to anything. No man can live here in idleness, but most assuredly, energy and industry will ensure success, and are as desirable qualities as in any other country."

John Dolan was convicted of the murder of James H. Noe in New York, after the jury had retired fifteen minutes. Dolan hangs Dec. 10th.

The following prisoners, sentenced by the Circuit Court for Cheshire county, in session at Keene, Judge Ladd presiding, have been committed to prison: Edward N. Sumner, of Stoddard, for breaking into the store of James S. Butler, of Stoddard, two and a half years; Edward B. Perry, of Stoddard, same offence, fifteen months; George C. Briggs, of Winchester, breaking and entering dwelling-house of James G. Burnap, in Winchester, three years; Edward James, of Keene, for breaking and entering house of Kate E. Allen, of Keene, three years; Lewis Lawlor, of Boston, for stealing goods from Francis E. Allen, of Keene, four years. The following prisoners were committed from the Circuit Court, for Carroll county, at Ossipee, Judge Rand presiding: Patrick Mullins, of Ossipee, breaking and entering the office of J. Dewitt Carter, of Ossipee, six years; John S. Foss, of Fryeburg, Me., highway robbery in Conway, ten years. The State Prison is now filled to its full capacity, it being necessary to use the hospital and to set up beds in the halls for the accommodation of prisoners.

A telegram from Key West announces that C. M. Cespedes, the Cuban republican candidate for Mayor, is elected.

Gen. Garfield's promise that an early effort shall be made in the next Congress to repeal the act which imposes a heavy postage on newspapers, is timely. His explanation as to the passage of the act—that it was due to a misapprehension of its effect—is probably correct.

Why are the democratic speakers so shy of Pennsylvania? Gov. Hendricks made one speech and started immediately home again.

Out at Bartlett, in this county, they have inflated the currency extensively during the past few months. They did it by growing and shipping apples, peaches, pears, grapes, and early vegetables. Produce something wanted by the markets, and the currency will come for it.—Memphis Avalanche.

John Underhill's shoe manufactory, at Chester Corner, has shut down, throwing many people out of employment.

In connection with the fact that an election for members to a convention to form a Constitution and State Government has just taken place in Colorado, it may not be generally known that such a Constitution as may be adopted by the people at an election in July next is to be only certified to the President of the United States, whereupon it is made his duty by law to issue his proclamation declaring the State admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original States without any further action whatever on the part of Congress. Accordingly Colorado will take part in the Presidential election and have three electoral votes.

Mark the contrast—forty years ago yesterday a mob was trying to hang a man in the streets of Boston because he was a friend of the "—— nigger." Yesterday morning a gang of forty odd men were at work in the streets of Boston with a "—— nigger" for a boss. Such is life.—Boston Herald.

R. M. Pulsifer, of the Boston Herald, has declined the use of his name for Mayor of Newton, on the ground that it appears that he can be of better service to the city in his present capacity of chairman of the board of water commissioners. The Newton Journal says that "many will regret this determination on the part of Mr. Pulsifer, for there is no doubt that in business qualifications, as well as in all other respects, he is well fitted for the position."

Policeman Davis, in compliance to an order from the County Solicitor in Great Falls, has returned the liquors he had seized from the dealers during the past Summer.

A. C. Couch, who is engaged in mining operations at Strafford, says he has lighted on a field through which run half a dozen parallel veins of gold-bearing quartz of various richness, some of it yielding gold and silver worth $18 at the surface.

Kensington folks like to get a stranger cornered, and when broaching the subject of the health of the town, to casually remark that John Callamore of that place died in 1826 at the age of 110 years and 4 months.

A man named Clair, from Berlin, had his leg broken at Gorham recently, by the giving away of some temporary seats in the Gorham hall, built to accommodate visitors to a minstrel company while exhibiting there. A large number of others narrowly escaped injury.

The first ordained pastor that preached in the town of Eppiug, was Rev. Robert Cutler, he presiding over the Congregational Society, which was established in the year 1747.

We very much doubt if the debtor class actually comprises over a fourth of the people, and if we should wait for resumption a hundred years it would be quite as large as now, for the very reason that the debtor and creditor classes exist by virtue of the ability of one class to lend and the desire of another class to borrow. Borrowers and lenders have existed in all ages, and they will continue to exist so long as human nature remains the covetous thing it is.—Nashua Telegraph.

The bottom has fallen out of the Sandwich poisoning case, the grand jury declining to indict Veranus D. York.

The Jackson, Miss., Times says: "The loss of cotton this year, for want of picking, is estimated at $5,000,000 in gold." The advantage gained by driving colored laborers from the fields with shot-guns will hardly overbalance such a loss.

There is no mortgage upon the Eastern road. The result is that, in the event of failure to pay its interest, there could be no foreclosure, all creditors coming in on the same basis. The directors authorize a contradiction of the statement that a portion of the sinking fund bonds of the Eastern Railroad was taken by Directors at eighty-five at the time the bonds were selling at ninety. The facts are asserted to be as follows: Certain parties, friends of the road, directors and others, made advances in cash or by endorsement for the company to the amount of $250,000 or $300,000. These parties received common notes of the company as collateral, with the understanding and agreement that they should have the right to take this collateral at the price at which the contemplated issue of sinking fund bonds would be taken. The $200,000 sinking fund loan was placed with Richardson, Hill & Co. at 85, and the parties who advanced the money and endorsed the company's papers availed themselves of the right and took the funds at that price. The whole $200,000 was taken absolutely by Richardson, Hill & Co. The subsequent arrangement of advertising and putting them on the market at 90 was entirely the act of the parties to whom the bonds were sold.

The town of Epping was named after the celebrated "Epping forest" in England.

Dr. Linderman, director of the California Mint, estimates that by the fire at Virginia City, Nevada, the supply of gold bullion will be cut off to the extent of $1,000,000 per month for four months, and the supply of silver bullion will be cut off to the extent of $1,500,000 per month for four months.

MANUFACTORY.
ONLY 4 Rattan Ware Factories in the United States, and one of them has just begun manufacturing in Portsmouth. The furniture made by this firm is made of the very best quality of East India Rattan, and for beauty, attractiveness, ease and durability is more desirable than any other furniture. We claim that the generality of our work is better than can be procured elsewhere in the United States. Few people comparatively have ever seen many pieces of this attractive furniture, and we cordially invite any one to call and examine our work even if they have no idea of purchasing. We warrant every piece of our ware to be as good as can be bought elsewhere and at less price.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TO-DAY.

Fair and Festival—Daughters of Rebecca.

The Mails.

Postmaster Peirce has made arrangements with Thomas P. Cheney, Esq., Superintendent of Mails for New England, to have the morning mail from Boston, New York and the West come over the Boston & Maine Railroad to Newmarket Junction, and thence over the Concord & Portsmouth to this city, thereby securing its distribution forty-five minutes earlier than by the Eastern Railroad arrangement. This change will be a great convenience to the public. He has also arranged for further accommodations for our citizens; and letters mailed at the office in this city previous to 6:45 P. M., daily, for Boston and West, will be sent on the Pullman express leaving here the next morning at 3:57. A letter box is to be placed in the Eastern depot and the mail will be taken therefrom by the postal clerks on all the mail trains.

Train Wreckers.

On hearing of the recent attempt to wreck a freight train at South Seabrook, Superintendent Bachelder engaged two Boston detectives to investigate matters, and as a result of their researches, three young men named Charles L. Knowles, Lewis A. Knowles and William Rowe, residing near Seabrook depot, have been arrested and lodged in Portsmouth jail. It seems that a number of young men have been in the habit of going to Seabrook from East Salisbury on Sunday evenings for two months past, to attend the Advent meetings in the chapel near the depot, propelling themselves on a hand car taken and used regularly without the knowledge of the railroad men.

Owing to attentions paid some of the Seabrook young ladies on these occasions by the visitors, the green-eyed monster took possession of some of the minds of the Seabrookians, who conceived a magnificent plan of revenge. Their indignation reached its culmination when one of their number was called an opprobrious name by the Salisburians, which fired them to immediate action. Going up the road, three-quarters of a mile, they piled one or more sleepers at intervals along the track and waited with a good deal of chuckling for the denouement, which didn't exactly correspond to their calculations. To their astonishment the head-light of a locomotive came in sight before their intended victims put in an appearance, and deeming discretion the better part of valor, the disconcerted avengers retreated to the woods, leaving the engine to sweep off their leavings, and causing the train hands to think an attempt had been made to wreck them. The engineers running on these trains always keep a sharp lookout going through Seabrook, from a fear, fancied or otherwise, that some person in Seabrook is especially inimical to the road and its interests, but the prompt discovery of the motive instigating the actions of the persons arrested, will doubtless allay this feeling.

One of the arrested parties declares that Henry Beckman, who has been confined in Ipswich jail for horse stealing, was the party who placed the sleepers on the track, and the officers will doubtless arrest him as soon as found, said Henry being engaged at present in peddling essences.

"Only a Marine."

The locality where the murderous assault was made on the marine, Edwards, on the night of the 26th, has been notoriously dangerous for years, and one or more policemen should be stationed there at all times of the night. It is the only thoroughfare leading across the river, and has been the scene of many suspicious occurrences and known assaults. Certain young vagabonds who have no visible means of support, who lounge daily and carouse nightly, have made it a very undesirable place to pass, and bred in idleness and wickedness are ready at night-fall to waylay any pedestrian whom they dare attack. The prompt remedy for such assaults is a pistol, which well used in the hands of a citizen would perhaps deprive the thieves and incipient murderers, or some of them, of their security of limb. That such action on the part of a citizen attacked would be commended by the community is no doubt true, but if a marine, half seas over, who may have come across the river to spend a full month's wages in a few hours, (as seems to be customary in many cases) should on being attacked use a weapon in defence and hurt a rascally assailant and even mortally wound him, he would be considered by a large majority of thinking people as being perhaps greatly to blame, being "only a marine."

There is no reason whatever why the sailors and marines who are tempted to spend their earnings in low places in this city should not be protected in life and limb as well as the wealthy merchant who resides in a more quiet neighborhood than the North End, and who should he choose to wend his way to that "classic locality" can fortify himself with a derringer. If schools for the production of criminals are allowed to exist, protection against the results of vicious teachings should be guaranteed, although prevention is vastly better than cure. No city is well governed that does not protect human life, and that life is not sufficiently protected in certain portions of this city is shown by the occasional disappearance of a marine last seen travelling toward home, the mystery of his "taking off" being only partially explained by the discovery of an unknown dead body floating in Great Bay or some cove of the Piscataqua. It is strange that the repetition of unexplained drowning cases has not led to protective measures by the officials of the present and past city governments. The assault on Edwards is a revelation that would have been a mere suspicion had his assailant improved the opportunity of dropping the insensible body overboard for fishes to destroy all evidence of foul play. The authorities have two duties to perform: To discover the guilty party or parties who inflicted the fearful wound on Edwards, and punish them to the full extent of the law; and to take such measures of protection as shall prevent the recurrence of such murderous attacks in the future.

The Nowell Bros.' Concert.

The Nowell Brothers (Portsmouth's pet musical pride) were greeted by a cultivated audience at the concert on Tuesday evening. The entertainments heretofore given by these young artists, in which their own performances upon the violin and piano have been the gems, have always left a pleasant effect upon the listeners, and that of Tuesday evening was a still more delightful treat from the wonderful improvement which these youths exhibited.

Some of the passages from the bow of master Willis were of a very high character and were executed with masterly skill, and we think we have never seen small fingers move more nimbly or effectively than those of Master George on the occasion. The quartette singing of the Swedish troupe was excellent, their voices harmonizing finely.

Miss Wells sang her songs finely, but the selections we thought too sombre by half; indeed, this fault (if it may be so called) prevailed too much in the whole vocal performances. Perhaps there was fun in the quartette singing, concealed under the foreign tongue, but with the exception of an occasional twinkle in the eye of Mr. Nordstrom, the facial expression of the troupe would have suited a funeral occasion as well.

After listening to the beautiful passages from Bellini, so well brought out by the bow of Master Willis, it would have been a pleasant relief to have something light and jolly in its character. A good laugh prepares one for again taking up the strains of deeper feeling in the realm of high art. We have heard much commendation of the entertainment, and hope Miss Wells will appear again before a Portsmouth audience. Her voice and attractive presence will certainly assure a cordial greeting.

Jottings.

The Aldermen re-elected the old board of police, Thursday evening.

Our announcement of the death of Edwards, the marine who was so horribly assaulted, was premature. He was still living last evening.

Rev. E. L. Drown of Lynn officiates at St. Johns Church on Sunday next.

The Portland Press says the Slade Palais Royal Theatre company, advertised for a performance in this city this evening, is a "fraud," the company having become disorganized.

The Concord Railroad has declared a dividend of 5 per cent., payable Nov. 1st.

The famous Hutchinson Family will be in the city on Sunday, and will give a sacred concert, probably at the Temple. Further particulars to-morrow. They sing at Trefethen's Hall, Kittery, Saturday evening.

Carl Schurz' wife returns from Europe in a very critical state of health, and he has cancelled all his engagements for the first half of November.

The Naval Board of Constructors are now inspecting the material at the Norfolk navy yard, having visited the Portsmouth, Charlestown, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and League Island yards. They will close their duties at the Washington yard in a few days. The report of the Board will require some three weeks' further labor. Constructor Philip Hichborn has improved in health during his absence, which is pleasing news to his friends here.

Wards Six and Three must look to their laurels. The town of Perrysburg, Ohio, which in 1870 had a population of 1835, cast at the recent election 1630 votes for Allen and 1376 for Hayes. It is said that every able-bodied man votes four times, and cripples twice each.

Ship Semiramis was sold to Baltimore parties for $12,000.

A meeting of the Portsmouth Washington Total Abstinence Society, and others interested in this cause, will be held at Mr. Craig's office, Saturday evening, 20th inst., at seven o'clock.

The new fence on Richards Avenue is to be made of slats, with caps.

By judgment of the Court of Commissioners of Alabama claims, the sum of $16,480 is awarded to Mrs. Elizabeth Lambert, executrix, formerly of this city.

A skating rink is being constructed on the east side of Richards Avenue from the proceeds of the entertainments projected last Spring by Mrs. J. P. Bartlett.

Cadwell and Carpenter's entertainments at Franklin Hall afford abundant amusement. The subjects mesmerized laugh, dance, sing, make speeches, tend imaginary babies, as natural as life. The mesmeric phenomena contain food for reflective minds, and the automatons amuse old and young alike. See advertisement.

The Circuit Court has adjourned until next Monday at four o'clock, P. M., when the remaining indictments will be announced.

Enfeebling Pursuits.

Nature intended that we should use our legs freely and revenges herself upon those who constantly sit at their daily avocations indoors by depriving them of that robust health which usually falls to the share of those who labor on foot in the open air, and very frequently inflicts upon them diseases and premature infirmities which they might have avoided by a more active life. Persons who become enfeebled in consequence of sedentary habits or occupations cannot do better than to resort to a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a means of recovering lost strength. Nor should they postpone a recourse to this supreme tonic and preventive of physical decay longer than is absolutely necessary, as weakness is too often the precursor of disease. The Bitters are also invaluable as a remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, intermittent fever, urinary and rheumatic complaints.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.

Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers, the voice is changed and has a nasal twang, the breath is offensive, smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, mental depression, hacking cough, and general debility. Only a few of the above-named symptoms are, however, likely to be present in any one case. There is no disease more common than Catarrh, and none less understood by physicians.

DR SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY

is, beyond all comparison, the best preparation for Catarrh ever discovered. Under the influence of its mild, soothing and healing properties, the disease soon yields. The Golden Medical Discovery should be taken to correct the blood, which is always at fault, and to act specifically upon the diseased glands and lining membrane of the nose. The Catarrh Remedy should be applied warm with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche—the only instrument by which fluids can be perfectly injected to all the passages and the chambers of the nose from which discharges proceed.

These medicines are sold by Druggists.

VERY DURABLE AND CHEAP!

Daily Chronicle.

—Smith and Jones were having it out lively at Jones' dinner-table on the Bible in the school question, Smith condemning, Jones defending the action of the Board of Education. "Ah," murmured Jones as a clincher to his argument, "what more peaceful pleasure in life is there for a parent than to hold his sweet boy on his knee and read to him the touching story of Joseph and his brethren. While so engaged a holy calm falls upon the mind fatigued with the mundane toils of the day, and, as the interested and innocent eyes of the child fill with the gentle tears which no salaried schoolmarm could evoke, the days of childhood are —"

Smith felt himself vanquished, begged for a change in the conversation, and shortly left in a muff.

Soon as he had gone, Jones' four-year-older, Tommy, crept to his side and said: "Say, Pops; won't you read me that story about Joe and his bubs that you and Mister Smith was talkin' about?

Jones ordered him to bed immediately, and when Mrs. Jones returned down stairs, said; "Jennie, my dear; I've been a thinking, and I guess if any of them fellers that sells books on instalments come around and you can pick up one of them parlor kind of Bibles right cheap, I guess maybe you'd better make a trade."—Chicago Tribune.

—One passing through Arkansas doesn't see half as many revolvers as he would have noticed two or three years ago. It isn't particularly because everybody is trying to be real good, but more because they have found out that a good shot gun is more to be depended on.

—Fish flour is the latest edible in the market. It is prepared from dried fish thoroughly dessicated, and ground in a mill.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS.

NEW TESTIMONIALS.

FOR

Weak Lungs, Constipation, Lameness, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Paralysis, Poor Blood and Kidney Troubles.

One Box Dr. Quain's Condition Pills "Nearly Cured Where All Else Failed."

LOWELL, MASS, July 20th, 1874.

T. W. LANE:—I have used one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, am glad to state in my case they have proved all that you claim for them. I have been troubled with Bad Blood and all its consequent diseases, and have tried several kinds of Bitters and Pills without receiving much benefit, until I tried the CONDITION PILLS, and they have nearly cured where all else failed. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, very truly,

J. D. WHITAKER.

Testimony of a Clergyman---Liver and Kidney Troubles.

EAST TILTON, N. H., April 14, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are not only the best, but the very best I ever used. My wife has been troubled with Kidney Complaint many years; one half of a package has cured her, so that she feels as well as ever. I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years; one-half of a package has done me more good than all the Pills I ever took. One of my neighbors took them, who has been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years: three Pills have helped him. Your Pills, where used, commend their virtues. Please send to my address one package.

REV. JOHN DAVIS.

Liver Complaint and Rheumatism so that he Could not Sleep Nights.

I was born and always lived in Pittsfield, N. H.; am now 50 years old; been troubled with Liver Complaint for 30 years, and Rheumatism for 20 years, sometimes so I could not sleep nights. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good and relieved more suffering than all the medicine I have taken during my life.

Pittsfield, N. H., Dec. 17, 1874. S. S. RING.

Fever and Ague.

NEW BOSTON, N. H., Feb. 1, 1875.

T. W. LANE,—Sir:—Last month I sent to you for a package of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS. I had tried five so called ague cures, and I received more benefit from five of your pills than from all the "Cures" "Cholagogues," "Pills" &c., that I have taken in two years. I cannot recommend it too highly for diseases resulting from long standing Fever and Ague.

Yours, most respectfully,

MRS. C. GARLAND.

Scaly Humor Cured by One Package---Liver Complaint Helped.

NORTH SALEM, N. H., Jan. 5, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—Your Pills are all they are recommended. I was troubled with a Scaly Humor on my legs; I took one package and my legs are quite smooth. My wife was troubled with Liver Complaint; she took one package and they helped her greatly.

Yours, with respect,

JOHN H. BLAKE.

From a Leading Citizen of Rindge.

WEST RINDGE, Cheshire Co., N. H., November 17, 1874.

THOS. W. LANE:—After taking three packages of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I am prepared to say they are the very best, for I have tried a great many kinds, and faithfully too, believing they would help me, to no effect.—These I do believe are the very best ever made; just the kind a man needs. May they be spread all over the wide world, and Dr. Quain's name a household word.

Yours truly,

ASA STICKNEY.

Felt Better, Stronger and Gained Flesh in One Week,

AFTER TAKING DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS,

ROLLINSFORD, N. H.

THOS. W. LANE:—I commenced to take DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and in one week I was heavier, felt better, and was stronger than before, and am not troubled with BAD BLOOD can find sure remedy in these Pills.

Nov. 3, 1874. L. M. YEATON.

CHESTER, N. H., Feb. 24, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been out of health for some time, and I took a very bad cold and it left my lungs in a very weak state. I received Dr. Quain's Condition Pills and took them according to the directions, and my lungs are some better. I can recommend them to any one who is troubled with weak lungs, for they have done me good, and I think another package will cure me. Dr. Quain's Pills ought to be known throughout the world. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, &c., CYRUS LANE.

HILLSBOROBRIDGE, Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—Dr. Quain's Condition Pills are the best I ever used for lameness and pain. The first dose I took removed the pain and lameness that I have been troubled with for several years. Others have used quite a number of the pills besides myself. Please send another package by return of mail. MRS. DANIEL KIMBALL.

GILMANTON I. W., N. H., Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been taking Dr. Quain's Condition Pills, and can recommend them as far ahead of common pills for constipation of the bowels; they do not have the debilitating effect of common purgatives I have taken.

MRS. J. B. GOODWIN.

NORTHWOOD CENTRE, March 1, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I saw Dr. Quain's Condition Pills highly recommended, and sent for a package, and I think that they have done more for me than all the medicine I have taken for years, and can freely recommend them to others, as a good and sure medicine. Please send me another package as soon as possible. MARTHA NORCROSS.

BRISTOL, N. H., Feb. 27, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have made a fair trial of those Condition Pills, and liked them very much. I think they are all they are recommended. They are a good Liver invigorator.

N. F. DANFORTH.

SALEM DEPOT, N. H., March 3, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I think these pills (Dr. Quain's Condition Pills) are all they claim to be; my wife and I are both victims of Liver and Kidney Complaint, and general debility. We have taken about half that package you sent me, and find a marked improvement in our health. I want four packages to give away in the north part of Vermont, to friends up there. I enclose $2.00, and if you can, send me four Packages. ROYAL SCOTT.

SOUTH PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., March 11, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have given Dr. Quain's Condition Pills a trial, and find I can honestly recommend them; they having materially improved the soreness and lameness with which I have been afflicted since getting upon my feet after the Paralysis of left side that I suffered last October. I desire you to send me another package of the same kind sent, as I am anxious to continue their use. Though not now a resident of New England, I have lived in Central Vermont more than fifty years, and trust Dr. Quain's Pills will not long be new in that section. MOSES SHELDON.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have been troubled with Biliousness, Headache, and Dizziness, for a long time, and had the Dyspepsia so bad there were but few kinds of food my stomach would bear. All the time I neeced taking your pills, have taken most of one package, and now enjoy eating as well as I ever did, am not troubled with dizziness unless by taking cold, and have been greatly benefited by the use of them. A. L. PAGE.

FRANCESTOWN, March 13, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have found Dr. Quain's Condition Pills to be all you claim for them in Kidney Complaint, poor blood, and weak nerves. May they be circulated over the land and found in every household where medicine is needed. I enclose 50 cts. for another package as soon as convenient.

JOHN T. FELCH.

Better Health than for 10 Years.

CHESTER, N. H., Oct. 17, 1874.

MR. LANE:—I have taken one package of Condition Pills; find them in my case all they are recommended; have not enjoyed so good health for the last ten years as I have since I commenced taking the Condition Pills. Shall be happy to recommend them to others. WILLIAM H. FELLOWS.

☞ DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are sold by the Agent of the American Medicine Co. A package will be forwarded upon receipt of fifty cents. By THOMAS W. LANE, agent, Manchester, N. H.

For the convenience of the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity an agency for the sale of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS has been established at the N. E. P. Union Store, Market Street.

The immense circulation of "Peterson" enables its proprietor to spend more money on embellishments, stories, &c., &c., than any other. It gives more for the money than any in the world. Its are the best published anywhere. All the most popular writers are employed to write originals for "Peterson." In 1876, in addition to the usual quantity of short stories, FIVE ORIGINAL COPYRIGHT NOVELETTES will be given, by Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Frank Lee Benedict, Mrs. F. H. Burnett, and others.

THRILLING TALES AND NOVELETTES

MAMMOTH COLORED FASHION PLATES

ahead of all others. These plates are engraved on steel, twice the usual size, and are unequalled for beauty. They will be superbly colored. Also, Household and other receipts; in short, everything interesting to ladies.

N. B.—As the publisher now prepays the postage to all mail subscribers, "Peterson" is cheaper than ever; in fact is the cheapest in the world.

SCRIBNERS' MONTHLY for 1876.

The publishers invite attention to the following list of some of the attractive articles secured for Scribner's Monthly, for the coming year. In the field of fiction, besides numerous novelettes and shorter stories, there will be

TWO REMARKABLE SERIAL STORIES,

By American Authors.

The first of these, now complete in our hands,

"GABRIEL CONROY,"

By BRET HARTE,

Begins in the November number,

and will run for twelve months. This is Mr. Harte's first extended work. The scenes and characters, which the author has chosen from his favorite field, California, are painted with character, stic vividness and power; and the work is without doubt the most graphic record of California life that has yet appeared.

We shall also begin in the January number,

"PHILIP NOLAN'S FRIENDS,

OR, SHOW YOUR PASSPORTS,"

By EDWARD EVERETT HALE.

The scene of this story is laid in the Southwestern territory, now forming the States of Louisiana and Texas, at the time of Aaron Burr's treason. The characters lived in a section which was now American, now French, and now Spanish, and this record of their adventurous lives makes a story of intense and unflagging interest throughout.

A SECOND "FARMER'S VACATION,"

By Col. GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

Col. Waring is now in Europe, visiting, in a row-boat ride of two hundred and fifty miles, one of the most fertile and interesting of the vine growing valleys of Europe. This second series of papers promises to be even more interesting than that with which our readers are already familiar.

CENTENNIAL LETTERS,

Edited by John Vance Cheney.

A rare collection of Revolutionary Letters, mainly from stores in the hands of the descendants of Col. Joseph Ward. They are full of interest, and will be read with a rare relish in connection with the Centennial celebration of the year.

BRILLIANTLY ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES ON AMERICAN COLLEGES,

Written respectively by their friends, will appear during the year. The very interest in the college life makes these papers especially timely, and will secure for them unusual attention.

OLD NEW YORK,

Elegantly illustrated articles on Old New-York, by John F. Mines, will appear at once, and will attract the attention of all, in city or country, who mark with interest the development of the great metropolis, and affectionately remember the quaint peculiarities of its olden time.

Every number will be profusely illustrated, thus enabling us to give to our descriptive and narrative articles, an interest and permanent value never attained in a non illustrated periodical. Under its accustomed management the magazine will in the future be devoted, as it has been in the past, to sound literature and Christian progress.

The Editorial Departments occupy over twenty pages of each number and contain Dr. Holland's vigorous and timely editorials, as well as Reviews of the latest works in Art, Literature, and science.

TERMS:

$4.00 A YEAR, in advance; 35 cents a Number. The 10 vols, complete, Nov. 1870, to Oct. 1875, bound in maroon cloth.....$20.00

do. do. bound in half morocco, 30.00

Vols. begin in November and May. Any of the earlier volumes (I to VIII.) will be supplied separately to parties who wish them to complete sets at this rate, $2 50, cloth, $2 00; half morocco, $3.00.

Booksellers and Postmasters will be supplied at rates that will enable them to fill any of the above offers.

Subscribers will please remit in P. O. Money Orders, or in Bank Checks or Drafts, or by registered letters. Money in letters not registered, at sender's risk.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LOCAL AGENTS WANTED.

An Agent Wanted for Each Town and County in the United States.

Parties desiring to act as agents must accompany their application by a letter of recommendation as to character and responsibility from and signed by the Editor of a newspaper published in the town or county for which the agent proposes to act. The agency is to sell the bonds of the Industrial Exhibition Company.

BONDS, $20 EACH.
HALF BONDS, $10 EACH.
QUARTER BONDS, $5 EACH.

The Industrial Exhibition Company will furnish agents with circulars, etc., etc.

Each newspaper published in the town where an agent is located will, as soon as the agency is established, be given an advertisement, advertising such agency and the Company, and fully explaining the plans, purposes and objects of the Company. Such advertisement will continue in such papers as long as an agency is successfully conducted.

The Industrial Exhibition Company is the first to adopt the plan so long in use by the European governments of issuing bonds when the principal is made secure and not risked, but where there is a chance for a large premium, an investment of $20 is sure to return to the investor $21—one dollar more than cost—and the holder of a $20 Bond may obtain a premium either of $50, $100, $200, $500, $1,000, $3,000, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000 or $100,000. The interest, which is ordinarily distributed to all the bond holders pro rata, is in this loan distributed by chance. The purchaser of a bond knows he will receive back his investment, with a small rate of interest, he has a chance in the above named premiums, which are simply the distribution of interest on the whole loan.

Each bond participates in four drawings each year, until it has drawn a premium, when it is surrendered, the premium paid, and the bond cancelled.

The Industrial Exhibition Company, under a special charter granted by the State of New York, is given authority to issue these bonds. The Legislature of the State, recognizing the great benefits which will arise from the success of this enterprise, have exempted all the real estate and property of the Company from taxation and assessments for five years, and has also conferred other great privileges.

Every American who understands the purposes of this Company will, of a necessity, feel a pride in aiding it to a successful termination.

Each individual who buys a bond becomes an owner and an interested party, and when he views the structure erected with his money can say, "I aided to erect in our country the most magnificent building the world has ever seen, a palace which, in truth, represents the industry, energy and mechanical genius of the American people."

The manufacturers and the inventors of America are peculiarly interested in the success of this enterprise, for the reason that it is to be their home, where all their inventions and manufactures can be exhibited and sold.

The building will contain 5,320,800 square feet of space.

Purchasers desiring Bonds before an agency is established where they reside, will communicate direct with this office, from where they can be supplied.

Parties desiring to act as agents or to purchase bonds will address

A CHANCE FOR ALL!

$100,000

GIVEN AWAY!

The Union Pocket Book Co.

having secured by cash purchase the entire bankrupt stock of Messrs H. Morland & Co., consisting of

400,000 Portmonies,

(POCKET BOOKS,)

of the best manufacture and superb quality, each pocket book being made of Real Morocco Leather; to effect a speedy clearance sale and having in view the old motto of the house, Certain Profits with Quick Returns, the company have decided on giving each individual purchaser the full benefit of this remunerative bargain by giving away One Hundred Thousand Dollars, in

2818 MONEY PRIZES!

THE FIRST PRIZE BEING $20,000 CASH.
" SECOND " " $10,000 "
" THIRD " " $5,000 "

and 2815 other money prizes as follows, viz.:

25 PRIZES OF $1000 CASH, EACH.
40 " " 500 " "
50 " " 100 " "
100 " " 50 " "
200 " " 20 " "
400 " " 10 " "
2000 " " 5 " "

The above prizes with the cost of advertising and other incidental expenses, giving the purchasers two-thirds of the profits that accrue on the entire sale, and to enable every one to have an equal share in the profits, with the certainty of receiving treble the value for their small investment and the further opportunity of surely gaining a share in the distribution of $100,000, and this too by the riskless outlay of $1 only.

The Union Pocket Book Co. will deliver free to any address on receipt of One Dollar, a GENUINE MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK, together with a COUPON TICKET,

entitling and giving the holder a share in the drawing of 2818 CASH PRIZES, of the aggregate value of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS CURRENCY. The Company guaranteed to return to each purchaser at least treble the value for his money.

How can this be accomplished? is a question many will doubtless ask themselves, and foreseeing this we offer the following lucid explanation.

The Trade assigned anxious to dispose of and realize on the entire stock of the bankrupts in one sale, accepted our offer of $ 30,000 cash for the lot; after advertising same for sale for one month, and not receiving a single offer, which in the present depression of business and almost total stagnation of trade is not to be wondered at; notwithstanding that our offer was one third less than the actual cost of the manufacture of the Pocket Books. The assignee having to at once realize the effects of the bankrupts, in the interests of the creditors he had no alternative but to accept this offer and sell us the lot at our own price thereby enabling us to distribute in prizes $100,000 amongst the purchasers, and at the same time retain a fair marginal profit for ourselves; thus enabling us to obtain double the value of the amount you forward us and it depends on your luck what amount you gain of the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Money Prizes.

THE SALE WILL POSITIVELY CLOSE ON

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1875,

and orders for pocket books should therefore be forwarded to us at once—no application by letter after Saturday, November 20th, can be entertained.

1000 of the Pocket Books are of the patented manufacture, superior in value to the remainder, the retail price of the same being $8, and these will be forwarded to early purchasers until disposed of.

Therefore those who send immediate orders will reap the advantage of receiving a superior article.

Remittances may be by registered letter or any number of pocket books by draft, post office orders, or greenbacks in registered letter by express, etc.

Post Office orders and drafts to be made payable in favor of Frank Stewart, Sole Company's Manager; Post Office orders to be drawn on General Post Office, Philadelphia, and drafts on the First National Bank.

The Drawing of Prizes will take place at the Company's Principal Offices, 530 Locust Street, Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, on and the winning numbers will be advertised in this Journal and the principal Philadelphia and New York newspapers on Saturday, November 27th.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1875

The Prizes will be forwarded in drafts, greenbacks or by post office order per registered letter by Monday's morning mails, November 29th, or if preferred prizes can be sent by express, or in any other manner purchasers may select, providing same be signified by them when forwarding orders for pocket books.

Remember this is no lottery, but a bona fide business system founded on a true financial basis which enables the Company to convert into money an otherwise surplus stock, and thus too with a good profit to both the purchasers and themselves, effect a speedy clearance stock which in the present dull times is the desideratia that in no other way can be successfully attained.

We guarantee each pocket book to be of the best manufacture; of pure morocco leather and intrinsically worth in retail trade at the lowest rate of from $3 to $4.

This is an opportunity that should not be let pass by; one and all should embrace this great benefit. We accord every one an opportunity of realising a share in $10,000 at the insignificant outlay of $1 (one dollar) for which they receive value three fold and those who let this fortuitous chance escape them will have only themselves to blame.

All letters replied to same day as received. We advise intending purchasers to forward orders immediately which will prevent disappointment and receive prompt attention.

Remember, every one who sends ONE DOLLAR before December 20th, 1875, receives A MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK of the value of from $3 to $4 and a COUPON, giving them a share in the drawing of $100,000.

ADDRESS ALL ORDERS, LETTERS, ETC., TO

The Union Pocket Book Company,

SOUTH-EAST CORNER 6TH AND LOCUST STREETS,

PHILADELPHIA, PENN.

P. S.—Drawing absolute on Wednesday, November 24th. No postponement in the remote contingency of any number of the pocket books remaining unsold; a slight reduction not exceeding $5000 may be made proportionately from the prizes. tnov16

BIBBS: A LOVE STORY.

[Cassell's Magazine.]

I.

There was no doubt about it; John Weare was perfectly wretched that night. He had quarrelled with Jennie Bell, and he wasn't going to make it up. The fact was she gave herself too many airs, and he didn't mean to stand it any longer. He didn't care if she were pretty; that was no reason why she should let half a dozen fellows at a time hang about the shop or stroll in one at a time, and, leaning on their elbows, chatter and smirk and smile over the counter; cadets and officers too, wild young fellows, who only did so for their own idle amusement, and would no more dream of marrying her than they would of inviting her to a ball that was coming off next month. To be sure, he was only a common cavalry soldier, but then he had been in the service a good many years now, had an excellent character, and a good trade at his back, and moreover, his father had died not long since, and there was the cottage all ready for Jennie to walk into, and they might settle down at once if she'd only be sensible. Jennie acted as shop-woman for her sister, Mrs. Evans. A very poor little shop, it was, very badly stocked, for Mrs. Evans had only managed to get a few pounds' worth of things with what had been subscribed for her in the garrison after the fever had carried off her husband. The speculation answered pretty well at first, for many of the officers' wives, knowing what an industrious woman Mrs. Evans was, made a point of buying their tapes and cotton and sticks of sealing-wax of her. Then Jennie's pretty face was seen behind the counter, and the shop was filled from morning to night with officers and frisky young cadets, and the original customers took flight—though Mrs. Evans did not know it, for she, believing the business was safe in the keeping of Jennie, worked hard at the dressmaking (she had three children to support, and the shop alone would not do it.)

The officers were not profitable customers, for they only went to flirt with Jennie under the excuse of buying a penny paper, or perhaps asking for a time-table. Jennie made the most trim and pretty and obliging of shop-women, and the place itself was always a pattern of neatness; but the officers' wives did not care to go and buy thread where they were evidently interrupting a flirtation, and so the business continued to fall off, and Mrs. Evans began to get unhappy about it. Jennie—pretty, kind-hearted, thoughtless Jennie—had no idea that she had anything to do with it, or she would have sent every one of her admirers off at a pace that would have astonished them. She had been only too delighted, after her brother-in-law died, to come from Devonshire and live with her sister at Woolwich—not only because she was very fond of her sister, but also because she had wished many times to see John Weare again. She had made his acquaintance when her brother and he—for they had been in the same regiment—were stationed at Plymouth, and she had paid them a flying visit with her father. John had told her then that he was tired of the service and wanted to settle down, and she inwardly thought that he could do no better than ask her to settle with him. He had been very attentive when she came to Woolwich, and gradually established himself on the footing of a lover till he found the shop always filled with the officers and cadets. At first he was shy of appearing before his superiors, then he got jealous and at last angry, for he felt, and knew that they meant her no good, and besides it was doing injury to the business of the shop. At last he spoke his mind and told the coquettish Jennie what he thought, and was snubbed for his pains.

"If you think I don't know how to take care of myself, Mr. Weare, you are mistaken; and I don't want any one to tell me what's right or wrong. I know for myself."

"Well, Miss Jennie, I don't mean to give offence. I only told you what I thought."

"Then you might have kept your thoughts to yourself," she said, with a little toss of her pretty head—"unless they had been nice ones," she added. He heard the aside, and picked up his courage.

"It's awfully hard, too, when one who cares really can't get near you," he pleaded. Just then Jennie caught sight of Captain McGee, a tall and handsome man, with long whiskers and a red nose, coming in the direction of the shop, with a big bunch of flowers in his hand. She had heard John Weare's last words, but she was secretly of the opinion that he "ought to have come up to the scratch before," so she thought a little jealousy might do him good.

"Oh, here comes Captain McGee," she said in a delighted tone.

"Well, he's just the biggest blackleg in the service, Jennie, and if you take my advice you'll send him off, sharp."

"I believe you are jealous, Mr. Weare, and telling stories about the captain; he is always very polite to me," and she smoothed her pretty hair and arranged the trifles on the counter.

"Oh, he's polite enough, no doubt."

"And he's bringing me some flowers."

"Now look here, Jennie, are you going to take them?"

"Of course I am."

"Well, then, good-by."

"Good-by," she laughed. Of course she knew he wouldn't go.

"Jennie; he'll be in directly, and I shall be off, but you must choose between him and me. If you are going to keep on talking to him, I shall never come in the place again, so which is it to be?"

"The Captain."

"But I am not joking, I'll never see you again."

"No more am I joking, so good-by."

"Good-by"—and he went.

II.

He kept resolutely away for a whole month—never once went near the place. If Jennie wanted him she might send for him or get her sister to invite him to tea, as she had done before. But John Weare was not sent for, neither was he invited to tea, and his spirits began to wax low.

"If she'd cared about me she'd have got in my way somehow before this—trust a woman," he thought.

The idea of not being cared for was not cheerful. That night he strolled carelessly by the shop, but on the opposite side of the way. Nothing was to be seen of Jennie. Her walked on in a brown study, then crossed over, and went deliberately by the shop, with only one eye, however, turned in its direction, but not a sign of Jennie. He went back to the barracks in a dejected frame of mind.

"It's an awful pity—such a nice girl; and there's the cottage all ready for her to step into, and me ready to retire from the service and a good trade at my back; it's too bad, all along of that Captain McGee too. And the fruit in the garden (of the cottage) all ripe and no one to pick it."

The next morning John Weare walked deliberately into the shop and asked for a penny newspaper, and had the felicity of being served by Mrs. Evans.

"Quite a stranger, Mr. Weare," she said; but that was the only remark she made, and for the life of him he could now screw up his courage to ask for her sister.

That night John Weare was quite miserable.

"She can't care a rush for me," he thought and marched all over the town, and nearly to Greenwich and back, in his excitement.

The next day was a lucky one for John. He came across Bibbs. Bibbs was Mrs. Evans' eldest boy. No one knew what his real name was, or why he was called Bibbs; but he was never called anything else.

"Bibbs," said John Weare, "come and have some fruit," and he carried him off in triumph to the cottage and stuffed him with gooseberries till he couldn't move, and with black currants till his mouth was as black as a crow. Then he carried him inside and stood him on the table and sat down before him.

"How old are you, Bibbs?

He thought it better to begin the conversation with a question.

"Five and a half. Is that your sword up there?"

"Yes. Who gave you those bronze shoes, Bibbs?"

Now he knew Jennie had given them to him, but he so wanted to hear her name.

"Auntie. She's going away soon," he added. "Let me look at your sword, now, please."

"Where's she going to?" he asked in consternation.

"Devonshire. Do let me try on your sword.

"Why is she going?" he asked, with a sick feeling in his heart."

"She's ill, I think; and she's always crying now; one day she was crying over her silver thing you gave her; and kissing it like anything."

The "silver thing" was a little heart of about the size of a shilling, which he had bought at Charlton Fair last October, and timidly requested her to accept.

John Weare jumped up and showed Bibbs his sword, and carted him on his back all over the place, and entreated him to have more black currants in his delight. But Bibbs declined.

"Aunt Jennie's going to bring me some from Eltham to-night," he said.

So Jennie was going to Eltham, was she! John Weare took Bibbs home, and on his way presented him with a white woolly lamb that moved on wheels and squeaked, and a monkey that went up a stick in being gently pushed.

"Crying over her silver thing!" said John Weare. "I'll go and hang about the Eltham road till I see her and beg her pardon."

And he went, and Jennie met him, and pouted, and declared she hadn't once thought of him, and then broke down and cried. And John begged her pardon, and declared that he had been a heartless brute; and then Jennie contradicted him and said it was all her fault, and told him how Mrs. Dunlap, the colonel's wife, had one day walked in and told her, in the kindest possible manner, that she was spoiling her sister's business, for the ladies who had been interested in her welfare kept away because of Jennie's flirting propensities, which filled up the shop with idle officers, who were always in the way; and how she had been so ashamed and wretched, and so cut up at the desertion of John Weare, that she had determined to go back to Devonshire.

"But you won't, now?" he said, as they both leaned over the stile leading to the Eltham fields. "You'll get ready at once, and we'll be married as soon as possible, before the fruit in the garden is spoilt?"

It took a long time to talk her into it, (about three-quarters of an hour,) but then she was very happy at heart, and chattered like a young magpie, and told John how she had snubbed Captain McGee, and had thrown all his beautiful flowers out of the window.

"And it really was all through that dear Bibbs that you waylaid me to-night?" she asked.

"Certainly."

"Why, but for him I might never have seen you again?"

"Perhaps not."

"I'll give Bibbs a regular hug when I get home," she thought. And she did; and the day before she was married she bought him a rocking-horse, which he delights in to this day.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1875.

The Pembroke Murderer.

On Thursday, at a special meeting of the grand jury of Merrimack county, La Page was indicted for the murder of Josie Langmaid. Ten witnesses were examined, besides the detectives. La Page appeared in Court and pleaded not guilty. Sam Page is his attorney. A trial will be had on the first Tuesday in January. At the conclusion of the proceedings in court, La Page was remanded to jail. It is understood that Detectives Dearborn and Hildreth will give their attention for the next few weeks to the St. Albans tragedy, of which La Page is suspected.

An interview with the detectives reveals nothing new in their possession that they will give, further than the fact that one o the razors found in La Page's house is covered with blood, and that his explanation of the fact was that he cut his face while shaving, and thus it became bloody.

News and Notes.

A prohibition State convention of assistant democrats will meet at Concord, Nov. 10th, to nominate candidates for Governor, Railroad Commissioner, etc.

At a meeting of the Governor and Council held Oct. 28th, Thursday, November 25th, was selected as the day for annual Thanksgiving.

The election in Baltimore resulted in the choice of Latrobe, democrat, for Mayor by only 2731 majority over Warfield, the republican and reform candidate—a heavy democratic loss. Latrobe had 27,620 votes, and Warfield, 24,889.

Additional returns from the late election in Colorado show heavy gains by the republicans, who will have at least two-thirds of the Constitutional convention.

Governor Kellogg of Louisiana has signed the death-warrant of the Nicholson brothers, convicted of the murder of Marcus Young in Red River Parish, and of Alley Harris and Tony Nelborrn, the murderers of Henry Harris in Ouracnita. They will be hung on Friday, November 6.

Gen. Butler has purchased a gold mine in Virginia, near Fredericksburg.

William Thompson and William Ellis, two negroes, who murdered a peddler named Weisburg, in Westchester county, New York, a few weeks ago, are to be hanged Dec. 17th. The jury agreed on a verdict without leaving their seats.

Nearly $65,000 is the estimated value put upon live stock in Epping.

A Tennessee paper tells the following story: "John King, in 1862, lived in Tennessee. Soldiers of both armies raided on his farm. So he removed all his produce to a cave in Cumberland Mountains. A storm threw down a rock which closed the mouth of the cave. Therein he lived for thirteen years, in the dark, eating from his produce and drinking from a spring. Recently a railroad company, blasting for a tunnel, blasted him out.

There are 148 persons in Weare who are 70 years of age and upwards.

The question whether the Bible should be read in the public schools has suddenly broken out with peculiar vehemence at Newton, in Fairfield county, Conn. It seems that the Roman Catholic priest of the parish, Mr. McCartin, objected to the use of the book, but the Board of Visitors decided against him and directed the continuance of the old custom. Thereupon Mr. McCartin took the law into his own hands, and entering the principal school of the town, while the usual morning exercises were in progress, ordered the Catholic children to attend to their studies and pay no attention to the Bible reading. For this he was ejected by the teacher.

Eighteen Hundred Years After Death.

A correspondent of Appleton's Journal writing of excavations of Pompeii, says: Among the most interesting of the objects found recently are two skeletons, one of a somewhat elderly man, the other of a woman. They were found in the Via Stabia among the ashes of the last eruption, evidently overtaken in their flight and buried among the cinders. According to the usual method employed to preserve the external appearance of objects, liquid plaster was poured into the cavity, which serving as a mould, a fac-simile of the forms was obtained; and thus perfectly preserved, the statue-like bodies were placed in glass cases in the Pompeii Museum. While appreciating all the horror of such a death, and the suffering endured, as shown by the position of the limbs, one cannot but imagine what would have been the astonishment of that man and woman had some prophet informed them that eight hundred years after their death their forms and even as much of their garments as were not consumed in the eruption, would be placed in a museum for inspection by a multitude of sight-seers, some from lands the existence of which they had never dreamed of. The poor woman is lying on her face, and even the form of her hair, put up behind, is seen. One arm shields her forehead, and she is supported by the other. Her stony limbs are well formed, and traces of a garment are seen passing in folds around her. The man, although placed on his back in the exhibition, when found was turned on his side. One arm rests on his hip; the other is uplifted The face is somewhat distorted, but massive, and smoothly shaven. Even the form of the fastening of the sandals around the ankle, and of the long button higher up on the leg to hold them, is clearly seen. The limbs are partly drawn up. The skeleton of a tolerably large dog, also recently found, is in the Museum of Pompeii, his whole form preserved in plaster, in the same manner as those just mentioned. He is lying on his back, writhing in suffering, biting his hind leg. The rings in his collar are plainly seen.

An Escaped Convict.

Charles Gleason, who escaped from the Massachusetts State prison about half-past two o'clock, Thursday morning, was sentenced in February, 1872, for fourteen years, for robbing the Grafton Bank. He was confined in the north wing, and the manner in which he made his escape is as follows: The cell in which he was confined faces the deer park, and some of his confederates scaled the wall from the outside, and, with a small table, evidently made expressly for the purpose, and placed against the wall, it was comparatively an easy task to pry apart the iron bars with a powerful jack screw, thus making an opening for the prisoner (who had previously sawed off the bars of his cell) to make his exit. Gleason is about 45 years of age. On his right arm in blue ink, was a cross, with the letters I. H. S. underneath; on the same arm was a ship under full sail. Gleason's deportment since his confinement has been most exemplary, and the prison officers give him a very good character. The window through which he escaped is the same by which a convict named Morrill got out of the prison some eight or nine years ago, taking with him two one-armed convicts who had aided him in perfecting his plans. Morrill was afterward confined in the Ohio prison for some crime, ond on being discharged was arrested, and is now serving out the remainder of his term. A short time ago another convict, named Daniel Dockerty, attempted to leave the institution without leave, and the movements of Herbert Eicke, a night watchman, in connection with the attempted escape, aroused the suspicion of Warden Chamberlain. An investigation into the matter convinced the Warden that Eicke was interested in the attempted escape, and he was promptly discharged. Thursday Eicke could not be found, and it is supposed that he knew something of Gleason's plans and helped carry them to perfection. It is reported that Eicke received a present of a gold watch some time ago, it is supposed from friends of Dockerty and Gleason. A reward of $100 has been offered for the capture of Gleason.

—The London Hornet gives the following as "Things a married lady cannot help thinking of;" That she was a very pretty girl at sixteen; that she had or would have had a great many good offers; that all her lady friends are five years older than they say they are; that she has a very fine mind; that if her husband had acted on her advice, he would be a richer man to-day; that people think too much of the looks of that Miss——, who would not be called handsome if she didn't make herself up; that her mother-in-law is a very trying woman; that her girls are prettier than Mrs. A.'s girls; that she would like to know where her husband spends his evenings when he stays out; that her eldest son takes after him; that he is going to throw himself away on Miss Scraggs; that Miss Scraggs set her cap for him, and did all the courting; that her servant girls are the worst ever known; that she has taste in dress; that she has a good temper; that she pities old maids.

—There is such a thing as carrying election enthusiasm too far. Thursday afternoon, Oct. 14th, it became certain that Hayes was elected Governor of Ohio, and that evening the moon got full.

RATTAN WARE
MANUFACTORY.

ONLY 4 Rattan Ware Factories in the United States, and one of them has just begun manufacturing in Portsmouth. The furniture made by this firm is made of the very best quality of East India Rattan, and for beauty, attractiveness, ease and durability is more desirable than any other furniture. We claim that the generality of our work is better than can be procured elsewhere in the United States. Few people comparatively have ever seen many pieces of this attractive furniture, and we cordially invite any one to call and examine our work even if they have no idea of purchasing. We warrant every piece of our ware to be as good as can be bought elsewhere an at less price.

Don't fail to call up, and see what few people in the United States have seen; viz, a collection of this ware. OVER FREEMAN'S OYSTER HOUSE, on Congress street, up one flight.

E. G. PIERCE, Jr., P. M.

Jottings.

Mr. J. R. McKelvy, of Maine, a reformed man, will lecture at the M. E. church, Sunday evening. The Hutchinson Family will be present and sing several selections, during the evening. Service to commence at six o'clock. All are invited.

The "Old Folks' Concert" at the Universalist church, Thursday evening, was well attended. The programme was quite lengthy, but the old songs of yore were well rendered, and the "worldly" songs enjoyable, particularly little Miss Bennett's "Sixty-two" and the chorus: "We will not mortgage the farm." The great attraction of the evening, however, was Prof. Goodall, who gave some exquisitely played selections which exactly "hit" the popular ear, and brought down the house. We hope he may appear again in public ere long. His capacity for original variations of the melodies he plays is wonderful, and we never heard violin playing that pleased us any more. Major E. A. Tilton kindly accompanied him on the piano, following closely each change in time and tune, and with an alertness that was astonishing. The "Mocking Bird" was the gem of the evening.

Rev. W. H. Alden, D. D., was elected President of the New Hampshire Baptist Convention for the next session.

The mesmeric entertainment at Franklin Hall on Thursday evening was interesting, instructive and amusing. Professor Cadwell is a gentleman and likewise knows his business. His wonderful control over the minds of his subjects was a matter of surprise to many of the audience, and we think every one went away with the idea that it was "as good as a theatre." Professor Cadwell ought to have a well filled Hall tonight, as it is the last of his performances in this city.

A handle of the coffin of President Cutts, taken from the Green Street Cemetery at the removal of the bodies from that spot recently, will be sent to the Historical Society.

Next Wednesday, the stockholders of the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth Railroad have their special meeting at Kittery, to see if the stockholders are willing to receive $3 instead of $5 semi-annually as a dividend, for two years, to accommodate the Eastern Railroad.

Sunday forenoon, Rev. Mr. DeNormandie is to preach a sermon upon "The Work Charity in our City."

There are now sixty-six granges in this State, with a membership of more than 2000, constantly increasing. The first grange in Strafford county, called Crown Point Grange, No. 66, has just been organized at Strafford. Rockingham county has seven granges. Portsmouth Grange is No. 22 in the State, and is one of the largest in New Hampshire, although it was organized only about eighteen months ago. The Patrons (and Matrons) of Husbandry claim that this new and flourishing Order shows no signs of weakening or declining; but, on the contrary, has within itself all the elements of progress and successful continuance—the admission of women to full equality with man in membership being a strong feature. They insist that Adam and Eve were the first grangers, and that their Order thus pre-dated all others, being instituted directly by the Creator himself in the garden of Eden, besides being the most noble, useful and honorable of all.

Kearsarge Steam Fire Engine Co. have donned a new uniform.

South Seabrook has organized a thief-detecting company, consequent upon the renewal of the annual fence, tree, poultry and produce harvesting by the residents who want cider and haven't money. That it has been necessary in the past to take in fences on the approach of cold weather is a fact that the Salisbury and Seabrook farmers have found too solemn to be laughed at. Fences and trees are used for firewood by the thieves, and Bryant Eaton lost thirty turkeys a few nights since, which probably satisfied the hunger of some hard cider soul. Other citizens of Seabrook complain of repeated losses of poultry and produce. The lock-up having been destroyed by fire a year ago, the selectmen have been petitioned to construct a new one that shall be fire-proof.

The psychological and mesmeric entertainments at Franklin Hall by Cadwell and Carpenter close this evening. The exhibition is surprising and mystical. The mesmerists guarantee a perfect cure from any disease or bad habit to all who can be thoroughly magnetized. The cabinet performances are wonderfully managed, and have a bewildering effect on the audiences.

Foster's Democrat wants us to retract the insinuation we made that Hon. Frank Jones and Hon. John W. Sanborn used the Eastern Railroad to elect themselves to office last March; which we would do if our statement were untrue. Unfortunately it was true. Passes on the Eastern and Conway roads were issued by the hundred, (we have heard it said by the bushel) just previous to the March election. If Mr. Jones did not know of it, let him rise up boldly and send us a contradiction. We will publish it—and lay some information before the public gathered from Boston sources. Don't slop over, Joshua. We do Frank Jones no injustice, and you had better "lie low" for a time with your manufactured indignation. Frank's agents are smart,—and he doesn't think you smart enough to be entrusted with the little secrets that worked so well in Strafford and Carroll counties. You are the only innocent soul there is left in the party now, and they do not want you to partake of the fruit of the tree of knowledge, lest they lose the only particle of leaven that may leaven their loaf into a virtuous, high-toned and immaculately honest specimen of the staff of life. We said that it never will be known just how much it cost the Eastern Railroad to elect Frank Jones and John W. Sanborn. Do you know how much it cost? If you do, enlighten their constituents. If you do not, don't forget that the higher you hop the more effective is the aim of the huntsman.

The first Congregational church of Exeter has presented to the Congregational church of South Seabrook, ninety hymn books.

St. Mary's Catholic Church is likely to gain by the advent of its new pastor, Rev. E. M. O'Callaghan, who has been instrumental in forming a flourishing temperance organization at Augusta, Me., and will doubtless continue the good work in this city. No church has such influential pastors as the Catholic, among its own people, and Father O'Callaghan can reclaim many from the intoxicating cup. Before leaving Augusta, he was presented with a purse of one hundred dollars by his people. The Gospel Banner (Universalist) of that city speaks of him as "a young man of fine ability, much beloved by his people, and respected by citizens generally."

The Gospel songs used by Moody and Sankey the American Evangelists will be used at the Bow Mission, Sabbath evening. Service commences at 7 P. M. All are invited. Come.

Henry Beckman, one of the Seabrook men who placed sleepers on the railroad track, has been arrested. The four young men charged with the deed appeared before Judge Bufford, Friday, and were held for trial on Nov. 6th—Beckman in the sum of $3000, Charles L. Knowles, $1500, and Lewis A. Knowles and William Rowe, $1000 each.

Mrs. Jane Benson, from the South, formerly a slave, will preach to-morrow in the Advent chapel. The public are cordially invited.

In the North Church, on Sunday, Rev. Carlos Martyn will give two studies on "The Pharisee and the Publicans;" the first in the morning, the other, in the afternoon. In the afternoon, the Hutchinson Family will sing.

Commodore Alexander Murray, U. S. N., is to be promoted to the grade of Rear Admiral.

The Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution says that Col. B. Frank Moses, a Portsmouth boy, is the author of the recent moon hoax, which has travelled through all the papers, representing that the inhabitants of the moon have had a large mirror located at an altitude from its surface for some months, in which to see the reflection of the performances of the people of the earth.

Edwards, the injured marine, was alive at last accounts. His companion, Graham, is suspected as the assailant.

The S. P. C. A. Lyceum committee, having sent a messenger to ascertain the earliest possible date at which Carl Schurz can lecture in the S. P. C. A. Course, have succeeded in engaging him for Saturday evening, November 13th. The sale of tickets will take place at the Temple next Monday morning at half-past ten o'clock.

The ladies' committee of Rebecca Degree Lodge have received from the proprietors of Kearsarge Mills, as a donation, two pieces of their choicest cotton cloth.

The Emerald, having been thoroughly overhauled and repaired, resumes her trips to-day.

Working hours at the navy yard, on and after Tuesday, Nov. 2nd, will be as follows: From 7:45 A. M., to 12 M., and from 12:45 to 4:30 P. M.

Stillman B. Allen, Esq., formerly of Kittery, is the republican nominee for member of the legislature from Ward 11, Boston.

Why doesn't your Portsmouth Glee Club come over and give us an entertainment? The evenings are long now. I think we can give them a good house. If any member of the club feels slighted by our report of their last visit here, it must be excused, as it was unintentional. We meant a good word for all, and will give due credit next time. A YORK SUBSCRIBER.

—Manager Mishler, of Reading, Pa., adopted a novel plan of permitting the subscribers to his course of lectures and entertainments, to select by ballot the persons or troupes to fill it out. The election was for eight entertainments, and the vote was as follows: Mrs. Scott Siddons, nnanimously; Camilla Urso concert troupe, 94 votes; Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, 88; Miss Helen Potter, 79; Bayard Taylor, 77; Dr. Isaac Hayes, 71; General Judson Kilpatrick, 69; Edward Everett Hale, 66; Wendell Phillips, 61; R. J. DeCordova, 60; J. B. Gough, 59; Daniel Dougherty, 59; John J. Villers, 59; Rempath Opera Company, 57; Robert Collyer, 56; Professor J. H. Pepper, 52; Mendelssohn Quintette Club, 51; Grace Greenwood, 50; William Parsons, 47; Louis Woodworth Foss, 37; and Wallace Bruce, 32 votes.

—It is a perfectly safe thing for a criticised actress to horsewhip the critical press, when the representative of the press is a fragile, unprotected male, but when the weapon which is nightier than the sword is wielded by a firm feminine hand, the case is different. And such was the recent excent experience of an aggrieved commedienne who, undertaking to cowhide Mrs. Laura Gordon, now "editress" of a California paper, was speedily reduced, to use the words of a local reporter, "to a state of baldness that would excite envy in the heart of a turnip."—New York World.

—It is not generally known that the U. S. Treasury department employs two learned and skillful chemists, one of whom is constantly engaged in fabricating indelible inks, while the other devotes his talents to washing out the inks, and thus far, chemistry has devised no ink which chemistry can not efface.

—More than once, during a period of four years, not now necessary to particularize, we paid $100 or $150 for a pair of boots. You see the volume of currency was equal to the "necessities of trade."—Lebanon (Tenn.) Herald.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS.

NEW TESTIMONIALS.

FOR

Weak Lungs, Constipation, Lameness, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Paralysis, Poor Blood and Kidney Troubles.

One Box Dr. Quain's Condition Pills "Nearly Cured Where All Else Failed."

LOWELL, MASS, July 20th, 1874.

T. W. LANE:—I have used one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, am glad to state in my case they have proved all that you claim for them. I have been troubled with Bad Blood and all its consequent diseases, and have tried several kinds of Bitters and Pills without receiving much benefit, until I tried the CONDITION PILLS, and they have nearly cured where all else failed. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, very truly,

J. D. WHITAKER.

Testimony of a Clergyman---Liver and Kidney Troubles.

EAST TILTON, N. H., April 14, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are not only the best, but the very best I ever used. My wife had been troubled with Kidney Complant many years; one half of a package has cured her, so that she feels as well as ever. I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years; one-half of a package has done me more good than all the Pills I ever took. One of my neighbors took them, who has been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years: three Pills have helped him. Your Pills, where used, commend their virtues. Please send to my address one package.

REV. JOHN DAVIS.

Liver Compaint and Rheumatism so that he Could not Sleep Nights.

I was born and always lived in Pittsfield, N. H.; am now 50 years old; been troubled with Liver Complaint for 30 years, and Rheumatism for 20 years, sometimes so I could not sleep nights. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good and relieved more suffering than all the medicine I have taken during my life. S. RING.

Pittsfield, N. H., Dec. 17, 1874.

Fever and Ague.

NEW BOSTON, N. H., Feb. 1, 1875.

T. W. LANE,—Sir:—Lost month I sent to you for a package of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS. I had tried five so-called ague cures, and I received more benefit from five of your pills than from all the "Cures" "Cholagogues," "Quinine," &c., that I have taken in two years. I cannot recommend it too highly for issases resulting from long standing Fever and Ague.

Yours, most respectfully,

MRS. C. GARLAND.

Scaly Humor Cured by One Package--- Liver Complaint Helped.

NORTH SALEM, N. H., Jan. 5, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—Your Pills are all they are recommended. I was troubled with a Scaly Humor on my legs; I took one package and they are quite smooth. My wife was troub ed with Liver Complaint; she took one package and they helped her greatly.

Yours, with respect,

JOHN H. BLAKE.

From a Leading Citizen of Rindge.

WEST RINDGE, Cheshire Co., N. H., November 17, 1874.

THOS. W. LANE:—After taking three packages of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I am prepared to say they are the very best, for I have tried a great many kinds, and faithfully too, believing they would help me, to no effect.—These I do believe are the very best ever made; just the kind a man needs. May they be spread all over the wide world, and Dr. Quain's name a household word.

Yours truly,

ASA STICKNEY.

Felt Better, Stronger and Gained Flesh in One Week,

AFTER TAKING DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS.

ROLLINSFORD, N. H.

THOS. W. LANE:—I commenced to take DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and in one week I was heavier, felt better, and was stronger than before, and any one troubled with BAD BLOOD can find sure remedy in these Pills.

Nov. 3, 1874. L. M. YEATON.

CHESTER, N. H., Feb. 24, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been out of health for some time, and I took a very bad cold and it left my lungs in a very weak state. I received Dr. Quain's Condition Pills and took them according to the directions, and my lungs are some better. I can recommend them to any one who is troubled with weak lungs, for they have done me good, and I think another package will cure me. Dr. Quain's Pills ought to be known throughout the world. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, &c., CYRUS LANE.

HILLSBOROBridge, Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—Dr. Quain's Condition Pills are the best I ever used for lameness and pain. The first dose I took removed the pain and lameness so that I have been troubled with for several years. Others have used quite a number of the pills besides myself. Please send another package of same by return of mail. MRS. DANIEL KIMBALL.

GILMANTON I. W., N. H., Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been taking Dr. Quain's Condition Pills, and can recommend them so far as far ahead of common pills for constipation of the bowels; they do not have the debilitating effect of common purgatives I have taken.

MRS. J. B. GOODWIN.

NORTHWOOD CENTRE, March 1, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I saw Dr. Quain's Condition Pills highly recommended, and sent for a package, and I feel that they have done more for me than all the medicine and Doctor bills I have ever paid. I can recommend them to others, as a good and sure medicine. Please send me another package as soon as possible. MARTHA NOECROSS.

BRISTOL, N. H., Feb. 27, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have made a fair trial of these Condition Pills, and liked them very much. I think they are all they are recommended. They are a good Liver invigorator.

N. F. DANFORTH.

SALEM DEPOT, N. H., March 8, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I think these pills (Dr. Quain's Condition Pills) are the best I ever saw. my wife and I are both victims of Liver and Kidney Complaint, and general debility. We have taken about half that package you sent me, and find a marked improvement in our health. Shall send for more soon.

Yours truly,

J. S. STEPHENS.

SOUTH PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., March 11, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have given Dr. Quain's Condition Pills a trial, and find I can honestly recommend them, they having materially improved the soreness and lameness with which I have been afflicted since getting upon my feet after the severity of left side that I suffered last October. I desire you to send me another package as soon as convenient, as I am anxious to continue the use of them, not now a resident of New England, I have lived in Central Vermont more than fifty years, and trust Dr. Quain's Pills will not long be away from the section. MOSES SHELDON.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have been troubled with Biliousness, Headache, and Dizziness, for a long time, and had the Dyspepsia so bad there were but few kinds of food my stomach would bear at all. I commenced taking your pills, have got most of one package, and now enjoy eating as well as I ever did, am not troubled with dizziness unless by taking cold, and have been greatly benefited by the use of them. A. L. PAGE.

FRANCESTOWN, March 13, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have found Dr. Quain's Condition Pills to be all you claim for them in Kidney Complaint, poor blood, and weak nerves. May they be circulated over the land and found in every household where medicine is needed. I inclose 50 cts. for another package as soon as convenient.

JOHN T. FELCH.

Better Health than for 10 Years.

CHESTER, N. H., Oct. 17, 1874.

MR. LANE:—I have taken one package of Condition Pills; find them in my case all they are recommended; have not enjoyed so good health for the last ten years as I have since I commenced using the Condition Pills. Shall be happy to recommend them to others. WILLIAM H. FELLOWS.

☞ DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are sold by the Agents of the American Medicine Co. A package will be forwarded upon receipt of fifty cents, by THOMAS W. LANE, agent, Manchester, N. H.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,

Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents.'

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend All inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges.

PULMOCINE.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the fogs trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, etc., USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LOCAL AGENTS WANTED.

An Agent Wanted for Each Town and County in the United States.

Parties desiring to act as agents must accompany their application by a letter of recommendation as to character and responsibility from and signed by the Editor of a newspaper published in the town or county for which the agent proposes to act. The agency is to sell the goods of the Industrial Exhibition Company.

BONDS, $20 EACH. HALF BONDS, $10 EACH. QUARTER BONDS, $5 EACH.

The Industrial Exhibition Company will furnish agents with circulars, etc., etc.

Each newspaper published in the town where an agent is located will, as soon as the agency is established, be given an advertisement, advertising such agency and the Company, and fully explaining the plans, purposes and objects of the Company. Such advertisement will continue in such papers as long as an agency is successfully conducted.

The Industrial Exhibition Company is the first to adopt the plan so long in use by the European governments of issuing bonds when the principal is made secure and not risked, but where there is a chance for a large premium, an investment of $20 is sure to return to the investor $21—one dollar more than cost—and the holder of a $20 Bond may obtain a premium either of $50, $100, $200, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000 or $100,000. The interest, which is ordinarily distributed to all the bond holders pro rata, is in this loan distributed by chance. The purchaser of a bond knows he will receive back his investment, with a small rate of interest, he has a chance in the above named premiums, which are simply the distribution of interest on the whole loan.

Each bond participates in four drawings each year, until it has drawn a premium, when it is surrendered, the premium paid, and the bond cancelled.

The Industrial Exhibition Company, under a special charter granted by the State of New York, is given authority to issue Lottery Bonds. Legislature of the State, recognizing the great benefits which will arise from the success of this enterprise, have exempted all the real estate and property of the Company from taxation and assessments for five years, and has also conferred other great privileges.

Every American who understands the purposes of the Company will, of course, feel a pride in aiding it to a successful termination.

Each individual who buys a bond becomes an owner and an interested party, and when he views the structure erected with his money can say, "I aided to erect in our country the most magnificent building the world has ever seen, a palace which, in truth, represents the industry, energy and mechanical genius of the American people."

The manufacturers and the inventors of America are peculiarly interested in the success of this enterprise, for the reason that it is to be their home, where all their inventions and manufactures can be exhibited and sold.

The building will contain 5,320,000 square feet of space.

A CHANCE FOR ALL!

$100,000 GIVEN AWAY!

The Union Pocket Book Co.

having secured by cash purchase the entire bankrupt stock of Messrs H. Morland & Co., consisting of 400,000 Portmonies, (POCKET BOOKS,)

of the best manufacture and superb quality, each pocket book being made of Real Morocco Leather, to effect a speedy clearance sale and having in view the old motto of the house, Certain Profits with Quick Returns, the company have decided on giving each individual purchaser the full benefit of this remunerative bargain by giving away One Hundred Thousand Dollars, in

2818 MONEY PRIZES!

THE FIRST PRIZE BEING		$20,000 CASH.
" SECOND "	"	$10,000 "
" THIRD "	"	$5,000 "

and 2815 other money prizes as follows, viz.:

25	PRIZES OF	$1000	CASH, EACH.
40	" "	500	" "
50	" "	100	" "
100	" "	50	" "
200	" "	20	" "
400	" "	10	" "
2000	" "	5	" "

The above prizes with the cost of advertising and other incidental expenses, giving the purchasers two-thirds of the profit that accrue on the entire sale, and to enable every one to have an equal share in the profits, with the certainty of receiving treble the value for their small investment and the further opportunity of surely gaining a share in the distribution of $100,000, and this too by the riskless outlay of $1 only.

The Union Pocket Book Co. will deliver free to any address on receipt of One Dollar, a GENUINE MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK, together with a COUPON TICKET,

entitling and giving the holder a share in the drawing of 2818 CASH PRIZES, of the aggregate value of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS CURRENCY. The Company guarantee to return to each purchaser at least treble the value for his money.

How can this be accomplished? is a question many will doubtless ask themselves, and foreseeing this we offer the following lucid explanation.

The Trade is large, and anxious to dispose of and realize on the entire stock of the bankrupts in one sale, accepted our offer of $ 00,000 cash for the lot; after advertising for some time (as per one month, and not receiving a single offer, which in the present depression of business and almost total stagnation of trade is not to be wondered at; notwithstanding that our offer was one third less than the actual cost of the manufacture of the Pocket Books. The assignee having at once realized the effects of the bankrupts, in the interests of the creditors he had no alternative but to accept this offer and sell us the lot at one-third the cost, thereby enabling us to distribute in prizes $100,000 amongst the purchasers, and at the same time retain a fair marginal profit for ourselves, thus enabling us to obtain fully double the value of the amount you forward us and it depends on your luck what amount you gain of the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Money Prizes.

THE SALE WILL POSITIVELY CLOSE ON

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1875,

and orders for pocket books should therefore be forwarded to us at once—no application by letter after Saturday, November 20th, can be entertained.

1000 of the Pocket Books are of the patented manufacture, superior in value to the remainder, the retail price of the same being $8, and these will be forwarded to early purchasers until disposed of.

Therefore those who send immediate orders will reap the advantage of receiving a superior article.

Remittances can be sent to either for one or any number of pocket books by draft, post office orders, or greenbacks in registered letter by express, etc.

Post Office orders and drafts to be made payable in favor of Frank Seward, the Company's Manager. Post Office orders to be drawn on General Post Office, Philadelphia, and drafts on the First National Bank.

The Drawing of Prizes will take place at the Company's Principal Offices, 530 Locust Street, Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, on and the winning numbers will be advertised in this Journal and the principal Philadelphia and New York newspapers of Saturday, November 27th.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1875

The Prizes will be forwarded in drafts, greenbacks or by post office order per registered letter by Monday's morning mails, November 29th, or if preferred prizes can be sent by express, or in any other manner purchasers may select, providing same be signified by them when forwarding orders for pocket books.

Remember this is no lottery, but a bona fide business system founded on a true financial basis which enables the Company to convert into money an otherwise surplus stock, and that too with a gain to it to both the purchasers and themselves, effect ng a speedy clearance stock which in the present dull times is the great desideratum that in no other way can be successfully attained.

We guarantee each pocket book to be of the best manufacture; of pure morocco leather and intrinsically worth in retail trade at the lowest rate of from $3 to $4.

This is an opportunity that should not be let pass by; one and all should embrace this chance; We afford every one an opportunity of realizing a share in $10,000 at the insignificant outlay of $1 (one dollar) for which we return not one but five fold the value who let this fortuitous chance escape them will have only themselves to blame.

All letters replied to same day as received. We advise intending purchasers to forward orders immediately which will prevent disappointment and receive prompt attention.

Remember, every one who sends ONE DOLLAR before November 20th, 1875, receives A MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK of the value of from $3 to $4 and a COUPON, giving them a share in the drawing of $100,000.

ADDRESS ALL ORDERS, LETTERS, ETC., TO

The Union Pocket Book Company,

SOUTH-EAST CORNER 6TH AND LOCUST STREETS,

PHILADELPHIA, PENN.

P. S.—Drawing absolute on Wednesday, November 24th. No postponement in the remote contingency of any number of the pocket books remaining unsold; a slight reduction not exceeding $5000 may be made proportionately from the prizes. mowle

For Diphtheria

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

Is a Speedy Remedy.

IT SOOTHS IMMEDIATELY,

— AND —

CURES THE WORST CASES

SCRIBNERS' MONTHLY for 1876.

The publishers invite attention to the following list of some of the attractive articles secured for Scribner's Monthly, for the coming year. In the field of fiction, besides numerous novelettes and shorter stories, there will be

TWO REMARKABLE SERIAL STORIES, By American Authors.

The first of these, now complete in our hands,

"GABRIEL CONROY," By BRET HARTE,

Begins in the November number,

and will run for twelve months. This is Mr. Harte's first extended work. The scenes and characters, which the author has chosen from his favorite field, California, are painted with character, rich vividness and power, and the work is without doubt the most graphic record of California life that has yet appeared.

We shall also begin in the January number,

"PHILIP NOLAN'S FRIENDS," OR, SHOW YOUR PASSPORTS." By EDWARD EVERETT HALE.

The scene of this story is laid in the South Western territory, now forming the States of Louisiana and Texas, at the time of Aaron Burr's treason. The characters lived in a section which was now American, now French, and now Spanish, and this record of their adventurous lives makes a story of intense and unflagging interest throughout.

A SECOND "FARMER'S VACATION." By Col. GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

Col. Waring is now in Europe, visiting, in a row-boat ride of two hundred and fifty miles, one of the most fertile and interesting of the vine growing valleys of Europe. This second series of papers promises to be even more interesting than that with which our readers are already familiar.

CENTENNIAL LETTERS, Edited by John Vance Cheney.

A rare collection of Revolutionary Letters, mainly from stores in the hands of the descendants of Col. Joseph Ward. They are full of interest, and will be read with a rare relish in connection with the Centennial celebration of the year.

BRILLIANTLY ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES ON AMERICAN COLLEGES,

Written respectively by their friends, will appear during the year. The universal interest in college life makes these papers especially timely, and will secure for them unusual attention.

OLD NEW YORK,

Elegantly illustrated articles on Old New-York, by John F. Mines, will appear at once, and will attract the attention of all, in this city, who are much interested in the development of the great metropolis, and affectionately remember the quaint peculiarities of its olden time.

Every number is profusely illustrated, thus enabling us to give to our descriptive and narrative articles, an interest and permanent value never attained in a non illustrated periodical. Under its accustomed management the magazine will in the future be devoted, as it has been in the past, to sound literature and Christian principles.

The Editorial Departments occupy over twenty pages of each number and contain Dr. Holland's vigorous and timely editorials, as well as Reviews of the latest works in Art, Literature, and Science.

TERMS:

$4.00 A YEAR, in advance; 35 cents a Number. The 10 vols. complete, Nov. 1870, to Oct. 1875, bound in maroon cloth.....$50.00

do. do. bound in half morocco, 50.00

Vols. begin in November and May. Any of the earlier volumes (I to VIII) will be supplied separately to parties who wish them to complete sets at this rate; in cloth, $2 00; half morocco, $3.00.

Booksellers and Postmasters will be supplied at rates that will enable them to fill any of the above offers.

Subscribers will please remit in P. O. Money Orders, or in Bank Checks or Drafts, or by registered letters. Money in letters not registered, at sender's risk.

VALE!

BY HARRIET M'EWEN KIMBALL.

Good-night, O Earth! the nights are growing long;
The days are brief;
Life hath one solemn burden for its song:
"As fades the leaf."

Good-night, poor World! if thou art full of sin,
Why, so am I!
In this proud heart to judge would I begin,
Nor self pass by.

Good-night, my foe! not all the wrong is thine;
My share I own;
Forgive! we, human, know one word divine!—
The sun goes down.

Thee,
Good-night, good friend; though poor my gifts to
I will not fret;
The richer thou whose bounty is so free,
And sweet the debt.

No longer to revenge nor to repay
I strive or seek.
Empty I came—must empty go away,
Empty and weak.

As one who wakes no more to smile or weep
Another day,
So would I lay me down to sleep,
And humbly say:

O Thou who hadst not where to lay Thy head,
As poor were I,
Did not Thy mercy make for me a bed
Whereon to die!

Marrying a Reporter.

Lalt week young Paddingtoe, a reporter on the Mentax, got married. The next morning his bride took an opportunity to avail herself of a wife's dearest privilege and went through his pockets. She found some interesting letters from tailors, boarding mistresses and washerwomen, but these received only a passing glance. She scorned the writers. But what fascinated her attention was his private memorandum book. She read there a number of items which revealed to her pure mind a degree of degradation and duplicity which racked her innocent breast. This is what she read: "Mollie Maguire deserted September 9th—Annie Eversham, jealous of Ida Elwood, drew pistol 14th, missed, exposure prevented by compromise, no information—William Mauler promises revelation of secrets of counterfeiting, 19th inst.—How to Make money Easy, splendid article—Martha Medytater, back gate 11:30, arrangements for elopement, parents discover the plot—true love crushed in bud—Michael Maachow, murderer, threatens to confess to-morrow afternoon, hush money wanted, must see him"—and such harrowing deeds and assignations with the wicked did she read till tears blinded her eyes, and, broken hearted, she silently slipped from the house, and, taking the first train to Alleghany, was soon sobbing on the bosom of her father. She could only say that she had been betrayed by the brute Paddington, who associated only with counterfeiters, bloodthirsty outlaws, and other awful people, the worst of her sex, and the old man patted her on the head and took down his double barrelled gun. He reached Paddington's room before the unsuspecting monster was out of bed. He was aroused by the entrance of his frantic father-in-law, who filled the calves of both legs with bird-shot as the young man sprang to an upright position, and blew a hundred bushels of corn-husks out of the mattress, and set the bed clothing on fire, when he rushed out, followed by the mangled reporter, crying "Murder!" The two women who were scrubbing the stairs knew the bride had been murdered by two maniacs, and they threw the buckets of waters, chunks of soap, and scrubbing brushes after them, and yelled for the police, who were dozing against the telegraph pole on the corner. It has all been explained; but Paddington, who has a "sub" on, and is laid up with both legs bandaged, has given out that he has gone on a visit to Philadelphia.

A Modern Solomon.

"Hwang Lee and Ah Wing," said His Honor, as he bent a rather low brow upon a pair of Celestials who stood before him. "What do you say to the charge of disorderly conduct brought against you?"

"Ah Wing he lun away my dog," pleaded Hwang Lee.

"Hwang Lee whatee Melican man callee damlire. Hwang Lee comee my laundly, stealee my dog all likee Melican man, damthief," pleaded Ah Wing.

"Is it not remarkable," said the Judge, "that these strange people, so far behind the civilized world in many respects, yet possess in common with us an affection for the lower animals? I must discover to which of the prisoners the quadruped rightfully belongs, and that, too, by means of a strategy once employed by a somewhat famous biblical predecessor. Officer Brown, bring the dog and a meat-axe into Court."

It was done.

"Now, then, Ah Wing and Hwang Lee," resumed the Court, assuming a style of pronunciation meant to be clearly comprehensible, "Officer, comee chopee doggee in twoee. Ah Wing takee halfee and Hwang Lee takee halfee. Understandee?"

A painful silence was at last broken by Ah Wing, who remarked calmly, "Allee light, Judge, so officer give me halfee got em dog's libs in him."

"Affection has spoken in silence," said the Judge, triumphantly; "let Hwang Lee have the dog."

"Thankee, Judge," said that prisoner, as he lifted up the obese animal. "Ah Wing he not havee dambite; Hwang Lee eatee dog all up self."

"Five dollars or five days each," said the disgusted Judge, as his estimate of the celestial in human nature fell down to zero.

News and Notes.

Both La Page and the democracy agree that nothing ought to be said about the "dead past."—Lowell Courier.

A reporter of a Philadelphia paper has been shadowing Baker, the man who it has been stated was to visit England in search of Charlie Ross, and pronounces him a fraud. Nelse Boothe was also found by the reporter in a little village called Lewisville, in Chester county, South Carolina. He stated that he had never heard of such a man as Walter Baker, and pronounced the letters, which have been credited to his authorship, as the productions of Baker's own hand.

Lane, the newly elected Congressman from Oregon, is a son of "old Joe" Lane, and is a rag baby democrat.

The suit against the proprietors of the Boston Herald for $30,000 damages for exposing the "Cardiff Giant" fraud, ended in a verdict for the defendants. That is to say, the plaintiff, C. O. Gott, got nothing. Served him right.

By the stoppage of a large iron manufacturing firm at Leeds, England, 10,000 men are thrown out of employment.

Two years ago when Jay Gould made a settlement with the Erie Railway Company a balance of some $1,400,000 remained, and he was given the privilege of paying $1,000,000 of it in stock of the United States Express Company. This stock has declined from 95 to 45, and recently Gould wrote a letter to the attorney of the Erie Company offering to make good his promise, and the result was that Gould has agreed to give and the company to accept the equivalent of ten thousand shares of the United States Express Company's stock at the present market price, about $450,000.

The diptheria in Jersey City and Hoboken is alarmingly fatal, about seventy-five per cent. of the cases resulting in death.

The Brooklyn City Court calendar for November contains three actions for libel growing out of the Beecher scandal. They are brought by Henry C. Bowen against the Brooklyn Eagle, Thomas Kinsella and Thomas McDermott. If these suits are tried, a great deal of evidence in the Tilton-Beecher scandal will be brought out.

There have been eighty-four cases of yellow fever at New Orleans, this season, and forty-six deaths.

A large box arrived among other baggage at the Providence depot Thursday night, on the 6.15 train from Providence, which excited considerable curiosity, as there was a grating in one side of the box, and the baggage master was told that there was a man in there. Shortly after its arrival the cover was kicked off by the person inside, and a woolly head appeared at the opening and asked, in Spanish, for a pipe, which was furnished him, and he commenced smoking, putting the pipe into his mouth with his feet, as he had no arms. The box and contents were carried into another room, where there was a fire. The live freight said he came from San Domingo, where he left a wife and child. He was fed by some of the employes at the depot and appeared to have a good appetite. He remained in the box at the depot until noon yesterday, when he was carried off by a man, apparently a Spaniard, who was understood to say that the man in the box was to be taken to Haverhill.—Boston Herald.

The death of Hon. Amasa Walker, of North Brookfield, takes away one of the most useful and distinguished citizens of Massachusetts.

The Secretary of War has directed that the First Regiment of Artillery, now stationed in the Department of the South, be transferred to the Department of the East; the Fifth Artillery, now in the Department of the East, is transferred to the Department of the South, the order to take effect on the 1st of December.

Charles Bradley, of Brattleboro, Vt., had his carriage smashed by his runaway horse recently, and asked damages of the town for a defective highway; whereupon S. N. Herrick, first Selectman, took his own spirited steed and went with Mr. Bradley to show him that the highway was not to be blamed. Herrick's horse also took fright at the same place, and both were thrown from the carriage, and too much injured to debate the question farther.

Business in the various mills at Franklin is as follows: Aiken's stocking mill and Sulloway's stocking mill are running on three-quarters' time; Stevens' mill is driven with orders and is running till nine o'clock; the sash and blind shop has more than it can do; the Franklin woollen mill still keeps all its hands, and runs on full time.

It costs two-thirds as much to run the department of the Comptroller of New York as to conduct the business of the national treasury. The total force in office of the treasurer of the United States is one hundred and ninety-six, and their salaries aggregate $414,000, or an average of a trifle over $1000 to each individual. The Comptroller of New York employs one hundred and fifty persons, at an aggregate salary of $225,000, or an average of $1,500 to each person.

Kattengill & Campbell, merchants, of London, have failed. Their liabilities are stated at $2,000,000.

The German navy, says the Allgemeine Zeitung, requires in time of peace so small a proportion of the seafaring population of the country that it can hardly be said to interfere at all with the requirements of the merchant service. Moreover, the German navy actually supplies the merchant service with trained seamen; between the years 1869 and 1873 about 1,400 men have received their discharge, most of whom are believed to be now serving on board merchant ships.

At the annual meeting of the New Hampshire Women's League, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Armenia S. White, of Concord; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Eliza Adams, of Concord; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. O. W. Scott, of Dover; Treasurer, Miss Lizzie A. White, of Concord.

An Athens, Ohio, special says that one Krumsley, a colored man, with his wife and infant, left three small children alone, while they started to town in the evening. The house took fire, burning the children to death. It is supposed that it was caused by the overturning of a lamp by the children.

A Heroic Woman.

Mrs. Samuel J. Pete, living at 51 Blue Hill avenue, Boston Highlands, is a brave woman. Five houses in that neighborhood have recently been entered by thieves, who gained entrance by turning the fastenings of the lower windows with a thin knife thrust between the sashes. The Herald says Mrs. Pete heard a slight noise in the lower part of the house about four o'clock, Saturday morning, and thinking that her married daughter, who slept below, was unwell, got up, lit a lamp and started down stairs, when she discovered a man lying on his face on the hall floor. She took in the situation at once and acted upon it promptly. She called her daughter by name, and receivin no answer, returned to her room and pretended to go to bed again, being careful to make the bed squeak loud enough for the burglar to hear it, thus making him believe that she did not see him. After remaining quiet a few minutes she put her slippers on and softly crept down the rear stairs and out of the rear door, thence to the police station, bareheaded and with nothing on but her night dress and slippers, the distance being a quarter of a mile. Upon her arrival Officer Brown started back with her immediately. She let him in at the front door, and he found the burglar in the bedroom of her daughter and son-in-law, who were both asleep. The burglar had secured a gold watch and a set of jewelry. Officer Brown started for the burglar, who threatened to shoot him, but Brown was not so easily frightened, and immediately knocked him down, after which the thief walked and went to the station quietly. The burglar, who gave his name as George Moore, is a smooth-faced man, says he is 21 years of age and hails from Portland, but refused to tell anything more about himself. On searching him another gold watch and a small amount of money were found. These were stolen from the house of Nicholas T. Bean, 55 Blue Hill avenue, Friday night; also a pocketbook, which with $18 in bills, was stolen from George A. Burbank's house, 37 Blue Hill avenue. Mr. Pete is away from home.

Jumping the Pocahontas Mine.

The complications surrounding the Pocahontas mine, situated at Rosita, not far from Canon City, have finally resulted in a fierce and fatal conflict, by which one life has been sacrificed, if not more. The man killed was the notorious Major Graham, who was well known in Denver as one of the most dangerous of daring desperadoes.

The Major was a native of New York, and in the early part of the war became conspicuous as a partisan commander of the Union forces in North Carolina. He was a perfect athlete, a splendid horseman, an accurate shot, and as daring and unscrupulous as any man who ever drew a sabre. For his services he was appointed, at the close of the war, a first lieutenant in the regular army, and assigned to duty in the West. By the services he rendered against the Indians, aided by more or less political influence, Lieut. Graham soon became a full-blown Major, and as such became a special favorite at Fort Leavenworth and in the city of that name. While at this post he paid his addresses to one of the most attractive ladies of Leavenworth, and it was only by an accident that the marriage was not consummated.

The night previous to the day on which the ceremony was to take place, the commanding officer at Fort Leavenworth received direct instructions from the War Department to place Major Graham in irons, and keep him in solitary confinement till further orders. Although the order created an immense surprise at the fort, it was literally obeyed, and Major Graham found himself in a felon's cell, instead of occupying, as he had hoped, a bridal couch. A court marshal, however, subsequently explained what seemed at the time to be inexplicable. The evidence before the court established the fact that Major Graham, while wearing the honorable uniform of a United States officer, had been the secret head of a band of horse thieves in Kansas; had also, while in Utah, been in league with the lowest class of gamblers and thieves; and that he had systematically stolen and sold horses from the stables of the Government. The court martial sentenced the Major to be dishonorably dismissed from the service, to be debarred from ever holding any office of honor or trust under the Government, and to serve a term of ten years in a military prison. Through some unknown influence this sentence was endorsed only so far as it related to the dismissal of the Major from the service.

As soon as he was in possession of a qualified freedom, the Major started for Denver, and here became, as of yore, the associate of evil and dangerous classes. His first attempt at public robbery was made on Paymaster Brooks at River Bend. For this offence he was tried and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Before his term expired he organized an escape, which proved partially successful. We say partial, because he and his associates made good their escape, but they were all subsequently captured, one of them being killed, and the Major himself severely wounded. He served out the rest of his term, and, when released, went to Rosita, where he opened a whiskey den. It was probably here that he arranged, with others, the "jumping" of the Pocahontas mine. The "jumpers" kept possession until day before yesterday, when all the miners in the neighborhood resolved on clearing the mine of its fraudulent possessors. How this was done the despatches tell. The Major was caught on his way to Rosita. On being halted, he turned to run, but fell dead in his tracks, pierced by some twenty-five balls. Graham's partner, a man named Boyd, was arrested shortly afterward, and is likely hung before this.

Quick Time.

[Toledo Commercial.]

One evening last week the engine drawing the fast mail train east of Cleveland became disabled, which caused a delay of two hours and thirty-seven minutes. A portion of the time was made up between Cleveland and Toledo, but the major part was gained between here and Chicago. The train was taken by Engine No. 75, Martin Squires, engineer, from Toledo to Elkhart, 134 miles, in three hours and five minutes. At Elkhart, Engine 74, Martin Hunt, engineer, was in readiness, and the change being quickly made, the train was soon whirling away faster than ever toward Chicago, 101 miles away. This was made in two hours and thirty minutes, or a total of five hours and thirty-five minutes from Toledo to Chicago. The time is simply unprecedented.

—In the grasp of an elephant, the Troy Times tells the following story of a man who visited Forepaugh's menagerie: John Hooley, an iron moulder, noticing the elephants, thought to have a little fun with them, and getting some apples and candy proceeded to feed the animals. After feeding the male elephant, he turned to the female to divide his favors; the animal seemed somewhat restless, but he did not question her kindness, and approached her fearlessly. Tossing her a lump of candy, it passed at once into her mouth, and lodged in one of the glands under the tongue. Mr. Hooley perceived that something was wrong, and, divining the cause, thrust his hand into her mouth; in removing the lump his nail scratched so deeply as to draw blood from the delicate lining of the mouth in sufficient quantity to stain his hand. Without warning the animal wound its trunk about his body, from left to right, and gave him a boa-constrictor-like hug, which took his breath away and made his head spin. With remarkable coolness he made neither opposition nor struggle, but allowed himself to drop and slipped out of the deadly coil. He crawled between her forelegs and half rolled, half sprang out of her reach, as she turned nimbly around, at the length of her chain, with uplifted trunk. He was slightly inconvenienced by the bruises, but not so much as to particularly annoy him, and went to his work as usual on Monday morning. He worked the following days until Wednesday, when, on reaching the foundry, he suddenly fell to the floor and began bleeding from the mouth. A physician declared that a blood vessel had been ruptured and that Hooley's condition was very serious. His symptoms yesterday were not improved, and a priest was called to administer the last consolations of his religion.

—This beautiful "Ode to Autumn" appears in the Burlington Hawkeye:

The grasshopper creaks in the leavy gloom,
And the bumble bee bumbleth the live-long day.
But where have they gone with the bran new broom?
And what has been done to the buzz saw's play?

Oh, it's little he thinks of the cold mince pie,
And, it's little he seeks of the raw ice cream;
For the dying year with its tremulous sigh
Shall waken the lingering loon from his dream.

Oh, list! For the cricket, now far and now near,
Shrillfully singeth his roundelay,
And the negligent noodle his noisy cheer,
And where the doodle-bug eats the hay.

Oh, the buzz-saw so busily buzzes the stick,
And bumbling the bumble bee bumbleth his tune;
While the cricket cricks crickingly down at the creek,
And the noodle calls noisily out, "It is noon!"

The dog fennel sighs, "She is here! she is here!" And the smart-weed says dreamily, "Give us a rest!" The hop vine speaks tenderly, "Give us a beer," And the jimson-weed hollers, "Oh, pull down your vest."

—During the recent excursion of Texan editors, an intelligent compositor at Chicago alluded to one of their number, whose paper is called the Marlin Moving Ball as the conductor of the Mooing Bull. The editor went round to the office to ask the int. comp. to come out and take a horn, but the int. comp. had taken down his coat and sold his string within ten minutes after the paper appeared.

—We started out to shoot a squirrel the other day, and six men came up and paid their subscriptions. They thought we were going out collecting. But if they had waited to obtain the squirrel's private opinion of our skill as a marksman, their fear would not have got the better of their usual cool judgment.—Turner's Falls Reporter.

—A woman cured her husband of staying out late at nights by going to the door when he came home and whispering through the key-hole, "Is that you, Willie?" Her husband's name is John, and he stays at home every night now, and sleeps with one eye open and a revolver under his pillow.

—A curious basket-picnic and ball was held, recently, in Leavenworth mountain, Colorado. It was held in a subterranean chamber, and the cards of invitation stated that dancing would be continued until ten boxes of wax candles had been consumed.

—It is unfortunate that there is no light to reveal the expression of the man's face who finds the match-box empty in the middle of the night.

BY THE JUDGE OF PROBATE FOR SAID COUNTY.

To the heirs at law and creditors to the estate of Ann Pickett, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased, testate, and all persons interested in said estate, greeting.

You are hereby notified that Almira J. Goodrich, executrix of the will of said deceased will present her account of administering said estate at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in and for said County, on the second Tuesday of November next, at 10 o'clock A. M., for examination and allowance. And at the same Court will be taken into consideration for allowance, and to be added to the list of claims, the private claim of said executrix against said estate amounting to $544.

You are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court to be heard thereon, and to make such objections as you may then have. And notice is hereby required to be given by causing this citation to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least one week prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge,
WM. M. HUNNEWELL,

MANUFACTORY.
ONLY 4 Rattan Ware Factories in the United States, and one of them has just begun manufacturing in Portsmouth. The furniture made by this firm is made of the very best quality of East India Rattan, and for beauty, attractiveness, ease and durability is more desirable than any other furniture. We claim that the generality of our work is better than can be procured elsewhere in the United States. Few people comparatively have ever seen many pieces of this attractive furniture, and we cordially invite any one to call and examine our work even if they have no idea of purchasing. We warrant every piece of our ware to be as good as can be bought elsewhere and at less price.
Don't fail to call up, and see what few people in the United States have seen; viz, a collection of this ware. OVER FREEMAN'S OYSTER HOUSE, on Congress street, up one flight.
Rattan and Willow Work of any and all descriptions, repaired and made to order.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TO-DAY.

Brown's Bronchial Troches.
Norfolk Oysters—W. Freeman.
Two Sermons by Rev. James DeNormandie—J. H. Foster.

Jottings.

The sale of reserved seat season tickets for the S. P. C. A. lyceum course, begins at the Temple at half-past ten o'clock, to-day.

Buckley's Serenaders give one of their old-time entertainments at the Temple. Swaine Buckley, Jake Budd, Pete Lee, and Collins and Moore, the well-known dancers, are with the company. The closing burlesque, "La Somnambula," will be played with the full strength of the company, the music being the same as given with the legitimate opera of the same name. Reserved seats may be purchased at Preston's at seventy-five cents each.

Moses Brothers now receive their morning papers over the Boston & Maine road, via New Market Junction.

In the Municipal Court of Boston on Friday, the case of Martin V. B. Stimson, the alleged land swindler, was again continued for two weeks, and he was held in $2000 for examination at that time.

Major J. D. Myrick, of Fitchburg, Mass. will deliver his lecture, "The Last Campaign," in the Autumn Lyceum Course at the M. E. Church, this evening. Major Myrick was a gallant officer in the Union army, a participant in the bloody battles of the "last campaign" from Five Forks to Appomattox, and is well qualified to narrate its thrilling scenes.

The sale of nice goods at Pfeiffer's store on Congress street commences to-day, affording the ladies a grand opportunity to obtain goods at cost.

In these days of economy it is as well to save as to earn. Mrs. Pickering, at No. 5 High street, cleanses soiled feathers at little cost, and they look as good as new afterward.

A few flakes of snow fell in this city, Saturday morning, a precursor of further visitations of the same sort.

Lieut.-Comdr. Mortimer L. Johnson, U. S. N., is ordered to duty as executive officer of the receiving ship Wabash at Charlestown.

Chief Engineer John W. Moore, U. S. N., is detached from U. S. S. Hartford and placed on waiting orders.

The Spingler House, of New York city, has the reputation of being a quiet and cozy hotel in Gotham. It is centrally located, easily reached by street cars or stages from all steamboat lines and railroad depots, thus saving carriage hire to its guests. It is kept on the European plan. The rates of charges are decidedly lower than at the larger hotels, while the rooms, restaurants and other accommodations cannot be excelled. Passengers for New York will do well to give the Spingler House—Union Square—a trial.

Carpenter William F. Laighton, U. S. N., is transferred to the receiving ship Wabash.

Mr. Thomas Holt has vacated the office of chief engineer of the Eastern railway. Mr. Holt was some time ago elected to the position of chief engineer of the Eastern and Maine Central roads at an excellent salary, and with a large number of clerks in the office at Portland. The office has been a bone of contention for a long time, owing to its great cost, and the belief that it "didn't pay." Others objected because one of Mr. Holt's first acts was to cause the resignation of D. Z. Smith, a road-master, who had been with the Eastern road since it was built. Mr. Trafton Hatch, an experienced railroad man, takes Holt's place on the Eastern road between Portland and Boston. Mr. C. M. Ingalls becomes carpenter of the road. This latest change is undoubtedly the final one of importance, as regards persons, in the policy begun with the selection of Mr. Batchelder for superintendent. All of the late changes seem to be highly pleasing to the public along the line. It is reported that a change is to be made in the passenger tariff between Boston, Lynn and Salem, and also that the commutation tickets will be abolished and the old package tickets again restored. Henry L. Williams of Salem, is mentioned for the presidency of the road.—Boston Herald,

Among the promotions of midshipmen to be ensigns, to date from July 16, 1874, are William Winder of this city, and John C. Fremont, Jr.

There are more than 800 officers and men employed at the navy yard, and there is no election coming off for more than four months, hereabouts. What have our democratic friends to say about corruption in politics and the "navy yard crushing machine?"

Major Alfred J. Hill is President of the Third Regiment organization.

A Traveller dispatch says: Detectives Kent and Chapman, of Boston, have unearthed a gang of freight car thieves at South Berwick, and have recovered over $1000 worth of property stolen from the Eastern Railroad. They arrested a young man by the name of "Gus" Bragdon on suspicion. The detectives, having watched his movements for some time, found that he had plenty of money and did not do anything for a living. They next arrested George Warren, a companion of Bragdon, and the result of these arrests was the recovery of a great variety of stolen goods, some of which were found secreted by these fellows, and the rest having been sold to parties in Dover, Great Falls, York and South Berwick. It is stated that a marine at the Portsmouth Navy Yard is connected with the gang, and that Deputy Sheriff Josiah Paul, of South Berwick, has gone to arrest him. The residents in the vicinity in which these fellows lived speak in the highest terms of the shrewdness of the officers who had the case in charge, and feel greatly relieved to think they are to be rid of the persons who have not only been robbing the railroads, but committing thieving depredations in the towns in the locality.

The elegant articles to be disposed of at the bazaar of Union Rebecca Degree Lodge this week are now on exhibition at the following places: Piano forte, Franklin Hall; case of silver ware, China dinner and toilet sets, and Kearsarge Mills cloth, Betton & Co.'s; cuckoo clock, Hutchinson & Connell's; gold-head ebony cane and rifle, Melcher's; reclining chair, Stokell & Co.'s; case of wax flowers, Foster's; Buffalo robe, Dearborn's; fur riding gloves, Berry's; sewing machine, Joy's. Several half-barrels of choice flour are to be given each evening to the poor of the city.

How It Looks Abroad.

An unknown correspondent, "Munson," writes as follows to the Providence Journal:

"Portsmouth, N. H., has a population of a little over 10,000 inhabitants. They support two rum distilleries, three ale breweries, and about one hundred grog shops!

Mr. Jones, a M. C., is a brewer of ale.

"The "town farm," is over-supplied with paupers, and the surplus has sent to been the "county farm."

There is a temperance element in the city, and three temperance organizations are quite well sustained.

One gentleman refuses to a let a basement store for $600 to a liquor dealer, and he can let it for no other purpose on account of the locati asit hon. been unoccupied for some two years.

The rum party has ruled the city for two years."

DIED.

Enfeebling Pursuits.

Nature inended that we should use our legs freely and revenges herself upon those who constantly sit at their daily avocations indoors by depriving them of that robust health which usually falls to the share of those who labor on foot in the open air, and very frequently inflicts upon them diseases and premature infirmities which they might have avoided by a more active life. Persons who become enfeebled in consequence of sedentary habits or occupations cannot do better than to resort to a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a means of recovering lost strength. Nor should they postpone a recourse to this supreme tonic and preventive of physical decay longer than is absolutely necessary, as weakness is too often the precursor of disease. The Bitters are also invaluable as a remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, intermittent fever, urinary and rheumatic complaints.

From the Philadelphia Presbyterian.

From the World's Dispensary Printing Office and Bindery, Buffalo, N. Y., we have received "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in plain English; or, Medicine Simplified," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Counselor-in-chief of the Board of Physicians and Surgeons at the World's Dispensary. Whoever helps humanity in its struggle with its inherent weaknesses and diseases, to bear or cure, is its benefactor. Ignorance is not only of itself a cause of disease and mortality, but it is the enemy of every effort to cure or mitigate. Nothing will so speedily remove this cause as knowledge (an elementary one at least) of the diseases to which we are heir, as well as those superinduced by our own imprudence. Dr. Pierce has rendered, in our judgment, a benefactor's service, both to the afflicted and to the profession, in his diagnosis of the diseases treated of, and in the presentation of the philosophic principles involved in their cause and removal. He is sparing of remedies, and usually prescribes such as are safe in unskilled hands. As a book merely of abstract knowledge, it is exceedingly readable and interesting, especially the following subjects:—Cerebral Physiology, Human Temperaments, Pseudo-Hygiene, the Nursing of the Sick, Sleep, Food, Ventilation, etc. In one chapter on another subject, so delicate in its nature that it is shut up beyond the domain of warning to all but physicians, so accursed in its results in modern society, he is most explicit, and alike true to God, to virtue, to life and to society, shows the truth as presented in the teachings of Scripture,—that life begins with conception,—with great force, to which is added faithful warnings.

Price of the Medical Adviser $1.50, sent post-paid. Address the author at Buffalo, N. Y.

A Favorable Notoriety.—The good reputation of Brown's Bronchial Troches for the relief of Coughs, Colds, and Throat Diseases, has given them a favorable notoriety.

LYON'S KATHAIRON prevents the Hair from falling out or turning gray, renews its growth, and gives strength and vigor. It is delightfully perfumed, and makes a splendid dressing. It is the cheapest and most desirable Hair Tonic ever produced. Used by the elite. Price only 50 cents.

MUST STOP SOMEWHERE.

It's certainly got to stop somewhere—
This poetry on the conductors
Who comes along and gobbles the fare
Of those who ride in the gay street kair;
So let us all at once prepare
For a new and needed departyare
Against the sins of the swell barbaire
Who shaves your face and clips your hair,
And, after daubing you with lathaire,
Straightway to the window doth repair
To witness a dog fight on the square,
And smiles to hear you cuss and swear,
As you sit in the horrid barber's chair
With your face besmeared with dry lathaire.

—Never listen to small, unpleasant statements made by your child, if they relate to his fellows. Not that a child should ever be made to feel that he has no sympathy in his small troubles, but it is just as easy, and even easier, to teach him a chivalric sentiment of endurance while he is in the beginning of his childhood, as it is afterward. If his companions be selfish and arrogant, show him how disagreeable and despicable a quality it is, and instruct him to abhor it in himself. Complaining is in itself a mean-spirited thing, and tattling is still worse, and a child cannot too soon comprehend its baseness. And here a wise, strong and careful distinction must be made. While the child is brought to feel the full sympathy of the mother, and an entirely confiding habit is encouraged about things that relate solely to himself, the small faults of his fellows are not subjects to be included in his confidence—they are to remain forever unspoken to her or to anybody. Of course, we do not mean that a knowledge of criminal conduct in a companion should not be shared with the parents, but even such relations should be told in the most sacred trust and secrecy, as one would confess their own sins to their Maker. The small petulances, trifling misdeeds, arrogant assumptions, demands for the best positions when at play, greed for sweetest pleasures by playmates, very naturally rouse dissensions among small people, just as they do among maturer ones. It is the mother's duty to discover these unpleasant habits in her child's companions; and while not encouraging a statement from him in regard to them, she should not permit the principles involved in them to pass without making them subjects of useful conversation. But the names of the children who are involved in the talk about misdeeds, should never be spoken by the mother. The principles of justice and honor are enough for a proper amount of discussion and instruction. To make the noble qualities of manhood and womanhood beautiful, their charms should be familiar to the child, and so interwoven in his young thoughts that selfishness, petulance, complaining, disapproving of others to make his own way seem right, should all seem sentiments unworthy of him.—The Metropolitan.

—An unlucky Frenchman was walking in the country with a friend who possessed a magnificent Newfoundland dog, and incautiously questioned the truth of the animal's sagacity. The dog's master, vexed at the slur cast on his favorite, gave his friend a push and knocked him into a shallow river. "Turk" immediately sprang in, and seizing one of the tails of the immersed man's coat, commenced to swim for land. Unfortunately, another Newfoundland, trotting along the other side of the river saw the affair, and also came to the rescue. Dog number two seized the other tail of the coat and wished to swim back to his master. Turk held fast and struggled for his side, and the owner of the coat cried in vain for help. At last the coat gave way and each swam proudly home with a piece of cloth in his mouth, so that Turk's master was obliged to plunge in himself to save his friend.

—A black pelican, measuring nine feet across its outstretched wings, has been shot near Denver, Col. Denver should adopt the pelican for its crest, for it can drink more and say less than any other bird.

Feminine Duplicity

[Burlington Hawk Eye.]

It was a South Hill girl. No other human divinity could play such a heartless trick on an admiring, nay, an adoring and adorable young man. He always praised the flowers she wore, and talked so learnedly about flowers in general that this incredulous young angel "put up a job" upon him—if one may be so sacrilegious as to write slang in connection with so much beauty and grace. She filled the bay-window with freshly potted weeds, which she had laboriously gathered from the sidewalk and in the hollow under the bridge, and when he came around that evening she led the conversation to flowers and her admirer to the bay-window. "Such lovely plants she had," she told him, and he just clasped his hands, and looked around him in silly ecstacy, trying to think of their names.

"This Patagonia influensis, Mr. Bogardus," she said, pointing to a miserable cheat of a young rag weed, "did you ever see anything more delicate?"

"Oh," he ejaculated, regarding it reverentially, "beautiful, beautiful; what delicately serrated leaves."

"And," she went on, with a face as calm and angelic as though she was only saying: "Now I lay me down to sleep," "it breaks out in the summer in such curious green blossoms, clinging to long slender stems. Only think of that, green blossoms." And she gazed pensively upon the young man as though she saw something green that probably never would blossom.

"Wonderful, wonderful, indeed," he said; "one can never tire of botany. It continually opens to us new worlds of wonders with every awakening flower and unfolding leaf."

"And here," she said, indicating with her snowy fingers a villainous sprout of that little burr the boys call "beggar's lice," "this mendicantis pavasitalis, what—"

"Oh," he exclaimed, rapturously, "where did you get it? Why, don't you know how rare it is? I have not seen one in Burlington since Mrs. O'Gheminie went to Chicago. She had such beautiful specimens of them; quite a charming variety. She used to wear them in her hair so often."

"No doubt," the angel said, drily; and the young man feared he had done wrong in praising Mrs. O'Gheminie's plants so highly. But the dear one went on, and pointing to a young jimson weed, and said quickly:

"This is my pet, this Jimsonata filoensis."

The young man gasped with the pleasure of a true lover of flowers, as he bent over it in admiration, and inhaled its nauseous odor. Then he rose up and said:

"This plant has some medicinal properties."

"Ah!" she said.

"Yes," he replied, stiffly, "it has. I have smelt that plant in my boyhood's days. Wilted on the kitchen stove, then bruised and applied to the eruption, the leaves are excellent remedial agents for the poison of the ivy." He strode through the smiling company that was gathered in the parlor, and said, sternly, "We meet no more;" and seizing her father's hat from the rack he extinguished himself in it and went banging along the line of tree boxes which lined his darkened way.

The Other Side of a Story.

The danger in accepting partisan statements making pretended exposures of official wrong-doing is finely illustrated in the case of the Pennsylvania State Treasury. A week ago, a report of a committee of the House of Representatives of that State was industriously telegraphed over the country. It made very damaging accusations against the Treasury, and the refusal of the State Treasurer to appear and testify was actually used as a confirmation of the charges. Mr. Mackey, the officer accused, has now made an answer which appears to be complete. The reason why the persons summoned did not respond to the summons of the committee was that it was illegal, had no power to enforce any legal process, and was evidently designed to help the democratic party rather than expose any real frauds. Nevertheless, Mr. Mackey now takes up the charges of the committee and answers them seriatim. The committee charged that the Treasurer had unlawfully taken from the sinking fund the sum of $3,400,000. This looks bad enough, because it is true that the sinking fund is less by that amount than it should be. But it happens that the Treasurer was forced to use it to meet general expenses, the revenues being insufficient; so that, as Mr Mackey very neatly puts it, "if the Treasurer owes the sinking fund $3,400,000, the State owes the treasurer $3,400,000."

Another charge was that in ten years the State Treasurers have received credit for the payment of $1,123,301 on account of interest on the public debt, more than was actually due or paid. The Treasurer meets this with a flat denial, and for proof copies the bank accounts of the Treasury and the statement of interest paid at his office, which show that less has been reported paid than was allowed by the Auditor. A third charge was that more by $121,428 had been taken for premium on gold purchased to pay interest than was actually paid. To support his denial, the treasurer gives the dates, amount and premiums on gold bought during the years mentioned, as well as the names of bankers and brokers from whom it was purchased, showing that the premium in five years had been only $187,337 in all, or less than fourteen per cent., making it necessary in order to prove the truth of the charge that gold should have been bought since June, 1870, at an average premium of four per cent. The only other accusation of financial mismanagement was to the effect that the State had lost $1,400,000 in twelve years by the failure of Treasurers to put Treasury balances on deposit at six per cent. Mr. Mackey does not mention the circumstance that banks are not in the habit of paying so high interest on deposits, but he does point to the facts that there is no law authorizing the Treasurer to require interest on public funds, the public officers are prohibited from receiving any interest on such deposits, and that not a particle of evidence has been brought forward to show that the law has been violated. And finally the Treasurer remarks that although the committee was instructed to begin with the accounts of the last democratic incumbent of the office, these accounts have not been examined at all; and that the committee, although commenting upon the significance of the refusal of the Treasurer to recognize them as a committee, entirely omitted to mention the fact that he offered the freest access to all his books to them as individual members of the legislature.

Thus is exposed the groundlessness of all the charges against what the democrats are constantly referring to as the Pennsylvania "Treasury ring." The defence is complete at every point, and the report, which was in its essence a case of false pretences, is shown to be maliciously untrue. It is not to be expected that democratic papers which have published the conclusions of the so-called committee will take any notice of the other side of the story, as common justice would demand, but the people of Pennsylvania will not be deceived by the partisan falsehood.

Mr. E. H. Cheney, editor of the Lebanon Free Press, has disposed of the paper to Mr. Frederick W. Cheney, who has been its local reporter for two years. Mr. Cheney has made the Free Press one of the best weeklies in the State and has won the esteem of his brethren of the press. It is his intention to start an orange grove at Federal point, Florida, whither he goes every Winter for his health. Should his successor attend to the editorial columns of the Free Press as faithfully as he has its local columns, it will be all that Lebanon people could desire.

Extensive and destructive prairie fires are raging in Southern Kansas, along the line of the Fort Scott Railroad. At one place in Cherokee County the ties along three miles of track were burned. The fire caught from a locomotive, and at last accounts had swept over miles of country, destroying houses, fences and crops.

The ninth annual session of the U. S. National Grange is to commence at the Galt House in Louisville, Kentucky, Nov. 17th, the headquarters of the Order having been removed from Washington to that city, where they are to erect a building for their own accommodation. The change is strongly opposed by a large portion of the Order. The National Grange has upwards of $200,000 in funds.

At Omaha, on the 27th, Charles Patterson shot and killed R. W. Porter. On the evening of the 29th, the jail was broken into by a mob of masked men. Patterson was taken out and strung to a telegraph pole. The Sheriff, however, with assistance, overpowered the crowd and cut him down in time to save his life. At four o'clock on the morning of the 30th, the mob again succeeded in breaking into the jail, taking Patterson and effectually hanging him.

Our difficulty is this: There is more money in circulation than there ought to be, and therefore, for commercial purposes, it is not as valuable as coin. If you diminish the quantity the parts will become more valuable; if you add to the quantity the parts will be less valuable. If you diminish the quantity you hasten the day when specie payments can be resumed; if you increase the quantity you postpone the day when specie payments will be resumed.—Senator Boutwell.

A despatch from Indianapolis says a freight train on the Pan Handle Railroad was approaching a bridge near Cambridge, Ind., Friday night, during a terrific storm, when the engineer saw the bridge totter and fall. He reversed the engine, jumped off and saved his life. The engine and four cars went through the bridge, carrying the fireman and head brakeman, and killing both.

A telegram from Madeira states that a part of the crew of the American ship John Pascal, Capt. Tapley, which sailed from Calcutta, July 18th, for New York, had landed at Ascension. They report that the ship took fire at sea and was totally destroyed, and that the crew were saved by taking to the boats. Eight of the crew are on board the steamer Africa, and the Madeira authorities have telegraphed to arrest them on their arrival in England, their testimony being unsatisfactory. There are suspicions that this is the work of an incendiary Attempted Murder.

The Manchester Mirror says that Daniel Fling, about 18 years of age, was awakened Friday night at half-past 12 o'clock by some one striking him on the head with a club. He was bit over the head four or five times. He tried to get up in bed, which he soon did, and a desperate struggle took place. The assassin pushed him down, and he begged of him not to kill him. Fling soon got up and each grabbed the other by the throat and pushed each back and forth several times, Fling all of the time screaming to Grandpa, as he calls Dodge, the man he was at work for. At last he saw it was a struggle for life, and at length he succeeded in getting his bedroom door open and made his escape down stairs, the villain going down the front stairs. The bed was literally soaked in spots, and blood was scattered all over the room. Fling had five wounds on the head, and his shoulder was considerably hurt.

Detective D. P. Prescott arrested a woman aged about 45, for the murderous assault. In a pool of blood on the floor of his room a naked foot-print was discovered corresponding exactly with the size of the woman's foot, bunches of hair found on Fling's bed furnishing additional evidence. A controversy about a dog, who had bitten Fling, is the only known cause for the assault.

The Pembroke Murder.

The Patriot says: Shortly before the murder, Mr. Fowler, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen of Pembroke, had some men at work for him with a threshing machine. Another whom he had engaged as tender, had to disappoint him and suggested the employment in his stead of a Frenchman, who was with him. Mr. Fowler accepted the substitute, did not enquire his name, and kept him through the day. When they were all in at tea, Mr. Fowler's daughter, a friend of Josie Langmaid, came in and was observed by the Frenchman. After tea when hitching up a horse to go to the village, Mr. Fowler's son was asked by the Frenchman who the girl was, and being answered that she was his sister, he next enquired where she had come from. The answer was "from school," and the academy on a distant elevation was pointed out. Passing along the road together toward the village, when they reached the new road which branches off toward the academy, the Frenchman enquired of young Fowler if she went over the old road, and was answered, unsuspectingly, that the scholars from that direction usually took the new road through the woods. The bushes alongside that road are very thick, and the scholars in passing had been in the habit of springing out to frighten each other. The next day, or at least soon after the talk with the Frenchman, as young Fowler, or some other lad, was going to school, he caught an indistinct view of what he supposed to be one of his mates in the bushes, and shouted to him that he could not frighten anybody, as that was played out. When he arrived at the academy, he was astonished to see the very boy, whom he supposed he had passed in the bushes, on the day of the murder, which was almost immediately after this. Miss Fowler just before entering the woods, waited for Josie to come along; after waiting sometime, some neighbor came along with a carriage, and concluding that Josie had preceded her, she got in and went to school, thus, probably, saving her life. It was not ten minutes after, probably, before the fatal deed was committed. After the murder, the Fowler boy recalled the conversation with the Frenchman, and after the letter from St. Albans was received, enquiring concerning one Lapage, the latter was visited and identified as the man. Meantime officers had been searching for the unknown Frenchman, and Lapage had been suspected of being the man.

Killed at Croquet.

[Titusville Herald.]

Mr. Reuben P. Benton and Mr. J. D. Strickland were engaged in a game of croquet on the grounds in the rear of the Warren and Venango passenger depot. Both gentlemen were on the most friendly terms, and they were in the habit of playing on these favorite grounds almost daily.

Mr. Strickland made a mis-play, and, as commonly occurs on such occasions among the boys, he peevishly attempted to throw the mallet after the ball. By some unforeseen chance the handle of the mallet caught in the sleeve of his coat, and it was hurled in the direction of his companion, striking him on the right temple, and felling him to the ground. The accident was witnessed by a number of bystanders, who at the time did not imagine that Mr. Benton was seriously injured. His prolonged insensibility, however, created considerable alarm, and restoratives were ineffectually applied.

Mr. Strickland ran in great haste for medical aid and a carriage, but before his return the unfortunate Benton was carried to his room in an insensible condition. Drs. Moody and Barr were on hand almost instantly upon his arrival, and made a searching examination of the wound. It appeared that the blow, which was struck on the right temple, was not sufficient to cause a fracture of the skull at that point, but, as is often the case, produced an effusion of blood at the base of the brain. The patient lingered on until six o'clock P. M., when he expired without recovering consciousness.

The Assault on Edwards.

The assailants who beat John Edwards, a navy yard marine, so terribly have not yet been discovered. Edwards has lingered day after day, notwithstanding his fearful injuries, which include a broken leg, a broken jaw and four or five wounds on the head. All hopes of his recovery have been abandoned and he has received the absolution of the church, being of Catholic faith. He does not desire to live and has given a death-bed deposition, which corroborates even to minute particulars the statements of his companion Graham.

There has been an attempt by the police to connect Graham with the assault, and it is said a cap or hat was found near Kittery depot, and a theory has been broached that Graham committed the assault beneath the bridge, and it is claimed that blood spots are to be seen on one of the railroad ties. Had it been true that Graham committed the assault, he must have had a hard time getting Edwards up over the steep bank at that place. The tie spoken off has been painted red, and scientific researches, we are informed, go to show that blood spilled on wood painted red would make no stain. On the night of the assault, rain fell in torrents, and would have washed any blood from the tie. No traces of blood are visible on the porch of the church at Kittery, where Edwards was placed bleeding while Graham went nearly a mile for help.

Edwards scouts the idea that he was assaulted by Graham, with whom he says he was on good terms Notwithstanding his grievous wounds, he remembers where he was when he was struck and deposes that it was within five or six minutes after leaving Scott's place. He also remembers being lifted up and carried across the bridge by Graham, who rested three times on the way, and to whom he gave two or three dollars to hire some one to take him in a house until aid could reach him. A statement that the two marines were seen going across the bridge, walking together, which seemed to throw suspicion on Graham, is disproved by Edwards' statement that he was struck near the pump before reaching the toll-gate on this side, and by the fact that two other marines did cross the bridge at the time specified and arrived shortly after midnight at the barracks. There is little if any doubt that the assault was made on Noble's island, and that it was only one of many that have occurred in that locality. One of the mysteries of the affair is the neglect of the assailants to throw Edwards overboard, as was probably the case with some of the marines found drowned in the river during the past dozen years. For the protection of citizens and strangers the city authorities should station one or more policemen in that section of the city by nighth.

A School Incident.

The resignation of Miss Jennie M. Franklin as teacher of music in our public schools, and her subsequent departure from our midst is regretted by all who were conversant with her rare instructive abilities, and the marvalous work which she accomplished during her brief term of service among us. The scholars of the Haven and Manning schools at the South End signified their high regard for her by giving her a valuable present; the occasion of the formal presentation of which was one of considerable interest. The affair was a surprise to Miss Franklin, who was invited by a deputation of scholars to visit the scene of her labors in District Three once more before leaving the city. In response to the polite request she accordingly called at the Haven School House in the afternoon of Friday last and to her complete astonishment found the entire eight schools congregated in one room—that of the Principal, Mr. Sherburne, all anxiously awaiting her coming. The presentation speech was very well written and neatly spoken by Miss Norah Hanscom, of Mr. Sherburne's first class, to which Miss Franklin responded fittingly and feelingly. The children as well as many of the teachers were unable to repress their emotions, and their feelings found vent in tears, profusely shed. Miss Franklin was prevented from singing the parting song on account of being completely overcome by the demonstrations of grief on the part of her scholars. She carries with her the ardent affection of the children of the above-named schools, which is a greater boon than any amount of money can purchase. In Mr. Durgin's department, the school in charge of Mr. Kidder likewise remembered Miss Franklin by the gift of a valuable opera-glass. WARD THREE.

To Exeter and Beyond.

The Exeter News-Letter thinks Portsmouth and the surrounding towns would gain largely by increasing their facilities of communication with the interior, and says: "There is a large section which she can only reach through Exeter, and this is a section in which are large consumers who now depend on other sources for their supplies. Cheapness makes trade. There is just so much money to be used; and, whether it buys little or much, so much and no more will find its way into the market. Thus by lessening the expense of transportation, the amount of goods and business will be correspondingly increased; with that increase come activity and enterprise, and with these wealth and influence. Let Portsmouth stir herself in this matter, and let the recommendation of last year become the accomplished fact of this."

The recommendation of last year was for the widening and straightening of the channel of the Swamscott river, but Congress failed to make an appropriation, the cost of needed improvements being estimated at $84,000. Exeter consumes 5000 tons of coal, annually, losing a dollar on each ton—and other heavy articles cost largely in transportation to Exeter and adjoining towns. The fact is, the railroad to Concord was not properly laid out. It should have passed directly through Exeter to Manchester, instead of via Newmarket Junction. At the next meeting of the Board of Trade we should like to hear a discussion on the subject: "Will a railroad from Portsmouth to Exeter and Manchester direct, pay." There is abundant foundation for a good talk over the matter.

Jottings.

The Richings Bernard English Opera Company will present the opera of "The Rose of Tyrol," on Friday evening of next week at the Temple. The Company comprises the well known artists: Mrs. Caroline Richings Bernard, Mrs. Henri Drayton, Pierre Bernard and Mr. John S. Benitz, assisted by a well organized chorus, with Mr. Frank Hewitt as pianist. The concert will commence at 7.30. Tickets fifty cents; reserved seats seventy-five cents.

The Bow Mission has opened a place for lodgers and a reading room at the foot of State street.

Shaw, of the Aurora (Ill.) Herald, is visiting in Nebraska, and now all the grasshoppers in the State have gone to quarreling over the subject of chiming him for a Thanksgiving dinner—and so bitter is the strife that it is probable that before the question as to which 'hopper shall have him is definitely settled, the whole army will be annihilated by internal feuds.

The following remark, characteristic of the man, is the answer that Mr. John Cummings gave to a certain person who asked him on what condition she would reconsider his determination to leave the Board of Directors of the Eastern Railroad. Mr. Cummings replied, "Honest conduct and honest men."—Globe.

Referring to the action of the board of naval constructors who have been inspecting the navy yards, the Washington Republican says: Coming as it does, at a time when all Europe is exercised over the condition of its navies; when an immense iron-clad passes out of existence by the accidental ramming of her consort; when iron armor no longer resists the present ordnance, the opinions and recommendations of this, the most important board ever called together in our naval history, will not only be carefully considered in our country, but closely scrutinized abroad.

The trial of David L. Magoon of Raymond, for the murder of his wife by giving her strychnine in medicine, is appointed to be commenced this (Tuesday afternoon) before Judge Foster, of the Circuit Court, in this city.

The fair and festival of the Daughters of Rebecca commence this evening at Franklin Hall, and is destined to rank among the most popular entertainments of the kind given in this city lately. The magnificent piano and other elegant drawings will draw the money out of the pockets (of the plentifully supplied) freely, and must prove a great feature. Everybody and everybody's friends are expected to attend at least one evening, and take a chance at that piano.

The annual meeting of the Mechanics' Association, for the choice of officers, takes place this evening at 7:30, in the reading room.

Manchester gains a good citizen and Portsmouth loses one by the removal of Mr. Samuel Barrett to Manchester, to accept the position of station agent of the Concord railroad. In the positions he has occupied here, at the C. & P. and Eastern depots, Mr. Barrett has won the confidence and esteem of all who have had dealings with him, and there is general regret at his departure.

Forty-two fishing vessels are to rendezvous here this winter.

There was a great rush at the Temple, Monday forenoon, to secure reserved seats for the S. P. C. A. Lyceum course, and several hundreds were quickly disposed of, Mr. Stavers doing all that was possible to accommodate the anxious investors as speedily as convenient. No person was allowed to secure more than five at one time. The remaining tickets are for sale at Preston's.

The partnership between Messrs. George E. Hanson and George Hill has been dissolved, and each is to run the store he occupies.

About fifty new houses have been built in Portsmouth during the past year, and nearly one hundred in the last two years.

A good old-fashioned husking party came off at the farm of Mr. L. L. deRochement last Thursday evening. One thousand baskets of corn were stripped out, and the tables set four times for the near two hundred buskers. What with the husking and hustling, the bussing and rebussing, the red ears and the red cheeks, the party did'nt break up,—though they kept breaking down—till next morning.

A Curious Freak of Nature.

A curious freak of nature is found at Willough Lake, in the northern part of Vermont, where Mounts Pisgah and Hor rise 2500 feet from the water and 4000 feet above the sea, and are less than a mile apart, while the lake below is of unknown depth—all efforts to sound it having failed—and is supposed to rest at the level of the sea. A few years ago an immense rock, weighing over 300 tons, was started from its bed at the top of Mount Pisgah, and fell down the almost perpendicular face of the mountain into the lake, tearing away the carriage road and everything that opposed it, shaking the whole region round and being heard ten and fifteen miles away. The lake is an immense spring, as hardly a brook flows into it, but a river flows out large enough to carry extensive mills.

A winding footpath conducts to the summit of Mount Pisgah, which is abruptly cut off on the side nearest the lake, forming a perpendicular precipice nearly 3000 feet high, below which lies water of such singular transparency that one can see more than 100 feet below the surface. The temptation to leap from such a height is almost irresistible, and no one has yet visited the place, of strong enough nerve to stand erect and look over the brink, but visitors crawl up on their hands and knees to satisfy their curiosity. The view from this height is grand. To the East can be se n the White Mountains and the Connecticut River, winding down eighty miles of its course; to the North and Northwest are Monadnock, fifty miles away, and the entire length of Lake Memphremagog, and to the West is seen the W stern range of the Green Mountains. The scenery is unsurpassed in New England, and the drive over the carriage-way which skirts the lake and connects Orleans and Caledonia counties is the most picturesque of any in the State.

—It is said that the ghost of an English soldier roams around Fort Bull at night, looking for his scalp, which he lost there 120 years ago. He had much better come down town and buy one. He can get a nice hanged front for eighty cents.—Rome Sentinel.

—An Indiana gentleman buried one wife on Tuesday, married another on Thursday, and was divorced on Saturday, and he wants to know if a bigger week's work was ever performed by any one man before the panic.—Norristown Herald.

—A Detroiter, who has taken a great interest in the fate of Donaldson, thinks that the balloonists should have a telegraph attachment to the car, so that in case of any fatal accident they could at once inform the anxious public.

—It takes 'em half an hour to get the big English cannon ready to fire, and by that time a fellow could dodge, heel it around the corner, and tuck himself away in a dry goods box.—Detroit Free Press.

—Some young men in Louisville have formed an "anti-lift-your-hat-to-a woman society." Now let the Louisville young ladies form an "anti-bow-to-a-puppy society."—New York Herald.

—When a citizen of Rochester is blown into the dreamy hereafter by a kerosene lamp explosion the gas company officials grimly remark: "Comes o' fighting agin honest monopoly."

—A Duluth assessor says it is positively amazing how cheap property becomes as he passes up or down a street. It falls seven per cent. whenever he enters a house.

—At the Connecticut town election on Monday, Danbury voted "no license." But the News will be conducted with "spirit" as usual.—Norristown Herald.

Peterson's Magazine

POSTAGE PREPAID ON ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS.

☞ Every subscriber for 1876 will be presented with a sup-rb, large-sized steel engraving of Trumbull's celebrated picture of the Signing of the Declaration of Independence." This will be "Peterson's" Centennial Gift. ☜

"PETERSON'S MAGAZINE" contains, every year, 1000 pages, 14 steel plates, 12 colored fashion plates, 12 mammoth colored fashion plates, 24 pages of music, and 900 wood cuts.

Great improvements will be made in 1876. Among them will be a series of illustrated articles on the Great Cities of Philadelphia, which will alone be worth the subscription price. They will be appropriately called

THE CENTENNIAL IN PEN AND PENCIL!

The immense circulation of "Peterson" enables its proprietor to expend more money on embellishments, stories, &c., than any other. It gives more for the money than any in the world. Its

are the best published anywhere. All the most popular writers are employed to write originally for "Peterson." In 1876, in addition to the usual quantity of short stories, FIVE ORIGINAL COPYRIGHT NOVELETTES will be given, by Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Frank Lee Benedict, Mrs. F. H. Burnett, and others.

MAMMOTH COLORED FASHION PLATES

ahead of all others. These plates are engraved on steel, twice the usual size, and are unequalled for beauty. They will be superbly colored. Also, Household and other receipts; in short, everything interesting to ladies.

N. B.—As the publisher now prepays the postage to all mail subscribers, "Peterson" is cheaper than ever; in fact is the cheapest in the world.

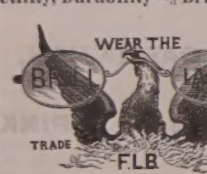
Utility, Durability and Brilliancy.



The following advantages are claimed for the

"BRILLIANT" PANTOSCOPIC

SPECTACLES and EYE-GLASSES.

FIRST. That, from the peculiar construction of the Glasses and Frame, they assist and preserve the sight, rendering frequent changes unnecessary.

SECOND. That they confer a brilliancy and distinctness of vision, with an amount of Ease and Comfort not hitherto enjoyed by spectacle-wearers.

THIRD. That the material from which the Lenses are ground is manufactured especially for optical purposes, and is therefore Pure and Brilliant, and not liable to become scratched.

☞ The "BRILLIANTS" are unrivalled for strengthening and preserving the Eyesight, and for their lasting qualities. Every pair is stamped F. L. B., and can be procured only from Resident Agents

LOWELL, MASS, July 20th, 1874.

T. W. LANE:—I have used one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, am glad to state in my case they have proved all that you claim for them. I have been troubled with Bad Blood and all its consequent diseases, and have tried several kinds of Bitters and Pills without receiving much benefit, until I tried the CONDITION PILLS, and they have nearly cured where all else failed. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, very truly,

J. D. WHITAKER.

Testimony of a Clergyman---Liver and Kidney Troubles.

EAST TILTON, N. H., April 14, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are not only the best, but the very best I ever used. My wife has been troubled with Kidney Complaint many years, and half of a package has cured her, so that she feels as well as ever. I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years; one-half of a package has done me more good than all the Pills I ever took One of my neighbors took them, who has been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years; three Pills have helped him. Your Pills, where used, commend their virtues. Please send to my address one package.

REV. JOHN DAVIS.

Liver Compaint and Rheumatism so that he Could not Sleep Nights.

I was born and always lived in Pittsfield, N. H.; am now 50 years old; been troubled with Liver Complaint for 30 years, and Rheumati m for 20 years, sometimes so I could not sleep nights. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good and relieved more suffering than all the medicine I have taken during my life.

S. S. RING.

Pittsfield, N. H., Dec. 17, 1874.

Fever and Ague.

NEW BOSTON, N. H., Feb. 1, 1875.

T. W. LANE,—Sir:—Last month I sent to you for a package of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS. I had tried five so-called ague cures, and I received more benefit from five of your pills than from all the "Cures" "Cholagogues," "Quinines," &c., that I have taken in two years. I cannot recommend it too highly for diseases resulting from long standing Fever and Ague.

Yours, most respectfully,

MRS. C. GARLAND.

Scaly Humor Cured by One Package--- Liver Complaint Helped.

NORTH SALEM, N. H., Jan. 5, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—Your Pills are all they are recommended. I was troubled with a scaly humor on my legs; I took one package and my legs are quite smooth. My wife was troubled with Liver Complaint; she took one package and they helped her greatly.

Yours, with respect,

JOHN H. BLAKE.

From a Leading Citizen of Rindge.

WEST RINDGE, Cheshire Co., N. H., November 17, 1874.

THOS. W. LANE:—After taking three packages of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I am prepared to say they are the very best, for I have tried a great many kinds, and faithfully too, believing they would help me, to no effect.—These I do believe are the very best ever made; just the kind a man needs. May they be spread all over the wide world, and Dr. Quain's name a household word.

Yours truly,

ASA STICKNEY.

Felt Better, Stronger and Gained Flesh in One Week,

AFTER TAKING DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS,

ROLLINSFORD, N. H.

THOS. W. LANE:—I commenced to take DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and in one week I was heavier, felt better, and was stronger than before, and any one troubled with BAD BLOOD can find sure remedy in these Pills.

L. M. YEATON.

Nov. 3, 1874.

CHESTER, N. H., Feb. 24, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been out of health for some time, and I took a very bad cold and it left my lungs in a very weak state. I received Dr. Quain's Condition Pills and took them according to the directions, and my lungs are some better. I can recommend them to any one who is troubled with weak lungs, for they have done me good, and I think another package will cure me. Dr. Quain's Pills ought to be known throughout the world. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, &c., CYRUS LANE.

HILLSBOROBRIDGE, Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—Dr. Quain's Condition Pills are the best I ever used for humors and pain. The first dose I took removed the pain and lameness that I have been troubled with for several years. Others have used quite a number of the pills besides myself. Please send another package by return of mail.

MRS. DANIEL KIMBALL.

GILMANTON I. W., N. H., Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been taking Dr. Quain's Condition Pills, and can recommend them as far ahead of common pills for constipation of the bowels; they do not have the debilitating effect of common purgatives I have taken.

MRS. J. B. GOODWIN.

NORTHWOOD CENTRE, March 1, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I saw Dr. Quain's Condition Pills highly recommended, and sent for a package, and I feel that they have done more for me than all the other pills I have taken for years, and can freely recommend them to others, as a good and sure medicine. Please send me another package as soon as possible.

MARTHA NORCROSS.

BRISTOL, N. H., Feb. 27, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have made a fair trial of those Condition Pills, and liked them very much, and think they are all they are recommended. They are a good Liver invigorator.

N. F. DANFORTH.

SALEM DEPOT, N. H., March 8, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I think those pills (Dr. Quain's Condition Pills) are all they are cracked up to be, and I are both victims of Liver and Kidney Complaint, and general debility. We have taken about half that package you sent me, and I have worked in the shop most of the time. I want four packages to give away in the north part of Vermont, to friends up there. I enclose $2.00, and if you can, send me four Packages.

SOUTH PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., March 11, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have taken Dr. Quain's Condition Pills a trial, and find I can honestly recommend them, they having materially improved the soreness and lameness with which I have been troubled since getting wet on my feet after the Paralysis of left side that I suffered last October. I desire you to send me another package as soon as convenient, as I cannot continue to be without them, though not now a resident of New England, I have lived in Central Vermont more than fifty years, and trust Dr. Quain's Pills will not long be seen in that section.

MOSES SHELDON.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have been troubled with Biliousness, Headache, and Dizziness, for a long time, and had the Dyspepsia so bad there were but few kinds of food my stomach would bear at all. I commenced taking your Pills, and have taken most of one package, and now enjoy eating as well as I ever did, am not troubled with dizziness unless by taking cold, and have been greatly benefited by the use of them.

A. L. PAGE.

FRANCESTOWN, March 13, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have found Dr. Quain's Condition Pills to be all you claim for them in Kidney Complaint, poor blood, and weak nerves. May they be circulated over the land and found in every household where medicine is needed. I inclose 50 cts. for another package as soon as convenient.

JOHN T. FELCH.

Better Health than for 10 Years.

CHESTER, N. H., Oct. 17, 1874.

MR. LANE:—I have taken one package of Condition Pills; find them in my case all they are recommended; have not enjoyed so good health for the last ten years as I have since I commenced taking the Condition Pills. Shall be happy to recommend them to others.

WILLIAM H. FELLOWS.

SCRIBNERS' MONTHLY FOR 1876

The publishers invite attention to the following list of some of the attractive articles secured for Scribner's Monthly, for the coming year. In the field of fiction, besides numerous novelettes and shorter stories, there will be

TWO REMARKABLE SERIAL STORIES,

By American Authors.

The first of these, now complete in our hands,

"GABRIEL CONROY,"

By BRET HARTE,

Begins in the November number,

and will run for twelve months. This is Mr. Harte's first extended work. The scenes and characters, which the author has chosen from his favorite field, California, are painted in his characteristic vivid manner, and the work is without doubt the most graphic record of California life that has yet appeared.

We shall also begin in the January number,

"PHILIP NOLAN'S FRIENDS,

OR, SHOW YOUR PASSPORTS,"

By EDWARD EVERETT HALE.

The scene of this story is laid in the Southwestern territory, now forming the States of Louisiana and Texas, at the time of Aaron Burr's treason. The characters lived in a section which was now American, now French, and now Spanish, and this record of their adventurous lives makes a story of intense and unflagging interest throughout.

A SECOND "FARMER'S VACATION,"

By Col. GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

Col. Waring is now in Europe, visiting, in a row-boat ride of two hundred and fifty miles, one of the most fertile and interesting of the vine growing valleys of Europe. This second series of papers promises to be even more interesting than that with which our readers are already familiar.

CENTENNIAL LETTERS,

Edited by John Vance Cheney.

A rare collection of Revolutionary Letters, mainly from stores in the hands of the descendants of Col. Joseph Ward. They cover the time, and will be read with a rare relish in connection with the Centennial celebration of the year.

BRILLIANTLY ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES ON AMERICAN COLLEGES,

Written respectively by their friends, will appear during the year. The revived interest in college life makes these papers especially timely, and will secure for them unusual attention.

OLD NEW YORK.

Elegantly illustrated articles on Old New-York, by John F. Mines, will appear at once, and will attract the attention of all, in city or country, who mark the steps in the development of the great metropolis, and affectionately remember the quaint peculiarities of its olden time.

Every number is profusely illustrated, thus enabling us to give to our descriptive and narrative articles, an interest and permanent value never attained in a non illustrated periodical. Under its accustomed management the magazine will in the future be devoted, as it has been in the past, to sound literature and Christian progress.

The Editorial Department occupy over twenty pages of each number and contain Dr. Holland's vigorous and timely editorials, as well as Reviews of the latest works in Art, Literature, and science.

TERMS:

$4.00 A YEAR, in advance; 35 cents a Number. The 10 vols, complete, Nov. 1870, to Oct. 1875, bound in maroon cloth.....$20.00

do. do. bound in half morocco, 30.00

Vols. begin in November and May. Any of the earlier volumes (I to VIII) will be supplied separately to purchase who wish them to complete sets at this rate, i. e., cloth, $2 00; half morocco, $3.00.

Booksellers and Postmasters will be supplied at rates that will enable them to fill any of the above offers.

Subscribers will please remit in P. O. Money Orders, or in Bank Checks or Drafts, or by registered letters. Money in letters not registered, at sender's risk.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local care) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pumocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LOCAL AGENTS

WANTED.

An Agent Wanted for Each Town and County in the United States.

Parties desiring to act as agents must accompany their application by a letter of recommendation as to character and responsibility from and signed by the Editor of a newspaper published in the town or county for which the agent proposes to act. The agency is to sell the bonds of the Industrial Exhibition Company.

BONDS, $20 EACH.
HALF BONDS, $10 EACH.
QUARTER BONDS, $5 EACH.

The Industrial Exhibition Company will furnish agents with circulars, etc., etc.

Each newspaper published in the town where an agent is located will, as soon as the agency is established, be given an advertisement, advertising such agency and the Company, and fully explaining the plans, purposes and objects of the Company. Such advertisement will continue in said papers as long as an agency is successfully conducted.

The Industrial Exhibition Company is the first to adopt the plan so long in use by the European governments of issuing bonds when the principal is made secure and not risked. Every bond gives a chance for a large premium, an investment of $20 is sure to return to the investor $21—one dollar more than cost—and the holder of a $20 Bond may obtain a premium either of $50, $100, $200, $500, $1,000, $3,000, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000 or $100,000. The interest, which is ordinarily distributed to all the bondholders pro rata, is in this loan distributed by chance. The purchaser of a bond knows he will receive back his investment, with a small rate of interest, he has a chance for the above named premiums, which are simply the distribution of interest on the whole loan.

Each bond participates in four drawings each year, until it has drawn a premium, when it is surrendered, the premium paid, and the bond cancelled.

The Industrial Exhibition Company, under a special charter granted by the State of New York, is given authority to issue these bonds. The Legislature of the State, recognizing the great benefits which will arise from the success of this enterprise, have exempted all the real estate and property of the Company from taxation and assessments for five years, and has also conferred other great privileges.

Every American who understands the purposes of this Company will, of a necessity, feel a pride in aiding it to a successful termination.

Each individual who buys a bond becomes an owner and a stockholder in a party, and when he views the structure erected with his money can say, "I aided to erect in our country the most magnificent building the world has ever seen, a palace which, in truth, represents the industry, energy and mechanical genius of the American people."

The manufacturers and the inventors of America are peculiarly interested in the success of this enterprise, for the reason that it is to be their home, where all their inventions and manufactures can be exhibited and sold.

The building will contain 5,320,000 square feet of space.

Purchasers desiring Bonds before an agency is established where they reside, will communicate direct with this office, from where they can be supplied.

Parties desiring to act as agents or to purchase bonds will address

A CHANCE FOR ALL!

$100,000

GIVEN AWAY!

The Union Pocket Book Co.

having secured by cash purchase the entire bankrupt stock of Messrs H. Morgond & Co., consisting of

400,000 Portmonies;

(POCKET BOOKS,)

of the best manufacture and superb quality, each pocket book being made of Real Morocco Leather; to effect a speedy clearance sale and having in view the old motto of the house, Certain Profits with Quick Returns, the company have decided on giving each individual purchaser the full benefit of this unparalleled bargain by giving away One Hundred Thousand Dollars, in

2818 MONEY PRIZES!

THE FIRST PRIZE BEING $20,000 CASH.
" SECOND " " $10,000 "
" THIRD " " $5,000 "

and 2815 other money prizes as follows, viz.:

25 PRIZES OF $1000 CASH, EACH.
40 " " 500 " "
50 " " 100 " "
100 " " 50 " "
200 " " 20 " "
400 " " 10 " "
2000 " " 1 " "

The above prizes with the cost of advertising and other incidental expenses, giving the purchasers two-thirds of the profit s that accrue on the entire sale, and to enable every one to have an equal share in the profits, with the certainty of receiving treble the value for their small investment and the further opportunity of surely gaining a share in the distribution of $100,000, and this too by the riskless outlay of $1 only.

The Union Pocket Book Co. will deliver free to any address on receipt of One Dollar, a GENUINE MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK, together with a COUPON TICKET,

entitling and giving the holder a share in the drawing of 2818 CASH PRIZES, of the aggregate value of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS CURRENCY. The Company guantee to return to each purchaser at least treble the value for his money.

How can this be accomplished? is a question many will doubtless ask themselves, and foreseeing this we offer the following lucid explanation.

The Trade assignee, anxious to dispose of and realize on the entire stock of the bankrupts in one sale, accepted our offer of $ 00,000 cash for the lot; after advertising same for sale for one month, and not receiving a single offer, which in the present depression of business and almost total stagnation of trade is not to be wondered at; notwithstanding that our offer was one third less than the actual cost of the manufacture of the Pocket Books. The assignee having to at once realize the effects of the bankrupts, in the interests of the creditors he had no alternative but to accept this offer and sell the lot at our own price thereby enabling us to distribute in prizes $100,000 amongst the purchasers, and at the same time retain a fair marginal profit for ourselves; thus we obtain fully double the value of the amount you forward us and it depends on your luck what amount you gain of the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Money Prizes.

THE SALE WILL POSITIVELY CLOSE ON

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1875,

and orders for pocket books should therefore be forwarded to us at once—no application by letter after Saturday, November 20th, can be entertained.

1000 of the Pocket Books are of the patented manufacture, superior in value to the remainder, the retail price of the same being $8, and these will be forwarded to early purchasers until disposed of.

Therefore those who send immediate orders will reap the advantage of receiving a superior article.

Remittances can be made either by sending any number of pocket books by draft, post office orders, or greenbacks in registered letter by express, etc.

Post Office orders are made payable to the Manager in favor of Frank Stewart, the Company's Manager; Post Office orders to be drawn on General Post Office, Philadelphia, and drafts on the First National Bank.

The Drawing of Prizes will take place at the Company's Principal Offices, 530 Locust Street, Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, on

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 24,1875

and the winning numbers will be advertised in this Journal and the principal Philadelphia and New York newspapers of Saturday, November 27th.

The Prizes will be forwarded in drafts, greenbacks or by post office order per registered letter by Monday's morning mails, November 29th, or if preferred prizes can be sent by express, or in any other manner purchasers may select, providing same be signified by them when forwarding orders for pocket books.

Remember this is no lottery, but a bona fide business system founded on a true financial basis which enables the Company to convert into money on otherwise surplus stock, and this too with a good profit to both the purchasers and themselves, effecting a speedy clearance stock which in the present dull times is the great desiderata that in no other way can be successfully attained.

We guarantee each pocket book to be of the best manufacture; of pure morocco leather and equal in quality worth in retail trade at the lowest rate of from $3 to $4.

This is an opportunity that should not be let pass by; one and all should embrace this chance; We afford every one an opportunity of realizing a share in $100,000 at the insignificant outlay of $1 (one dollar) for which they receive a sale three fold and those who let this fortuitous chance escape them will have only themselves to blame.

All letters replied to same day as received. We advise intending purchasers to forward orders immediately which will prevent disappointment and receive prompt attention.

Remember, every one who sends ONE DOLLAR before November 20th, 1875, receives A MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK of the value of from $3 to $4 and a COUPON, giving them a share in the drawing of $100,000.

The Walnut Season in England.

[Nathan Appleton, in Boston Globe.]

It is now the walnut season. We, in America, who only eat dried nuts, cannot imagine how delicious are the almonds, filberts and English walnuts when they are fresh and green; and why we do not have them is a marvel to me, for I believe all of them will grow in the country. But the difference between them fresh and dried is the difference of two fruits. From now until about Christmas the walnuts are in their glory, and the consumption of them is immense at the table of the aristocrat in his castle, where many an hour is passed over them and wine at the end of dinner, as we read in English novels, when a relenting uncle begins to unbosom himself to his scapegrace nephew; in the cozy restaurants of clubs and hotels; in the modest lodging of the bachelor; in the cottage of the peasant, and in the crowded city, where they are cracked and munched by the laborer at the street corners. You see them by the basketful everywhere around, sold at the price of three to five for a cent, and at Covent Garden Market, in the morning, it is a curious sight to watch the men and women occupied in taking them out of their green shells, as they stand before the baskets ranged in a circle, with their fingers black as ink from the work.

Joaquin Miller

The eccentric poet, has been lecturing in Washington, and among other things he said:

When I was about to leave the mountains of Oregon, a few years ago, and try my fortune in the great wide world, as the phrase runs, an old man, sitting on a worm fence, one evening, with his buckskin legs hanging down, said to me, very tenderly and very wisely: "Joaquin, don't you go; the world's an imposter, and it'll feed you on husks, as it did the probable son." But I told him I was resolved to go; then the old man looked down into the sun that was falling into the Pacific sea like a mighty hemisphere of fire, then up at his flocks of sheep feeding on the hillside, and said, "Wal, Joaquin, if you must go, go; but you'll come back some day to the old rancho. You'll be sick of the world and sorry you went, and you won't have no buckskin clothes, and you won't have no home. But when you do come back—for you're a good meanin' boy, Joaquin—and have no buckskin clothes and no home, you must come to me and I'll give you a home, and you shall live with me and take care of my sheep, at $40 a month, as long as you live."

Well, I have worn out my other clothes, and I have no home, but I can't go back to the old man in the sheep business, for, as the French say, he is dead and gone over to the majority, and I come to you to-night to lecture. I make my first bow to you this side of the Rocky mountains. I tell you all this to show to you that this is not my favorite pursuit, and also to show to you that I have not the highest opinion of the present lecturer. Nor have I of any man who wins notoriety or a name in quite another field, and then consents to exhibit himself for hire and call that lecturing. No, I had preferred the sheep business, and at this moment wish I had accepted the old man's offer, and possibly, before I conclude, you will wish so too. Certainly and seriously, my ambition lay beyond this when I, a boy, paddled my canoe across the waters of Oregon, and I thought that when I came to the Capital of my country, I should come to take part in the counsels of the nation, to advocate some great question that would thrill the people, instead of standing here to talk upon a tame theme, on a foreign subject, and for a price. However, if you please, we will look in upon "Literary London."

There is much of interest away down among the unknown toilers of the lower strata of literary London. Literary men away down here work by the piece, and among them are men of genius and ability, but too often, like Thackery and others, come up above when it is too late. I knew some of the strangest men down here; each would make a novel in himself. One, a nobleman, a very eccentric man, who had renounced his family titles, and here among the rest he staid and wrote, proud of the name of Bohemian. Talk about independence, I have never seen such. Another who boasted that he lived by his pen alone. I think he passed the greater part of his time in writing tracts, yet he was certainly the wickedest Bohemian I ever saw. Another was a grand old man, born with a crown upon his head. Ye know him when he fought. Through the day this old man made music for the poor as an organ grinder on Saffron Hill, coming nightly to our little club to talk over his old battles and write radical letters for the press.

—A California reporter, named Robert Ellis, got carried up in a balloon some years since by accident, without the professional aeronaut. He was a daring fellow, and concluded to keep on. He disappeared, and for months nothing was heard of him. At last a hunter picked up this bit on the prairie: "I am all right and am having heaps of fun, I have found the valve cord and can descend whenever I wish, but I am going to see the thing down to a fine point." And shortly after the wreck of a balloon hanging to a tree, covered with leaves, and the skeleton of Robert Ellis were found on the line between Nebraska and Dakota.

Daily Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1875.

THE ELECTIONS!

Below we give returns up to two o'clock. The dish is savory enough to satisfy the most epicurean Republican, while at the same time it will be swallowed with disgust by the unterrified democrat.

Massachusetts.

In Massachusetts, two hundred and sixty two towns give Rice 72,000, Gaston 66,000. Republican gain 13,000. Boston gives Rice 137 majority. Crapo has 4000 republican majority in the first congressional district.

Two o'clock. All but 18 towns give Rice 82,184. Gaston 77,349. Baker 8,904. Rice's plurality 4,835. Republicans elect every councillor. Senate 31 republicans, 6 democrats one doubtful. In the House there are large republican gains.

New York.

Heavy republican gains in New York, democratic majority reduced one-half. Brooklyn has elected republican city officers. In New York, Hackett, Phelps and Morrissey are elected. The Tammany ticket is beaten 20,000 votes, although the city is 26,000 democratic.

New York State gives 10,000 republican majority, a gain of 60,000.

In New York, the anti-Tammanyites make a clean sweep. Morrissey has 4000 majority.

Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia has 15,000 republican majority and 5000 more in the State.

Pennsylvania gives more than 20,000 republican majority.

New Jersey.

New Jersey has gone Republican.

Kansas & Wisconsin.

Kansas and Wisconsin have both gone Republican. Republican gains in Wisconsin, 10,000.

Minnesota.

Minnesota republicans claim 5000 majority in the State and Legislature.

Mississippi.

Mississippi very close.

The Revival Movement.

The second Sunday of the work of Messrs. Moody and Sankey in Brooklyn is described by the morning papers as even more remarkable than the first. There were three great meetings instead of two, services being held for women only at 4 P. M., and for men only at 9 P. M. This arrangement was adopted with the view of reaching a larger number of people than could be brought under the influence of the evangelists in any other way, as frequent attendants at the meetings occupy so many seats as to limit the space for new comers. The impressions produced on these great audiences by Mr. Moody's preaching and Mr. Sankey's singing were marked. The auxiliary meetings outside the Rink were largely attended. The favor with which these revival efforts are regarded by clergymen in New York and Brooklyn, and the cordial support given by churches of various religious denominations are conspicuous aids to the progress of the work. Of the thousands who thronged the Rink Monday morning very many were from New York, in spite of the remarkable chilliness of the weather. It was evident enough that the vast audience assembled on that occasion was a special one. The costumes, the countenances upon which the eye rested were evidently those of cultured and refined people. There was no air of fashion and no display of rich toilettes. But there was an atmosphere about the people of the assemblage that bespoke them to be of the best classes of society, and it was not hard to guess that the exceeding sobriety of color and adornments were dictated by the best and most reverential feelings.

News and Notes.

Rev. John C. Foster of New London, Conn., while driving recently, was stopped by a man who rushed screaming before his horse, evidently to frighten him. Mr. Foster leaped out knocked him down, and then shook him up in a way to make his teeth chatter. The reverend gentleman then quietly drove on.

Lycurgus, Archbishop of Syria, (Greek Church,) is dead.

Senator Hamlin of Maine has given $1000 to the Hebron Academy at Hebron, in that State.

Mr. J. H. De Hegerman Lindencrone, who married Mrs. Moulton last week, brought with him from Norway a sort of family wedding carpet. It was of very quaint design and curious workmanship, said to be very beautiful, and of almost fabulous value. The bridegroom's family from time immemorial had been married upon it.

Jefferson Davis was presented at Fairview, Ky., recently with a gold-headed cane made from a locust tree which his father planted.

Victor Hugo has in his dining room an old chair which belonged to his father, and in which he allows no person to sit.

During the absence of the Prince of Wales in India the Princess will visit her father and mother in Copenhagen.

Eugene Sue was very rich—he inherited great wealth from his father, and his house in Paris was as sumptuously as it was artistically furnished; his servants wore silk stockings and presented his letters to him on a silver salver—not bad for a professional radical. He wrote always in white kid gloves.

A son of Mr. Joel Hutchins of Rumford, one day last week was out hunting partridges, and when just on the point of firing at one he saw a bear making for him. The boy stood his ground with the fortitude of one of more mature years, till Bruin got with in fifteen feet of him, with mouth wide open, then let him have the contents of his gun, probably taking effect in his eyes. Bruin dropped and rolled over once, then came for him with a vengeance, but the boy threw his gun down the hill and not far from the house, and succeeded in leaving Bruin behind.

They have had a bad case of bolting out in St. Paul. The bolters held a convention and nominated a full "citizens'" ticket. The next morning all the nominees bolted the ticket. The result was about the same as that of the battle between two snakes, where each swallowed the other—there was nothing left.

Just now the New York Commercial Advertiser has but one ambition. "We want a libel suit," it says. Funny, isn't it? But, what for? Here is its answer:—"We repeat, that if we can secure as witnesses the officers of the bank where Tilden kept his bank account last Fall, we believe we can prove that he committed constructive perjury in taking the oath of office on the first of January last. We can only secure this evidence by a libel suit. We therefore charge that we are led to believe, from information received, we can show he furnished money to indirectly corrupt the ballot-box and to subsidize the press, including the New York Tribune." Will the immaculate "reform" Governor permit such a "libel" upon him to stand unchallenged? If he is not interested in this charge the people are, and they will demand an explanation or a vindication at his hands.

Speaking of hard money it may be of interest to know that the Philadelphia mint is turning out $1,000,000 in silver coin per month, and has a capacity for producing even more. Some $4,000,000 have been stored in Boston by the government for future use. The mints at Carson City and San Francisco coined more than a million twenty cent pieces in September.

A rather remarkable pair of boots are those which George Page of North Dunbarton wears. They were made in 1824 by Samuel Carter of East Concord. Mr. Carter wore them eleven years for "handsome," and then presented them to the Page family, where they have done good service since, and are not worn out yet.

In 1867 Capt. Ira S. Rush, Superintendent of the Sunday school in Port Jervis, N. Y., was arrested on charge of passing counterfeit money. He invented a cock-and-bull story to the effect that he accidentally came in possession of the money and did not know it to be counterfeit. His pastor and his church believed and forgave him, but the officers of the law did not. He was sent to the Penitentiary for two years. After serving out his term he returned to Port Jervis and was restored to good standing in the church. Last Tuesday he absconded with his family, taking $5000 to $10,000 belonging to the friends who supported and defended him during his trial.

A train from the South over the Rutland Division of the Central Vermont Railroad on Friday had among its passengers sixty-four convicts, en route from Sing Sing to Clinton Prison. When the train reached Middlebury, at about three o'clock A. M., three of the prisoners broke their shackles, leaped from the car windows and took to their heels. Two of them started for the town, while the other ran across the bridge over Otter Creek. The officers immediately fired upon them, and one of them running for the town was hit and badly wounded, and both were recaptured. The train then left the station, and the officers were obliged to abandon the search for the third convict, giving due notice, however, to the authorities, and on Friday afternoon he was discovered in a swamp below the town. It appeared that he concealed himself in the water of Otter Creek till the train left the station. He was in a pitiable condition when taken. His crime was murder.

Adeline Dodge, of Manchester, wife of J. Dodge, at whose house the murderous assault was made on young Flynn in his bedchamber on Friday night, was arraigned at Dodge's house, in Goffstown, before Judge Bartlett, of Manchester, for an assault with intent to kill, and bound over in $5000. Mr. Dodge and son fail to give any motive for this strange affair. It remains a mystery, the respondent introducing no evidence. Wild rumors circulating impute a still greater crime. Mr. Dodge is reported one of the wealthiest men in Goffstown. He is about 75 years old, and about twenty years the senior of his wife.

The libel suits of Henry C. Bowen against Thomas Kinsella and James McDermott are to be tried on the 8th inst.

A committee, searching for liquors in Rochester, Monday, were locked into a room in Dodge's hotel by the landlord and kept till all the liquors were carted into Maine.

All women cannot wear seal brown or olive green, and yet it seems that these are the two fashionable colors this season.

Most time to take your furs out of camphor.

Of all garments that have grown longer, cloaks show the most decided increase in length. The long pelisses and basquines, nearly fitted to the figure, are reviled for cloth cloaks, while long French sacques with loose backs are used for those of silk that are lined with fur.

The London correspondent of the Liverpool Mercury says that the condition of Thomas Carlyle, who is 80 years of age and rapidly failing in health, excites much anxiety. It is fifty-two years since, after enduring for a time the drudgery of teaching mathematics at a school in Fifeshire, he began his literary career by writing articles for Brewster's Edinburgh Cyclopedia.

Didn't Understand.

[Max Adeler.]

A short time ago a man who was about to put up a factory on the outskirts of our town, began the work of building a huge cylindrical chimney about one hundred feet high. After its completion, Cooley one day walked out there with a friend of his, a man named Smith, who hailed from the country. The chimney stood there isolated and alone, and Smith, after examining it closely, remarked to Cooley:

"That's the most extraordinary thing I ever saw."

"We consider it a big thing ourselves," replied Cooley.

"But what does the man do for water?" asked Smith. "It must have been an awful convulsion—an awful busting out of things. I don't see how in the mischief it worked it, anyway. It beats me."

"What do you mean?" asked Cooley.

"Why, I say it must have been a terrific upheaval of the earth to lift that thing in that way and leave it standing there. Perfectly terrific."

"Lift it?" exclaimed Cooley. "I don't understand you."

"You see that pile of bricks standing there, don't you?" said Smith, becoming a little warm. "Well, what I say is that there must have been a frightful volcanic eruption to turn that well wrong side out and shoot it up out of the ground in that manner, and I can't see how on earth the bricks held together through such a twisting. It knocks me."

Then Cooley led him home, and wrote to Smith's relatives that a man who could mistake a factory chimney for the brick lining of a well that had been shoved up from the earth by a volcanic action, ought not to be permitted to be at large.

—An ingenious invention in connection with the beautiful art of photography, by Mr. Byrne, photographic artist, of Margate, has just been perfected. Every one knows how annoying, remarks the Railway News, the inverted image of the camera is to the eye-sight, the head of the sitter being where the feet should be. Mr. Byrne's invention consists in having constructed a simple but perfect apparatus, which can be fixed to the camera, and which, when applied to the focussing glass, shows the picture in an up right position with three times its usual brilliancy and intensity of light and color, thereby enabling the operator to view it with the greatest ease, and to judge with perfect accuracy of the artistic effects required in the pose and lighting of his subject. The name "rectoptrion," meaning "to show upright," has been given to the instrument, and we trust that every photographer will possess himself of this delightful addition to the camera. A number of distinguished professional and amateur photographers have pronounced it the great desideratum to the comfort and pleasure of the artist.

—A correspondent of the English Mechanic says: "Turn the flame to full power, then blow a sharp puff horizontally across the top of the funnel, when the light will not only be extinguished, but there will be no after smoke—the formerly ignited wick will be extinguished by its own carbolic acid gas. On leaving my office at night I thus turn up the flaming wick, and with a grateful gladness that the dark labors of the day (and night) are over, give a side wave of the hat over the chimney, which draws up the flame from contact with the wick, and the light is gone with no after-smell. This cannot be too widely circulated, as I read in the Times the'other day that a lady lost her life by blowing down the chimney, and thus causing the explosion."

—A gentleman of White Plains, N. Y., has placed a notice to burglars, printed in gold letters on a card board, in a conspicuous position in his safe, to the effect that it contains papers only, of no value to any one, but if burglars wish to take a peep inside for themselves, not to burst the safe, but, use the combination according to the instructions which he gives.

—A youth who was taking an airing in the country tried to amuse himself by quizzing an old farmer about his bald head, but was extinguished by the old man, who solemnly remarked, "Young man, when my head gets as soft as yours I can raise hair to sell."

—Well, ma cherié, my eighty-six years have taught me this, that duty must be the rule, and affection the sweetener of our lives. There is a retributive justice in this world—we get what we give—if we make to suffer, we shall be made to suffer. The one who loves most is happiest.

—A plant known in California as "rattleweed" is said to produce in animals which eat of it, symptoms much resembling those of dementia and frenzy. A paper, writing from Monterey County, describes as follows the effect produced by this plant on a herd of fifty horses on a ranche in the southern part of the country: "They became," he says, "crazy, forsook the farm, and wandered off one by one over the plain, paying no attention to their mates or any thing else. They were too muddled in their brains to seek for water, and most of them died of thirst. Although they were wild, and had never been handled, any person could walk up to them on the plain and hit them with his hand, when they would jump, perhaps, straight up in the air, perhaps some other way, and act as though they were trying to leap a fence at every step. They seemed to retain their sight, yet would not turn aside for anything. The poor demented beasts would walk over a precipice without the slightest fear or hesitation."

—A Yankee editor remarked, in a polemical article, that though he would not call his opponent a liar, he must say that if the gentleman intended to state what was utterly false, he had been remarkably successful in his attempt.

—A jail chaplain, finding a prisoner exhibiting as he thought, signs of true religious conviction, gave him a Bible, and afterward exerted himself to procure a commutation of his sentence. Succeeding in the latter effort, he informed the man of his approaching liberty. His gratitude knew no bounds. He called him his deliverer, and grasping his hand at parting, added: "Here is your Bible. I may as well return it to you, for I hope I shall never want it again."

RATTAN WARE
MANUFACTORY.

ONLY 4 Rattan Ware Factories in the United States, and one of them has just begun manufacturing in Portsmouth. The furniture made by this firm is made of the very best quality of East India Rattan, and for beauty, attractiveness, ease and durability is more desirable than any other furniture. We claim that the generality of our work is better than can be procured elsewhere in the United States. Few people comparatively have ever seen many pieces of this attractive furniture, and we cordially invite any one to call and examine our work even if they have no idea of purchasing. We warrant every piece of our ware to be as good as can be bought elsewhere and at less price.

Don't fail to call up, and see what few people in the United States have seen; viz, a collection of this ware. OVER FREEMAN'S OYSTER HOUSE, on Congress street, up one flight.

The Murder Trial.

The trial of David L. Magoon, the alleged wife poisoner, was commenced on Tuesday afternoon. Out of a panel of fifty jurors thirty-four were drawn from which the following twelve were finally sifted.

James H. Wilkinson, South Newmarket, Foreman; Josiah Batchelder, Exeter; Benjamin Mathes, Newmarket; Gardner J. Greenleaf, Oliver Tucker, Henry H. Ham, Charles C. Jones, Martin Hoyt, Portsmouth; Levi E. Lane, Hampton Falls; William F. Knight, Atkinson; Henry C. Chase, Seabrook; John L. Leavitt, Hampton.

The jury thus drawn are quartered at the Kearsarge House in charge of Deputy Sheriff Smith of Raymond who will see doubtless that they are not "approached" during the progress of the trial. The court room was crowded with spectators of both sexes anxious to gratify the morbid curiosity of such people, although they must have gone home unsatisfied on Tuesday evening.

The Eastern Railroad.

Foster's Democrat, in its editor's usual style, peculiar to himself, says that one John Cummings a Director of the Eastern Road has said some naughty things, and resigned. He said that Mr. Wooldredge, the President (who as the public generally supposed inasmuch as Mr. Hatch was appointed General Manager to do all the work and had a salary of $10,000 or $12,000, therefore the office of the President was merely an honorary one with small pay)—received a salary of $12,000. Nobody denies it, and Mr. Wooldredge resigns on account of being deprived of it. Mr. Cummings resigns because there is a lack of harmony in the boards. Since Mr. Jones and Mr. Sanborn have been connected with the Eastern Road the stock has fallen in price in the market more than ninety per cent. What was worth $100 then is less than $10 now. The widows, and orphans of Portsmouth, many of whom I am told had invested their all in the Eastern Railroad stock as a safe thing, now, finding their property nearly worthless, naturally enquire the cause. If all other officials were paid for their services in the same ratio as the President, it would amount to a pretty big sum.

But the brunt of Mr. Foster's complaint is you having charged Messrs. Jones and Sanborn with having used the Railroad to aid their election. Now if this is so, it is rather a small matter. Evidently millions have been misapplied in some way. I purpose to look for larger sums. Mr. Foster says that Frank Jones is abundantly able to pay all bills. Granted—and also that he "makes good ale." Mr. Foster says, too, among other things that Frank Jones does not belong to the Ring Mobilier breed of mankind. Let us see how that is: In the year 1871 I was informed that there was being gotten up a Trust and Guaranty Company in Portsmouth, with powers to buy and sell every thing not subject to statute of usury, etc. In fact, to my mind a perfect Credit Mobilier. On enquiry some time afterward I was told none of the stock was in the market; none of the holders would sell, and it would bring a high premium if offered. Mr. Jones was President and Mr. Sanborn a stockholder. When the Wolfeborough Railroad was built the first money used was obtained from this institution by cashing the obligation of the town of Wolfeborough, some $45,000 which the town voted to give the road. The grading of that Road including masonry, fencing and laying the track was about $120,000. I don't know the cost of the iron, sleepers, station buildings and land damages. I presume the whole cost may have been $250,000. The Eastern Road agreed to pay six per cent. int. on the stock, free of taxes, and ran the road. I see by the Directors' report they pay interest on $95,000. I presume the balance of the cost was paid by the Eastern Road and went into their debt account.

The length of Wolfeborough is the same as the Dover & Portsmouth, whose cost of grading, fencing and laying the track (aside from the Bridge at Dover Point) ought not to have cost more than the Wolfeborough. The land damages were higher and much increased by a bad location in the city of Dover. The Eastern Road made the same agreement with the Dover & Portsmouth as with the Wolfeborough. By the report of the Directors, I see they pay the D. & P. stockholders interest on $700,000, or $42,000 a year. I have been informed within a year that bills amounting to $825,000 had been presented as the expense of building the Road, and that probably other bills were to be presented which might make an aggregate of a million dollars. The cities of Dover and Portsmouth voted $625,000 and issued bonds to that amount, which were taken at par and put into the market at a discount by this trust and guaranty (or Credit Mobilier) at one operation. Now, Frank Jones is a Director in the Eastern Road, President of the Dover & Portsmouth Road, and President of the Portsmouth Credit Mobilier. The contractor for the building of the Dover & Portsmouth Road took the contract at reasonable prices, completed the Road and died insolvent. Now, I ask Mr. Foster, or any other assumed champion of Jones and Sanborn, to rise and explain. Mr. Sanborn, the lesser luminary, I will notice hereafter.

JUNIUS.

Jottings.

We learn that the School Committee are considering the matter of abolishing the position of Music Teacher in our public schools.

A little urchin of about eight winters was seen trudging through Market street barefoot on Tuesday morning when the mercury stood at only 26 above zero, with as little apparent discomfort as though it had been a hot July morning.

The fabled days of "Indian Summer" have rolled by and we are being rapidly whirled into old Winter's lap, there to sit for a good six months. The prospect is not a pleasing one to contemplate, especially for those who from their circumstances are strangers to warm flannels and glowing fires. After all, though, none need suffer, when there is enough in the world for the actual needs of all.

The Fair of the Daughters of Rebekah at Franklin Hall opened successfully on Tuesday evening a large crowd being present. Those articles that are being competed for by vote stand as follows, those named, being ahead: Chair, J. E. Rider; Cane, S. S. Hebbard; Dining set, Mrs. John Hodgdon 2d; Toilet Set, Mrs. John A. Goss; Gloves, Dr. Parsons; Robe, E. G. Pierce, Jr.; Pipe, R. G. Archibald; Gavel, Piscataqua Lodge.

Dragging Out Existence.

The nervous, weakly invalid does not enjoy life, but merely "drags out existence," as the phrase is. Unfitted for the active pursuits of life, and incapable of partaking of its pleasures, to which health alone can give a zest; disinclined to social intercourse, and a prey to melancholy, the valetudinarian is indeed an object of pity. Yet there is nothing in all this that cannot be remedied by that genial alterative tonic and nervine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which supplies deficient stamina, braces the nervous system and overcomes those bodily irregularities to which nervous weakness is most frequently attributable. Diseases of the kidney and bladder, imperfect digestion and uterine troubles are fertile sources of debility. Their eradication however, becomes a matter of certainty when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are systematically used for that purpose. The Bitters likewise annihilate and prevent fever and ague and other debilitating febrile complaints of a malarial nature.

From the Philadelphia Presbyterian.

From the World's Dispensary Printing Office and Bindery, Buffalo, N. Y., we have received "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in plain English; or, Medicine Simplified," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Counselor-in-chief of the Board of Physicians and Surgeons at the World's Dispensary. Whoever helps humanity in its struggle with its inherent weaknesses and diseases, to bear or cure, is its benefactor. Ignorance is not only of itself a cause of disease and mortality, but it is the enemy of every effort to cure or mitigate. Nothing will so speedily remove this cause as knowledge (an elementary one at least) of the diseases to which we are heir, as well as those superinduced by our own imprudence. Dr. Pierce has rendered, in our judgment, a benefactor's service, both to the afflicted and to the profession, in his diagnosis of the diseases treated of, and in the presentation of the philosophic principles involved in their cause and removal. He is sparing of remedies, and usually prescribes such as are safe in unskilled hands. As a book merely of abstract knowledge, it is exceedingly readable and interesting, especially the following subjects:—Cerebral Physiology, Human Temperaments, Pseudo-Hygiene, the Nursing of the Sick, Sleep, Food, Ventilation, etc. In one chapter on another subject, so delicate in its nature that it is shut up beyond the domain of warning to all but physicians, so accursed in its results in modern society, he is most explicit, and alike true to God, to virtue, to life and to society, shows the truth as presented in the teachings of Scripture,—that life begins with conception,—with great force, to which is added faithful warnings.

Price of the Medical Adviser $1.50, sent post-paid, Address the author at Buffalo, N. Y.

VERY DURABLE AND CHEAP!

Daily Chronicle.

—A convict who is serving out a life sentence in prison, and who has heretofore displayed considerable ingenuity in the use of a common jack-knife in fashioning curiosities, has just completed another, which eclipses any of his previous efforts. It is in the shape of a miniature museum, mounted upon wheels, and contains fifty-four views of scenes, each one of which contains from one to ten miniature figures, representing all classes of society. The scenes are designed to illustrate the career of a "famous California outlaw, drunkard and murderer," and the views represent him in almost every conceivable situation in a life of crime. It is, in fact, the "Road to Ruin," illustrated with miniature figures. The scenes are mostly viewed through glass, and are illuminated from the interior of the curious piece of mechanism.

—A Fifth Ward widow moved into her new house the other day, and her first six callers were lightning-rod agents. She bluffed them off one by one, but when the seventh came he said: "I don't claim that a rod will protect the house, but I do say that if I was looking for a second wife I'd never marry a widow who didn't have a lightning rod on her house. And that's the way all rich men think." "You may put up two of 'em!" she promptly replied, "and be sure they are conspicuous, too!"—Detroit Free Press.

—They have found a petrified Mormon in Utah, and from the number of dents in the head, evidently made with a poker and flat iron, it is judged that he had at least thirty-three wives.—Norristown Herald.

—Florida papers report an almost total failure of the sponge crop, while Northern free-lunch saloon clerks say that there are more sponges around this Fall than they ever saw before.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS.

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs

No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the novelty and utility of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are hereby saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent, more trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled degree of influence among the best Farmers of all Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the times in every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to that is contained in a dozen numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Breeds of Stock throughout the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry-Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on; and weekly presents a column or two for the Housewife and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well edited Review of Current Events, and the whole is presented in a manner a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS.

NEW TESTIMONIALS.

— FOR —

Weak Lungs, Constipation, Lameness, Liver Complaint Dyspepsia, Paralysis, Poor Blood and Kidney Troubles.

One Box Dr. Quain's Condition Pills "Nearly Cured Where All Else Failed."

LOWELL, MASS, July 29th, 1874.

T. W. LANE:—I have used one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, am glad to state in my case they have proved all that you claim for them. I have been troubled with Bad Blood and all its consequent diseases, and have tried several kinds of Bitters and Pills without receiving much benefit, until I tried the CONDITION PILLS, and they have nearly cured where all else failed. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, very truly,
J. D. WHITAKER.

Testimony of a Clergyman---Liver and Kidney Troubles.

EAST TILTON, N. H., April 14, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are not only the best, but the very best I ever used. My wife and myself have tried your Kidney Complaint many years; one half of a package has cured her, so that she feels as well as ever. I have been troubled with Liver Compaint for many years; one-half of a package has done me more good than all the Pills I ever took. One of my neighbors took them, who has been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years: three Pills have helped him. Your Pills, where used, commend their virtues. Please send to my address one package.

REV. JOHN DAVIS.

Liver Compaint and Rheumatism so that he Could not Sleep Nights.

I was born and always lived in Pittsfield, N. H.; am now 50 years old; been troubled with Liver Complaint for 30 years, and Rheumatism for 20 years; sometimes so I could not sleep nights. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good and relieved more suffering than all the medicine I have taken during my life.

Pittsfield, N. H., Dec. 17, 1874. S. S. RING.

Fever and Ague.

NEW BOSTON, N. H., Feb. 1, 1875.

T. W. LANE.—Sir:—Last month I sent to you for a package of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS. I had tried five so-called ague cures, and I received more benefit from five of your pills than from all the "Cures" "Cholagogues," "Quinine," &c., that I have taken in two years. I cannot recommend it too highly for diseases resulting from long standing Fever and Ague.

Yours, most respectfully,
MRS. C. GARLAND.

Scaly Humor Cured by One Package---Liver Complaint Helped.

NORTH SALEM, N. H., Jan. 5, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—Your Pills are all they are recommended. I was troubled with a Scaly Humor on my legs, I took one package and my legs are quite smooth. My wife, and Brother-in-law, with Liver Compaint; she took one package and they helped her greatly.

Yours, with respect,
JOHN H. BLAKE.

From a Leading Citizen of Rindge.

WEST RINDGE, Cheshire Co., N. H., November 17, 1874.

THOS. W. LANE:—After taking three packages of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I am prepared to say they are the very best, for I have tried a great many kinds, and faithfully believe three packages will help me, to no effect.—These I do believe are the very best ever made; just the kind a man needs. May they be spread over the whole world, and Dr. Quain's name a household word.

Yours truly,
ASA STICKNEY.

Felt Better, Stronger and Gained Flesh in One Week.

AFTER TAKING DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS.

ROLLINSFORD, N. H.

THOS. W. LANE:—I commenced to take DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and in one week I was heavier, felt better, and was stronger. Before, and any one troubled with BAD BLOOD can find sure remedy in these Pills.

Nov. 5, 1874. L. M. YEATON.

CHESTER, N. H., Feb. 24, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been out of health for some time, and I took a very bad cold and it left my lungs in a very weak state. I received Dr. Quain's Condition Pills and took them according to the directions, and my lungs are some better. I can recommend them to any one who is troubled with weak lungs, for they have done me good, and I think another package will cure me. Dr. Quain's Pills ought to be known throughout the world. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, &c., CYRUS LANE.

HILLSBOROBRIDGE, Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—Dr. Quain's Condition Pills are the best I ever used for lameness and pain. The first dose I took removed the pain and lameness that I have been troubled with for several years. Others have used quite a number of my pills besides myself. Please send another package by return of mail. MRS. DANIEL KIMBALL.

GILMANTON I. W., N. H., Feb. 25, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been taking Dr. Quain's Condition Pills, and can recommend them as far as they have gone. My constipation of the bowels; they do not have the debilitating effect of common purgatives I have taken.

MRS. J. B. GOODWIN.

NORTHWOOD CENTRE, March 1, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I saw Dr. Quain's Condition Pills highly recommended, and sent for a package, and I find that they are more than I can say for the medicine I have taken for years, and can freely recommend them to others, as a good and sure medicine. Please send me another package for one as possible. MARTHA NORCROSS.

BRISTOL, N. H., Feb. 27, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I tried a trial of those Condition Pills, and liked them very much. I think they are all they are recommended. They are a good Liver invigorator.

N. F. DANFORTH.

SALEM DEPOT, N. H., March 8, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I thought since my (Dr. Quain's Condition Pills) are all they claim to be; my wife and I are both victims of Liver and Kidney Complaint, and general debility. We have taken about half the box, and we are happy to say we find much improvement in our health. I want four packages to give away in the north part of Vermont, to friends in that place. I enclose $2.00, and if you can, send me four Packages. ROYAL SCOTT.

SOUTH PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., March 11, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have given Dr. Quain's Condition Pills a trial, and find I can honestly recommend them, they having materially improved the nervous system from which I was suffering. I predicted since getting upon my feet after the Paralysis of left side that I suffered last October. I desire you to send me four more when as soon as convenient, as I am anxious to continue their use. Though not now a resident of New England, I have lived in Central Vermont more than fifty years, and trust Dr. Quain's Pills will not long be seen in that section. MOSES SHELDON.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have been troubled with Biliousness, Headache, and Dizziness, for a long time, and had the Dyspepsia so bad there were but few kinds of food my stomach would bear at times. I commenced taking your pills, have taken most of one package, and now enjoy eating as well as I ever did, am not troubled with dizziness unless by taking cold, and have been greatly benefited by the use of them. A. L. PAGE.

FRANCESTOWN, March 13, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have found Dr. Quain's Condition Pills to be all you claim for them in Kidney Complaint, poor blood, and weak nerves. May they be circulated over the land and find their way to every household where medicine is needed. I enclose 50 cts. for another package as soon as convenient.

JOHN T. FELCH.

Better Health than for 10 Years.

CHESTER, N. H., Oct. 17, 1874.

MR. LANE:—I have taken one package of Condition Pills; find them in my case all they were recommended; have not enjoyed so good health for the last ten years as I have since I commenced taking the Condition Pills. Shall be happy to recommend them to others. WILLIAM H. FELLOWS.

☞ DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are sold by the Agent of the American Medicine Co. A package will be forwarded upon receipt of fifty cents, by THOMAS W. LANE, agent, Manchester, N. H.

For the convenience of the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity an agency for the sale of DR. QUAIN'S Pills has been established at No. 1 & 2 N. E. F. Union Store, Market Street.

SCRIBNERS' MONTHLY FOR 1876

The publishers invite attention to the following list of some of the leading articles to appear in Scribner's Monthly, for the coming year. In the field of fiction, besides numerous novelettes and shorter stories, there will be

TWO REMARKABLE SERIAL STORIES,

By American Authors.

The first of these, now complete in our hands,

"GABRIEL CONROY,"

By BRET HARTE,

Begins in the November number,

and will run for twelve months. This is Mr. Harte's first extended work. The scenes and characters, which the author has chosen from his favorite field, California, will be painted with character-istic vividness and power; and the work is without doubt the most graphic record of California life that has yet appeared.

We shall also begin in the January number,

"PHILIP NOLAN'S FRIENDS,"

OR, SHOW YOUR PASSPORTS,"

By EDWARD EVERETT HALE.

The scene of this story is laid in the Southwestern territory, now forming the States of Louisiana and Texas, at the time of Aaron Burr's treason. The characters will be in section which was now American, now French, and now Spanish, and this recent, which is ordinarily distributed to all the bond holders pro rata, is in this loan distributed by chance. The purchaser of a bond knows he will receive back his investment, with a small rate of interest, he has a chance in the above named premiums, which are simply the distribution of interest on the whole loan.

A SECOND "FARMER'S VACATION,"

By Col. GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

Col. Waring is now in Europe, visiting, in a row-boat ride of five hundred and fifty miles, one of the most fertile and interestidg of the vine growing valleys of Europe. This second series of papers from

Each bond participates in four drawings each year, until it has drawn a premium, when it is surrendered, the premium paid, and the bond cancelled.

The Industrial Exhibition Company, under a special charter granted by the State of New York, is given authority to issue these bonds. The Legislature of the State, recognizing the great benefits which will arise from the success of this enterprise, have exempted all the real estate and property of the Company from taxation and assessments for five years, and has also conferred other great privileges.

Every American who understands the purposes of this Company will, of a necessity, feel a pride in aiding it to a successful termination.

Each individual who buys a bond becomes an owner and an interested party, and he will see that the structure erected with his money can say, "I aided to erect in our country the most magnificent building the world has ever seen, and established a rich, in truth, represents the industry, energy and mechanical genius of the American people."

The manufacturers and the inventors of America are peculiarly interested in the success of this enterprise, for the reason that it is to be their home, where all their inventions and manufactures can be exhibited and sold.

The building will contain 5,320,000 square feet of space.

Purchasers desiring Bonds before an agency is established where they reside, will communicate direct with this office, from where they can be supplied.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

A CHANCE FOR ALL!

$100,000

GIVEN AWAY!

The Union Pocket Book Co.

having secured by cash purchase the entire bankrupt stock of Messrs H. Morond & Co., consisting of

400,000 Portmonies,

(POCKET BOOKS,)

of the best manufacture and superb quality, each pocket book being made of Real Morocco Leather; to effect a speedy, clearance sale and having in view the old motto of the house, Certain Profits with Quick Returns, the company have decided on giving each individual purchaser the full benefit of this remunerative bargain by giving away One Hundred Thousand Dollars, in

2818 MONEY PRIZES!

THE FIRST PRIZE BEING			$20,000 CASH.
SECOND	"	"	$10,000 "
THIRD	"	"	5,000 "

and 2815 other money prizes as follows, viz.:

25	PRIZES OF	$1000	CASH,	EACH.
40	"	500	"	"
50	"	100	"	"
100	"	50	"	"
200	"	20	"	"
400	"	10	"	"
2000	"	1	"	"

The above prizes with the cost of advertising and other incidental expenses, giving the purchasers two-thirds of the profits that accrue on the entire sale, and to enable every one to have an equal share in the profits, with the certainty of receiving treble the value for their small investment and the further opportunity of surely gaining a share in the distribution of $100,000, and this too by the riskless outlay of $1 only.

The Union Pocket Book Co. will deliver free to any address on receipt of One Dollar, a GENUINE MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK, together with a COUPON TICKET,

entitling and giving the holder a share in the drawing of 2818 CASH PRIZES, of the aggregate value of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS CURRENCY. The Company guarantee to return to each purchaser at least treble the value for his money.

How can this be accomplished? is a question many will doubtless ask themselves, and foreseeing this we offer the following lucid explanation.

The trade assigned, anxious to dispose of and realize on the entire stock of the bankrupts in one sale, accepted our offer of $ 60,000 cash for the lot; after advertising same for about one month, and not receiving a single offer, which in the present depression of business and almost total stagnation of trade is ample to order and do, notwithstanding that our offer was one third less than the actual cost of the manufacture of the Pocket Books. The assignee having to at once realize the effects of the bankrupts, for the interests of the creditors he had no alternative but to accept this offer and sell us the lot at only one penny thereby enabling us to distribute in prizes $100,000 amongst the purchasers, and at the same time retain a fair marginal profit for ourselves; think you obtain fully double the value of the amount you forward us and it depends on your luck what amount you gain of the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Money Prizes.

THE SALE WILL POSITIVELY CLOSE ON

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1875,

and orders for pocket books should therefore be forwarded to us at once—no application by letter after Saturday, November 20th, can be entertained.

1000 of the Pocket Books are of the patented manufacture, superior in value to the remainder, the retail price of the same being $8, and these will be forwarded to early purchasers until disposed of.

Therefore those who send immediate orders will reap the advantage of receiving a superior article.

Remittances can be sent us either by one or any number of Bankers Checks, post office orders, or greenbacks in registered letter by express, etc.

Post Office orders and drafts to be made payable in favor of Frank Stewart, the Company's Manager; Post Office orders to be drawn on General Post Office, Philadelphia, and drafts on the First National Bank.

The Drawing of Prizes will take place at the Company's Principal Offices, 530 Locust Street, Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, on

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1875

and the winning numbers will be advertised in this Journal and the principal Philadelphia and New York newspapers on Saturday, November 27th.

The Prizes will be forwarded in drafts, greenbacks or by post office orders per registered letter by Monday's morning mails, November 29th, or if preferred prizes can be sent by express, or in any other manner purchasers may select, providing same be signified by them when forwarding orders for pocket books.

Remember this is no lottery, but a bona fide business system founded on a true financial basis which enables the Company to convert into money an otherwise surplus stock, and thus too with a good profit to both the purchasers and themselves, effect as a speedy clearance stock which in the present dull times is the great desiderata that in no other way can be successfully attained.

We guarantee each pocket book to be of the best manufacture; of pure morocco leather and intrinsically worth in retail trade at the lowest rate of from $3 to $4.

This is an opportunity that should not be let pass by; one and all should embrace this chance. We afford every one an opportunity of realizing a share in $100,000 at the insignificant outlay of $1 (one dollar) for which they receive value three fold and those who let this fortune chance escape them will have only themselves to blame.

THE TWO ORPHANS.

I.—THE STREETS OF PARIS.

It was a terrible time of which we write for all, from the King, Louis XV., down to the wretch who died in the gutter without raising a hand to fight against his misery.

But the revolution was some years distant upon that particular Summer afternoon, at a certain Quai des Fleurs, on the southern side of the Seine, and whence a view of the Pont Neuf, and beyond it of the Cathedral of Notre Dame, was to be seen readily enough.

There were no very signal signs of poverty to be noted—the wretched, as the wretched ever do, were hiding in the dark. But pinched faces and eager eyes were common enough to be seen, and angry glances would now and again follow a sedan, as two human beasts of burden carried past some grand lady, whose jewels and silks could be seen behind the little fluttering silk curtains.

The flowers had all been sold, and the sellers and purchasers long since gone about their business, when a huge man might have been seen strolling toward a beetle-browed wine shop which shelved away in one corner of the market place.

He was raggedly dressed, it is true, and there was an ugly, quick look in his eyes, like a cur brought to bay; but his body showed no signs of poverty. It was well nourished, and evidently he possessed herculean strength, as he seemed to be aware, by the very mode in which he threw his body from side to side.

He was known in the quarter as one of the most dangerous and least scrupulous of men. When in good humor, he would laughingly say he belonged to a killing family. No one who heard him doubted the statement.

He had killed on account of others as well as on his own. He was one of those men of the people who, too lazy for steady industry, yet eager to indulge their appetites, readily fall victims to the temptation offered them by the more unscrupulous of the rich and great, and thereby become the tools by which the people, whence they themselves have sprung, are injured.

Beyond his strength he had not one good quality. It was even to be doubted whether or not he was commonly brave. But that quarter of the town feared him, and the knowledge of that dread was his greatest delight.

Yet this man had one genuine and constant admirer—his own mother. La Frochard, as she was called, whose chief delight was to contemplate this son of hers leaning upon the parapet of the quay and sunning himself; or pouring out wine with the air of a bravo at the counter of some black-walled and dusky wine-shop.

She gained a living by groping among heaps of offal, and in the gutters, for saleable refuse. She worked hard, that Jaques should be free from work, and air himself in the sunlight.

She was hideous, dirty, coarse-voiced, but she looked almost gracious as she caught sight of him, the sunlight falling on his wicked but handsome face.

He was active in a moment, shot an endearing glance toward the wineshop, and said, "Mother, hast thou any money?"

"Brave boy—brave boy?" she cried exultingly. "Thy father lives in thee. He had ever a free hand. Here, take all I have, and glad am I to see thee with it."

He took the coin, glanced at it contemptuously and flung it into a loose pocket.

"A poor day I've had," cried the doting mother, in genuine grief; "yet some days are bad and others are good. But see, here comes Pierre, poor wretch! My hope is that he has found work."

The Pierre mentioned was a thin, frail, small man, with bent head, wistful-looking aspect, and who was painfully lame. He was driving a knife-grinder's truck before him, and it, and he, and his clothes, all looked forlorn and poverty stricken.

"Pierre, lad," shouted Jacques, "hast thou any money?"

"Two bits of silver," said the cripple, meekly; "there has not been much work to do to-day, but I have done all I could."

"Work?" repeated the other, as though mentioning the most abject thing in the world; "Why, where is thy silver? It will look better in a gentleman's pocket than in your hand?"

"Here 'tis, Jacques," replied the poor fellow, approaching the ruffian.

"Stop there," said the old woman. "What would one like you dare go near such as Jacques? Give me thy money, and I will carry it to him."

The meek knife-grinder did as he was bidden; and Jacques, taking the money from La Frochard, said, loosely, "Come, mother; thou shalt drink with me."

"What a boy!" cried La Frochard. "He work? No, no, no! Such as he are not born for working days."

They turned and left the cripple, whose money they had grasped, without further look or word. And yet he was the son of one and the brother of the other.

He had not eaten, and he was moneyless; but he fell to trudging again willingly enough, and calling out for a job. To be sure, he was very meat-looking, weak, sickly, and malformed; while Jacques lived strong, hearty, and, in his way, handsome; but had the world chosen between the brothers for usefulness, the victory would have been with the cripple.

(To be continued.)

THE ELECTIONS!

EVAPORATION OF THE TIDAL WAVE!

OLD FASHIONED REPUBLICAN GAINS FAR AND NEAR!

"Old Times dar are not Forgotten!"

REPUBLICAN RESUMPTION!

The result of the November elections is as gratifying as it is satisfactory to republicans. Massachusetts, the chief republican State in the Union, however, affords the only enigma of the occasion. The republicans of that State owed it to their self-respect to have rolled up an overwhelming majority for Hon. Alexander H. Rice. Boston did nobly, giving him a plurality, notwithstanding the fact that Gov. Gaston had more than 8000 majority there last year.

From all directions come inspiriting tidings of republican success, and even New York State, which last year elected a democratic Governor by 50,000 majority, wheels into the line of astounding gains. Tilden, the democratic hard money candidate, is crushed as completely by the avalanche of republican votes, as was Gov. Allen in the late inflation contest in Ohio. This year of 1875 has effectually disposed of quite a number of Presidential candidates on both sides.

The democratic House of Representatives meets next month, repudiated in advance of its gathering, the result showing the folly of electing Congressmen a year before their terms are to commence. The elections of 1875 have revealed the fact that they have not the support of the people. The disasters of last year tended to the republican triumphs of the present, and these elections show that with good nominations, united effort and courageous devotion to principle and justice, the republicans need not fear any attempt on the part of the democracy to dislodge them from the possession of the National government.

Oregon.

A dispatch from Oregon says that the returns indicate the election of Warren, republican, to Congress, by a small majority. Previous returns had indicated 1200 majority against him.

Pennsylvania.

Hartranft's majority in Philadelphia is 17,349,—about 1000 ahead of the State Treasurer.

Massachusetts.

Returns from all but eight towns in Massachusetts give Rice 83,490, Gaston 78,536, Baker 10,000. Rice's plurality, 4954.

New York.

Republicans claim New York State by 2000 majority. Gov. Tilden claims 5000 for the democrats. As far as heard from, 21 republicans and 12 democrats are elected to the State Senate. The Assembly is republican, 79 to 49.

Schroeder, republican, is elected Mayor of Brooklyn by 2000 majority, and the republicans have a majority of aldermen for the first time for many years.

Kansas.

Kansas has gone republican by 10,000 majority, and the republicans elect a large majority of the Representatives. The constitutional amendments providing for biennial sessions of the legislature are carried.

News and Notes.

Horrors upon horrors accumulate in New Hampshire, where the murder fiend seems to have located permanently. On the afternoon of Nov. 2d, Samuel T. Abbott of Ossipee had a quarrel with his wife, and struck her with an axe, nearly severing her head from the body. Then he endeavored to hang himself, but was cut down by his neighbors and arrested. He confesses the crime and said he was provoked when he did the deed. He has several children.

Chicago has elected republican county officers.

—In the hurry of housework, the baking of apples, considered a small affair, is overlooked, and if the fruit can be sufficiently reduced by the heat, it matters not how it is done. This will make anything but an acceptable dish—acceptable to the eye as well as to the palate. You want every apple to remain perfect, retaining its shape, and not to be an undistinguishable mass of pulp, core and peel, baked next to dryness, or insufficiently cooked at the centre of the fruit.

To bake an apple properly is a nice thing, requiring attention. The first thing is uniformity of heat. I emphasize this, as it is indispensable. Too much or too little heat is at all times faulty. Hence a coal stove is the place to bake an apple. You must acquire by experience the amount of heat needed. It is not much, and it therefore takes longer to cook sour fruit. This also is a necessity. The time depends somewhat on the thickness of the peel, and the amount of moisture held by it. It is this holding the moisture while baking, that is the secret of successfully baking an apple. It is confining the steam which gets up a commotion and reduces the pulp to a fine texture, a thorough reduction, leaving the skin a thin silken covering, holding the flavor and aroma. This is an advantage to a highly flavored fruit, but it also improves an apple of inferior quality, lessening the acid.

To secure all this, an apple should be exposed to the heat from three to five hours, according to size, and whether sweet or sour; a sweet apple requiring more time. As soon as removed from the oven lay open the (sour) fruit, remove the core, sprinkle fine white sugar over it, close up and set away till cool. The Spitzenburgh (Esopus) is the king of fruit for this purpose. The point to be observed in baking is to see that the skin is not broken by the heat as it generates the steam.

RATTAN WARE
MANUFACTORY.
ONLY 4 Rattan Ware Factories in the United States, and one of them has just begun manufacturing in Portsmouth. The furniture made by this firm is made of the very best quality of East India Rattan, and for beauty, attractiveness, ease and durability is more desirable than any other furniture. We claim that the generality of our work is better than can be procured elsewhere in the United States. Few people comparatively have ever seen many pieces of this attractive furniture, and we cordially invite any one to call and examine our work even if they have no idea of purchasing. We warrant every piece of our ware to be as good as can be bought elsewhere at as less price.
Don't fail to call up, and see what few people in the United States have seen; viz, a collection of this ware, OVER FOREMAN'S OYSTER HOUSE, on Congress street, up one flight.

E. G. PIERCE, Jr., P. M.

TRIAL OF DAVID L. MAGOON,

OF RAYMOND,

FOR THE MURDER OF MRS. MAGOON,

BY POISONING.

The case of State vs. David L. Magoon was continued on Wednesday by County Solicitor Frink, who addressed the jury for the space of an hour and a half, stating with considerable minuteness what the prosecution propose to prove, closing with the expression of his strong belief in the guilt of the prisoner at the bar.

The court room was thronged with spectators of both sexes, although the number of males greatly preponderated. Nearly all classes of society were represented, and the motley audience was a fruitful subject for the study of a physiognomist. During Mr. Frink's opening speech, in the forenoon, one of the gallery sitters fainted (in consequence of the foul air probably) and was carried from the room, though not without causing considerable commotion and consequent interruption.

The prisoner, Magoon, likewise came near fainting either on account of the impurity of the atmosphere, or from some other cause, so that he was obliged to leave the court room for a few minutes. He is rather frail looking, and seemed a little nervous during certain portions of the day, which may be attributed, perhaps, to ill health, from which it is stated, he is suffering to some degree. He is a thin-visaged medium-sized man, of ordinary appearance, who would be passed without attracting any attention from the majority of observers; and yet there is quite a similarity in the contour of the head as well as the features, to Evans, the Northwood murderer. The prisoner, Magoon, is to be proved a sensual and lecherous scoundrel according to the statement of the County Solicitor. There is, however, no indication in the face of the man of the existence of such a passion. As in the case of Evans, though, it does not always declare itself in the features, and beneath the mask of a solemn and reverential countenance there may lurk the desires of a most damning and polluted heart. Magoon gave the strictest attention during the day's proceedings and behaved like a man who fully appreciates his position, and means to extricate himself from it, if possible. His pallid features, together with the nervousness that at times seizes him, point to this, although we do not regard it as a sign of guilt, by any means, but rather think it greatly to be preferred over that stoicism and indifference that frequently attends the conduct of men in like circumstances of the prisoner. Mrs. Almon Dearborn was the first witness called and testified as follows: Have been acquainted with David L. Magoon and also his wife for some length of time. Saw Mrs. Magoon on the afternoon preceding the day of her death at her house. She was engaged with her daughter, Mrs. Roberts, in binding shoes, and I left them pursuing that occupation. Saw Mrs. Magoon the following afternoon also, at her house. Mrs. Roberts and Mr. Magoon were both present; Mrs. Magoon was in bed in the bedroom. Her husband took a bottle from his pocket, which he said contained peppermint; went to the sink and poured some into a tumbler; then poured in hot water. This was done in the kitchen. He then started for the bedroom when Mrs. Magoon lay sick. She heard Mrs. Magoon say it was so bitter that she could not drink it. Magoon stepped to the door leading to the piazza and threw the balance of the contents of the tumbler into the dirt. Should think that not an hour elapsed after this that she heard of Mrs. Magoon's death. Was present at the laying out of the body. [Counsel for prosecution and defence here indulged in a little sparring relative to the admissibility of certain evidence, relating to the criminal intimacy of Magoon and Mrs. Gardner, the defence arguing that the commission of such a crime, if proved, could not be entertained as evidence in the present case. The Court overruled the exception and the witness continued,] and knowing to the fact that Mrs. Gardner and Mr. Magoon went to East Kingston together a year ago and in company with witness, stopped at Carter's Hotel all night. Went from there to a camp meeting. Mr. Magoon was in company with Mrs. Gardner. This was the Thursday prior to the Monday of his wife's death. Had seen, on a previous occasion, Magoon and Mrs. Gardner indulging in suspicious intimacy. [The testimony relative to what witness saw is unfit for publication.] Have heard Magoon say to Mrs. Gardner that he (Magoon) was never married to his wife.

CROSS EXAMINED. Have been married to Almon Dearborn about two years. On the afternoon previous to her death, called upon Mrs. Magoon and found her crying. Don't think she appeared as well as usual. The daughter, Mrs. Roberts, requested her mother to lay her work aside. Mrs. Magoon was suffering from a scrofulous humor and at times it affected her stomach. At times she was cold and shivering. When she had these attacks she complained that everything tasted bitter. On the day of Mrs. Magoon's death, her husband was away at work. Mrs. M. was feeling very badly about the departure of her daughter, who had been married a short time previous and had left home the day before. Mr. Magoon on coming into the room said that he had bought the peppermint at Mr. Currier's. Am pretty sure that I heard her say that the medicine was so bitter that she could not take it. Observed him throw the contents away. He did not rinse the glass. After the death of Mrs. Magoon did not notice anything peculiar or unusual in the position of the body. Was present at the marriage of Mrs. Heath (Gardner) with Aaron Heath. Think she has lived with him ever since.

MRS. MARY JANE MAGOON.—Am wife of Nathan Magoon and reside in Raymond. My mother-in-law, Mrs. David L. Magoon, died the last day of August, 1874. She was afflicted with a bad humor. Went into the bed-room just before Mrs. Magoon died. My husband went in and she said to her son, "Nathan, I am dying," and I went immediately for her daughter, Mrs. Roberts, at the next door. When I returned, Mrs. M. was dead. Was present at the laying out of the body and saw that they were obliged to cut the clothing from the body, on account of the rigidity of her limbs. Father came in one day and asked his daughter, Mrs. Roberts, where the strychnine was. Found bottle containing strychnine in a pillow-case one day while making up prisoner's bed, it being the same as that used by deceased on her bed, the husband and wife occupying different apartments. Mentioned the matter to Mr. Magoon, my father-in-law, and he said that he thought it probable that mother had taken the poison.

CROSS-EXAMINED. Mother suffered much from the humor in her system. She always complained that everything of a liquid kind tasted bitter. The day she died, I went in at five o'clock and found her lying on the bed, very sick. Supposed she had one of her "spells" as she used to term them. After she died it was nearly an hour before the body was laid out. Did not observe anything remarkable about the appearance of the corpse other than to note the peaceful expression of the features. [Witness was here shown a pillow and was asked to identify it, and indicate the position in which she found the bottle of strychnine.]

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION. I never heard a cross word pass between Mr. and Mrs. Magoon. Lived near by. There was a time when they did not speak together.

WM. N. NEAL. Am a farmer, police officer and constable of Auburn. Have seen Magoon in company with Mrs. Gardner on a certain occasion. Saw Magoon afterward at Peter Palmer's in Manchester. Conversed with him, and in the course of the conversation he remarked that he must find Abby Gardner. He said he had travelled eight and forty hours for her and that she was trying to make out that he was a murderer.

CROSS-EXAMINATION. Magoon was somewhat intoxicated when he appeared at Palmer's. Abby Gardner has had four husbands. Her last husband was a Heath.

ADDISON SEAVEY. Reside in Auburn. Know the prisoner. Saw him at Palmer's. He took me aside and told me that he was in trouble; that he must find Abby Gardner, and wanted to know if I knew where she was. Told him where I thought he could find her.

MRS. MARY W. SEAVEY. Reside in Auburn. Magoon and Gardner came to my house together at one time. I once had a conversation with Magoon in regard to the manner of his wife's death, wherein he asserted his innocence. He said that he told Dr. Gould that if they dug up the body they would find strychnine enough to kill ten men.

WM. R. ROBERTS. Live in Raymond, about three-fourths of a mile from Magoon's; knew of intimacy between Magoon and Mrs. Gardner, something like a year before his wife's death. Knew of one or more particular occasions when they were discovered in improper intercourse.

PAULINA K. ROBERTS.—Am the wife of Owen Roberts. Live some distance from Magoon's. Have seen Magoon and Mrs. Gardner together frequently. Saw them at one time in the act of kissing each other. Helped lay out the deceased. During the evening spoke to Magoon about his wife's death and remarked that I thought if she had not taken the peppermint that she would have been alive now. Noticed hands clenched unusually tight and lying by her side. Thought she must be in a spasm and suggested the matter of getting a doctor, as she might not be dead. Magoon said that all the doctors in the world would not bring her to life. Later in the evening, again suggested the propriety of calling a physician because her death was so sudden and the limbs so very rigid. Those friends who were present said there was no need of it and I said no more. Magoon appeared to feel sad, and once observed him with a handkerchief to his face as though weeping. Don't know exactly what time Mrs. Magoon died, but think I heard Mr. Dearborn say that it was 1-4 before 8 in the evening. I had retired when they sent for me to come and help lay her out.

CROSS-EXAMINED. Did not state before the Grand Jury that Mrs. Magoon died at five minutes past seven. Have assisted in laying out about twenty dead bodies. Never saw such a rigidity of the limbs in any case before. Think it was about an hour after her death that we laid her out. Never have stated that it was two hours. It is possible that that length of time might have elapsed, but do not think it did. The Court, at the conclusion of the testimony of the latter witness, adjourned until Thursday morning at nine o'clock.

P. S. & P. R. R. Meeting.

The meeting of the stockholders of the P. S. & P. Railroad, at Kittery, Wednesday, was largely attended by stockholders from far and near—the ladies even this time, preferring to attend the meeting, rather than visit their friends or see the outside sights—for why, there was talk of reducing their dividends. The discussion of the Eastern Road's proposition, to be allowed for the next four semi-annual dividends, to pay the P. S. & P. $3 per share, instead of the $5 which their ninety-nine years' contract made in 1871 binds them to, was pretty lively.

President Wooldredge occupied the chair, and clerk Barrett of the road, of Portland, was secretary. Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett moved that, on account of the great depression of business on the line, and the consequent loss of the Eastern Road on the lease, the meeting should consent to accept the reduced rate of payment for two years without any change in the lease otherwise. Ex-Governor Goodwin moved to refer the whole matter, including Mr. Hackett's motion, to a committee of five to investigate the affairs of the road, and report to an adjourned meeting. He stated that he feared that if the P. S. & P. incisted on their 5 per cent., they would get nothing in January, but if they consented to accept $3, he thought they would get it.

Mr. Wooldridge stated that the Eastern road had lost very heavily by the P. S. & P. last year, as the receipts therefrom had been much less than the lease cost them.

Remarks were made by C. L. Woodbury of Boston, Ex-Gov. Goodwin, J. B. Brown of Portland, and several other gentlemen, and one indignant lady stockholder, who said that if women do not know much about business, they know when they are cheated, and she characterized the management of the Eastern road as miserable.

After all said—and there was a good deal said very naturally, the meeting appointed as a committee of investigation, Messrs. C. L. Woodbury of Boston, H. H. Ladd of Portsmouth, Geo. E. B. Jackson and A. K. Shurtleff of Portland, and Jas. H. Williams of Augusta, to report to an adjourned meeting at the same place, on the second Tuesday of December.

Mechanic's Association

At the annual meeting Tuesday evening, Nov. 2, the following officers were elected:

President, Frank W. Miller; Vice President, Lewis G. Davis; Treasurer, John Knowlton; Secretary, B. M. Parker; Deputy Secretary, Franklin N. Paul; Trustees, Joseph H. Pettigrew, William A. Hodgdon; Marshal, Andrew J. Beck; Deputy Marshal, Joshua M. Vaughan; Standard Bearer, Joseph R. Curtis.

Jottings.

In the Police Court, Wednesday, Peter McKin plead guilty of exercising the business of a pedler without a license, and was assessed $25.76 in fine and costs.

We notice that Stillman B. Allen, Esq., has been elected to the House of Representatives from Boston. Mr. Allen, as many of our readers well recollect, formerly resided in this city and studied law with Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett. After he was admitted to the bar, he opened an office in Kittery, where he moved; and after practicing there for some time with good reputation and success, he removed to Boston, where he has had a large and profitable practice. He soon became a prominent and influential citizen, acquired a large estate, and is now elected to the Massachusettss House from one of the best wards of Boston. He will make an industrious, prominent and valuable member.

There must be chicken thieves in town. Our democratic neighbor's hen-roost has been robbed, and there is not a feather left in his poultry yard.

Foster's Democrat dodges the question regarding the use of the Eastern Railroad for political purposes, by saying that a majority of the Board of Directors are republicans and that none of the Road's money could be used without their assent. We are unaware that the use of any money from the Eastern's treasury was charged. Director Cummings states that there was no check on the ticket agencies, and that is authority enough to convince the public that the Road could be used politically or otherwise without the knowledge of the directory. It wasn't necessary to use money to influence the Eastern Railroad travellers and employees.

Capt. Seward, of schooner Jessie Williamson, of this port, telegraphs E. F. Sise & Co. that the Williamson ran foul of a barge on the evening of Tuesday, the 2d, carrying away bowsprit and all head-gear. The barge took fire and was destroyed. The Williamson goes to City Island for repairs.

Clandestine Marriages.

Of ninety-nine cases in a hundred, the girl who consents to be privately married gives herself cause for life-long regret. Even though her parents overlook the escapade, and receive her again into favor, the man she marries never forgets the fact that a disobedient daughter seldom makes an obedient wife, and the first matrimonial quarrel is apt to betray his private opinion on the subject. Yet, reprehensible though stolen matches may be, the absolute cruelty which parents too often display toward their thus erring children is barbarous. For instance, a merchant, ascertaining that one of his clerks had privately married his daughter, a mere school girl, immediately disowned the misguided child, and, not contented with that, discharged the clerk on accusation of theft. Now, the unhappy husband is out of work, his character gone, staring pitiless poverty in the face. Do you think that love will linger by their fireless hearth?

Another story of the same kind is told of a wealthy, retired down-east ship captain. A young man, a thorough sailor, had just secured his ship and at the same time secured the hand of the retired captain's daughter, against the will and protest of the father. It was a pure love match, but the father was so indignant at it that he put forth every effort to have his revenge. He found it. Possessing influence, he drove his newly found son-in-law from his ship, and following him, drove him from the employ of the company, and still following, prevented his getting employment even as a mate. The result was the young captain took to drink, first neglected and then abused his wife. She clung to him as long as she could, but finally was driven to the grave, dying still young, of a broken heart. The father had his revenge, but it could have brought little comfort to his heart. The acute reader will perceive that the moral of this article is two-edged.

SCRIBNERS' MONTHLY FOR 1876
The publishers invite attention to the following list of some of the attractive articles secured for Scribner's Monthly, for the coming year. In the field of fiction, besides numerous novelettes and shorter stories, there will be
TWO REMARKABLE SERIAL STORIES,
By American Authors.
The first of these, now complete in our hands,
"GABRIEL CONROY,"
By BRET HARTE,
Begins in the November number,
and will run for twelve months. This is Mr. Harte's first extended work. The scenes and characters, which the author has chosen from his favorite field, California, are painted with his characteristic vigor and power, and the work is without doubt the most graphic record of California life that has yet appeared.
We shall also begin in the January number,
"PHILIP NOLAN'S FRIENDS,"
OR, SHOW YOUR PASSPORTS,"
By EDWARD EVERETT HALE.
The scene of this story is laid in the Southwestern territory, now forming the States of Louisiana and Texas, at the time of Aaron Burr's treason. The characters lived in a section which was now American, and French, and Spanish in its record of their adventurous lives makes a story of intense and unflagging interest throughout.
A SECOND "FARMER'S VACATION,"
By Col. GEO. E. WARING, Jr.
Col. Waring is now in Europe, visiting, in a row-boat ride of two hundred and fifty miles, one of the most fertile and interesting of the vine growing valleys of Europe. The second series of papers promises to be even more interesting than that with which our readers are already familiar.
CENTENNIAL LETTERS,
Edited by John Vance Cheney.
A rare collection of Revolutionary Letters, mainly from stores in the hands of the descendants of Col. Joseph Ward. They are full of interest, and will be read with a ready relish in connection with the Centennial celebration of the year.
BRILLIANTLY ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES ON AMERICAN COLLEGES,
Written respectively by their friends, will appear during the year. The revived interest in college life makes these papers especially timely, and will secure for them unusual attention.
OLD NEW YORK.
Elegantly illustrated articles on Old New-York, by John W. Ames, will appear at once, and will attract the attention of all, in city or country, who mark with interest the development of the great metropolis, and affectionately remember the quaint peculiarities of its olden time.
Every number is profusely illustrated, thus enabling us to give to our descriptive and narrative articles, an interest and permanent value never attained in a non illustrated periodical. Under its accustomed management the magazine will in the future be devoted, as it has been in the past, to sound literature and Christian progress.
The Editorial Departments occupy over twenty pages of each number and contain Dr. Holland's vigorous and timely editorials, as well as Reviews of the latest works in Art, Literature, and science.
TERMS:
$4.00 A YEAR, in advance; 35 cents a Number. The 10 vols, complete, Nov. 1870, to Oct. 1875, bound in maroon cloth.....$20.00

One Box Dr. Quain's Condition Pills "Nearly Cured Where All Else Failed."
LOWELL, MASS, July 20th, 1874.
T. W. LANE:—I have used one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, am glad to state in my case they have proved all that you claim for them. I have been troubled with Bad Blood and all its consequent diseases, and have tried several kinds of Bitters and Pills without receiving much benefit, until I tried the CONDITION PILLS, and they have nearly cured where all else failed. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.
Yours, very truly,
J. D. WHITAKER.

Testimony of a Clergyman---Liver and Kidney Troubles.
EAST TILTON, N. H., April 14, 1875.
MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are not only the best, but the very best I ever used. My wife has been troubled with Kidney Complaint many years; one half of a package has cured her, so that she feels as well as ever. I have been troubled with Liver Compaint for many years; one-half of a package has done me more good than all the Pills I ever took. One of my neighbors took them, who has been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years; three Pills have helped him. Your Pills, where used, commend their virtues. Please send to my address one package.
REV. JOHN DAVIS.

Liver Compaint and Rheumatism so that he Could not Sleep Nights.
I was born and always lived in Pittsfield, N. H.; am now 50 years old; been troubled with Liver Compliant for 30 years, and Rheumatism for 20 years, sometimes so I could not sleep nights. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good and relieved more suffering than all the medicine I have taken during my life.
Pittsfield, N. H., Dec. 17, 1874. S. S. RING.

Fever and Ague.
NEW BOSTON, N. H., Feb. 1, 1875.
T. W. LANE,—Sir:—Last month I sent to you for a package of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS. I had tried five so called ague cures, and I received more benefit from five of your pills than from all the five "Cures" "Cholagogues," "Quinine," &c., that I have taken in two years. I cannot recommend it too highly for diseases resulting from long standing Fever and Ague.
Yours, most respectfully,
MRS. C. GARLAND.

Scaly Humor Cured by One Package---Liver Complaint Helped.
NORTH SALEM, N. H., Jan. 5, 1875.
MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—Your pills are all they are recommended. I was troubled with a Scaly Humor on my legs; I took one package and my legs are quite smooth. My wife was troubled with Liver Complaint; she took one package and they helped her greatly.
Yours, with respect,
JOHN H. BLAKE.

From a Leading Citizen of Rindge.
WEST RINDGE, Cheshire Co., N. H., November 17, 1874.
THOS. W. LANE:—After taking three packages of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I am prepared to say they are the very best, for I have tried a great many kinds, and faithfully too, believing they would help me, to no effect.—There I will believe are the very best ever made; just the kind a man needs. May they be spread all over the wide world, and Dr. Quain's name a household word.
Yours truly,
ASA STICKNEY.

Felt Better, Stronger and Gained Flesh in One Week.

AFTER TAKING DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS.
ROLLINSFORD, N. H.
THOS. W. LANE:—I commenced to take DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and in one week I was better, felt better, and was stronger than before, and any one troubled with BAD BLOOD can find sure remedy in these Pills.
Nov. 3, 1874. L. M. YEATON.

CHESTER, N. H., Feb. 24, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been out of health for some time, and I took a very bad cold and it left my lungs in a very weak state. I received Dr. Quain's Condition Pills and took them according to the directions, and my lungs are some better. I can recommend them to any one who is troubled with weak lungs, for they have been good, and I think another package will cure me. Dr. Quain's Pills ought to be known throughout the world. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.
Yours, &c., CYRUS LANE.

HILLSBOROBridge, Feb. 25, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—Dr. Quain's Condition Pills are the best I ever used for lameness and pain. The first dose I took removed the pain and lameness that I have been troubled with for several years. I have used quite a number of the pills besides myself. Please send another package by return of mail. MRS. DANIEL KIMBALL.

GILMANTON I. W., N. H., Feb. 25, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I have been taking Dr. Quain's Condition Pills, and can recommend them as far ahead of common pills for constipation of the bowels; they do not have the debilitating effect of common purgatives I have taken.
MRS. J. B. GOODWIN.

NORTHWOOD CENTRE, March 1, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE:—I saw Dr. Quain's Condition Pills have been recommended, and sent for a package, and I feel that they have done more for me than all the medicine I have taken for years, and can freely recommend them to others, as a good and sure medicine. Please send me another package as soon as possible. MARTHA NORCROSS.

BRISTOL, N. H., Feb. 27, 1875.
MR. THOS. W. LANE.—I have made a full trial of those Condition Pills, and liked them very much. I think they are all they are recommended. They are a good Liver invigorator.
N. F. DANFORTH.

SALEM DEPOT, N. H., March 8, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE:—I think these pills (Dr. Quain's Condition Pills) are all they claim to be; my wife and I are both victims of Liver and Kidney Complaint, and general debility. We have used about half that package you sent me, and find a marked improvement in our health. I want fog packages to give away in the northern part of Vermont. Send up there. I enclose $2.00, and if you can, send me four Packages. ROYAL SCOTT.

SOUTH PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., March 11, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE:—I have given Dr. Quain's Condition Pills a trial, and find I can honestly recommend them, they having materially relieved the soreness and lameness with which I have been afflicted since getting upon my feet after the Paralysis of a light stroke last October. I would like for you to send me another package as soon as convenient, as I am anxious to continue their use. Though not now a resident of New England, I have lived in Central Vermont more than fifty years, and know Dr. Quain's Pills will not long be seen in that section. MOSES SHELDON.

THOS. W. LANE:—I have been troubled with Billiousness, Headache, and Dizziness, for a long time, and had the Dyspepsia so very much here for a few days that I thought would leave at all. I commenced taking your pills, have taken most of one package, and now enjoy eating as well as I ever did, am not troubled with dizziness unless by taking cold, and have been greatly benefited by the use of them. A. L. PAGE.

FRANCESTOWN, March 13, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE:—I have found Dr. Quain's Condition Pills to be all you claim for them in Kidney Complaint, poor blood, and weak nerves. May they be circulated over the land and found in every household where medicine is needed. I enclose 50 cts. for another package as soon as convenient.
JOHN T. FELCH.

Better Health than for 10 Years.
CHESTER, N. H., Oct. 17, 1874.
MR. LANE:—I have taken one package of Condition Pills, and them in my case all they are recommended; have not enjoyed so good health for the last ten years as I have since I commenced taking the Condition Pills. Shall be happy to recommend them to others. WILLIAM H. FELLOWS.

☞ DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are sold by the Agent of the American Medicine Co. A package will be forwarded upon receipt of fifty cents, by THOMAS W. LANE, agent, Manchester, N. H.

For the convenience of the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity an agency for the sale of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS has been established at the N. E. P. Union Store, Market Street.

WOOD FOR SALE.
THE subscriber has on hand is constantly receiving the best quality of Hard & Pine Wood, for sale on commission, Sawed and Split when required, at his Wood Yard on Vaughan Street, near Eastern R. R. Orders may be left at my house, No. 2 Elm Street. F. W. ROGERS.

PULMOCINE.

PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LOCAL AGENTS
WANTED.
An Agent Wanted for Each Town and County in the United States.
Parties desiring to act as agents must accompany their application by a letter of recommendation as to character and responsibility from and signed by the Editor of a newspaper published in the town or county for which the agent proposes to act. The agency is to sell the bonds of the Industrial Exhibition Company.
BONDS, $20 EACH.
HALF BONDS, $10 EACH.
QUARTER BONDS, $5 EACH.
The Industrial Exhibition Company will furnish agents with circulars, etc., etc.
Each newspaper published in the town where an agent is located will, as soon as the agency is established, be given an advertisement, advertising such agency and the Company, and fully explaining the plans, purposes and objects of the Company. Such advertisement will continue in such papers as long as an agency is successfully conducted.
The Industrial Exhibition Company is the first to adopt the plan so long in use by the European governments of issuing bonds when the principal is made secure and not risked, but where there is a chance for a large premium, an investment of $20 is sure to return to the investor $21—one dollar more than cost—and the holder of a $20 Bond may obtain a premium either of $50, $100, $200, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000 or $100,000. The interest, which is ordinarily distributed to all the bond holders pro rata, is in like manner distributed by chance. The purchaser of a bond knows he will receive back his investment, with a small rate of interest, he has a chance in the above named premiums, which are simply the distribution of interest on the whole loan.
Each bond participates in four drawings each year, until it has drawn a premium, when it is surrendered, the premium paid, and the bond cancelled.
The Industrial Exhibition Company, under a special charter granted by the State of New York, is given authority to issue these bonds. The Legislature of the State, recognizing its great benefits which will arise from the success of this enterprise, have exempted all the real estate and property which the company may obtain and assessments for five years, and has also conferred other great privileges.
Every American who understands the purposes of this Company will, of a necessity, feel a pride in aiding it to a successful termination.
Each individual who buys a bond becomes an owner and in a measure a partner, and will be views the structure erected with his money can say, "I aided to erect in our country the most magnificent building the world has ever seen, a palace which, in truth, represents the industry, energy and mechanical genius of the American people."
The manufacturers and the inventors of America are peculiarly interested in the success of this enterprise, for the reason that it is to be their home, where all their inventions and manufactures can be exhibited and sold.
The building will contain 5,320,000 square feet of space.
Purchasers desiring Bonds before an agency is established where they reside, will communicate direct with this office, from where they can be supplied.
Parties desiring to act as agents or to purchase bonds will address

A CHANCE FOR ALL!
$100,000
GIVEN AWAY!
The Union Pocket Book Co.
having secured by cash purchase the entire bankrupt stock of Messrs H. Morond & Co., consisting of 400,000 Portmonies,
(POCKET BOOKS,)
of the best manufacture and superb quality, each pocket-book being made of Real Morocco Leather; to effect a speedy clearance sale and having in view the old motto of the house, Certain Profits with Quick Returns, the company have decided on giving each individual purchaser the full benefit of this remunerative bargain by giving away One Hundred Thousand Dollars, in
2818 MONEY PRIZES!
THE FIRST PRIZE BEING $20,000 CASH.
" SECOND " " $10,000 "
" THIRD " " $5,000 "
and 2815 other money prizes as follows, viz.:
25 PRIZES OF $1000 CASH, EACH.
40 " " 500 " "
50 " " 100 " "
100 " " 50 " "
200 " " 20 " "
400 " " 10 " "
2000 " " 1 " "
The above prizes with the cost of advertising and other incidental expenses, giving the purchasers two-thirds of the profit as that accrue on the entire sale, and to enable every one to have an equal share in the profits, with the certainty of receiving double the value for their small investment and the further opportunity of surely gaining a share in the distribution of $100,000, and this too by the riskless outlay of $1 only.
The Union Pocket Book Co. will deliver free to any address on receipt of One Dollar, a GENUINE MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK, together with a COUPON TICKET,
entitling and giving the holder a share in the drawing of 2818 CASH PRIZES, of the aggregate value of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS CURRENCY. The Company guarantee to return to each purchaser at least double the value for his money.
How can this be accomplished? is a question many will doubtless ask themselves, and foreseeing this we offer the following lucid explanation.
The Trade assigned, anxious to dispose of and realize on the entire stock of the bankrupts in one sale, accepted our offer of $ 90,000 cash for the lot; after advertising for one month, and not receiving a single offer, which in the present depression of business and almost total stagnation of trade is not to be wondered at; notwithstanding that our offer was one-third less than the actual cost of the manufacture of the Pocket Books. The assignee having to at once realize the effects of the bankrupts, in the interest of the creditors, he had no alternative but to accept this offer and sell us the lot at our own price, thereby enabling us to distribute in prizes $100,000 amongst the purchasers, and at the same time retain a fair marginal profit for ourselves; thus you obtain fully double the value of the amount you forward us and it depends on your luck what amount you gain of the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Money Prizes.
THE SALE WILL POSITIVELY CLOSE ON
MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1875,
and orders for pocket books should therefore be forwarded to us at once—no application by letter after Saturday, November 20th, can be entertained.
1000 of the Pocket Books are of the patented manufacture, superior in value to the remainder, the retail price of the same being $8, and these will be forwarded to early purchasers until disposed of.
Therefore those who send immediate orders will reap the advantage of receiving a superior article.
Remittances can be sent us either by one or any number of pocket books by bank drafts, post office orders, or greenbacks in registered letter by express, etc.
Post Office orders and drafts to be made payable in favor of Frank Greenwood, the Company's Manager. Post Office orders to be drawn on General Post Office, Philadelphia, and drafts on the First National Bank.
The Drawing of Prizes will take place at the Company's Principal Offices, 530 Locust Street, Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, on
WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1875
and the winning numbers will be advertised in this Journal and the principal Philadelphia and New York newspapers of Saturday, November 27th.
The Prizes will be awarded by delivery, greenbacks or by post office order per registered letter by Monday's morning mails, November 29th, or if preferred prizes can be sent by express, or in any other manner purchasers may select, provided they have be signified by them when forwarding orders for pocket books.
Remember this is no lottery, but a bona fide business system founded on a true financial basis which enables the Company to convert into money an otherwise surplus stock, and thus too with a good prize to both the purchasers and themselves, effect by a speedy clearance stock which in the present dull times is the great desiderata that in no other way can be successfully attained.
We guarantee each pocket book to be of the best manufacture; of pure morocco leather and intrinsically worth in retail trade at the lowest rate of from $3 to $4.
This is an opportunity that should not be let pass by; one and all should embrace their chance. We afford every one an opportunity of realizing a share in $100,000 at the insignificant outlay of $1 (one dollar) for which they receive value three fold and those who let this forever close escape them will have only themselves to blame.
All letters replied to same day as received. We advise intending purchasers to forward orders immediately which will prevent disappointment and receive prompt attention.
Remember, every one who sends ONE DOLLAR before November 20th, 1875, receives A MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK of the value of from $3 to $4 and a COUPON, giving them a share in the drawing of $100,000.
ADDRESS ALL ORDERS, LETTERS, ETC., TO
The Union Pocket Book Company,
SOUTH-EAST CORNER 6TH AND LOCUST STREETS,
PHILADELPHIA, PENN.

P. S.—Drawing absolute on Wednesday, November 24th. No postponement in the remote contingency of any number of the pocket books remaining unsold; a slight reduction not exceeding $5.00 may be made proportionately from the prizes. tnov16

THE TWO ORPHANS.

Very different did he look, limping along in the roadway, from the Marquis de Presles, for instance—one of those noblemen of the France of that day who quite believed the country had been made for him and his, and that the people were a necessary inconvenience, who were useful in their way, but who, when they talked of rights and justice, must be put down. As many of them were overcome for life, if they were not saved by death, in prisons far below daylight, so they were to be crushed until the land was to rise up and deliver them.

There were three nobles, the Marquis himself, the Count de Mailly, and the Marquis d'Estrees, then and there walking through Paris with the express purpose of seeing what pretty and careless girl might be invited to the Marquis' next fete, or what pretty and honest girl might be abducted; for the noblemen of that day were determined that the people should not want any excuse for hating them.

It was while these three worthies were swaggering through Paris, each with a sword at his side, and which he would draw and use without compunction against any wretch who offended him, although the people were unarmed—for only noblemen and soldiers carried steel. It was, be it said, as these worthies swaggered along and beat themselves a path, if the wayfarers did not run out of the way with sufficient promptitude, that a couple of peasant girls (judging from their dress) entered Paris and moved toward its centre.

Neither was more than eighteen years, and the younger seemed to be led by the other. They carried their little wealth in two homely packets, and as they moved cautiously on their way they spoke only in whispers.

Said she who was the leader: "There is a great bridge, with very many arches, and a statue of a man on horseback at one end."

"That must be the Point Neuf. I have heard them talk about it."

"And beyond that are two high, square towers, belonging to a church."

"The towers of Notre Dame," said the other, in a low, earnest voice. "I can remember so well hearing about the great, square towers. Ah!"

The cry was due to the speaker being pushed against by a well-looking woman, young, and still possessed of the remains of beauty.

"Forgive me!" cried the woman, hurrying past.

"Henriette," whispered the one of the two peasant girls who seemed to be led—"Henriette, she is wretched! I know the voice of misery. Speak to her!"

"Oh, yes; wretched, indeed!" cried the woman; "but not for long—not for long. I have suffered much, but shall, nevertheless, be forgiven!"

"Where are you going?" asked the elder of the girls.

"The river!" said the wild looking-woman, wearily—"the peaceful river!"

"Would you drown yourself?" cried the younger of the two girls, apparently sisters.

"Oh, yes!" she said. "Let me pass; do not stay me, for I am so wretched."

"Why?" asked she who had been styled Henriette.

"I am forced by my husband to steal—he is one Jacques, and my soul revolts from him. I would sooner die—I would much sooner die!"

"Leave him," said Henriette; "you can but die if you are not able to gain your bread."

"I have no money. Who would take me under a roof without a sou?"

"Henriette, give her some money," whispered the younger peasant, who, while apparently relying upon her companion for material help, appeared to be the superior.

The other obediently took a little leather bag from her dress, opened it, and gave two or three of the coins it contained to the despairing woman.

"No, no, no!" cried the woman.

"You will hurt us if you refuse," said Henriette; for you would prevent us helping you. Oh, we are sure you will be good, and perhaps some day even happy!"

"I will try—I will try hard!" and then suddenly catching the right hand of the one girl and the left of the other, she raised both to her lips, kissed them hurriedly, and hastened away.

"She is alone?" asked the younger peasant girl.

"Yes, Louise, all alone!" repeated the elder.

"Poor thing!"

Their hands met, and upon both faces there was a sense of ineffable gratitude that they were together—that neither was alone.

"Are you thirsty?" asked Henriette.

"Slightly," answered her companion.

"Sit down, Louise; there is a curbstone near us. Come."

She led the other carefully, sat her down upon the inhospitable seat, and said, "There is a nice shop opposite. I will be back in a moment."

She stooped and kissed her after she had seated her companion, then crossed the roadway; and thus they were separated, for the Most Noble the Marquis of Presles had seen Henriette, and had no scruples about possessing himself of her.

He, the Right Honorable the Comte de Mailly, and that other most noble the Marquis d'Estrees, had found it not all to their dishonor, and quite in the nature of things, that they should follow the two girls, and, when the opportunity occurred that they should fall upon the one in the shadow as she was nearing the wine-shop, fling a cloak over her head, cast her in a coach, and drive off with the only human being in the world that a poor blind girl had to look after her.

For the poor girl Louise, sitting patiently waiting on the curbstone, was blind.

She kept the sightless eyes fixed in the direction whence Henriette's footsteps had softened in the distance, and remained smiling with that intentness which characterizes those deprived of sight.

Slowly, however, first anxiety crept into the countenance, and then fear.

"Henriette!" she cried in a low voice.

No Henriette was there to hear.

Suddenly she was panic stricken and uttered the name of her companion time after time, every repetition of the word becoming more agonized.

"Heyday!" at last cried a voice; "what is the stir!"

"Where is she? Who are you?" asked the voice.

"Canst not see?" it inquired again.

"Good madam, I am blind."

"Blind!" replied La Frochard, for it was that termagant.

"Henriette, Henriette!"

"And who is Henriette, pray thee!" asked La Frochard.

"My sister, madam. She was here only a minute since, and now she does not seem to hear me. Henriette, Henriette! She is in a wine-shop across the road."

"Nay," said the woman, "there is no one in there. So thou art blind?"

"We are two poor orphans, good madam, and we have come to Paris to seek our fortune—at least, Henriette has; and we love each other dearly—most dearly. Oh, Henriette—dear Henriette!"

But the well known voice was not there to make reply.

"Blind and poor," thought La Frochard; "ay, and pretty! If now, she can sing, she might bring in a pretty piece of money, and Jacques would not go thirsty!"

By this time the poor girl had slipped to the ground, and was sobbing terribly. She had fallen into such despair, that she was powerless to utter the name of the one friend she had in the world.

"Come with me," said the miserable wretch; "we will soon find your sister. See you, night is falling, and the streets are dangerous after dark; so come with me. Though, 'tis true, my house is not a palace."

"Ah," cried the girl, "you forget I am blind; all places are equal to me! Henriette! Henriette!"

"We will seek for her to-morrow," whispered La Frochard. "She has but missed her way."

The trusting, innocent creature held out her right hand.

"We shall find Henriette!"

"That is certain; and to-morrow. Come my poor bird, for thou hast a singing look—come."

She turned the vacant face to the stranger, and took the first step into darkness away from the spot where, for the first time in her life, she was separated from Henriette.

And so by wickedness on the one hand, and cunning on the other, those two inoffensive creatures, who lived for each other, were torn asunder.

* * * * * * *

Meanwhile, not far away, another scene was enacted, with which this tale has much to do.

The poor woman to whom Henriette had given from her little store, was hurrying along, when a strong voice called, "Marianne!"

She trembled and turned.

"Jacques!" she said.

"Where going?" he asked.

"No matter."

He saw her clenched hand, and at once his evil instinct prompted him to open it. Within he found the poor pieces of money Henriette had placed there.

With a strident laugh, he seized the coin.

"Give it me back," cried the woman; "it is sacred money, for it is honest!"

"You honest? That is new!"

"Who made me a thief?" cried the woman.

"My very self," responded the man.

"Give me my money; it will be a charm, and help me to live a life of honesty."

"Ha! you are going to leave me?"

"Yes, I am decided."

"Bah!" he cried, and flung the money into his yawning pocket.

"Do you think I can not save myself from thee?"

"The river?" he said, tauntingly.

"No; she who gave me that saved me from the river, and forever. But there is another means—repentance!"

"Repentance!" he laughed.

A guard of armed police were passing.

She turned to the brigadier.

"Sir," she cried, "I am a thief, and I give myself up!"

"Think twice!" said the officer.

"A thief!" she cried, "arrest me!"

She placed herself among the armed men.

And then it was that Jacques was uneasy, for he saw that he should lose her, and in his brutal way he loved her.

"Marianne!" he cried in a voice that was almost human.

"Too late," she replied; "too late, I told you that I should be rid of you, and thus I keep my word!"

(To be continued.)

—Last Sunday a good Christian resident of this city met a colored acquaintance whom he had not seen for some months, and took him by the hand and kindly inquired:

"Well, William, what of your future—how does it look?"

"Purty bright, sah," responded the smiling William; "Ize got a 'leven dollar note agin a fellar at de depot, two pa'rs ob sleeve buttons, a shot gun an' a knife, an' I feels as if I couldn't be too grateful for all dat wealth, while lots of odder niggers are c'lar run down to one dog an' an old hat!"—Vicksburg Herald.

Political Surprises.

The Post isn't far out of the way when it says "the voice of Massachusetts has a somewhat quavering twang." And the "quavering twang" comes from a state of rapid reasoning which argues that fossils of the Charles Francis Adams school of heartlessness would make available candidates. The Bowles-Haskell crowd would much better prefer a Cardiff Giant for a candidate than a live man for Governor—intensified dignity and selfish egotism rather than generosity and true-heartedness, of which John A. Andrew was a noble representative. There were two disappointments on the 2d, in Massachusetts and New York. Republicans expected more of the former and less of the latter, and if the voice of Massachusetts, with its republican gain of 12,000 has a "quavering twang," so has the voice of New York with its republican gain of 45,000 or more, and consequent demolition of Tilden, whose Presidential aspirations went by the board along with the tidal wave which swept last year all but two of the ten States that voted this month. Allen, Adams and Tilden, with "quavering twang," go to join the innumerable choice spirits who wished but never realized. Stand them up and "let them be counted."

News and Notes.

The New York Times concedes the State to the democrats by 3000 majority. The World claims 7000.

The republican State ticket has 10,000 majority in Minnesota.

The Louisiana State militia fired 100 guns by order of Gov. Kellogg, in honor of the republican victories.

How to Lead a Calf.

He was a small but muscular boy, and the calf was probably two months old, with a development of unadulterated cussedness that would do credit to a Georgia Ku Klux Klan captain. There was a rope between them, and, as they went down South Third street, bets were about even as to whether the boy was leading the calf or the calf leading the boy. The calf made a dash for the Central Express office. The boy pulled him back, and he made a dash for the boy, who ran around a wagon and fell over a watermelon pile, the proprietor whereof swore copiously.

"Come back here, you infernal clodbuster, and pay for this melon."

"Say, M'h-ister, whoa—give me my—thunderation on you—hat, won't yer?"

And the calf kicked up his heels and b-a-a-d, and tried to run into a store, but the boy sat down on the line with all his strength, and suddenly sat down in the mud, as the calf altered his mind and turned around to look at him. They went quietly ten steps, till a dog barked, when it took four circles around the boy in as many seconds, tying his legs up in the line, bringing him down in the mud again, and dragging him around until he looked like an old hat that had been run over by the ice-cart for two seasons.

A philanthropic fat man went to the boy's assistance, but the calf kicked him on the shin, and butted him in the condenser, so that he sat down on the curbstone and tried to die easy. Then the boy and calf entangled themselves, and started down the street like a mail train behind time, until the calf, scaring at something, stopped suddenly, and the boy fell over it and lost the rope. The calf at once took to his heels, every boy in the street running after and grabbing at the rope, until it got tangled in the bridge, when his conductor caught him by the ear and tail, and a lively fight took place all across the bridge and out of sight, while everybody along the street proceeded to tell how easy it is to lead a calf if you only go their way about it.

TRIAL OF DAVID L. MAGOON,

OF RAYMOND,

FOR THE MURDER OF MRS. MAGOON,

BY POISONING.

THURSDAY.

Promptly at nine o'clock on Thursday morning the Court room doors were thrown open, and the prurient crowd, that had been impatiently waiting for some time outside, rushed in and at once filled every available seat in the rear of the hall. Quite a number of females were among the audience, indicating by their presence, that some evidence of an unusually vile nature was expected. But in this they were disappointed, as the testimony of the morning brought forth nothing of the sort. The appearance of Mrs. Gardner (who has been detained at the jail in this city for the past ten days in order to secure her from collusion with interested parties) caused a slight flutter of excitement among the sensation-thirsters, inasmuch as this woman is supposed to figure more conspicuously in the case on trial than any other. And in order that the reader may not be puzzled in relation to names while perusing this testimony, an explanation is necessary relative to the social status and history of Mrs. Gardner. It appears that she has had at least four husbands, the first being a Mr. Drew, the second, a Roberts, the third a Heath and the fourth one Gardner. Her character, by her own admission, is bad, and her relations with Magoon were extremely intimate, if not criminal. Hence her testimony was relied upon by the scandal-lovers to furnish them with something rich and startling. But it did nothing of the sort. Her statements were quite positively made, although her memory was very deficient, and the evidence she gave was somewhat weakened probably, by an ingenious effort on the part of the counsel for the prisoner, prior to placing her on the stand, to impeach it, by inquiring of an apparently reliable witness who preceded Mrs. Gardner or Heath what her reputation was in the vicinity where she resided. The reply was to the effect that her general character was bad. Witness further stated that he would not believe her on oath so readily as he would the generality of witnesses.

The case will occupy the remainder of the week, if not longer, as there is yet a long list of witnesses to be called.

OWEN ROBERTS, called. [An exception was taken to this witness in regard to the doubt of his identity implied in the introduction of a middle initial letter R.]

PAULINA R. ROBERTS.—Am wife of the latter witness. Don't think Mr. Roberts is usually known as Owen R. Roberts; think he writes his name both ways: Owen Roberts and Owen R. Roberts.

OWEN ROBERTS again called. Have lived in Raymond during nearly my whole life. Was married to Paulina R. Roberts on the 29th day of last July. I know Magoon. Know Mrs. Heath or Gardner. Saw Heath and Magoon in the fall of 1874 in Welch's woods before Mrs. Magoon's death. Saw Mrs. Magoon on the afternoon of the day of her death, but noticed nothing unusual in her appearance. Saw the body after death and observed hands clenched very tightly. Regarded the limbs as very rigid.

Cross-examined. Live 1 2 of a mile or more from Magoon's. Had no particular business at Mrs. Magoon's on the afternoon of her death. Did not see any one besides Mrs. Magoon at the house. Was called in the evening by George W. Emery, my wife's son, now dead. Almon Dearborn came to the house to arouse me. My wife and I went to the house of Magoon. Heard my wife ask for Mrs. Brown to assist in laying out the body, and I went for her, but could not get her. I was referred to a Mrs. Smith, a short distance off. She could not come and sent me for a Mrs. Dearborn, who lived a little nearer Magoon's house than Mrs. Smith. Waited for her to dress and accompanied her to Magoon's. Was called to assist in laying out the body of Mrs. Magoon. Did not notice whether the arm, when moved from its position, went back fast or slow. Boarded with my wife some 10 or 15 years before I was married. I am 26 years old. My wife is over 40. [Question? Had you not been living in adultery with your present wife prior to your marriage? Witness remained silent. Did you not have an illegitimate child by her? Silence still maintained.]

ALMON L. DEARBORN.—Live in Raymond. Live across the way from Magoon's house. Saw Mrs. Magoon at her door on the afternoon of the day of her death. Was present at the house of Mrs. Magoon on the evening of her death. Did not notice any rigidity of the limbs at the time. Never noticed any familiarity between Mrs. Heath or Gardner and Magoon.

FRANK P. LANGFORD. Live in Candia. Know Magoon and Mrs. Heath. Magoon applied to me to assist him in regard to the trouble he was in relative to the rumors of murder. He said to me that he had found Mrs. Gardner and asked her if she would make a statement in my presence, and she said she would. I accordingly went about fifteen rods from Heath's house and [here the counsel for the defendant objected to the evidence about to be given, but the Court overruled the objection] Mrs. Gardner on being questioned as to what she should testify in Court, said she was out berrying one day and met Magoon. I complained of being tired and he (Magoon) said "come and live with me." Mrs. Heath says "you have one wife." Magoon said, "but we can get her out of the way." Mrs. Heath replied "you wicked devil." He (Magoon) said "it was God's work and God would forgive him." Magoon said "if you testify in that way it will swing me." Magoon afterward said to witness (Langley) that "they would probably find poison upon exhuming the body of his wife, but he had no hand in administering it." Since the prisoner has been confined in jail he has sent for me and requested me to get Mrs. Heath to deny the above story.

CROSS-EXAMINED. I am positive that at the time of the conversation with Mrs. Heath and Mr. Magoon, the latter denied the truth of it. In speaking to me about obtaining peppermint for his wife said he got it at Currier's. On the day of her death Magoon told me or gave me the impression that he was absent from home on the earlier part of the day of his wife's death.

Know Mrs. Magoon's health to have been very poor. Know Mrs. Heath; was present at the wedding of Mrs. Heath with her husband, Amos Heath. She has not lived with Heath always since her marriage. Mrs. Heath's reputation for truth and veracity is not generally good. Would not readily believe her under oath.

ABIGAIL B. HEATH. Live at Candia. Have lived there 15 years. Have known the prisoner eight or ten years. At the time of Mrs. Magoon's death lived at Aaron Heath's, half a mile from Magoon's. Was picking blackberries one day and met Magoon. He told me that I was foolish to live with Aaron Heath, when I might come and live with him, and live easier. I told him that he had a wife. He replied that he hadn't got a wife and never had any. I told him that he had lived with one long enough for her to be his wife. He said he could put her out of the way easy enough. It wasn't any hurt to do God's work." I told him "it was the devil's work. He said that God would forgive him. This was eight or ten days before his wife died. Went with Mr. Magoon and stopped over night at Carter's Hotel. Said to me the next day that he wanted me to marry him, and that he would fix a dose for his wife and get her out of the way. After his wife's death, had a talk with prisoner at the blacksmith's shop opposite my house. Magoon said that he was afraid they were going to dig up his wife, and if they did, they would hang him or State prison him. He asked me to ask Aaron, my husband, if he would not endeavor to prevent their digging her up. Met him a little while afterward and he asked me if I would see him and talk with him in the presence of Frank Langford. I told him I would. At an interview Magoon asked me what story I was going to tell in Court. I told him that I should tell the truth. Told him (Magoon) that I should tell what he stated in the blueberry pasture. Magoon asked me if I could not deny it, knowing that it was stated in fun.

CROSS-EXAMINED.—The night of Mrs. Magoon's death told Mr. Aaron Heath my suspicions caused by what was said to me by Magoon. Never have denied the story relative to what Magoon said to me about putting his wife out of the way. Met Magoon at a certain time at East Kingston. Meeting was purely accidental. Found him on the platform of the depot there. Harriet Dearborn was with me. Magoon never spoke to me about marrying him, except over at camp meeting and once in the blueberry pasture. Think I was somewhat intoxicated at the camp meeting. Stopped at Magoon's house part of a night since his wife's death. Was drunk at the time. Before prisoner's wife's death, hired a room in Magoon's house and lived there a month and a half.

DWIGHT B. ROBERTS. Live in Raymond and am son-in-law of prisoner. Was present when the body of Mrs. Magoon was exhumed. Think it was taken from the grave where Mrs. Magoon was buried.

CROSS-EXAMINED.—There was a cloth over the face of the corpse and did not see the face at all. On the day of Mrs. Magoon's death I saw her near the pump out of doors. Was at the house after her death and noticed an unusual swelling of the body.

SARGENT CURRIER. Reside in Raymond. Know David L. Magoon. Sold prisoner a bottle of peppermint on the evening of the wife's death. Bought it of Littlefield of Manchester.

TRUE N. GOULD. Reside in Raymond. Have been in practice as a physician and surgeon upwards of 20 years. Have known Magoon and his wife for a score of years. Was present at the disinterment of the body of Mrs. Magoon on the 12th of August, 1875. Mr. Lewis Dearborn assisted me in removing the body from the grave. Found the body in a good state of preservation. Removed the stomach, placed it in a bottle partly filled with alcohol, sealed it with common sealing wax, placed it in a paper box and and directed it to Dr. Hayes of Boston. [Here the bottle was produced together with the wrapping, envelope and letter, all of which were identified by witness.] Subsequently, again disinterred the body in question and took about one-third of the liver and one-third of the intestines, and sent it to Dr. Hayes, done up carefully in a paper box. [Package produced and identified by witness.] Also gave Dr. Hayes some of the alcohol taken from the bottle in which was kept that in which the stomach was placed.

Court adjourned until 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

AFTERNOON.

DR. GOULD. — recalled. Had some conversation with Magoon after the disenterment of the body. He called at my office and asked me if I had heard anything from the chemist since I sent the stomach to Boston. He said it was important that he should know the result. He also added that they would probably find strychnine in the stomach but he (Magoon) did not administer it. He stated that he purchased it of me, but I have no recollection of making such a sale. Keep a receipt of such sales.

CROSS-EXAMINED. I have a partner, Wilber Fitts. Have used strychnine as a medicine in my practice somewhat. [Cases were cited and witness asked if strychnine was not used in them occasionally, to which he replied in the affirmative.] The grave from which the body was taken was not marked by any stone. There were other graves quite near it unmarked. The bottle containing the stomach was sent to Boston. The second time the grave was opened, the same party who assisted me on the first occasion, Mr. Dearborn, likewise aided me at this time. [Question. Did you not offer to bet a sum of money that strychnine would be found in the stomach? I did not.] Did not learn of the result of the examination of the stomach before I sent the liver and intestines. Think I swore that the bottle containing the livers, etc., had not been opened when I saw it at Dr. Hayes' office.

REDIRECT-EXAMINATION. One-sixteenth of a grain is a medical dose of strychnine. Made particular examination of bottle containing stomach and liver at Dr. Hayes' request.

DR. S. DANA HAYES of Boston. [A discussion arose between counsel.] I hold the office of State Assayer for the commonwealth of Massachusetts. Have been in regular practice as a chemist for the past fifteen years. Have made a special study of the chemistry of poisoning. Have given testimony in other capital cases. On the 13th of August, 1875, received a human stomach from Dr. Gould, with a letter by mail referring to it. [Letter produced and identified by witness. Bottle brought forward and recognized by the witness, as that received by him on the 13th of August, 1875. Counsel for defence here interposed an objection in regard to the testimony of Dr. Hayes in his examination of the stomach, asserting that such an examination was made in the absence of the prisoner, and therefore ex parte. Counsel cited authorities to sustain his objection. Mr. Frink, on the part of the State, argued at some length against the points of objection introduced.] Court ruled that the examination of the witness proceed.

DR. HAYES resumed. Analyzed the stomach and found it to contain strychnine. Found the stomach in a remarkable state of preservation. Cut the stomach open and found a half fluid ounce of matter. In connection with the analysis of the stomach I examined the second portions of the body (the liver and intestines) received by me on the 3d of September, and opened it on the 7th day of the same month. Should judge that one-third of the liver was received. Found one-sixth of a grain of strychnine, nearly, in the stomach. Portions of the liver contained about one-fourth or 23-100th of a grain of strychnine. I cut the organ under examination into small pieces in a basin and poured upon it some chemical acid, straining it through a piece of linen cloth. Took the liquid thus obtained and added a little magnesia. Then evaporated this liquid until it reached the consistency of syrup. Then added alchohol to exclude glue or gelatine. The clear liquid contained the vegetable poison. Poured this into a bottle and added benzoin shaking the two liquids together; allowed them to settle, and then withdrew the benzoin. Added more benzoin, allowed it to settle, and again withdrew the benzoin. Five chemical substances were used to separate the strychnia. None of these substances contained strychnia. It is impossible to so combine them as to produce strychnia. I submitted the strychnia to eighteen different tests to decide the character of the substance. These tests are just such as we use in all chemical analysis to determine the substance examined. [Witness here gave a detailed account of the manner of applying these tests to the substance obtained by the analysis of the stomach.] One further test, known as the physiological test was applied. Submitted 1-25 of a grain of the substance to a frog and it died in 20 minutes. Took the utmost care that the vessels used were perfectly clean. [Witness here produced some strychnia which he stated he obtained from the stomach of Mrs. Magoon and showed it to the Court and jury. Also exhibited portions of strychnia said to have been obtained from examination of liver.] Analyzed the alcohol that was furnished me by Dr. Gould, and found no traces of strychnia therein. [Witness explained minutely to the court and jury the origin of strychnia and the manner in which it is obtained.] Half a grain of strychnia is a fatal dose. Less than that has produced death on an adult of good health. Bitterness is one of its characteristics. A person survives a fatal dose of strychnia generally about one hour. There is no post mortem appearance that is strictly characteristic of strychnia. Generally, however, the limbs are very rigid, the hands clenched and often the feet are arched. Strychnia is not destroyed in the body readily, but it lasts as long as the body lasts. The strychnia found in the stomach has had no agency in causing death.

At this point, and without concluding the direct examination of Dr. Hayes the Court adjourned until 9 o'clock on Friday morning.

Joshua as a Harpsichordist.

Frank Jones owns an organist at last. The Portsmouth democratic sheet growled once at the Eastern Railroad mismanagement, and then hushed up. Then the Dover Democrat, a mortgaged concern that cannot pay its bills from one week's end to another without selling itself to its opponents or begging its old friends for a nickel-piece "just to help pay the boys off this week," leaps into the breach and throws mud. It assumes that Frank Jones' interests, which are its own as long as he can "help" it, are best advanced in that way. To disprove statements that it knows to be true, it calls names in the old and highly intelligent style which is so convincing to illiterate people of its own class. It intimates that any person receiving a pass on the Eastern Railroad must bolster up the management, and so like the impecunious starveling it is, licks the hand of its master and fawns for more. It asks if a free pass was issued to the CHRONICLE to aid in the election of Jones and Sanborn. Perhaps it knows best where to obtain information on that point, if it fails of recognizing the CHRONICLE'S peculiar devotion to the interests of Jones and Sanborn about election time. And just on the eve of the issue of passes for 1876, the CHRONICLE once more shows how it is inclined to bolster up the absurd management that has wrought ruin to many stockholders of the Road in Portsmouth; men advanced in life who are unable to commence anew the struggle for a competency; women whose scant savings have been ruthlessly squandered; children whose legacies are but legacies in appearance. Personal friendship for the managers of the Eastern brings forth no dividends to its needy stockholders. Excuses for squandered passes and tickets do not raise the value of its stock. To follow the Democrat, the more money and influence a man has, the less should he be criticised. If he be a rash manager, passes shall purchase the silence of people of no heavier calibre than Josh. Foster. If the Road be used as a political machine to crush employes whose political proclivities do not coincide with employers, or its passes and tickets be used for rewarding others willing to see their manhood, the newspaper must not object or expose it, for the manager stands by with a hint that dire calamity awaits any person who has heretofore accepted any courtesy from the Road, even though such courtesy date back from a time when the present manager owned not a share and never expected to be a Railroad director. Let all the world be hushed; let every wail of a betrayed owner of a share of Eastern Railroad stock be choked down; for great is Frank Jones' wealth and influence, and Josh. Foster is his prophet and purchased organist.

Jottings.

The Bow Mission meetings, recently inaugurated for the benefit of seamen and all others who have no stated place of worship, are crowded to overflowing, so that Mr. Wm. J. Loyne, the manager and missionary, is casting about for larger apartments. The subject for next Sunday evening's discourse will be "Sweet Home."

It is reported that the ship Semiramis has been sold by the recent purchasers to English parties for $45,000, an advance of $2500.

Mr. Luther Benson, who is to speak at the Temple shortly, on the subject of temperance, has been a reformed man for the past two years, after a bitter experience as an intemperate man for fifteen. He is a lawyer and an eloquent speaker. Col. J. Horace Kent, President of the Reform Association, writes that at his reception recently at Faneuil Hall, he held an audience spellbound by his impassioned oratory. His success at the West has been unparalleled and now, on his second visit to New England, so great is the desire to hear him, he is unable to accept all the invitations tendered. He is a natural speaker and as a descriptive temperance orator takes first rank.

Dragging Out Existence.

The nervous, weakly invalid does not enjoy life, but merely "drags out existence," as the phrase is. Unfitted for the active pursuits of life, and incapable of partaking of its pleasures, to which health alone can give a zest; disinclined to social intercourse, and a prey to melancholy, the valetudinarian is indeed an object of pity. Yet there is nothing in all this that cannot be remedied by that genial alterative tonic and nervine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which supplies deficient stamina, braces the nervous system, and overcomes those bodily irregularities to which nervous weakness is most frequently attributable. Diseases of the kidney and bladder, imperfect digestion and uterine troubles are fertile sources of debility. Their eradication however, becomes a matter of certainty when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are systematically used for that purpose. The Bitters likewise annihilate and prevent fever and ague and other debilitating febrile complaints of a malarial nature.

From the Philadelphia Presbyterian.

From the World's Dispensary Printing Office and Bindery, Buffalo, N. Y., we have received "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in plain English; or, Medicine Simplified," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Counselor-in-chief of the Board of Physicians and Surgeons at the World's Dispensary. Whoever helps humanity in its struggle with its inherent weaknesses and diseases, to bear or cure, is its benefactor. Ignorance is not only of itself a cause of disease and mortality, but it is the enemy of every effort to cure or mitigate. Nothing will so speedily remove this cause as knowledge (an elementary one at least) of the diseases to which we are heir, as well as those superinduced by our own imprudence. Dr. Pierce has rendered, in our judgment, a benefactor's service, both to the afflicted and to the profession, in his diagnosis of the diseases treated of, and in the presentation of the philosophic principles involved in their cause and removal. He is sparing of remedies, and usually prescribes such as are safe in unskilled hands. As a book merely of abstract knowledge, it is exceedingly readable and interesting, especially the following subjects:—Cerebral Physiology, Human Temperaments, Pseudo-Hygiene, the Nursing of the sick, Sleep, Food, Ventilation, etc. In one chapter on another subject, so delicate in its nature that it is shut up beyond the domain of warning to all but physicians, so accursed in its results in modern society, he is most explicit, and alike true to God, to virtue, to life and to society, shows the truth as presented in the teachings of Scripture,—that life begins with conception,—with great force, to which is added faithful warnings.

Price of the Medical Adviser $1.50, sent post-paid. Address the author at Buffalo, N. Y.

RATTAN WARE MANUFACTORY.

ONLY 4 Rattan Ware Factories in the United States, and one of them has just begun manufacturing in Portsmouth. The furniture made by this firm is made of the very best quality of East India Rattan, and for beauty, strength, neatness, and durability is more desirable than any other furniture. We claim that the generality of our work is better than can be procured elsewhere in the United States. Few people comparatively have ever seen many pieces of this attractive furniture, and we cordially invite any one to call and examine our work even if they have no idea of purchasing. We warrant every piece of our ware to be as good as can be bought elsewhere and at less price.

Don't fail to call up, and see what few people in the United States have seen; viz. a collection of this ware. OVER FREEMAN'S OYSTER HOUSE, on Congress street, up one flight.

THE CHILDREN'S BED-TIME.

(Jane Ellice Hopkins in Macmillan's Magazine.)

Ah, tender hour that sends a drift
Of children's kisses through the house,
And cuckoo-notes of sweet "good-night,"
That thoughts of Heaven and home arouse;
And a soft stir to sense and heart,
As when the bee and blossom part;
And little feet that patter slower,
Like the last droppings of the shower.

And do the children's room aloft
What blossom shapes do gayly slip
Their dainty sheaths, and rosy run
From clasping hand and kissing lip,
A naked sweetness to the eye—
Blossom and babe and butterfly
In witching one so dear a sight!
An ecstacy of life and light.

Then lily-dress in angel-white
To mother's knee they trooping come;
The soft palms fold like kissing shells,
And they and we go singing home,—
Their bright heads bowed and worshiping,
As though some glory of the spring,
Some daffodil that mocks the day,
Should fold his golden palms and pray.

Ah, deep pathetic mystery!
The world's great woe unconscious hung,
A rain-drop on a blossom's lip!
White innocence that woes our wrong,
And love divine that looks again,
Unconscious of the cross and pain,
From sweet child-eyes, and in that child
Sad earth and heaven reconciled.

Then kissed, on beds we lay them down,
As fragrant white as clover'd sod,
And all the upper floors grow hushed
With children's sleep and dews of God.
And as our stars their beams do hide.
The stars of twilight opening wide.
Take up the heavenly tale at even,
And light us on to God and heaven.

COMBINED PAPERS—FORTY-SIXTH YEAR.

The Country Gentleman

POSTAGE FREE FOR 1876.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published WEEKLY on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $9.00, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20.00, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress and sustainedness of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all of our Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When is to Buy and When to sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry-Yard, the Apiary, the Vine yard, and so on, and weekly presents a column or two for the housewife and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well edited Review of Current Events, and its nevertiring pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural Societies and Conventions of the country.

SCRIBNERS' MONTHLY for 1876

The publishers invite attention to the [illegible] of some of the attractive articles secured for Scribner's Monthly, for the coming year. In the line of fiction, besides numerous novelettes and shorter stories, there will be

TWO REMARKABLE SERIAL STORIES,

By American Authors.

The first of these, now complete in our hands,

"GABRIEL CONROY,"

By BRET HARTE,

Begins in the November number, and will run for twelve months. This is Mr. Harte's first extended work. The scenes and characters which the author has chosen for his favorite field, California, are peculiarly adapted to his dramatic vividness and power, and the work is without doubt the most graphic record of California life that has yet appeared.

We shall also begin in the January number,

"PHILIP NOLAN'S FRIENDS,"

OR, SHOW YOUR PASSPORTS."

By EDWARD EVERETT HALE.

The scene of this story is laid in the Southwestern territory, now forming the State of Louisiana and Texas, in the time of Aaron Burr's treason. The characters lived in a section which was now American, now French, and now Spanish, and this record of their extraordinary adventures is a story of intense and unflagging interest throughout.

A SECOND "FARMER'S VACATION,"

By Col. GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

Col. Waring is now in Europe, visiting, in a rowboat ride of two hundred and fifty miles, one of the most fertile and interesting of the vine growing valleys of Europe. This second series of papers promises to be even more interesting than that with which our readers are already familiar.

CENTENNIAL LETTERS,

Edited by John Vance Cheney.

A rare collection of Revolutionary Letters, mainly from about the time of the Battle of Lexington, by Joseph Ward. They are full of interest, and will be read with a rare relish in connection with the Centennial celebration of the year.

BRILLIANTLY ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES ON AMERICAN COLLEGES,

Written respectively by their friends, will appear during the year. The progress of college life makes these papers especially timely, and will secure for them unusual attention.

OLD NEW YORK.

Elegantly illustrated articles on Old New-York, by John P. Mines, will appear at once, and will attract the attention of all. Mr. Mines is very familiar with interest the development of the great metropolis, and affectionately remember the quaint peculiarities of its olden time.

Every number is profusely illustrated, thus enabling us to give to our descriptive and narrative articles, an interest and permanent value never attained in a work illustrated occasionally. Under its accustomed management the magazine will in the future be devoted, as it has been in the past, to sound literature and Christian culture.

The Editorial Departments occupy over twenty pages of each number and contain Dr. Holland's vigorous and timely editorials, as well as Reviews of the latest works in Art, Literature, and science.

TERMS:

$4.00 A YEAR, in advance; 35 cents a Number. The 10 vols. complete, Nov. 1870, to Oct. 1875, bound in maroon cloth.....$20.00
do. do. bound in half morocco, 25.00

Vols. begin in November and May. Any of the earlier volumes (5 in all) can be supplied separately to parties who wish them to complete sets at this rate, $4 a cloth, $2 00; half morocco, $3.00.

Booksellers and Postmasters will be supplied at rates that will enable them to fill any of the above offers.

Subscribers will please remit in P. O. Money Orders, or in Bank Checks or Drafts, or by registered letters. Money in letters not registered, at sender's risk.

One Box Dr. Quain's Condition Pills "Nearly Cured Where All Else Failed."

LOWELL, Mass, July 20th, 1874.

T. W. LANE:—I have used one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, am glad to state in my case they have proved all that you claim for them. I have been troubled with Bad Blood and all its consequent diseases, and have tried several kinds of Bitters and Pills without receiving much benefit, until I tried the CONDITION PILLS, and they have nearly cured where all else failed. Please send me another package as soon as convenient.

Yours, very truly,
J. D. WHITAKER.

Testimony of a Clergyman---Liver and Kidney Troubles.

EAST TILTON, N. H., April 14, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS are not only the best, but the very best I ever used. My wife has been troubled with Kidney Complaint many years; one half of a package has cured her, so that she feels as well as ever. I have been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years; one-half of a package has done me more good than all the Pills I ever took. One of my neighbors took them, who has been troubled with Liver Complaint for many years: three Pills have helped him. Your Pills, where used, commend their virtues. Please send to my address one package.

REV. JOHN DAVIS.

Liver Compaint and Rheumatism so that he Could not Sleep Nights.

I was born and always lived in Pittsfield, N. H.; am now 50 years old; been troubled with Liver Complaint for 25 years, and Rheumatism for 20 years, sometimes so I could not sleep nights. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good and relieved more suffering than all the medicine I have taken during my life.

Fever and Ague.

NEW BOSTON, N. H., Feb. 1, 1875.

T. W. LANE.—Sir:—Last month I sent to you for a package of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS. I had tried fever to called ague cures, and I received more benefit from five of your pills than from all the "Cures" "Chelagogues," "Quinine," &c., that I have taken in two years. I cannot recommend it too highly for the cases resulting from long standing Fever and Ague.

Yours, most respectfully,
MRS. C. GARLAND.

Scaly Humor Cured by One Package---Liver Complaint Helped.

NORTH SALEM, N. H., Jan. 5, 1875.

MR. LANE.—Dear Sir:—Your Pills are all they are recommended. I have used all these in Kidney Complaint, poor blood, and weak nerves. May they be circulated over the land and found in every household where medicine is needed. I enclose 50 cts. for another package as soon as convenient.

JOHN T. FELCH.

Better Health than for 10 Years.

CHESTER, N. H., Oct. 17, 1874.

MR. LANE:—I have taken one package of Condition Pills; find them in my case all they are recommended; have not enjoyed so good health for the last ten years as I have since I commenced taking the Condition Pills. Shall be happy to recommend them to others.

WILLIAM H. FELLOWS.

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. PULMOCINE.

U L M O C I N E.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

In the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LOCAL AGENTS
WANTED.

An Agent Wanted for Each Town and County in the United States.

Parties desiring to act as agents must accompany their application by a letter of recommendation as to character and responsibility from and signed by the Editor of a newspaper published in the town or county for which the agent proposes to act. The agency is to sell the bonds of the Industrial Exhibition Company.

BONDS, $20 EACH.
HALF BONDS, $10 EACH.
QUARTER BONDS, $5 EACH.

The Industrial Exhibition Company will furnish agents with circulars, etc., etc.

Each newspaper published in the town where an agent is located will, as soon as the agency is established, be given an advertisement, advertising such agency and the Company, and fully explaining the plans, purposes and objects of the Company. Such advertisement will continue in such papers as long as an agency is successfully conducted.

The Industrial Exhibition Company is the first to adopt the plan so long in use by the European governments of having bonds when the principal is made secure and not risked, but where there is a chance for a large premium, an investment of $20 is sure to return to the investor $21—one dollar more than cost—and the holder of a $20 Bond may obtain a premium either of $50, $100, $200, $500, $1,000, $3,000, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000 or $100,000. The interest, which is ordinary premium, when it is surrendered, the premium paid, and the bond cancelled.

The Industrial Exhibition Company, under a special charter granted by the State of New York, is given authority to issue bonds. The Legislature of the State, recognizing the great benefits which will arise from the success of this enterprise, have exempted all the real estate and property of the Company from taxation and assessment for five years, and has also conferred other great privileges.

Every American who understands the purposes of advancement, and loves liberty, feel a pride in aiding it to a successful termination.

Each individual who buys a bond becomes an owner and an interested party, and when he views the structure erected with his money can say, "I aided to erect in our country the most magnificent building the world has ever seen, a palace which, in truth, represents the industry, energy and mechanical genius of the American people."

The manufacturers and the inventors of America are peculiarly interested in the success of this enterprise, for the reason that it is to be their home, where all their inventions and manufactures can be exhibited and sold.

The building will contain 5,320,000 square feet of space.

Purchasers desiring Bonds before an agency is established where they reside, will communicate direct with this office, from where they can be supplied.

Parties desiring to act as agents or to purchase bonds will address

A CHANCE FOR ALL!

$100,000
GIVEN AWAY!

The Union Pocket Book Co.

having secured by cash purchase the entire bankrupt stock of Messrs H. Morcond & Co., consisting of

400,000 Portmonies,

(POCKET BOOKS,)

of the best manufacture and superb quality, each pocket book being made of Real Morocco Leather; to effect a speedy clearance sale and having in view the old motto of the house, Certain Profits with Quick Returns, the company have decided on giving each individual purchaser the full benefit of this remunerative bargain by giving away One Hundred Thousand Dollars, in

2818 MONEY PRIZES!

THE FIRST PRIZE BEING			$20,000 CASH.
" SECOND	"	"	$10,000 "
" THIRD	"	"	$5,000 "

and 2815 other money prizes as follows, viz.:

25	PRIZES OF	$1000	CASH,	EACH.
40	"	500	"	"
50	"	100	"	"
100	"	50	"	"
200	"	20	"	"
400	"	10	"	"
2000	"	5	"	"

The above prizes with the cost of advertising and other incidental expenses, giving the purchasers two-thirds of the profits that accrue on the entire sale, and to enable every one to have an equal share in the profits, with the certainty of receiving treble the value for their small investment and the further opportunity of surely gaining a share in the distribution of $100,000, and this too by the riskless outlay of $1 only.

The Union Pocket Book Co. will deliver free to any address on receipt of One Dollar, a GENUINE MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK, together with a COUPON TICKET,

entitling and giving the holder a share in the drawing of 2818 CASH PRIZES, of the aggregate value of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS CURRENCY. The Company guarantee to return to each purchaser at least treble the value for his money.

How can this be accomplished? is a question many will doubtless ask themselves, and foreseeing this we offer the following lucid explanation.

The Trade assignees, anxious to dispose of and realize on the entire stock of the bankrupts in one sale, accepted our offer of $ 00,000 cash for the lot; after advertising same for sale for one month, and not receiving a single offer, which in the present depression of business and almost total stagnation of trade is not to be wondered at; notwithstanding that our offer was one third less than the actual cost of the manufacture of the Pocket Books. The assignee having to at once realize the effects of the bankrupts, in the interests of the creditors he had no alternative but to accept the offer and sell us the lot at our own price thereby enabling us to distribute in prizes $100,000 amongst the purchasers, and at the same time retain a fair marginal profit for ourselves; thus you obtain fully double the value of the amount you forward us and it depends on your luck what amount you gain of the One Hundred Thousand Dollar Gift Prize.

THE SALE WILL POSITIVELY CLOSE ON

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1875,

and orders for pocket books should therefore be forwarded to us at once—no application by letter after Saturday, November 20th, can be entertained.

1000 of the Pocket Books are of the patented manufacture, superior in value to the remainder, the retail price of the same being $8, and these will be forwarded to early purchasers until disposed of.

Therefore those who send immediate orders will reap the advantage of receiving a superior article.

Remittances can be made by the purchase of any number of pocket books by draft, post office orders, or greenbacks in registered letter by express, etc. Post Office orders and drafts to be made payable in favor of Frank Stewart, the Company's Manager; Post Office orders to be drawn on General Post Office, Philadelphia, and drafts on the First National Bank.

The Drawing of Prizes will take place at the Company's Principal Offices, 530 Locust Street, Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, on

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1875

and the winning numbers will be advertised in this Journal and the principal Philadelphia and New York newspapers on Thursday, November 25th.

The Prizes will be forwarded in drafts, greenbacks or by post office order per registered letter by Monday's morning mails, November 29th, or if preferred prizes can be sent by express, or in any other manner purchasers may select, providing same be signified by them when forwarding orders for pocket books.

Remember this is no lottery, but a bona fide business system founded on a true financial basis which enables the Company to convert into money an otherwise surplus stock, and this too with a profit to both the purchasers and themselves, effecting a speedy clearance stock which in the present dull times is the great desideratum that in no other way can be successfully attained.

We guarantee each pocket book to be of the best manufacture; of pure morocco leather and intrinsically worth in retail trade at the low rate of from $3 to $4.

This is an opportunity that should not be let pass by; one and all should embrace it, for never, perhaps, will anyone ever offer an opportunity of real zing a share in $10,000 at the insignificant outlay of $1 (one dollar) for which the purchaser will receive full and value for his outlay of $1 only.

Those who let this fortuitous chance escape them will have only themselves to blame.

All letters replied to same day as received. We advise intending purchasers to forward orders immediately which will prevent disappointment and receive prompt attention.

Remember, every one who sends ONE DOLLAR before November 20th, 1875, receives A MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK of the value of from $3 to $4 and a COUPON, giving them a share in the drawing of $100,000.

ADDRESS ALL ORDERS, LETTERS, ETC., TO

The Union Pocket Book Company,

SOUTH-EAST CORNER 6TH AND LOCUST STREETS,

PHILADELPHIA, PENN.

P. S.—Drawing absolute on Wednesday, November 24th. No postponement in the remote contingency of any number of the pocket books remaining unsold; a slight reduction not exceeding $5000 may be made proportionately from the prizes. tnov16

THE TWO ORPHANS.

II.—"THE MOST NOBLE."

If any one had suggested to the proprietor of the chateau and estate of Bel-Air, the most noble the Marquis de Presles, that he was not a gentleman, in two moments he would have whipped out the rapier he carried, have called upon the speaker to be on guard, and then he would have done his best to run him through and leave him dead upon the ground, and without the least compunction in the world.

By the laws of these days, which have happily passed away, the Marquis would have proved in this way that he was a gentleman.

But so far from being one, he was as elegant a scoundrel as any in France, which is saying a good deal, for the French nobility of those times managed to gild sin as no men ever before gilt it, as no men ever will again.

It was the chief pleasure of these men to destroy an honest girl, body and soul—to make her callous, insolent, cynical.

They followed the example of the then almost expiring Louis XV., and he had said, "After me, the deluge."

The Pavilion of Bel-Air and its surroundings were like a hundred others between Paris and Versailles—a mass of gold, velvet, and crystal, of clipped trees and fountains; while the revellers were dressed in silks, satins, and laces, and neither men nor women were fit for any useful occupation or vigorous exercise.

It was some hours after sunset, on the day when Henriette was abducted in the full blaze of the setting sun that, at the Pavilion of Bel-Air, a fete of the usual character was progressing. The worthies of the place were congregated and lounging about among a number of elegantly dressed women, all of whom had once been happy, and equally all of whom tried to fancy they were still so, in a state of grandeur to which they had been born, and which, in a great measure, had been forced upon them by the mysteries of want and temptation.

In such society a comrade who arrived had no welcome; a comrade who stayed away was asked after with irritable curiosity; while a comrade who died was forgotten before his body was placed in the ground.

Upon this occasion the absentee was represented by one Armant, Chevalier de Vaudry, who was asked for several times by more than one or two of those who were present.

Said the Marquis de Presles, the host, "It is impossible to avoid the conclusion that the Chevalier can scarcely be considered one of us. He believes, for instance, that the creatures in the gutters, that the tatterdemalions feel as we feel, are as we are in their wretched existences. The fact is, the Chevalier is degenerating, and if he does not soon make some progress toward recovery, we shall have to avoid him, and leave him to his own company."

"Which he will be able to endure!" was replied in a clear, soft voice.

"The Chevalier," said several of the splendidly dressed women.

"Yes," replied the speaker, "the Chevalier himself, who, having done his day's work, has come here for his evening's amusement, and to learn his lesson of life."

"He talks like a good book," said the Marquis. "My dear Chevalier," he continued, "shall we never hear the last of your proverbs? Why study or worry? You are rich and noble, and the world is, therefore, open to you upon pleasant paths. Why labor, when your work was done for you before you were born?"

"My dear Marquis," replied the Chevalier, "it may happen I am blinder than most of my order, but it may also chance that I am better sighted. For my part, I anticipate a time when the people will reform us, and I should not wonder if, while they were about it, they went a little too far, and tried to reform us off the face of the earth. Therefore, I am preparing for the coming crash, when I may have nothing left beyond what I have learned, and when my knowledge shall console me for the loss of all those things I now possess and you alone value—wealth, station, power, pride and scorn!"

The princesses of the hour began to laugh, and the gilded nobles present followed their example.

"Nay, let us talk of the pleasant things," cried the Marquis, in a self-satisfied voice. "I have a surprise for you ladies."

"A surprise!" the brilliantly dressed women cried.

"Yes; my new acquisition; one of the prettiest women I ever saw. And brilliantly carried off by my people in the broad daylight."

"Only a woman!" said one of the gaily-dressed crowd of young girls.

"Is she really pretty," asked a second, "or does she only pretend to be?"

"You shall judge," said the Marquis, "for I have ordered them to bring her here."

"Ha! the usual comedy!" said a fair reveler, in a mocking voice. "She wanted to be carried off, and pretended she wished to be free. She will give herself a few airs and graces, ask where she is, then demand to be sent home to her mother, and finally forgive everybody, and find herself as happy as we are."

"Then all I can say is—poor thing!" said the Chevalier, in a satirical voice.

Armand obtained no reply, for the approach of a couple of men, carrying what seared to be a sleeping or senseless woman, obtained the general attention.

Under the Marquis' direction she was placed upon a garden seat, and cold water sprinkled upon her face.

She was not sleeping, but senseless.

"Coarse face?" remarked one of the fair revelers; "Poor complexion!" urged a second; while a third added, "Hideous hands!"

"On the contrary," said the Chevalier, who was standing apart, "her features are delicate, she has a fine complexion, and her hands are well shaped."

"Why, Chevalier," observed Julie, "you have not looked at the person!"

"No; but I heard the amiable remarks of you ladies, and, therefore, I was able to draw my own conclusions. I am sure I am correct."

"She has opened her eyes," whispered some one.

The unhappy girl had done so, but there was no consciousness in the sight. Suddenly, however, there was intelligence in her countenance, as she uttered the word "Louise."

It was a magic sound, for she leaped at once to her feet, and ran a step or two forward.

The Marquis met her.

"Good evening," he said, with a cruel, hard smile.

For a moment she was staggered; then, regaining full possession of her senses, she said, "You are the man who followed me about to-day—if—if it was to-day! Oh, let me go—let me go to her!"

"To whom?" asked the Marquis.

"My sister Louise."

"There is plenty of time."

"There is not!" she said. "She is blind! Do you hear me, man?—she is blind, and alone in this great city, surrounded by a thousand dangers! Do you not hear? I see for her—without me she is powerless! Let me go!"

"Nay, nay," said the Marquis; "do not be afraid—we are all gentlemen here!"

"Then, as gentlemen, permit me to pass!"

"Impossible!" replied the Marquis; "we can not part with you. But I will send a couple of servants for your afflicted relation, and she shall rejoin you in a little time."

"I do not want her to be brought to such a place as this! We are honest girls, eating honest bread, when we can get it, and readier to die of starvation than to live by our own fall! Let me pass! She is weeping and praying for me—she is blind, blind!"

"Do you not hear? Is there not one woman about who will plead for me—not one who will say that I am right?"

Poor thing! imprisoned as she might be, she was far freer than any one of those bedizened women!

"I repeat," said the Marquis, who, to do him justice, no doubt believed the poor girl's agonies to be assumed, "your sister shall be found and brought here. Blind as she is, she will not have strayed far from the spot whence you were taken. Give me your hand and sit down by me."

"I will not give you my hand, and I do not desire that my sister should be brought to this place of iniquity."

The guests murmured; but the Marquis laughed outright, and, in fact, found his new acquisition the more desirable the more she resisted her capture.

"Stand away from me!" she cried, in a high voice. "What! is there not one man of honor among all you gentlemen who will say a word for a wretched girl, seeking to save a blind girl from the streets!"

"Oh," observed the Marquis, smoothly, "here we are all men of honor; but not one of us will help you again to what you are pleased to call your liberty!"

"There, you are mistaken, Marquis," interposed the Chevalier; "for I will!"

"You, Chevalier?"

"Yes; let the girl go! She looks upon this place as disgraceful!"

"My good Chevalier, did you hear the bell of the chateau sound, even while you were speaking?"

"Yes; it sounded midnight."

"You are quite right, and you ought also to know that once midnight has passed nobody who is here leaves until dawn!"

"There will be exceptions to-night!"

"Indeed!" replied the Marquis, imperiously.

"Yes; myself and this lady!"

"Lady!" whispered the fair persons, who had now crowded about the antagonists.

"You will not dare to insist?" cried the irate Marquis.

"Dare!" replied the Chevalier, drawing his sword. "Will you, Marquis, dare resist?"

"Assuredly!" replied the Marquis, slipping his rapier from its scabbard.

In a moment, amidst the low-sounding cries of mixed alarm and curiosity, the swords of the two men crossed.

But the Marquis, who was a mere debauchee, had no chance against a clever, active man, trusting himself to fight in the battle of life after the crash should come.

Two or three passes, and the Marquis quivered back into the arms of his nearest friends, disabled (for some weeks at least) from doing further mischief by a thoroughly effective sword thrust through the muscle of his sword arm.

"This way!" said the Chevalier, who was troubled by no further opposition, and offering his arm to the poor girl—"this way! Do not be afraid! You see there was one man of some honor here, after all. If I do you some service, you have taught me a good lesson. Let us leave this place together. I am as likely to return as you are, and certainly you will never see it again. Come!"

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1875.

The Ossipee Murder.

The details of this horrible tragedy prove that intoxicating liquor was its cause. Mrs. Abby C. Abbott, the murdered woman, was a faithful wife and fond mother, though quick in temper. She was 48 years old, and her husband is 60. He has the reputation of being a quarrelsome man, having quarrelled repeatedly with a former wife, by whom he had two children. The murder was discovered by his two youngest sons, who returned from school at half-past four o'clock, on the afternoon of the 2d inst. They noticed that the shutters were closed as if the family were absent, but on a nearer approach heard some walking in the kitchen. They at once entered and saw their father there alone, pacing the floor. Daniel, the elder, asked for his mother. When Abbott replied, "She has gone away, and you must go to your sister's (meaning his daughter by his first wife, Mrs. Eugene Abbott) for your supper." The boy said: "I do not believe it; you have killed her," and pushed in by his father into the middle room, back of the kitchen, where he saw his mother lying dead on the floor, with head toward the door only about two feet away, surrounded by a pool of blood. He at once went out to find his father, whom he discovered in the barn. He was seated on the scaffold of hay with a chain around his neck and the other end securely fastened around the beam above. The boy asked what he was going to do and was told that he was going to hang himself. Daniel at once climbed up near his father and attempted to dissuade him from his purpose; he threatened to strike him with a shaft of a sleigh, and kept him at a distance, finally throwing himself down off the hay. Here he swung suspended with his feet about six feet from the barn floor. Rushing out into the road Daniel shouted to Hiram Pray, who happened to be passing, and with his assistance the would-be suicide was taken down. He was in an insensible condition, but was soon restored. The neighbors at once were summoned and for a time the most intense excitement prevailed, the criminal being under the guard of many watching eyes, both to prevent his escape and to foil any further attempts at self-destruction. He was arraigned before Justice Frank Weeks, of Ossipee, for wilful murder of his wife. By advice of counsel he pleaded not guilty, and then, without hearing anything in the case of the prosecution, he made to the Court and to his many neighbors and friends assembled at the court-room, this horrid confession of his crime:

"I came home from the village, and my wife commenced finding fault with me. She has been aggravating me for a long time, and talking and quarrelling with me. This afternoon she was finding fault because I gave my son-in-law, Eugene Abbott, some apples to carry home. She said I had bought a carriage for Eugene and a sewing machine for his wife, and was giving my property to them and nothing to my wife. I denied this very emphatically. She said she knew better; that I had bought the things for them, and didn't intend she should have any of the property. We had some more words, during which quarrel she reiterated all her statements and said I lied. I finally thought I would go out of doors, and did so; staid out some time thinking it over, and then went back to the kitchen again. Wife at once commenced on me. She was washing the floor, and after some words she threw down the mop and started for the back room. I was mad, and I got a hatchet and followed her. I overtook her when she was in the back room, about four feet from the door, and struck her on the back of the head with the pole of the hatchet; I don't remember of hitting her more than twice; I was aggravated to it, and I want you to make way with me as soon as you can, and see that my children have my property." During this recital of the fearful and tragic deed the room was for the most part so still as to make the silence oppressive, broken only by the murmurs of the assembly as he recounted the dealing of the death-blows given his poor wife. At no time did Abbott appear moved or anything like penitence appear in his voice or manner. Sheriff Moulton says that while in his care the prisoner showed nothing but the utmost indifference, and talked as freely about the matter as though he were the least concerned person in the town.

During the fifteen years of married life the victim has been often solicited by her friends to leave the house of her husband, and has at three different times filed a libel for divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty, but each time has relinquished the attempt on account of promises of better behavior by her husband, a temporary suspension of ill-treatment, and her love for her children. Daniel, the elder son now at home, says that he has enjoyed but little of his life since he became old enough to know what life is, on account of his father, and the many differences between his parents.

Mrs. Abbott's wounds were a compound fracture of the skull at the back part of the head, caused by a blow from the pole of the axe, and a frightful gash on the left side of the face and neck five inches long and two and one-half inches deep; this, made by one blow of the axe, cut off a portion of the ear, fractured the jaw-bone and severed the spinal column, the head remaining attached to the body by flesh alone. The murderous weapon is a shop axe or hatchet, the shape of a broad axe, and in size is midway between it and a shingling hatchet, having a handle eighteen inches in length. It is not particularly sharp, and has on it several stains of blood. Abbott has several times threatened to take his wife's life. The two boys made motherless by this tragic affair are overwhelmed by grief at their loss, yet express strong feelings that their father was the unjust cause of their bereavement, and that the only reason their mother did not long ago leave his house was that she might be near them.

The Judge committed Abbott to the jail in Carroll county to await trial at the April term of the Circuit Court. During the hearing the prisoner maintained a stolid appearance, and at times seemed to wear a sneering smile on his face. The funeral of Mrs. Abbott took place Thursday afternoon. The cries of the children drew tears from the eyes of all present.

It has been decided by Attorney-General Clarke to recall the Grand Jury of Carroll county at once and indict Abbott, so that he can be tried at an adjourned term. The judges are all in favor of the proposition.

The Manchester Assault Case.

Daniel O'Flynn, the boy assaulted on the night of Oct. 29th, by Mrs. Dodge, in whose house he lived, testified as follows, at the examination:

Have lived the past year with Mr. Dodge; I was woke up by blows on my head, Friday night: thought I had the night-mare; I rose up and supported myself in bed with my left hand; I turned my face toward the wall; called "Grandsir, Grandsir, I'm dead, somebody is murdering me;" then I received a blow on my right arm; I then turned over from the wall and saw a person standing by the bedside; I recognized the woman, as I thought I knew her; it appeared to be a person with a woman's head with smooth hair on each side.

It came to my mind then, that some crazy person had killed Mr. and Mrs. Dodge and wanted to murder me; then I reached my hand out and caught the person with my right hand; I said to the person, "Ma'am, ma'am, for God's sake don't kill me:" I meant Mrs. Dodge by "ma'am;" then I got out of bed and reached to open the door, and found it shut; when I went to sleep I left the door open; then in the scuffle I was thrown down; then as near as I can tell the person stood over me, with one leg on each side and then I put my hand out and felt the clothes and the leg; then the person moved back from me; the person had woman's clothes on; I kept calling to her not to kill me; then I got up on my feet and the person put her thumbs in each side of my mouth; I scraped the thumbs with my teeth and they were taken out; I told the person I would not hurt her if she would let me alone; I shoved her back so her hands couldn't reach my face; then I put my right hand below the door latch and slid it up till I reached the latch and opened the door; then the person pulled me back; then I said "Life is sweet and I'll fight for life now;" then I caught her with one hand and pushed her against the door which leads up to the attic; then I rushed again to the other door and was caught around the waist; I pushed her back again, got to the door and came down stairs; came to the entry door and found it closed; then across the kitchen to where Mr. Dodge slept.

News and Notes.

The republicans have fifteen majority on joint ballot in the New Jersey legislature.

John Morrissey's majority over John Fox for Senator in the fourth New York district is 3570. Haskett's majority for Recorder is 25,176. Phelps' majority for District Attorney is 24,629.

Newburyport, at the recent election, gave Rice 886 votes, Gaston 927.

Mrs. Francis D. Moulton has been dropped from Plymouth Church, but before it was done she presented the following letter: "My absence is an enforced one, and is caused by the crime of adultery committed by Henry Ward Beecher, pastor of this church, with one of his parishioners, which I know to be a fact through Mr. Beecher's confessions to me, and through the confessions of Mrs. Tilton, and through conclusive evidence of the crime from other sources. I appear before this church in loyal obedience to the summons which I have received, and I hereby declare my disposition and desire to discharge all the duties devolving on me as a member that are consistent, with my knowledge of the adultery of the pastor and his false swearing with a regard to it. Very respectfully,

EMMA C. MOULTON.

Governor-elect Rice's plurality in Boston was 52.

There are large republican gains in Virginia, indicating a dissolution of the conservative party and a republican victory next year.

The Democrats carry Wisconsin by about 1500 majority.

The employes of the Exeter Machine Works and foundry celebrated the republican victory in Massachusetts, on the 3d, by a salute of twenty-three guns, the gun then bursting. None of the crowd were injured, though it was blown to fragments, one piece being thrown a quarter of a mile.

The democratic majority in New York State is about 13,000. Republican gain 37,000.

Last year, the New York Assembly consisted of 63 republicans and 75 democrats. This year, 77 republicans and 51 democrats are elected to it.

Rhode Island has 258,239 inhabitants.

Asa J. Magoon has been committed to jail at Montpelier, Vt., to await trial for the murder of Streeter.

They push bravely to the front, in Hollis, nine old maids and twenty-nine widowers.

A son of Mr. Joel Hutchinson of Rumney, while out hunting, recently, caught sight of a partridge and was about to make feathers fly, when larger game, no less than a good-sized bear, appeared and was wickedly smiling him a welcome to his fond embrace, when the boy, nothing daunted, let the old Bruin have the contents of his gun and started in a bee-line for home, and the bear after him. The time made was not taken, but the boy won, reaching the "home" base a few lengths ahead.

Mr. Nathaniel R. Goss has resigned his position as superintending school committee at Rye and has "gone West" to engage in teaching at Bunker Hill, Ill.

On Oct. 30th, Willie Flanders, a young man about 23 years of age, living in the west part of Hill, attempted suicide by taking laudanum. James Norton administered a dose of castor oil and saved his life.

A small planing and grist-mill at Bartlett, owned by H. N. Jose, was burned Thursday. Loss $1500: partially insured.

TRIAL OF DAVID L. MAGOON,

OF RAYMOND,

FOR THE MURDER OF MRS. MAGOON,

BY POISONING.

FRIDAY.

The Court room was crowded with spectators at the trial on Friday morning, the nature of the testimony being such as to call forth a more intelligent audience than is usual in the progress of this case. The medical fraternity was well represented by our own local talent as well as some from abroad. Two celebrated chemical experts, Drs. S. Dana Hayes and Edward S. Wood of Boston were upon the stand consecutively during the entire forenoon and a portion of the afternoon. The cross-examination of these two gentlemen, particularly that of Dr. Hayes, was conducted with great minuteness and skill on the part of the prisoner's counsel, for the purpose, evidently, of breaking the force of their testimony in reference to the part they performed in the analysis of the contents of the stomach and intestines of the deceased woman, Mrs. Magoon. Both of these witnesses, however, shew a thorough knowledge and familiarity with their department of learning, and testified unequivocally in regard to the unmistakable presence of strychnia in the stomach of the deceased. The counsel for the defence labored to gain an admission from Dr. Hayes that it was possible that a mistake might occur in a conclusion of the results of the chemical tests applied, and that other substances might produce exactly the same consequence as that of strychnia. The witness, however, was positive that, although mistakes might occur in the application of the chemical processes of elimination, the character of the tests were never known to fail. A skilled chemist would invariably find strychnia by the eighteen or twenty tests successively applied, if the poison were present in the substance under analysis.

The prisoner maintained about the same appearance through the trial, excepting, perhaps, a moment of nervousness occasionally, which may be caused by a physical derangement, rather than from what is uttered on the witness stand. The desire of the public to get a glimpse of Magoon is particula ly manifest at the door of the Court room, the entry and steps leading thereto being crowded upon his arrival and departure. The percentage of female attendance on Friday had greatly diminished, probably for the purpose of recuperating themselves for attendance during those days of the trial whereon evidence of a more sensational character is expected; our court ladies preferring to listen to such testimony, rather than that of a scientific nature the comprehension or appreciation of which involves the use of brains. This remark applies only to the average hanger-on at trials such as this.

DR. S. DANA HAYES, recalled.—The process used for eliminating the poison or strychnia from the stomach is called the Dragundoff method. [It was here proposed by the counsel for State that chemical tests be made of the strychnia obtained from the stomach of the deceased in the presence of any expert who might be selected by the counsel for defence.] This proposition was opposed by the latter on account of the delay and inconvenience that might be thus occasioned.

CROSS-EXAMINED.—There is no strictly characteristic appearance after death of strychnia poison. Generally the limbs are rigid, the hands clenched, the feet arched. Stiffness after death no doubt follows other cases besides strychnia poisoning. A person who has taken a fatal dose of strychnia often suffers from oppression, shuddering, shivering, twitching, clenching of the hands, rigidity of the body, convulsions. There are generally lucid intervals between the convulsions. My knowledge of strychnia poison is obtained from observation of subjects confirmed by reading from the books [Counsel for defence here read from authorities the symptoms of death by strychnia, and asked the witness if such as cited were apparent in cases of poison by strychnia. The reply was that not all, but a part of those symptoms are always present.] Do not know why strychnia causes death. A fatal dose of strychnia is half a grain. There is a case on record where one died from less than a half a grain, that of Dr. Warner, who took half a grain of sulphate of strychnia, which is less than the pure strychnia. Never found a trace of strychnia in an analysis of intoxicating liquors or beer. Examined the stomach of Mrs. Magoon for other poisons besides strychnine, for nearly all metallic poisons, in fact, one of the merits of Dragondoff's process being the elimination of all vegetable poisons. In the endeavor to find strychnine. Have applied this process ten or twelve different times in my experience. There are other substances that contain the same chemical constituents as that of strychnia.

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION.—It is not possible to produce strychnia artificially. There is no substance known that will answer to the tests that were applied in the case in question.

DR. EDWARD S. WOOD.—My profession is that of physician and assistant professor in the Harvard Medical College of Boston. I am chemist of the Mass. Gen. Hospital. I have been familiar with for more than ten years, and have made a special study of medical chemistry during the past six years. Have made a special study of poisons and their effects. Am familiar with the Dragundoff process of analysis and use it in my practice. On the 8th of October, received a package from Dr. Hayes said to contain strychnine and also a bottle containing intestines. [Package produced and identified by witness, who then proceeded to explain minutely the process that he used, and the results obtained from a chemical analysis of the intestines received from Dr. Hayes, which were those of strychnia poisoning. The smallest fatal dose in an adult is half a grain. On the other hand recovery has followed the taking of larger doses than half a grain. A description of the manner in which strychnine is disposed of on entering the body was detailed by Dr. Wood, the witness.]

CROSS-EXAMINED.—One-tenth of a grain of strychnine has produced very alarming results. In forty-eight hours after strychnia has been taken it will be entirely eliminated by the natural processes of the body. [Witness described at length the symptoms of strychnine upon the human body.]

AFTERNOON.

DR. EDWARD S. WOOD recalled, re-direct examination.—A diseased state of the system would tend to modify the symptoms of strychnia. Sulphate of strychnia is quite soluble in water.

CROSS-EXAMINED. If strychnia were placed in essence of peppermint, the alcohol would absorb it. Once applied strychnia to a healthy frog, which died in a few minutes after, without manifesting any apparent symptoms. If strychnia were applied externally to a wound it might possibly afterward appear in the stomach, or some portions of it.

At the close of Dr. Wood's testimony, the counsel for the State announced that they would rest the case. Calvin L. Page, Esq., then addressed the jury at considerable length in behalf of the defence, foreshadowing the evidence that the prisoner's counsel proposed to produce, and closing with an eloquent appeal.

HANNAH P. LOCKE.—Reside in Raymond. Am sister of Mrs. Magoon, who died on the 31st of August, 1874. Knew the health of my sister to have been very poor, and she had frequent sick spells. If she had lived until the 4th of October, 1874, she would have been 71 years old. Saw her the morning after death and did not notice anything unusual in the appearance of the corpse. Know Abigail B. Heath by reputation, which I believe is not good. Tasted of the peppermint from the bottle and found it tasted bitter.

CROSS-EXAMINED.—Do not know of any quarrels that existed between Mr. and Mrs. Magoon. Tasted of the peppermint because I was asked to by Mary J. Magoon, the daughter of the prisoner. Do not live with my husband.

ROWENA WARD.—Reside in Candia. Have known Abby Heath for the past 15 years. Had conversation with her in regard to Mr. Magoon poisoning his wife. Said that she did not believe he would have the courage to do it. Would not believed Abby Heath under oath so soon as I would ordinary persons.

CROSS-EXAMINED. — Never knew that Abby Heath and prisoner were intimate.

MARY JANE CRAM.—Was at the house of Magoon the day Mrs. M. died, between the hours of half-past two and four. Mrs. Magoon was in the bedroom crying, appearing very sick. At her request called Nathan, her son, to get her some water.

CROSS-EXAMINED.—Saw Mr. Magoon on my way to the house. Do not remember that I ever told any one that Magoon appeared excited.

JOSEPH LANGFORD.—Reside in Candia about half a mile from Magoon's. Know the reputation of Abigail B. Heath and would not believe her under oath so soon as the generality of persons.

HARRIET E. DEARBORN recalled.—Think I went into the house with Nathan's wife after Mrs. Magoon's death. Bathed the wrist of the deceased in camphor and did not observe any unusual stiffness of the hands. At the time of her death, noticed Mr. Magoon weeping.

CROSS-EXAMINED.—Bathed her because I thought she might not be dead.

FRANK J PHILBRICK.—Am a pharmacist in the firm of David Kimball & Co. of Portsmouth. [Bottle produced containing a grain which the witness asserted that he had put up and weighed with great care. Also shew a phial containing one grain of sulphate of strychnia, both packages of which were carefully examined by court and jury. A bottle was also exhibited, containing (as the witness stated) 20 grains of strychnine, two ounces of water and two teaspoonsful of essence of peppermint.

CROSS-EXAMINED. — In ordinary commerce strychnia is not a powder but is crystalized. Have no doubt that the bottle produced contains strychnine.

ABBY ROBERTS.—Live in Raymond. Am the daughter of David L. Magoon. Have been married 18 years. My mother's health was very poor some years before her death. She was troubled with a scrofulous humor that made its appearance in her lower limbs. She used often to complain of the humor striking to her stomach. She also complained that the liquids which she drank tasted bitter. On the day of my mother's death, I think I saw her at noon. Found her sitting by the stove in the kitchen. Complained of her head feeling badly. After dinner, went in and sat with my mother, who was crying on account of the recent departure of her daughter Lydia. Left at half-past three. My mother was lying on the bed when I left. Went in again about four, and found her quite sick on the bed. Went in after tea, about half-past five. Helped mother to undress and go to bed. Father went after some peppermint at mother's request. Went into the kitchen, took the bottle of peppermint, poured some of it into a tumbler, put some sugar into it, stirred it a little and then left, as I suppose, and went to the bedroom. Came back and placed the tumbler into the sink. Returned home shortly after and did not see my mother again until after death. Was summoned a while after my return and found mother dead. Did not notice any distortion of the countenance or other singular appearance after death. Thought that my father felt very badly. There was nothing unusual in her appearance as she was laid out. My father asked me if I thought a physician was necessary and told him that I did not think it necessary. Saw the body of my mother the next day and noticed that the face of the corpse appeared very calm. The treatment of my father toward my mother was kind for aught that I know.

The official reporter in the Magoon murder trial is Mr. George Manson of Concord, the well-known short-hand writer.

In consequence of the uncertainty as to the length of the murder trial, now in progress, the jurors drawn for Monday next have been notified that their attendance will not be required until Monday, the 15th inst.

The time at the disposal of the Court after the termination of the murder trial next week will be devoted to the disposition of State cases not requiring a jury. No civil case will be considered next week.

The new docket will be called on Monday, November 15.

Jottings.

Some of the largest stockholders appear to be in favor of adopting measures to put the Eastern road, of Mass., into bankruptcy, in case of a default in the January payment.

The Exeter News-Letter calls upon Hon. Frank Jones, as a member of the majority of the next House of Representatives to obtain an appropriation of $34.000 to make Swamscott River navigable for vessels from old Ocean. And up will rise Joshua, Frank's possessor of secrets, and ask: "Say, News-Letter; if he will secure the appropriation, will you come to his rescue and help re-elect him in 1877, instead of abusing him as you did last March?"

Twelve hundred books were taken out during the first month of the public library at Kittery.

The Fair of the Daughters of Rebekah closed Friday evening. On Wednesday evening, Mrs. L. E. Martin was the fortunate purchaser of a slice of cake containing a gold ring. On Thursday evening, Miss Fannie Martin was as fortunate. The gold-headed ebony cane was voted to Rev. S. S. Hebbard, the popular pastor of the Universalist church. Dr. S. C. Whittier was voted the fur riding gloves, and Mrs. Young the case of wax flowers. Mrs. Joseph Blaisdell, Mrs. John H. Morrill and Mrs. Paul M. Snow won half-barrels of flour.

The Direct Cable was successfully repaired Thursday morning. The fracture was found to be such as might have been caused by an anchor or grapnel. The cable is in fine working condition.

The Mirror does not like it because a Manchester man has not been selected as station agent to succeed the late Major Stevens, and says the proposition to transfer Mr. Samuel Barrett of this city to the position is in furtherance of a scheme "to secure the influence of the Concord road which, with the Eastern, will, they think, enable them, should the democrats have control of the next legislature, to secure the Senatorial prize. If Mr. Barrett proposes to come here on any such mission he would better be a long time getting here, for we assure him it is not a pleasant job which he is undertaking. It is perhaps natural enough that Frank Jones, who has run the Eastern road with an eye to electing himself to Congress, should believe that with the help of the Concord he could dictate the next democratic nomination for Senator; but let us assure him that the people of Manchester don't propose to have the Concord railroad run for any such purpose." The Mirror says Manchester people are not likely to remain quiet while their depot is converted into a stable for the accommodation of anybody's hobby horse."

Assistant Surgeon T. D. Myers, U. S, N., of this city, has passed his examination and been promoted to be Passed Assistant Surgeon.

The house of the late Washington Williams, No. 15 Middle street, has been purchased by Chief Engineer David B. Macomb, U. S. N.

Cargoes of coal have been recently shipped from this city to Claremont and Canaan.

Luther Benson, Esq., the Hoosier orator, will lecture on temperance, this and to-morrow evenings, at the Temple. Admission, this evening, free; Sunday evening, ten cents.

Robert W. Welch, of Dover, formerly the Portsmouth correspondent of the Boston Globe, has secured a position on the reportorial staff of the New York Times.

Capt. John S. Sides had a noble spread of birds at a supper given in honor of the Sportsmen's Club, recently. There were a hundred guests, many being from Manchester and other places in the State.

At an auction sale of paintings held in Boston, a view taken at "The Wentworth" the past Summer, sold for $130.

The vesper service at the South Parish will begin hereafter at half-past seven o'clock. Subject, next Sunday, "the True Revival." In the afternoon, if pleasant, there will be a vesper service with a sermon for children, at the usual hour of afternoon service.

Rev. Mr. Fisher will officiate at St. Johns church to-morrow.

The motherless baby Hen owned by Col. Joseph Cushing at his farm on Dover Point, is regularly fed from a nurse bottle with the usual rubber fixtures, and thrives well.

Detectives are again on the trail of the alleged murderer of Mrs. Louisa Gardner, who left this city suddenly and threw his "shadowers" off the track.

Rev. Mr. Hebbard will lecture on "Tramps," next Sunday evening at the Universalist church.

MARRIED,

JANES—MARDEN. In this city, Nov. 4, by Rev. J. K. Allrich, Mr. George F. Janes of Topsfield, Mass., and Miss Ida M. Marden of Portsmouth.

Weather Maxims.

"Old Probabilities" has formulated the results of his observations for New England as follows;

1. As a rule, if the wind touches northeast or east for two or three days, it is a sure indication of rain.

2. Dense smoke and haze in early morning portend falling weather.

3. Summer showers of light character often follow two or three days of smoke or haze.

4. Fog, frost and dew precede rain 24 to 48 hours, except fog at close of storm.

5. Wind veering from north or west to south and southeast precedes falling weather.

6. Halos, lunar and solar, also fairly defined and brilliant auroras, precede rain 24 to 60 hours.

7. Barometer rising or falling considerably away from its mean forebodes falling weather, subject to modifying influences of the neighboring ranges of mountains and hills.

8. Precipitation generally follows a rapid flux or efflux of atmosphere.

9. If wind is in southwest and rain sets in, the rain is of short duration and light yield.

10. Banks of watery clouds or heavy haze on south or southeastern horizon indicate rain.

11. An area of low barometer at or near Fort Monroe, and running up the coast, surely reaches here as a northeaster.

SCRIBNERS' MONTHLY for 1876

The publishers invite attention to the following list of some of the attractive articles secured for Scribner's Monthly, for the coming year. In addition to the Editor, besides numerous novelettes and shorter articles, there will be

TWO REMARKABLE SERIAL STORIES,

By American Authors.

The first of these, now complete in our hands,

"GABRIEL CONROY,"

By BRET HARTE,

Begins in the November number, and will run for twelve months. This is Mr. Harte's first extended work, and the scenes and characters, which the author has chosen from his favorite field, California, are painted with character-istic vividness and power, and the work is without doubt the most graphic record of California life that has yet appeared.

We shall also begin in the January number,

"PHILIP NOLAN'S FRIENDS,

OR, SHOW YOUR PASSPORTS."

By EDWARD EVERETT HALE.

The scene of this story is laid in the Southwestern territory, now forming the States of Louisiana and Texas, at the time of Aaron Burr's treason. The characters lived in a section which was now American, now French, and now Spanish, and this record of their adventurous lives makes a story of intense and unflagging interest throughout.

A SECOND "FARMER'S VACATION,"

By Col. GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

Col. Waring is now in Europe, visiting, in a row-boat, side of two hundred miles of the Rhine, one of the most fertile and interesting of the vine growing valleys of Europe. This second series of papers from ises to be even more interesting than that with which our readers are already familiar.

CENTENNIAL LETTERS,

Edited by John Vance Cheney.

A rare collection of Revolutionary Letters, mainly from stores in the hands of the descendants of Col. Joseph Webb. These will be published, and will be read with a rare relish in connection with the Centennial celebration of the year.

BRILLIANTLY ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES ON AMERICAN COLLEGES,

Written respectively by their friends, will appear during the year. The various phases in college life makes these papers especially timely, and will secure for them unusual attention.

OLD NEW YORK.

Elegantly illustrated articles on Old New-York, by John F. Mines, will appear at once, and will attract the attention of all, in city or country, who mark with pleasure the disappearance of the grand metropolis, and affectionately remember the quaint, picturesque of its olden time.

Every number is profusely illustrated, thus enabling us to give a completeness and variety to articles, an interest and permanent value never attained in a non illustrated periodical. Under its accustomed management the magazine which in the future be devoted, as it has been in the past, to sound literature and Christian progress.

Utility, Durability and Brilliancy.

The following advantages are claimed for the

"BRILLIANT" PANTOSCOPIC SPECTACLES and EYE-GLASSES.

FIRST. That, from the peculiar construction of the Glasses and Frame, they assist and preserve the sight, rendering frequent changes unnecessary.

SECOND. That they confer a brilliancy and distinctness of vision, with an amount of Ease and Comfort not hitherto enjoyed by spectacle-wearers.

THIRD. That the material from which the Lenses are prepared is manufactured especially for optical purposes, and is Pure, Hard and Brilliant, and not liable to become scratched.

☞ The "BRILLIANTS" are unrivalled for strengthening and preserving the Eyesight, and for their lasting qualities. Every pair is stamped F L B., and can be procured only from Resident Agents

☞ A full assortment of sizes, set in GOLD, STEEL, RUBBER and SHELL, of the FINEST QUALITY, and warranted not to break from any imperfection in the manufacture, can always be obtained of

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

☞ These Pills were first sold in America in the Spring of 1874, but from the sale of the first package their success was assured, for almost every person who purchased one package soon ordered more for himself or friends, and in a short time testimonials came pouring in from those who had been benefitted by them. Some of the cures were astonishing. Following are a few of the testimonials:

Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia for Twenty-Five Years, so Bad that Life was almost a Burden, Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills.

ASHLAND, N. H., Oct. 3, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE.—For over twenty-five years I have been afflicted with Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia. I have suffered much, and for a large part of the time have been unable to work. For two or three years past have been growing worse, and in-t Fall I was so bad that life became almost a burden. I was much discouraged, and finally took my bed, where I lay several weeks. About this time I saw your Pills advertised in the Manchester Mirror, and resolved to try them, out with little hopes of receiving any permanent benefit. I felt benefitted by the first dose, and after taking one package I felt like a new man, and now I can report myself cured. One package has done me more good than all the medicine I ever took. I have recommended them to several others, and have obtained two orders for them. I procured one package for a friend, and he reports him self cured. Enclosed please find $5 for two packages.

SAMUEL PLAISTED, JR

Worth Ten Dollars a Pill.

BATH, Me., Oct. 4, 1875.

THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir—I receives your package of Pills, and can truly say they have done wonders for me. I have given away a few and those I gave to say, "Send for a package for me." I have told many what good they have done and are doing. I had the Dyspepsia so bad that I thought I couldn't stand it much longer. Have tried most every thing, but nothing did good. I have taken only three pills and can eat anything. In one of the testimonials one said they were worth their weight in gold; they are worth, at least, ten dollars a pill, and would give it before I would do without them. In this please find $15 for three more packages for my friends.

Neuralgia and Rheumatism, Liver and Kidney Complaint for Twenty-Five Years Cured by Dr. Quain's Condition Pills.

DANVERS, MASS., July 19, 1875

MR. LANE—Dear Sir—For the last twenty-five years I have suffered terribly with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, also Liver and Kidney Complaints, causing severe pain in the back and sides. So much so that I was unable to stoop to pick up any small article from the poor. I have had several doctors, spent a great deal for medicine, which did no good, and finally concluded I must suffer the rest of my life. I happened one day to see your advertisement in the Congregationalist. I thought the medicine was just what I needed, and I sent for one package. After the package of Pills before I had taken eight I felt like a new person. Can sleep well nights, eat well, and have no Neuralgia pains; can stoop as well as ever. My friends are astonished at the change in me, and think it will not last. My sister has suffered from Inflammation of the Bowels, and Constipation, and wishes to try your medicine. I inclose $10 for same, as you would not be without them if money would buy them. I think the must prove a blessing to thousands who will be induced to try them. Enclosed you will find $1.00; please send two packages.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. B. T. LANE.

Another Letter from Mrs. B. T. Lane—Health much Better at 64 than 44—Neuralgia and Kidney Troubles Completely Cured by Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills.

DANVERS, MASS., Oct. 10, 1875.

THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir—I write again for more of your invaluable Pills. I have no Neuralgia, or Kidney Trouble, still I wish to take them until my blood is thoroughly cleansed. My health is much better at 64 than it was at 44. This, with the blessing of God, I attribute wholly to your medicine. I have two in-ds in Haverhill, one in Andover, and a lady in Reidemshic, who are taking it, and are already much benefited. I send $1.00 for two packages.

MRS. B. T. LANE.

Peterson's Magazine

POSTAGE PREPAID ON ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS.

☞ Every subscriber for 1876 will be presented with a superb, large sized steel engraving of Darnell's celebrated picture of "The Signing of the Declaration of Independence." This will be "Peterson's" Centennial Gift. ☜

"PETERSON'S MAGAZINE" contains, every year, 1000 pages, 14 steel plates, 12 colored Berlin patterns, 12 mammoth colored fashion plates, 24 pages of music, and 900 wood cuts.

Great improvements will be made in 1876. Among them will be a series of illustrated articles on the Great Exhibition at Philadelphia, which will alone be worth the subscription price. They will be appropriately called

THE CENTENNIAL IN PEN AND PENCIL!

The immense circulation of "Peterson" enables its proprietor to spend more money on embellishments, stories, &c., &c., than any other. It gives more for the money than any in the world. Its

THRILLING TALES AND NOVELETTES

are the best published anywhere. All the most popular writers are employed to write originally for "Peterson." In 1876, in addition to the usual quantity of short stories, ORIGINAL COPYRIGHT NOVELETTES will be given, by Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Frank Lee Benedict, Mrs. F. H. Burnett, and others.

MAMMOTH COLORED FASHION PLATES

ahead of all others. These plates are engraved on steel, twice the usual size, and are unequalled for beauty. They will be superbly colored. Also, Household and other receipts; in short, everything interesting to ladies.

N. B.—As the publisher now prepays the postage to all mail subscribers, "Peterson" is cheaper than ever; in fact is the cheapest in the world.

The Country Gentleman

POSTAGE FREE FOR 1876.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published WEEKLY on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance, TWO COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United states and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, of greater value in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes a special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vine yard, and so on, and weekly presents a column or two for the Housewife and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well edited Review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

PULMOCINE

ULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

In the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the luxurying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local care) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LOCAL AGENTS WANTED.

An Agent Wanted for Each Town and County in the United States.

Parties desiring to act as agents must accompany their application by a letter of recommendation as to character and responsibility from and signed by the Editor of a newspaper published in the town or county for which the agent proposes to act. The agency is to sell the bonds of the Industrial Exhibition Company.

BONDS, $20 EACH.
HALF BONDS, $10 EACH.
QUARTER BONDS, $5 EACH.

The Industrial Exhibition Company will furnish agents with circulars, etc., etc.

Each newspaper published in the town where an agent is located will, as soon as the agency is established, be given an advertisement, advertising such agency and the Company, and fully explaining the plans, purposes and objects of the Company. Such advertisements will continue in such papers as long as an agency is successfully conducted.

The Industrial Exhibition Company is the first to adopt the plan so long in use by the European governments of issuing bonds when the principal is made secure, but where there is a chance for a large premium, an investment of $20 is sure to return to the investor $21—one dollar more than cost—and the holder of a $20 Bond may obtain a premium either of $50, $100, $200, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000 or $100,000. The interest, which is ordinarily distributed to all the bond holders pro rata, is in this case added to chance. The purchaser of a bond knows he will receive back his investment, with a small rate of interest, he has a chance in the $100,000 premium drawing, which are simply the distribution of interest on the whole loan.

Each bond participates in four drawings each year, until it has drawn a premium, when it is surrendered, the premium paid, and the bond cancelled.

The Industrial Exhibition Company, under a special charter granted by the State of New York, is given authority to issue these bonds. The Legislature of the State, recognizing the great benefits which will arise from the success of this enterprise, have exempted all the real estate and property of the Company from taxation and assessment for five years, and has also conferred other great privileges.

Every American who understands the purposes of this Company will, of a necessity, feel a pride in aiding it to a successful issue.

Each individual who buys a bond becomes an owner and an interested party, and when he views the structure erected with his money can say, "I aided to erect in our country the most magnificent building the world has ever seen, a palace which indeed represents the industry, energy and mechanical genius of the American people."

The manufacturers and the inventors of America are peculiarly interested in the success of this enterprise, for the reason that it is to be their home, where all their inventions and manufactures can be exhibited and sold.

The building will contain 5,320,000 square feet of space.

Purchasers desiring Bonds before an agency is established where they reside, will communicate direct with this office, from where they can be supplied.

Parties desiring to act as agents or to purchase bonds will address

The Union Pocket Book Co.

having secured by cash purchase the entire bankrupt stock of Messrs H. Morwood & Co., consisting of

400,000 Portmonies,

(POCKET BOOKS,)

of the best manufacture and superb quality, each pocket book being in size of Real Morocco Leather; to effect a speedy clearance sale and having in view the old motto of the house, Certain Profits with Quick Returns, the company have decided on giving each individual purchaser the full benefit of this remunerative bargain by giving away One Hundred Thousand Dollars, in

2818 MONEY PRIZES!

THE FIRST PRIZE BEING		$20,000 CASH.
" SECOND "	"	$10,000 "
" THIRD "	"	$5,000 "

and 2815 other money prizes as follows, viz.:

25	PRIZES OF	$1000	CASH,	EACH.

100	"	50	"	"
200	"	20	"	"
400	"	10	"	"
2000	"	5	"	"

The above prizes with the cost of advertising and other incidental expenses, giving the purchasers two-thirds of the profit that accrue on the entire sale, and to enable every one to have an equal share in the profits, with the certainty of receiving treble the value for their small investment and the further opportunity of gaining a share in the distribution of $100,000, and this too by the ridiculous outlay of $1 only.

The Union Pocket Book Co. will deliver free to any address on receipt of One Dollar, a GENUINE MOROCCO LEATHER POCKET BOOK, together with a COUPON TICKET,

entitling and giving the holder a share in the drawing of 2818 CASH PRIZES, of the aggregate value of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS CURRENCY. The Company guarantee to return to each purchaser at least treble the value for his money.

How can this be accomplished? is a question many will doubtless ask themselves, and foreseeing this we offer the following lucid explanation,

The Trade assignees, anxious to dispose of and realize on the entire stock of the bankrupts in one sale, accepted our offer of $ 80,000 cash for the lot; after advertising same for sale for one month, and not receiving a single offer, which in the present depression of business and almost total stagnation of trade is not to be wondered at; notwithstanding that our offer was one-third less than the actual cost of the manufacture of the Pocket Books. The assignee having to at once realize the effects of the bankrupts, in the interests of the creditors he had no altern

THE TWO ORPHANS.

III.— THE SECRET ARCHIVES.

The scene is the official residence of the chief minister of police, and under that roof the bureau of the high functionary himself, a terrible looking man, with an iron will, and of ceaseless pride.

He had that day obtained the post for which he had been thirsting for years. He was now in possession of the power he coveted, and yet he dared not so fall before himself as to use it after the mode in which he had contemplated his power while he was still far from its existence.

But this should be understood; he was a just man in his way, and one desirous of helping the world rather than injuring it. He was, however, steeped in that belief in aristocracy which soon was to be its own destroyer. Good and honorable to a degree was this gentleman, the Count de Liniere, but still cursed with the insane belief that the people only lived for the benefit of the mere aristocracy and the King.

He was examining certain papers at the table, while an officer of police, of high rank, but very inferior to himself, was patiently standing before him awaiting his orders.

"So," he said, "still no information as to the place of concealment of the girl called Henriette, who was carried off in open day by minions of the Marquis de Presles?"

"No, my lord."

"I repeat, it is monstrous that such an outrage should have occurred! I am sorry to have to express myself so distinctly on this, the first day of my accession to power, but it must be thoroughly understood that the King himself is at last alive to the serious nature of such proceedings, and, especially, he wishes to know who are the frequenters of these midnight revels, which are a disgrace to the, city! We, nobles, should set an example to those beneath us, and not permit our inferiors to point the finger of scorn at us! Have you learned with whom the Marquis de Presles was fighting when wounded in his own garden some weeks since?"

"Yes; we have ascertained the name of the Marquis' opponent."

"Who was he?"

"I have considerable hesitation in naming the gentleman."

"Why?"

"Because, my lord, will probably be distressed to hear it."

"Nevertheless, I insist upon knowing it all."

"The subordinate bowed, and replied:

"The Marquis' opponent was your nephew, Armand, Chevalier de Vaudry."

The new minister of police was evidently shocked, and for a few moments he appeared to have no power of speech; but recovering himself, he said:

"Sir, my nephew forms no exception to any rule I lay down should he choose to violate it. If he err, arrest him as you would any other culprit."

The officer bowed.

"You may retire."

The obedient subordinate was about to do as he was ordered, when the minister's voice, in a softer tone, arrested his steps.

"A moment, sir. Have I been correctly informed that there is a complete record among the police archives of all the lives and doings of the great families throughout France?"

"That is so, my lord."

"Even of my own?"

"Even of your own, my lord."

"And my wife's?"

"Of the Countess' also," replied the gravely speaking official.

"And I am at liberty, as the chief minister of police, to see these archives at any moment?"

"At any moment."

"I am obliged, sir. You may retire."

When the official had retired, the cold, blank expression on the Count's face passed away, the lips quivered, the eyes filled with tears, and the powerful minister paced the room.

"She has never loved me," he said. "She has ever hidden her secret from me—that secret which has stood between us from the first hour in which I called her my wife. She can not love me, despite all my tenderness; and that look of mingled fear and humiliation which I saw at the altar, I have marked daily from that hour to this, when sixteen years have passed away. I have striven for the appointment I hold with the tenacity of despair; and now I have reached the height of ambition to-day, this very day I am afraid to learn the truth. In the archives of the police I know that the history of her existence before she became my wife is written. Now that I have the power to learn the truth, I dare not seek it. Who is there?"

His voice had changed with awful suddenness as he heard a footstep near the principal entry to the room.

"I, dear uncle!" a pleasant voice returned; and the next moment the Chevalier, with whom the reader has already made acquaintance, opened the door.

He met with but a poor reception.

"I can not say I am glad to see you. I hear but poor accounts of your conduct. So 'twas you who wounded that disgrace to our class, the Marquis de Presles?"

"It was I."

"In some disgraceful brawl?"

"In no disgraceful brawl, good uncle. He had trapped a poor girl in the street; she wished to leave his charnel-house of a palace; he resisted; I offered the girl help; she accepted; and as De Presles would not give way and release the girl, he was wounded."

"In other words, Chevalier, you interested yourself in the poor girl for a selfish purpose. It has been known for many weeks that this girl escaped from the Marquis by the help of a cavalier (yourself,) whose name has been communicated to the police all along, and to me only to-day. But the girl has not been traced—where is she?"

"To that question, sir, I have no right to give a reply."

"That is to say, you know you would compromise yourself?"

"I assure you, uncle, it is not so."

"Then where is she?"

"I must not say."

"Sir, I am not to be trifled with. You are one of De Presles' habitual guests, and, therefore, you are as bad as he is. You saved this girl for your own purpose. I warn you that I will have her found. You will do well to make a virtue of necessity."

"I have given a promise, and you know that in our family promises are kept."

"They are; and I have promised myself that I will make an attempt to arrest your waywardness by commanding you to marry."

"To marry? Whom?"

"That is not a question for you to put to me. Your father, my younger brother, is dead, and, as I am childless, you are my heir. I, therefore, exercise my family rights over you, and command you to marry as I shall see fit. It is for you to obey!"

"My lord, the times are changing; men are not ordered into marriage. I have learnt enough of the new life which is coming upon us to be sure that I am right in having my own will in such a matter. I will not, at your command, marry any lady."

"Will not, sir? Do you forget a French nobleman, being the head of his family, has powers which are of a terrible nature!"

"My lord," cried the Chevalier, "I know you can obtain a letter de cachet from the King, and that I may be safely imprisoned at the royal pleasure without having the power to obtain any relief; but I trust your honor will save you from such an act of cowardice."

"Tut, tut!" said the minister, "I have no desire to use harsh measures! But I beg you to understand I insist upon your immediate marriage. It is well that we should set them beneath us an example of self-respect and obedience. It is my will, and it is enough."

"Why, what has happened?" here said a soft, gentle voice.

The two men turned in the direction whence the inquiry came. Each saw a grief-worn lady of about thirty-three, still very beautiful, but oppressed by a melancholy of a most marked character.

"I am glad you have come, Martre," said the Count, hastily, approaching his wife; "for, perhaps, you possess more influence over our nephew than I appear to have."

"I am sure he loves us both," said the lady, gently.

"Indeed, yes," replied Armand. "But my uncle wishes to have me married, and I have no desire to be wed."

"Persuade him, Martre, how wise it will be for him to marry one of his own rank and fortune in life, and to glide peacefully into pleasant domestic life."

The grave lady nodded her head slowly.

"If he can love, let him marry," she gently said.

"What! would you advise him not to marry if he cannot love?"

For a moment her eyes sought her husband's; then they fell, almost remorsefully it would have appeared to a mere looker-on; and she said, "I will do my very best, my lord!"

"I thank you heartily," he said, in a low voice to his wife; and then suddenly turning, he left the aunt and nephew together.

She made the young cavalier sit down upon a stool at her feet, and in gentle tones began whispering the conventionalities about marriage, such as have been used, perhaps in many cases with the greatest wisdom, through the later ages.

He said not a word until her soft voice drifted into silence.

"Is that all, Martre?" he asked.

"All," she gently repeated, her lips quivering.

"I must say, Martre—I can not call you aunt, you are still so young, only thirty-three—I must say that though my father and my uncle married two sisters, you seem to me more as a sister than any other relationship. There was such a difference between my mother's age and yours. We have loved each other very much, and now you counsel me to marry without love."

"It is for your good."

"Was it for yours that you married without affection?"

"Armand!"

"I know all; my mother told me just before she died, for she feared you might want a judicious friend, and hoped that I might grow to be a useful one. Martre, would you advise me to marry without love—you whose life has been wrecked by such a union? Believe me, I never revered you so much as when I learned how great your sacrifice had been."

"I have so prayed to die—yes, I have been coward enough to pray for death!"

"Martre, I love, and, as you once did, below me. I can not resist this passion: and it is you—you who have so suffered—whom I entreat to help save me from wretchedness for life. Plead with my lord; he can not resist you, for he loves you deeply, iron willed man as he is. Do not urge me to my ruin! Save me from perpetual misery!"

The poor lady had been so overwhelmed by the suddenness of her nephew's information, that she was not in a condition to say much; but battling against her emotions, she said, softly, "you are right. I will help you. It is impossible to struggle against nature, to conquer it, and to be happy."

At this moment the Count returned to the room.

He started, and then said, "I return to say that I am called away from home on business for an hour or two; but I perceive you have already agreed as to essentials. Does he still oppose my plan, my dear Martre?"

"He has pleaded with and conquered me, my lord. I can not advise him to marry without love. The thought is horrible."

"He knows the secret," thought the Count. "He has told her he is acquainted with the mystery, and he has conquered her. Even this boy knows what my wife has kept from me during the sixteen years."

Meanwhile he was smiling.

"Very well, dear Countess," he said; "since this is the case, and your nephew has converted you instead of your influencing him, your mission is at an end. Let me lead you back to your apartments. Nephew, stay here; I have something to say to you."

The Chevalier waited but a very short time before he was rejoined by his uncle.

"Armand," said the Count, who was much the elder of his wife—in fact, almost twenty years—"Armand, concession for concession. I will yield the authority I possess to compel you to marry, if you will give me word for word the conversation that has passed between you and your aunt. Ha, you start!"

That he had flinched was not to be denied. He considered for some moments, and then he replied, "Sir, I cannot repeat the conversation between myself and the Countess."

"What if I insist?"

"I know no means short of torture which would compel me to speak, and, fortunately, even we have got past the torture privilege."

"Listen to me. There is a means by which I could learn what I want to know, but it would involve me in what I should consider was dishonor on my part. There are archives in the possession of the police, at whose head I am, which give the secret history of all the great families of France. There is an entry of the family of Bragante, that to which your mother belonged and your aunt belongs, and—and I have sent for the book in question. You start again!"

"I do, sir—to think that my father's brother can stoop to so infamous an action!"

"I can bear my suspense no longer. You, and you alone, can save me from an act I hold to be disgraceful."

"Sir, my mouth is sealed. As First Minister of Police, you have the power of obtaining information which I cannot afford you. Use your power."

The door leading to the offices of the department of the secret police was here opened, and a weird looking creature brought in a heavy folio bound in brass, which he set down upon the minister's table.

He uttered no word, seemed to see nothing, and having bowed profoundly upon reaching the door by which he entered, he closed it noiselessly upon himself.

The minister opened the book, referred to the index and then turned over a number of pages.

Then he looked up.

"Armand, for the last time I entreat you to save me from falling in my own esteem by reading this page. Will you?"

"I will, indeed!" said the Chevalier, suddenly leaping forward; and as the uncle shrank back for an instant the younger man tore the incriminating page from the volume.

"It is in this way, uncle, I save you from inflicting pain upon yourself! Do not follow me!"

The elder man had become powerless. His face fell upon his hands, and as the nephew left the room, he heard his relative sob heavily.

He would have done more wisely to let the page tell its tale.

College "Sport."

Some of the Dartmouth students have been "on a lark." They became incensed with certain mean practices of J. B. Parker, a graduate who keeps a book store in Hanover, and when he purchased a rival stock and commenced an auction sale, some sixty or seventy students attended. They tied a rope around the stove legs and dragged the stove out and down over the steps into the street. The chairs, about twenty drawers, containing papers, and a counter followed. The lamp chimneys were broken and the lights went out. Parker went out, too, to see after his disappearing property — and the door was fastened against him. Then there was trouble, but the boys let him in after a short time, and held the door on the outside. Parker had nine of them indicted and they are held in $200 bail each for trial. On Friday, 300 students went to the depot to see some of their chums off, and Parker intended to go on the same train. They crowded him into the depot, and he sought protection in the ticket agent's room. Then they tossed a dog through the window to keep him company. He was kept a prisoner until the train left. The boys have the sympathy of the citizens, and say they were only repaying him for his meanness to them.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Proclamation for a day of Thanksgiving and Praise, by the Governor.

A public acknowledgment of an entire dependence upon God, is eminently becoming a free people who are the constant recipients of his favor. Sacred be the memory of the fathers of our country, who were so true to the promptings of their hearts, as to set apart a day for this purpose. It is not too much to believe that our unexampled prosperity as a people, has been in answer to the fervent prayers of those who were true to the dictates of conscience and implicitly trusted to the wisdom of their Heavenly Father. That this honored custom may be observed by the people in this State, I do, with the advice of the Council, appoint Thursday, the twenty-fifth day of November, as a day of Public Thanksgiving and Praise.

With grateful hearts let us assemble in our usual places of Public Worship and unitedly offer up our prayers of Praise and Thanksgiving to our Bountiful Benefactor for his great kindness unto us throughout the changing seasons of the passing year, and let us practically illustrate the sincerity of our worship, by making the homes of those less fortunate about us equally happy with our own.

The earth has yielded her rich fruits to the husbandman. Prosperity has attended our varied industries, while our civil and religious liberties have been preserved. We have been signally blessed as a State in the general health of our people, and while as we may sit around our tables and hearthstones, on the day appointed, we may drop the silent tear for the absent ones who have passed away from this life, we would not forget the infinite goodness of Him who is ever mindful of our sorrows, as well as our joys.

Given at the Council Chamber, in Concord, the twenty-fifth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and of the independence of the United States the one hundredth. P. C. CHENEY.

By His Excellency, the Governor, with advice of Council.

B. F. PRESCOTT, Secretary of State.

News and Notes.

A young man named Christopher C. Tuttle has been bound over before United States Commissioner Bartlett in $500 on complaint for embezzling a valuable letter addressed to Miss Addie B. Davis, at Manchester.

The tannery occupied by A. M. Draper & Co. and Harriman & Ames, manufacturers of the well-known Plymouth buck gloves and mittens, at Bristol, was burned on Thursday night. The building was owned by the heirs of George A. Draper and A. P. Harriman. Loss on building, $5000; insured for $3000. A. M. Draper & Co.'s loss on stock is $3000; insured for $1500. Harriman & Ames' loss on stock, $2000; insured for $1000. Cause of fire unknown.

The friends of Secretary Robeson claim that the republican majority in the New Jersey legislature will make him United States Senator in 1877.

There is a soft-money man in the office of the Pittsburgh Post who sees sunshine through the darkest clouds. Hear him: "The democracy of Ohio and Pennsylvania have the consolation of knowing that their advocacy of the interests of the masses against the gold gamblers, although it did not secure them victory saved them from the overwhelming defeat that smote the marplots and trading sharks of Wall street, who lie beneath the indignant protests of more than 50,000 betrayed democrats."

It will be many a year before a democratic candidate for Governor of Massachusetts polls such a large vote as Gaston received.

The details of the vote in Perrysburg, Wood county, Ohio, at the recent election show a fraud so audacious and self-evident as almost to impeach the intelligence of its perpetrators. The lateness of the returns from the county in question, which for some time left in doubt the complexion of the Ohio Senate, was due to local causes. A bill for the removal of the county-seat of Wood county from Bowling Green, Center Township, where it is now situated, to Perrysburg, had passed the last Legislature, and the question for the citizens interested had become more important than any in the State election. The drift of sentiment in the county outside of Perrysburg was strongly opposed to a removal of the county-seat, and the vote of the county outside of Perrysburg showed a majority of 2,739 against the proposed change. So decided a popular verdict as this seems to have been insufficient to discourage the local politicians of Perrysburg, who had held back their returns, and who deliberately proceeded to count for removal no less than 3,010 additional votes, which were shrewdly distributed between Hayes and Allen for the purpose of averting suspicions. To indicate the character of the fraud, it may be explained that Perrysburg has a population of but 1,835, and that the largest vote ever cast in the whole county was 4,890. It is scarcely necessary to add that the vote of Perrysburg was duly cancelled by the county canvassers, as reported by the telegraph, and that the county-seat still remains at Bowling Green.

Hon. Thomas A. Jenckes, an Ex-member of Congress from Rhode Island, died of Bright's disease, Thursday, at the age of 57 years.

The Tribune says: The discomfiture of the inflationists in Pennsylvania is so complete as to be ludicrous. In all the counties where they boasted of their ability to make large gains they are disastrously beaten. The Erie platform was adopted with special reference to catching the unemployed vote in Allegheny County—but behold the result! Last year, with an honest-dollar plank, the democrats carried the county by over 2,800—now the republicans recover it and roll up a majority of 5,000! Only a little less complete and disgraceful is the rout of the rag-money host in their supposed strongholds in the oil, lumber, and coal counties, and in the agricultural counties in the Northwest.

William Hoban's dwelling-house and barn at Claremont were burned Thursday. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. The buildings were insured for $1500.

The Ohio inflationists were so delighted with the republican gains in New York that they did'nt notice at all that the poor rag baby was smothered under a majority of 17,000 in Pennsylvania.—Tribune.

The Lebanon Free Press thinks New Hampshire could furnish a good President—and we opine that the Press wouldn't be obliged to go outside of Debanon for the candidate.

Messrs. James M. Campbell, senior editor of the Manchester Union, George C. Campbell, his son, and a fellow-typo, Fred H. Perry, have gone to Florida to start an orange grove.

It was rather hard on the democratic candidate for Lieut. Governor to defeat him for Representative in his own town. To be twice sat down upon in one day is a distinction rarely "enjoyed" by enterprising politicians—Boston Journal.

The New Telegraph Machine.

Stansbury, one of the wealthy residents of the town of C., recently put a fire and burglar alarm telegraph apparatus in his residence. Not that he has any expectations of being robbed or that he will ever need the fire department around his house, but he's been thinking of late of the possibility of the evil of such calamities occurring at any time and not having any assistance on hand. He formerly believed in firearms, but in the last disturbance at his house he shot at a streak of moonlight, and it cost two dollars next day to get the looking-glass patched. He had the new machine placed over his bed at easy distance for reaching. He asked friend Gibson to come around that night and see how the thing worked, and to explain to him the wonderful power of the electric fluid, Gibson said. "In case you require assistance from the police you press this knob (pressing it,) and when requiring the fire department you push this one (suiting the action to the word.) They are connected with the different places, and they of course summon." "I believe I understand the way it works," said Gibson, thoughtfully; "you push this knob in, as I have said, in case of requiring the police, and this one for the fire department," at the same time pushing both in again.) "Yes," said Stansbury, "it's very simple; a child could work it easy. When it gets out of order the company have kindly volunteered to repair —" "Moses and Aaron," cried Gibson; "where's the fire?" And he ran to the window, while Stansbury made for the front door and opened it to look out, when a stream of water, forty-horse power, knocked him clean back over the hat rack. The foreman was busily playing a stream through the basement window at a set of Lake George diamonds, the only thing visible reflecting a light, while the police force were all sitting around on barrels, waiting for the appearance of a blaze. Stansbury at last got in a full explanation of the dreadful mistake. The police went home disgusted, and the water tax was raised two and a half per cent. next day, and Stansbury got a warrant from the official board to keep the peace in bail of $5000. Stansbury don't use any more telegraph in his house. He says he'd just as soon meet a burglar with one of his last year's arctic overshoes as to have the instrument around. —Danbury News.

—A Paris paper says: A gentleman was seated before the Cafe Riche, when a young artist passed with a companion. "I will bet you," said the artist to his friend, "I will drink that gentleman's coffee, and he will thank me for doing it." "You are crazy." "You will see." "You know him, then." "Come and see the proceeding for yourself." Very solemnly they approached the gentleman. "Sir," said the artist, "I am an inspector of the Board of Health. If I ask for coffee they will give me without doubt a very good cup, for they know me. You, sir, whom they do not know, are served like the rest of the world. Will you permit me to taste your coffee?" "Certainly," said the gentleman. "This is really good. The Government has great care over the people. The police cannot be too watchful over the public health." The artist drank the coffee, and having finished it said politely, "They do things properly at this cafe; this is excellent coffee." He bowed, and left the gentleman to pay for the coffee he had not had, but profoundly grateful for the care of the Government.

—A correspondent of Land and Water vouches for the following: "A Radnorshire lady, who was married in March and came to reside in Yorkshire, recently paid a visit to her father, who, before she was married, had kept two or three sheep-dogs, of which she was very fond. Since then he has retired from business, and disposed of all but one dog. This one met the lady with demonstrations of great delight upon her arrival at her father's house, and that night the dog went a distance of seven miles to a farmhouse where one of the other dogs had been sent (the latter was blind, but kept as being an old favorite). In the morning, when the lady went to the door, she saw not only the dog which had given her such a glad reception the day previously, but also the old blind one, which had evidently been brought by the other dog to welcome her. When the second night came the old blind one was taken back to its home by the same dog, which afterward returned, having travelled a distance of twenty-eight miles to give pleasure to the old blind one."

—At the present epoch, no European nation, except perhaps the French, can claim to have anything approaching a style of its own, nor is it likely, in these days of steam, when travellers are millions where they were thousands half a century ago, and when the products of a section of country are the commodities of the world, that any nation will again be sufficiently isolated to elaborate a distinct style. To their intense love of art, as well as to their exclusiveness and national vanity, the French owe that manner—founded on adaptation of the classic styles to modern requirements, mingled with some Gothic detail—which is fast approaching a style, and which may, in course of time, be expanded and adapted until it becomes the style of civilized man all the world over.—Overland Monthly.

—"Hurry back from church, for I want to hear what the preacher says about Jesus," said Matthias Smith, of Kittaning, Pa., to his wife as she left the house for church on Sunday morning. When she returned home after church she found her husband hanging by his neck to a rope from one of the beams in the kitchen ceiling. He was dead, and this note lay on the kitchen table:

Dear Wife: You stayed too long. I was so anxious to hear about Jesus that I could not wait. I have gone to see him.

MATTHIAS.

The deceased man was seventy-two years old.

—He used to cramp his feet up in little boots and limp painfully down to her residence every Sunday morning, but the next morning after his marriage he went into a shoe shop, drew a chalk mark around his foot, and about an inch distant from it on both sides and at the heel and toe, and ordered the proprietor to put him up a pair of boots after that pattern. Oh, there's sweet liberty, there's balmy, boundless freedom in the marriage state.

E. G. PIERCE, JR., P. M.

TRIAL OF DAVID L. MAGOON,

OF RAYMOND,

FOR THE MURDER OF MRS. MAGOON,

BY POISONING.

The work of the trial on Saturday was of only two hours' duration, the Court adjourning at eleven, A. M., the stage of the evidence being such as to be more conveniently adjourned at that point than at any other. It is understood that the testimony of the prisoner, David L. Magoon, will be taken to-day, and from the nature of the case, his examination will last through the entire day. During the testimony of Saturday, there were some points extremely favorable to the prisoner that the prosecution failed to spoil or even damage. One witness, (Taylor Dearborn) was, on cross-examination, rendered of but little value to the defence, though this was the exception.

As soon as the Court adjourned, the imprisoned jury, who have been under the rigid surveillance of the sheriff since they were sworn in, rushed up to the Judge's desk and requested that they might be temporarily relieved from the rigid restraint of their confinement. The Court, upon consulting the counsel for prosecution and defence, decided to give them their liberty until this morning, under certain proper restrictions, to the effect that they should refrain from listening to or discussing anything bearing upon the subject of the trial, and abstain from reading any newspaper. To this they cheerfully agreed, and were accordingly liberated and allowed to return to their homes; a privilege of which they were not slow in availing themselves.

The trial will doubtless occupy a large portion of the present week, although this is a matter of conjecture only. It is perhaps safe to predict that the case will be given to the jury as early as Thursday and possibly on Wednesday.

MARY JANE MORRILL.—Reside in Candia. Known Mr. Magoon for 30 years. Saw Mrs. Magoon the Friday before she died on Monday. A week from the Wednesday before I saw her and she complained of feeling miserable. Saw the body on the day of the funeral and noticed the arm lying across the stomach. In conversation with Abby Heath relative to the Magoon murder, I asked her if "she thought that David poisoned Aunt Hitty," (referring to Magoon, the prisoner and his wife.) Mrs. Heath replied that "she did not think he did." I said "why, then do you tell such stories ?" She replied "to plague Aaron Heath."

CROSS-EXAMINED.—The conversation with Mrs. Heath was in my house in Candia. Did not mention any particular stories concerning the manner of Mrs. Magoon's death.

MARY ANN DEARBORN.—Live in Candia. Knew Mrs. Magoon, and know that her health was not good. Was called to help lay out the body of the deceased woman. Walked to the house—a distance of a half mile. Did not observe anything unusual in the appearance of the body, save quite a stiffness of the limbs. Did not notice that the hands were clenched. While I was present the matter of sending for a physician was mentioned. I told them I thought that there was no need of it as she was undoubtedly dead. Know Abby Heath and would not readily believe her under oath.

CROSS-EXAMINED.—Was met often in Magoon's family. Remember assisting Mrs. Roberts to wash her hands. Think the body was stiffer than any body ever I laid out. Was obliged to cut the clothing in order to get it from the body. Supposed at the time that she died from one of her "spells."

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION.—I lost a grandchild sometime before the death of Mrs. Magoon. Could not say how the clothing was removed.

LYDIA STRAW.—Reside in Candia. I am daughter of the defendant, and the deceased was my mother. Served with my mother until the 6th of July, 1874, when I went to Manchester and returned the 29th of August. I performed the domestic duties of the family at home. My mother's health was commonly very poor. Most of the time she used a cane in walking. Frequently complained of her stomach, and at certain intervals had bad "spells," as she termed them. On these occasions she would complain of the cold and have moments of shivering. She was a great lover of tea, but during one of her "spells" she could not take it because it tasted so bitter. Suffered greatly from mental depression, and has remarked that she could not survive many more of such "spells." Did not notice anything unusual in regard to the appearance of the body of my mother after death. Early in the Spring my father asked me one day if I had seen a bottle of strychnine about the house. I told him I had not. He asked my mother if she had seen it and she replied, "How do you suppose I know !" Noticed shortly before my mother's death that a pillow on her bed was pinned at one corner.

CROSS-EXAMINED.—The face was not exposed to view on the day of the funeral, because the body had begun to change. There was a time when my father and mother did not speak together. The quarrel was occasioned by jealousy of Mrs. Owen Roberts. Never heard my mother speak of Mrs. Heath. Left my mother the Sunday before her death. Her sickness on that day was no more severe than common.

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION.—Know that my father purchased strychnine some years ago, for the purpose of killing crows.

WILLIE H. DEARBORN.—Live in Candia. I heard, in the Spring of 1874, (while in Mr, Magoon's house after a drink of water) him ask where a bottle of strychnine was that he left in the bureau drawer.

DAVID MAGOON.—Live in Raymond. Son of prisoner. Lived about three miles from my father's house. [Witness corroborated previous testimony in relation to Mrs. Magoon's health.] Visited my mother a fortnight before her death, and when about to leave she requested me to stop longer, saying "I don't know as you will ever see me again alive."

CROSS-EXAMINED.—While I lived at home remember of a quarrel between my father and mother but don't know what it was about.

TAYLOR DEARBORN.—Live in Candia, a quarter of a mile from Magoon's. I opened the grave of a corpse from which Dr. Gould took out the stomach. Opened the grave on a subsequent occasion and again took out the body.

CROSS-EXAMINED.—Don't know who pointed out the grave to Dr. Gould. The son-in-law of Mr. Magoon (Dwight Roberts) was present during the first disinterment. There are but two graves in the lot, and the lot was Magoon's.

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION.—Question. How do you know the lot was Magoon's? Ans. Don't know.

MARY J. MAGOON, recalled.—I sent Mrs. Bartlett (an old lady living with me) in to assist my mother on the afternoon of her death. When my mother was dying, my husband held one hand and I held the other. Noticed the peppermint in question sitting on the dining-room table. Took some of it the day after my mother's death.

CROSS-EXAMINED.—Should judge that Mrs. Bartlett was absent from my house at the time before alluded to about half an hour. Do not think it is possible for Mrs. Bartlett to get here to Court in consequence of her physical disability.

At this point the Court adjourned until to-day at eleven, A. M.

Jottings.

Assistant Paymaster Z. T. Brown, U. S. N., is detached from U. S. S. Pinta and ordered to settle his accounts.

At the thirteenth annual session of the Merrimack Valley Dental Association, held in Manchester last Thursday, Dr. A. P. Stevens of this city was chosen one of a committee of five to consider the subject of a library and microscope. The doctor also read and discussed before the meeting a paper upon "The Tooth-Brush as a Prophylatic," written by a Georgetown, Mass., dentist, and later spoke earnestly upon the use of temporary fillings. In the evening he read an address upon "Teething." Dr. E. B. Goodall of this city spoke on "The Preservation of Pulps." Among the new members elected was Dr. L. A. Johnson, also of this city. The association will hold its semi-annual meeting at Portland in May.

Passed Assistant Engineer Nathan P. Towne, U. S. N., is placed on waiting orders.

—A prominent judge in Illinois, who is universally esteemed and respected, is known to his intimate friends as "the Wolf." He earned the soubriquet by a curious adventure in Wisconsin. Many years ago he was travelling a lonely road in the southern portion of the State on horseback. A branch came athwart his face and knocked off his spectacles. Without his spectacles the judge was blind as a bat. He could not think of proceeding on his journey until he had found them. Accordingly he slipped from his horse and, holding the bridle in one hand, began searching for the lost "eyes" on "all-fours." The horse was restive, and without spectacles the judge could see no spectacles. The search was long and anxious. Finally, in the distance was heard the howling of prairie wolves. The horse plunged and snorted; the spectacles remained hidden; the lawyer was in despair. Finally, as the wolves were almost at his heels, he leaped upon his horse, giving a free rein, and was soon riding blindly away to safety. When the danger was past, he reached forward to soothe and caress his frightened horse, and tangled in the mane he found what he had long sought and mourned because he found them not—the spectacles. His friends heard of his narrow escape, and to this day he has remained "The Wolf" in private and confidential intercourse.—Chicago Tribune.

Dragging Out Existence.

The nervous, weakly invalid does not enjoy life, but merely "drags out existence," as the phrase is. Unfitted for the active pursuits of life, and incapable of partaking of its pleasures, to which health alone can give a zest; disinclined to social intercourse, and a prey to melancholy, the valetudinarian is indeed an object of pity. Yet there is nothing in all this that cannot be remedied by that genial alterative tonic and nervine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which supplies deficient stamina, braces the nervous system, and overcomes those bodily irregularities to which nervous weakness is most frequently attributable. Diseases of the kidney and bladder, imperfect digestion and uterine troubles are fertile sources of debility. Their eradication however, becomes a matter of certainty when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are systematically used for that purpose. The Bitters likewise annihilate and prevent fever and ague and other debilitating febrile complaints of a malarial nature.

Coughs and Colds are often overlooked. A continuance for any length of time causes irritation of the Lungs or some chronic Throat Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are an effectual COUGH REMEDY.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

See Deuteronomy, xii: 23. The blood being the source from which the system is built up, and from which we derive our mental as well as physical capabilities, how important that it should be kept pure! If it contain vile, festering poisons, all organic functions become enfeebled. Settling upon important organs, as the lungs, liver, and kidneys, the effect is most disastrous. Hence it behooves all to keep the blood in a perfectly healthy condition, and more especially does this apply at this particular season of the year than at any other. No matter what the exciting cause may be, the real cause of a large proportion of all diseases is bad blood. Now, Dr. Pierce does not wish to place his Golden Medical Discovery in the catalogue of quack patent nostrums, by recommending it to cure every disease, nor does he so recommend it; on the contrary, there are hundreds of diseases that he acknowledges it will not cure; but what he does claim is this, that there is but one form of blood disease that it will not cure, and that disease is cancer He does not recommend his Discovery for that disease, yet he knows it to be the most searching blood-cleanser yet discovered, and that it will free the blood and system of all other blood poisons, be they animal, vegetable or mineral. The Golden Medical Discovery is warranted by him to cure the worst forms of Skin Diseases, as all forms of Blotches, Pimples, and Eruptions; also all Glandular Swellings, and the worst form of Scrofulous and Ulcerated Sores of the Neck, Legs or other parts, and all Scrofulous Diseases of the Bones, as White Swellings, Fever Sores, Hip-joint and Spinal Diseases,—all of which belong to Scrofulous diseases.

CONFIRMED HIP-JOINT DISEASE CURED.

W. GROVE STATION, IOWA.

DR. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—My wife first became lame nine years ago. Swellings would appear and disappear on her hip, and she was gradually becoming reduced, and her whole system rotten with disease. In 1871, a swelling broke on her hip, discharging large quantities, and since that time there are several openings. Have had five doctors, at an expense of $125, who say nothing will do any good but surgical operation. July 15, 1873, he writes thus: My wife has certainly received a great benefit from the use of your Discovery, for she was not able to get off the bed, and was not expected to live a week when she commenced using it, a year ago. She has been doing most of her work for over six months. Has used twenty bottles, and still using it. Her recovery is considered as almost a miracle, and we attribute it all to the use of your valuable medicine. I can cheerfully recommend it as a blood-purifier and strength-restorer. J. M. ROBINSON.

Golden Medical Discovery is sold by Druggists.

—Casts of spirit hands are the latest novelty in Spiritualism. A dish of melted wax is put under a table, and curtained in from view. The medium and others sit with their hands on the table. After awhile the curtains are removed, and a mould of wax is found as though a hand had been pressed into the soft wax. Plaster is then poured into the mould, thus making a cast. Believers expect that spirit faces may thus be modelled.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

SCRIBNERS' MONTHLY for 1876

The publishers invite attention to the following list of some of the attractive articles secured for Scribner's Monthly, for the coming year. In the field of fiction, besides numerous novelettes and shorter stories, there will be

TWO REMARKABLE SERIAL STORIES,

By American Authors.

The first of these, now complete in our hands,

"GABRIEL CONROY,"

By BRET HARTE,

Begins in the November number, and will run for twelve months. This is Mr. Harte's first extended work. The characters, which the author has chosen from his favorite field, California, are painted with character-stic vividness and power; and the work is without doubt the most graphic record of California life that has yet appeared.

We shall also begin in the January number,

"PHILIP NOLAN'S FRIENDS,

OR, SHOW YOUR PASSPORTS,"

By EDWARD EVERETT HALE.

The scene of this story is laid in the Southwestern territory, now forming the States of Louisiana and Texas, at the time of Aaron Burr's treason. The characters are varied in nationality, a part of them being French, and now Spanish, and this element of their adventurous lives makes a story of intense and unflagging interest throughout.

A SECOND "FARMER'S VACATION,"

By Col. GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

Col. Waring is now in Europe, visiting, in a row-boat ride of two hundred miles, the vineyards of the almost fertile and interesting of the vine growing valleys of Europe. This second series of papers promises to be even more interesting than that with which our readers are already familiar.

CENTENNIAL LETTERS,

Edited by John Vance Cheney.

A rare collection of Revolutionary Letters, mainly from stores in the hands of the descendants of Col. Joseph Ward. They are full of interest, and will read with a rare relish in connection with the Centennial celebration of the year.

BRILLIANTLY ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES ON AMERICAN COLLEGES,

Written respectively by their friends, will appear during the year. The revived interest in college life makes these papers peculiarly timely, and will secure for them unusual attention.

OLD NEW YORK.

Elegantly illustrated articles on Old New York, by John W. Mines, will appear at once, and will attract the attention of all, in city or country, who mark with interest the development of the great metropolis, and remember the quaint and picturesque localities of its olden time.

Every number is profusely illustrated, thus enabling us to give to our descriptive and narrative articles an interest and permanent value never attained in a non illustrated periodical. Under its accustomed management the magazine will in the future be devoted, as it has been in the past, to sound literature and Christian progress.

The Editorial Departments occupy over twenty pages of each number, and contain Dr. Holland's vigorous and timely editorials, as well as Reviews of the latest works in Art, Literature, and science.

TERMS:

$4.00 A YEAR, in advance; 35 cents a Number.

The 10 vols., complete, Nov. 1870, to Oct. 1875, bound in uniform cloth.....$20.00

do. do. bound in half morocco, $30.00

Vols. begin in November and May. Any of the earlier volumes (I to VIII) will be supplied separately to parties to wish them to complete sets at this rate, i. e., cloth, $2.00; half morocco, $3.00.

Booksellers and Postmasters will be supplied at rates that will enable them to fill any of the above offers.

Subscribers will please remit in P. O. Money Orders, or in Bank Checks or Drafts, or by registered letters. Money in letters not registered, at sender's risk.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

☞ These Pills were first sold in America in the Spring of 1874, but from the sale of the first package their success was assured, for almost every person who purchased one package soon ordered more for himself or friends, and in a short time testimonials came pouring in from those who had been benefited by them. Some of the cures were astonishing. Following are a few of the testimonials:

Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia for Twenty-Five Years, so Bad that Life was almost a Burden Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills.

ASHLAND, N. H., Oct. 3, 1875.

MR. THOS. W. LANE.—For over twenty-five years I have been afflicted with Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia. I have suffered much, and for a large part of the time have done no work. For two or three years past have been growing worse, and last Fall I was so bad that life became almost a burden. I was much discouraged, and finally took my bed, where I lay several weeks. About this time I saw your Pills advertised in the Manchester Mirror, and resolved to try them, but with little hopes of receiving any permanent benefit. I felt benefitted by the first dose, and after taking one package I felt like a new man, and now I can report myself cured. One package has done me more good than all the medicine I ever took. I have recommended them to several others, and have obtained two orders for them. I procured one package of you for a friend, and he reports himself cured. Enclosed please find $1.00 for two packages. SAMUEL PLAISTED, JR.

Worth Ten Dollars a Pill.

BATH, Me., Oct. 4, 1875.

THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir—I received your package of Pills, and can truly say they have done wonders for me. I have given away a few and those I gave to say, "Send me a package for me." I have told many what good they have done and are doing. I had the Dyspepsia so bad that I thought I couldn't stand it much longer. Have tried most everything, but nothing did good. I have taken only three pills and can eat anything. In one of the testimonials one said they were worth their weight in gold; they are worth, at least, ten dollars a pill, and I would give it before I would do without them. In this please find $1.50 for three more packages for my friends. H. D. LEONARD, Care Watson & Gannett.

Neuralgia and Rheumatism, Liver and Kidney Complaint for Twenty-Five Years Cured by Dr. Quain's Condition Pills.

DANVERS, MASS., July 19, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir—For the last twenty-five years I have been afflicted with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, also Liver and Kidney Complaints, causing severe pain in the back and hips, often unable for months to stoop to pick up any small article from the floor. I have taken several boxes, spent a great deal for medicine, which did no good, and finally concluded I must suffer the rest of my life. I happened one day to see your advertisement in the Congregationalist. I thought the medicine was just what I needed, and I sent to you last April for a package of Pills. Before I had taken them I felt like a new person. Can sleep well nights, eat well, and have no Neuralgia pain; can stoop as well as ever. My friends are astonished at the change in me, and think it will not last. My sister has suffered from Inflammation of the Bowels, and Constipation, and wishes to try your medicine. I intend still to take them, and would not be without them if money would buy them. I think they must prove a blessing to thousands who will be induced to try them. Enclosed you will find $1.00; please send two packages.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. B. T. LANE.

Another Letter from Mrs. B. T. Lane---Health much Better at 64 than 44---Neuralgia and Kidney Troubles Completely Cured by Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills.

DANVERS, MASS., Oct. 10, 1875.

THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir—I write again for more of your invaluable Pills. I have no Neuralgia, or Kidney Trouble, still I wish to take them until my blood is thoroughly cleansed. My health is much better at 64 than it was at 44. This, with the blessing of God, I attribute wholly to your medicine. I have two friends in Haverhill, one in Andover, and a lady in Roslendale, who are taking it, and are already much benefited. I send $1.00 for two packages.

MRS. B. T. LANE.

☞ CHEAPEST AND BEST! ☜

Peterson's Magazine

POSTAGE PREPAID ON ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS.

☞ Every subscriber for 1876 will be presented with a superb, large-sized steel engraving of Trumbull's celebrated picture of "The Signing of the Declaration of Independence." This will be "Peterson's" Centennial Gift. ☜

"PETERSON'S MAGAZINE" contains, every year, 1000 pages, 14 steel plates, 12 colored Berlin patterns, 12 mammoth colored fashion plates, 24 pages of music, and 900 wood cuts.

Great improvements will be made in 1876. Among them will be a series of illustrated articles on the Great Exhibition at Philadelphia, which will alone be worth the subscription price. They will be appropriately called

THE CENTENNIAL IN PEN AND PENCIL!

The immense circulation of "Peterson" enables its proprietor to spend more money on embellishments, stories, &c., &c., than any other. It gives more for the money than any in the world. Its

THRILLING TALES AND NOVELETTES

are the best published anywhere. All the most popular writers are employed to write originally for "Peterson." In 1876, in addition to the usual quantity of short stories, FIVE ORIGINAL COPYRIGHT NOVELETTES will be given, by Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Frank Lee Benedict, Mrs. F. H. Burnett, and others.

MAMMOTH COLORED FASHION PLATES

ahead of all others. These plates are engraved on steel, twice the usual size, and are unequalled for beauty. They will be superbly colored. Also, Household and other receipts; in short, everything interesting to ladies.

N. B.—As the publisher now prepays the postage to all mail subscribers, "Peterson" is cheaper than ever; in fact is the cheapest in the world.

The Country Gentleman

POSTAGE FREE FOR 1876.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published WEEKLY on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year goes to the getter up of the Club; EIGHT COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, in every part of the United States and all Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country, and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry-Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly presents a column or two for the Housewife and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited Review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LOCAL AGENTS WANTED.

An Agent Wanted for Each Town and County in the United States.

Parties desiring to act as agents must accompany their application by a letter of recommendation as to character and responsibility from and signed by the Editor of a newspaper published in the town or county for which the agent proposes to act. The Publishers refer to all the boards of the Industrial Exhibition Company.

BONDS, $20 EACH.
HALF BONDS, $10 EACH.
QUARTER BONDS, $5 EACH.

The Industrial Exhibition Company will furnish agents with circulars, etc., etc.

Each newspaper published in the town where an agent is located will, as soon as the agency is established, be given an advertisement, advertising such agency and the Company, and fully explaining the plans, purposes and objects of the Company. Such advertisement will continue in such papers as long as an agency is successfully conducted.

The Industrial Exhibition Company is the first to adopt the plan so long in use by the European governments of issuing bonds when the principal is made secure and not risked, but where there is a chance for a large premium, as the cost of $20 is sure to return to the investor $21—one dollar more than cost—and the holder of a $20 Bond may obtain a premium of $100, $250, either of $500, $1,000, $3,000, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000 or $100,000. The interest, which is ordinarily distributed to all the bond holders pro rata, is in this loan distributed by chance. The purchaser of a bond can see he will receive back his investment, with a small rate of interest, he has a chance in the above named premiums, which are simply the distribution of interest on the whole loan.

Each bond participates in four drawings each year, until it has drawn a premium, when it is surrendered, the premium paid, and the bond cancelled.

The Industrial Exhibition Company, under a special charter granted by the State of New York, is given authority to issue these bonds. The Legislature of the State, recognizing the great benefits which will arise from the success of this enterprise, have exempted all the real estate and property of the Company from taxation and assessments for five years, and has also conferred other great privileges.

Every American who understands the purposes of this Company will, of a necessity, feel a pride in aiding it to a successful termination.

Each individual who buys a bond becomes an owner and an interested party, and when he views the structure erected with his money can say, "I aided to erect in our country the most magnificent building the world has ever seen, a palace which, in truth, represents the industry, energy and mechanical genius of the American people."

The manufacturers and the inventors of America are peculiarly interested in the success of this enterprise, for the reason that it is to be their home, where all their inventions and manufactures can be exhibited and sold.

The building will contain 5,320,800 square feet of space.

Purchasers desiring Bonds before an agency is established where they reside, will communicate direct with this office, from where they can be supplied.

Parties desiring to act as agents or to purchase bonds will address

THE TWO ORPHANS.

CHAPTER IV.—AT ST. MARTIN'S.

Months have passed, and it is Winter.

The scene is the portico of St. Martin's Church, Paris, and the persons with whom we have to do are poor. The first is a blind girl, a singing beggar, and who is the orphan Louise, forced to gain her living by singing, her tyrant being La Frochard, the woman who took her home after Henriette was carried off.

The others are La Frochard's two sons; one, the ruffian Jacques; the other being Pierre, the lame tinker.

La Frochard and Jacques went into a wine shop, and there it was that Pierre, who had learned to love the blind girl, drew near Louise.

It was bitterly cold, and the poor girl began shivering, for La Frochard knew her trade, and was not ignorant that shivering is as good a twister-out of coin as blindness, while a combination of both these miseries is an income in itself. She looked upon Louise as a gift of Providence, thrown in her way for the benefit of herself to some extent, but more especially for the advantage of her noble, magnificent son Jacques. Pierre crept nearer, making little sound, for the snow was thick, took off his poor blouse, and put it round her shoulders.

"Pierre!" she said, as she touched the blouse.

"Yes, Louise. How cold it is!"

"Very cold, Pierre."

"It was warm when you first came to live, with us, and the sun was bright."

"That was when I lost my sister,"

"And that is why you sing and keep alive. Louise, that you may find Henriette, I know They would have killed you long since, though they depend on your earnings, if you had not determined to live in order to find Henriette, whom you love."

"With all my strength, and heart, and soul!"

"It must be very good to be loved by you," said Pierre, simply.

"But you see, Pierre, we love one another, and we had never been separated all our lives until that terrible day when I lost her. Oh, she is dead—she is dead!"

"No," interposed Pierre; "she was too good to die. She was carried off by some great noble; they often serve pretty girls in that way, and you say she was pretty. Believe me, you will find her, or, what is far better, she will find you."

"I do believe you," the poor girl replied; "but yet my heart sometimes fails me. For months now every day I have sung in the streets, and she has never heard me. She would know any one of the songs I sung in a moment, and she would leap at me. But, no, I never hear her say 'Louise—Louise!'"

"You see, dear," whispered Pierre, "my mother keeps you in one quarter of Paris, while your poor friend may be cooped up in some other. She may not be free to go where she likes any more than you are; so hope on, little singing birdie—hope on."

"How good you are!" she said. "Sometimes I think I should lie down and die, although I so much want to touch Henriette again, if it were not for a kind word from you now and then."

She stretched out a hand to touch him, and then it was she discovered he had taken off his blouse to keep her warm.

"Oh, no, no, no!" she said, thrusting it toward him. "How good you are! But I don't feel the cold now; it has grown warmer; it is quite warm. Put on your blouse directly."

He did as he was requested, and was very happy and very wretched in one and the same moment.

Just then a sedan set down a grand lady, who at the same moment was accosted by a cheery-looking old gentleman, who was called "Doctor" by her on the spot, and who will be here known by no other name.

"Good evening, Countess; I have obeyed your orders, and the poor people are thankful."

"I am glad to hear it—always command my purse. I feel for the wretched, for I have been most wretched myself."

She bowed and went into the church of St. Martin, which she had not visited for a long time, it being far out of her way, and the Countess having been an invalid for some months. Not even did her sight fall upon the blind girl.

The keen eyes of the doctor, however, saw the truth in a moment, and almost before the lady had entered the sacred edifice.

"What! what! blind—blind?" he asked. "But not always so, I am sure?"

"No, sir;" she said; "I have been blind not more than five years."

"I thought not—I thought not. Have you had doctors about you, eh—eh?"

"Indeed, no, sir!" here said a cracked voice. "We are too poor for physicians."

It was La Frochard, whom the doctor drew on one ride.

"She may be restored to sight,"

"My child see again!" cried the wretched old harridan. "Oh, blessed day when these eyes behold it—restored to sight—my Louise!"

"I do not say for certain; but she must be made to hope, or the operation might fail. What is your address?"

The woman gave a false direction, without a moment's hesitation or prevarication.

"I will call on you; in the meantime, keep hope alive within her poor heart. Good night—good night! Here, take this, good woman, for thyself!"

She grasped the crown piece greedily, but it did not soften her heart; for when her victim, hearing the doctor's footstep fade in the distance, crept close and said: "What did he say, madam—what did he say?" she snarled, "He says you'll be blind for life; and so you'll have to sing for your bread, if you want to live!"

The poor girl dropped on the church steps again, utterly depressed and despairing.

The wretched woman, fearing the end of the fortune which resulted from Louise's blindness, had actually done her best to antagonize the benevolent intentions of the doctor.

Vespers were over, and the congregation began to pour down the steps of the church.

Louise's face was set toward the open door, and what light a wretched lamp gave was full upon it as the Countess Liniere came toward the blind girl.

And first she looked as one who sees without knowing it, but the growth of interest was sudden, and that soon passed into a condition of complete amazement.

The blind girl knew nothing of what was passing; but she started, trembled, and became eager, as she heard the inquiry, "My sweet girl, what is your name?"

"Louise, madame."

"Louise!" she heard echoed, in a trembling whisper—"Louise!"

Then the voice said, "Whose child are you?"

Before she could answer, La Frochard pushed forward, and said, "Mine, my dear good lady; and a dear, sweet cherub it is!"

Louise had heard the lady sigh, and heard her whisper, "It is not she!" And then she was battling with herself to repress the scream which rose to her lips, as La Frochard seized her with iron hand as a means of warning her that she had said enough.

"Has she been blind from birth?"

"Born blind?" answered the woman: "and does not know the shape of the blessed sun!"

"Poor thing! poor thing!" ejaculated the lady.

"How gently she speakes!" thought the blind girl.

"Kindly accept this," said the lady, placing a piece of gold, which was scarcely more yellow than the glittering eyes of La Frochard which followed it, in her hand.

Strange how desolate the blind girl felt as this lady left; still stranger that the lady herself should experience a similar feeling as her sedan was borne home.

"There will be hot supper to-night for my Jacques," thought La Frochard, as she seized the shining money from the shivering girl.

The people poured out, the footsteps came and went, but the blind girl, seated on the steps of the Church of St. Martin, thought only of the lady with the gentle voice whom she distinguished from the others as the one who gave her the piece of gold.

V.—HENRIETTE'S CHAMBER.

High up, so high that the people of position in this world have never gone up so many stairs before reaching their destination, a young work girl has lived for some months, when the reader is taken to her little room.

She was known as Mlle. Henriette, and she gained her living by laboring for the linen workers on the second floor. It was not much of an existence, but she had few wants, and they were easily satisfied.

She never knew that the Chevalier had made an arrangement with the person of the second floor by which, while the latter was benefited, Henriette's weelky earnings were quite assured.

But she was not happy, for a person can be quite cheerful, being honest, without being happy.

For the reader has guessed that the Henriette high up in the large house at needlework is no other than the sister of the blind girl.

She was unhappy because she was alone, and Louise had not been found.

The Chevalier Armand, upon rescuing Henriette from the grip of the Marquis, had placed her for the night with an old nurse, and, on the following day, made the arrangements which resulted in Henriette being housed where we found her, and in her obtaining that work the price of which she earned fairly enough, but which she never would have been paid for but for judicious underplay on the part of the honest young Chevalier.

Henriette had at once proposed to hunt for Louise through the streets; but her rescuer prevailed with other counsel. He pointed out that the friends of the Marquis would seek to revenge him; that, in all probability, some of the police were in the pay of these so-called noblemen; that, therefore, it would be in the interest of Louise that Henriette should not run the risk of being convicted on some frivolous charge; and that she should work for her living while the Chevalier devoted himself to the discovery of the poor girl.

Hence it followed that even if Armand had found Louise in the streets, he would not have known her; while Henriette, never quitting the house, it was impossible that she should meet the poor lost girl.

On the other hand, La Frochard kept her adopted in that quarter of Paris where she lived, not far from the Church of St. Martin, and which, being in a doubtful part of Paris, was rarely visited by respectable people, except those who worshiped at St. Martin's, and where the beggars' harvest, in that part of Paris, was then chiefly gathered.

Thus it fell out that Henriette, forever sitting at her window, and now and again glancing down into the streets, never saw Louise—for the simple reason that the girl was not taken that way. Meanwhile Louise continued singing daily, but always in the same streets.

It may, however, be asked—why did not Louise, wretched and ill-used, appeal to the passers-by for protection?

Her mouth was closed by the fact that had she been given into the authority of the civil powers, she would have been sent to the infirmary for the blind, and then all chance of Henriette hearing her voice would be at an end.

So, in order that she might not lose the sustaining hope of hearing the loved voice call "Louise," she bore with the brutality of La Frochard, the scanty fare and clothing, that she might look abject; and, finally, the dreaded attentions which Jacques began to pay her when he learned that Pierre loved her.

Every morning the Chevalier called upon his charge, and invariably with the same tale—no news of Louise.

And as the days came round, he longed for them with increasing earnestness, because he grew to love Henriette out of her own goodness. She was so devoted in her love for the blind girl, so patient, cheerful and industrious in her solitude, that very soon he found her superior to all the women he had met. He loved her, and most honestly.

One morning, when the snow was still on the ground, for much had fallen on the previous day, she was sitting at work, ever near the window, though it had become very cold, now and again affording a glance into the street, searching for Louise, when the Chevalier entered the room, quite without ceremony, and said, "Henriette, there is no time to lose! You are in great danger!"

"Yes; you must find a fresh place of concealment! You must leave Paris!"

"I have done no harm as far as I know. I have no enemy."

"You have one very powerful and unscrupulous enemy, who seeks to ruin you, and who will act with the rapidity of the eagle!"

"Monsieur Armand, but if I leave Paris, what will become of Louise?"

"She will reach you more readily beyond Paris than in it, for here she would have to seek you out in a common gaol. Henriette, there is no time to lose! You must know—you can not be ignorant of the fact—that I love you!"

"Love me, Armand?"

"You know I love you, as I hope you do me. Think what my agony would be to know you were in prison, and placed there through being acquainted with me!"

"How can I be imprisoned for such a reason?"

"You do not know the secrets of this wicked city. It is enough to be warned that it is so; that you must fly from this place, which is fraught with danger! Let me entreat you to trust to me utterly!"

"Louise?" she murmured.

"I will never rest until I find her. Answer; will you be led by me?"

"Yes," she said, resolutely. "As you will."

"My aunt is outside, waiting to see you. In her you may thoroughly rely—as you will, I am sure."

"Of course!" she said, looking full of trustfulness through the tears that were falling as she thought of having to quit Paris, where Louise, if still alive, must surely be.

He caught her in his arms, kissed her very quickly—for there was no time for long embraces—and ran hurriedly from the room.

A few moments' pause, and the door being softly opened, there entered a lady whom the poor girl at once loved, so gentle, pleasant, and withal so sad she looked.

It was the Countess de Liniere, with whom the reader is already acquainted.

"Good day, my child," she said; "my nephew tells me you are in great distress, and want the help of a friend. I am very glad to offer myself, for I have known trouble, and have learned how good it is to find a friend. Pray, count upon me; I will take care of you, and you will be quite safe. But you still weep?"

"Oh, madame, I am thinking of my sister; that is to say, who is as a sister to me. Oh! Louise, Louise."

"Louise!" echoed the lady, trembling.

There was a pause, which was ended by the visitor saying, "Tell me about your Louise—it will ease your mind."

"Oh, madame, all is soon told. My father was a poor artisan, upon whom fell evil days when I was but a few months old. My parents were very poor, and one snowy night he thought it was better that I should be placed in the foundling hospital than remain with them. While my mother was asleep he took me in his arms and hurried away to that institution. As he went on he had to pass the church of St. Martin here, in Paris, and in doing so he thought he heard a feeble cry. He looked about, and saw, a sort of a basket, over which the snow had partially drifted. He lifted it, and looked within, to find a sleeping child, younger than myself. The pity he felt for the deserted babe suggested to him how cruel was the desertion of his own, and so he turned home, and waking his wife, told her what he had done, saying, 'Wife, we had but one child, whom we could not fairly feed, and now we have two. Heaven protect us!' And his goodness saved him, my lady; for when they came to examine the little basket, out fell two rolls of gold, upon each of the papers surrounding which were these words: 'Be tender with her—her name is Louise!'"

"Ah!"

"My lady!"

It was the Countess' sudden cry which had stopped the young girl's history.

"Go on," the Countess said, gently, making a terrible and successful effort to appear calm.

"There is very little more to say, dear lady. My father prospered with the money and brought her up as his own. We were as happy as the day until our father and mother died. Then Louise had fallen blind, and so we came to Paris, that she might be near the great doctors; and on the very day that we reached this cruel city I was seized and carried off, while Louise was waiting for me in the street. You know the rest, my lady. Your nephew served me and brought me here, where I have gained my own living, as the woman of the house will tell you. I have been afraid to go out, fearing to be seized again; and Monsieur Armand has never ceased to search for Louise. But he has not found her. Oh, Louise, Louise! shall I never hear your sweet voice again——"

Then there was a scream, for at that moment the notes of a singer were heard in the street below.

"Louise, Louise!" cried Henriette, rushing to the window and calling.

For she had recognized the voice of her foster sister in a moment.

La Frochard kept true to her determination to try a new quarter of Paris in which to beg, fearing that if she remained on her old beat she would lose her income by the doctor taking way Louise in order to restore her sight. So she dragged her miserable victim to another part of Paris, and within an hour Louise had given warning of her vicinity to the patient and watching sister.

"Louise, Louise!"

But the window was so high up, the traffic in the streets so noisy, that the voice of Henriette could not be heard through the din, and the blind girl still continued singing, quite unconscious that Louise was found.

Strangely enough the grand lady of title was almost as much moved as was Henriette herself.

"And I have seen her," she said; "I have spoken to her, and we parted—we parted—we, mother and daughter, as might any two strangers! Let us go—let us go!" she cried, seizing Henriette's hand.

The work girl could not comprehend, did not care to understand, the great lady's agitation; but she caught her hand, and they were hurrying to the door, when it was thrown open, and there appeared upon the threshold the Count de Liniere and four police officers.

The Countess shrank back almost guiltily at the sight of her husband; but the girl looked at the intrusion with the utmost amazement.

"There is your prisoner," said the Count, pointing to Henriette.

"I?" she replied. "What have I done?"

"No matter; you are a prisoner. Remove her."

Without a word, the poor girl fell to the ground; whereupon the police, accustomed to such work, lifted her up, and carried her away to a common jail—ay, and at the very moment when she had found Louise.

"Let me pass!" said the Countess, when she was able to recover from the stupefaction produced by the arrest and rapid removal of the seamstress she had come to serve.

"Where are you going?" asked the Count.

"No matter. Let me pass!"

The voice of the street singer was still to be heard; but it was fading in the distance.

"I will let you pass, my lady; but I will follow you. Ha! I thought you could not proceed under these conditions, madame! Your desire to pass is associated with your secret."

"My secret!" she said.

"Yes; the secret you have kept from me all our married life. I do not ask to know it, but I warn you I will find it out. My lady, your sedan is below; let me see you to it."

By this time the voice had died away.

She uttered a word lowly, which the Count in vain tried to catch. It was—"Lost!"

The Beecher Business

Is once more prominent, being revived by the action of his friends. Deacon West and Mrs. Moulton have been dropped from the rolls of Plymouth Church, ostensibly for non-attendance, really for appearing as witnesses against Beecher. No charge is made against either, but both are remorselessly pursued with the same spirit of enmity that ostracised jurors and witnesses who believe in Beecher's guilt. The trial has had its effect. Henry Ward Beecher is a broken reed, and his church must eventually follow him in downfall, being rotten to the core. Quietly and without notice, many who at first believed him innocent are gradually withdrawing from his list of supporters by non-attendance. His cowardice and the ruthless course taken by his attorneys are convincing people that he is no longer a safe leader or an honest follower. In the very nature of things he and the church must succumb to the natural course of events.

The persecution of those who have not believed in him is beginning to react. Mrs. Moulton, Deacon West and others may be dropped from the rolls, but it brings them no disgrace, but rather honorable congratulation. Mrs. Tilton's daughter Florence has quietly requested a dismissal from the church, an action that tells how unworthy she deems the pastor as a teacher, and is conclusive as showing her opinion of the man who wrecked her parents' home.

The New York and Brooklyn Association of Congregational Ministers has taken important action. A year ago, a movement was made to investigate the charges against Beecher, but was postponed. Six months passed and again the subject was discussed. Mr. Beecher's friends thought on account of the silence of the Congregational clergymen the idea of action had been abandoned. They therefore moved to expunge from the records all reference to the matter. The result was such a storm of indignation that they realized that they had made a mistake. After a heated discussion of an hour and a half, the resolution was ruled out of order by the moderator, and taking advantage of a moment of confusion, the Beecher men secured an adjournment.

At the next meeting, on Wednesday of last week, the attendance was unusually large. The important topic was introduced in the form of unfinished business, the resolution to appoint a committee being taken from the table. At once the discussion was animated. The majority urged that the duty of the Association was to deal fearlessly with the question whether Beecher was fit to be retained in membership. No proposition was made to criticize Plymouth Church, that being considered without the province of the body. It was only proposed to settle the point of Mr. Beecher's worthiness to continue in association with Christian ministers. The defenders of Mr. Beecher contended that any action would be an assault upon him. The discussion lasted four hours, and brought out several powerful speeches. The preponderance of sentiment was from the first in favor of a committee, but the Beecher men fought hard to save him from that dreaded fate. They could only hinder action, however, not prevent it. The association voted to have a committee. Then the minority endeavored to secure the appointment of men known to be partisans of Mr. Beecher, so that a whitewashing report might be expected; but they failed, too, in that. Five representative clergymen were appointed on the committee, two of them being as eminent as any in Congregationalism. They are, by the resolution, directed to investigate the scandal thoroughly, reviewing the evidence admitted and rejected in the judicial trial, and securing all the other facts that they may be able to get; and to report their verdict to the association, with advice as to whether Mr. Beecher ought to be retained in membership or be expelled. They are not limited in time, and it is not expected that they will be able to do their work in the thorough manner expected of them within less than several months.

It is said that Beecher will withdraw from the Association rather than submit to an investigation—a course which is very probable considering his attempt to ruin the reputation of a man who had befriended him, by arresting that man for libel and then refusing him an opportunity for a trial after the endeavor to disqualify him for a witness had signally failed. The cowardice of Henry Ward Beecher is shown in his every look and action, and those who trusted him most implicitly, now see that their faith and confidence were misplaced.

The case of Beecher vs. Joseph Loader comes up too, for trial, and Loader's counsel has asked that a commissioner be sent to New Jersey to take the testimony of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Richards, Mrs. Theodore Tilton being a witness in the case for the prosecution, and it being the privilege of the defence to break down her testimony by the contradictory statements made to her brother, his wife and the public.

TRIAL OF DAVID L. MAGOON,

OF RAYMOND,

FOR THE MURDER OF MRS. MAGOON,

BY POISONING.

MONDAY.

The announcement that the prisoner, Magoon, would be placed on the witness stand was doubtless the cause of the full attendance at the trial at the opening of the Court on Monday. The audience preserved a deathlike stillness during the direct examination by the defendant's counsel, as well as during the searching cross-examination by County Solicitor Frink. The prisoner bore the severe questioning very well, in the main, although he quibbled and winced somewhat when the interrogatories hinted at his relations with Abby Heath. In this direction he was once or twice compelled to take refuge in silence, or refuse to reply. As a whole, his behavior on the stand was rather favorable to him than otherwise.

JOHN C. DEARBORN.—Lives about half a mile from Magoon's. Know Abigail Heath. Her reputation for truth and veracity is bad, and from what I know of her, would not believe her under oath so soon as people in general.

CROSS-EXAMINATION. — Question. "Do you know where Mrs. Magoon was buried?" Answer. "I do." Question. "Was the grave from which the body was taken that of Mrs. Magoon?" Answer. "It was."

THOMAS J. CLIFFORD.—Reside in Candia, about a quarter of a mile from Magoon's. Know Abigail Heath, and was present at her marriage with Aaron Heath. From her reputation for truth I would not believe her under oath so readily as I would people in general.

DAVID L. MAGOON, the defendant.—I was born in Raymond and have always lived there. I lived with my wife 38 years and had four children by her. I was 60 years old the 12th day of September, 1875. My wife was 71. Her health for thirty years was not good, but for the past ten years was very poor. She was afflicted with scrofula affecting her legs. Her stomach was very much affected by it. The last nine years of our married life there was no trouble between us. My daughter Lydia kept my house until the Summer of 1874. For a week or fortnight prior to my wife's death she was quite sad in consequence of the proposed departure of my daughter Lydia. On the day of my wife's death I left early in the morning to get my cattle shod and returned at 11 A. M. Found my wife in bed, ate a luncheon and then went out to fix a fence, and when I went back to the house my wife was sitting up. She said she felt a little better, and so I went away about a mile and a half to gather some sweet apples. When I returned the sun was about half an hour high. She wanted me to go and get some peppermint for her. First ate my supper and then went up to Mr. Currier's and got the peppermint. Went home and went to the closet and got a tumbler, poured about two teaspoonsful of peppermint into it, put in some sugar, stirred it a little and went directly to my wife's bed. She drank all but about a quarter of a teaspoonful of the liquid. Returned and placed the tumbler in the sink, where it remained until the following morning. Mrs. Roberts, my daughter, and Mrs. Dearborn were in the kitchen. They left shortly after and I went and sat down in the dining room by the bed room door. I sat there awhile, when my wife spoke to me saying, "David, I am dying." (Here the prisoner appeared affected, and for a moment or two did not proceed.) I went directly to call Nathan's wife, who came at once. Did not notice any convulsions or anything unusual in the manner of my wife's death. Told the children they might send for a doctor if they wished. I bought strychnia about 16 years ago to poison some crows. Bought some strychnine some time in May, 1874, to poison rats with. Put it in my table drawer and neglected to use it for some time and when I went for it it was gone from where I put it. I inquired of my wife if she knew where that bottle of strychnine was. She said, "David, how do you suppose I know." I never saw it afterward nor have I seen any strychnine since. My daughter, Mary Jane, told me that she found the bottle of strychnine in the pillow. This was some days before my arrest. I have said that they might find strychnine in my wife's stomach, because I thought from what Mary Jane told me about finding the strychnine and its sudden disappearance that she might have taken it. Have known Abigail Heath ever since she was born. Never made the statements that she says I made about my wife's never being married to me, etc. One time Mrs. Heath came to my house and wanted some cider, I got her some. She was drunk and I could not get her out of the house. I had arranged to go to Manchester and told her I should have to leave her there, and I went away and left her there with the house open. She stayed all night and my son found her there and drove her off in the morning. At the interview referred to by the witness Langford, I was present and the conversation we had was substantially true. Once brought Abby Heath from Manchester in company with another person.

CROSS-EXAMINED.—Remember of meeting Abby Heath at East Kingston. I went to Carter's Hotel with her. Went to camp meeting with her. Never told Mrs. Heath that I never was married to my wife. I did not tell Mrs. Dearborn so, either. I did say to Mrs. Dearborn that Mr. Healey said I never was married to my wife. I met her (Abby Heath) in the blueberry pasture, but no such conversation as that she reported was ever uttered, viz, that I wanted to get my wife out of the way. Didn't say to Mrs. Seavey that I loved Abby and I believed Aboy loved me. Nor do I remember of ever telling any one that Mrs. Heath did come to my house one night after dark and stayed all night, drunk. Never asked Abby to get Aaron to prevent my wife's body from being dug up. About ten years ago, my wife and I were estranged from each other on account of her jealousy of me. When my buildings were burned no one was at home except myself. Once had a conversation with Abby Heath about my wife's death, and she said that she told the story to plague Aaron. Had rather not say how familiar my relations with Mrs. Heath were. Did tell a number of person that I thought they might find strychnine in my wife's body. Frank Langford also suggested they they might find it. Had slept on the pillow in which the strychnine was found, about a week before it was discovered. I didn't ask my daughter to mix the peppermint because I was in a hurry to get it to my wife. Should think my wife lived about an hour after taking the peppermint. My son and I were the only ones that were present until five minutes before her death. There was no talk that I recollect of at that time in regard to the cause of my wife's death. Think I might have said to Mrs. Dearborn that I had the best time at East Kingston that ever I had in my life.

AFTERNOON.

DAVID L. MAGOON, recalled,—Cross-examination continued.—I supposed Mrs. Heath to have been lawfully married to her husband. Talked with Josiah M. Fitts about my relations with Mrs. Heath. Mrs. Heath came to my house one time to have the matter in regard to the stories relating to my wife's death hushed up. This was at Mr. Fitts' house. Mr. F. asked me to remain after meeting. I then told him that Mrs. Heath asked me down in the meadow if I would marry her, and when. I told her I would consider it in the Spring. I don't remember that I told Deacon Fitts that I had as good a right to Abby Heath as Aaron had.

The defence here announced that they would rest their case. Testimony for State resumed.

JOSIAH M. FITTS.—Live in Candia. Know Mr. Magoon, the prisoner at the bar, and Mrs. Abby J. Heath. Mr. Magoon and Mr. Aaron Heath met at my house in February of this present year. I asked Mr. Magoon if he were prepared to prove that his wife did not take poison herself. He said "I am not." I asked him if he would marry a certain person, alluding to Mrs. Heath. He made no reply. He then told me that Mrs. Gardner met him in the meadow and sat upon his knee and wept while she asked him to marry her. He said he told her that he would let her know in the Spring. I also referred to the legality of the marriage between Aaron Heath and his wife, and told him that they were morally if not legally bound to each other. He told me that Abby Heath was as free to him as she was to Aaron. Am familiar with the burial-place of Mr. Magoon's. [Witness here exhibited to the Court and jury a sketch of the lot alluded to.] Was in the family of Mr. Magoon several days. While I was there she cooked her meals, I believe.

CROSS-EXAMINED.—Was there three days. Don't know who "cooked" the meals, but Mrs. M. waited on the table. Was present when the second disinterment took place. There was nothing to distinguish the grave from any other. The meeting with Heath was a religious one and held at my house. It was in consequence of a difficulty at a previous meeting. One of the statements he (Magoon) made at this latter meeting was that he was willing that the body of his wife should be taken up. At the last meeting he (Magoon) arose and said that he had buried the hatchet. I asked Aaron if that was so, and he said, "Yes, handle and all." From what I know of Abby Heath and as she has lied to me a good many times I would not believe her on oath so readily as I would persons in general.

[At this point the counsel for the State introduced a Miss Carrie Heath as a witness, to whom the defendant's counsel objected as the name was not down on the list. Mr. Frink replied that it was for rebuttal only and therefore admissible. Court examined the testimony as previously given before the Grand Jury and decided to suspend the examination of this witness until Tuesday.]

JOHN BROWN.—Reside in Candia. Saw the body of Mrs. Magoon the day of her funeral. It looked so bad, that I could not bear to look at it.

CROSS-EXAMINED.—I don't know what it was that made it look bad but it was its general appearance. The lips protruded very much. Know Abby Heath. From what people say should think she was not to be believed on oath.

DR. THEODORE F. JEWETT.—I am a practising physician, and have occupied a position as lecturer at a medical College in Maine. Would not expect a person afflicted with scrofula in the legs to experience any unpleasant sensation in the stomach therefrom. (Question. Supposing that a woman 71 years old, not very strong, affected with scrofulous humors, receives something bitter to drink about 7 o'clock, is afterward oppressed with a sense of approaching death, twitches, shudders and shivers, and dies in this state about 8 o'clock, her body is found to be stiff and rigid an hour after death and remains so for twelve or fourteen hours, then the limbs relax, and one year after death, strychnia is found in the stomach and intestines, and more than twenty-three one hundredths of a grain of absorbed strychnia in her liver, what, in your judgment, was the cause of her death?

Ans. I should say that she died from poisoning by strychnia.)

CROSS-EXAMINED.—I have seen four or five cases of poisoning by strychnine. Where taken in overdoses the tendency is for the head to be drawn backward, except in cases of a low vitality, or condition of the system. (The witness was here submitted to a rigid cross-examination in regard to the effects of strychnine upon the human body and the symptoms attending. In replying to the questions of the counsel for defendant the witness was considerably nonplussed, and prevaricated a good deal.)

DR. J. F. HALL.—Am a practicing physician in Portsmouth. Scrofula humor would not be likely to produce a sudden death by striking to the stomach. (Question put to witness that was propounded to Dr. Jewett, the reply to which was the same as that of the previous witness.)

CROSS-EXAMINED.—The first symptoms of poisoning by strychnine, are oppression, twichings, convulsive spasms etc. I recollect one case of a man who swallowed a bottle of strychnine (Witness here detailed a case that occurred at the Provost Marshal's office in Portsmouth in 1864, which illustrated the severity of the operation of strychnine.) It is understood that violent twitching of the muscles, convulsive spasms, drawing of the head backward with the body resting upon the heels and back of the neck are symptoms of strychnia.

[Question by counsel for defence:

If you should hear that an old person had died who had been feeble and sickly for ten years or more and no more was stated of the symptoms than that she had had scrofula in her legs, had complained of frequent pain at the stomach, (spasms as she called them) striking of the humor to the stomach, and such a person after ailing for two or three days and quite ill on the afternoon of one day then dies, would you call that a sudden death? I should not.]

DR. F. E. POTTER. Am practicing medicine in Portsmouth (a similar examination as that of the two previous witnesses was undergone and the result was the same in both direct and cross-examinations.)

DR. BURNHAM.—I am a regular practicing physician of Epping. I do not think a scrofulous humor in the legs could cause death. (This witness was subjected to the same examination as that of the other medical experts, with the same or similar results.

Jottings.

The twenty-first anniversary of the Balaklava Charge, was celebrated October 25th by a grand banquet to the surviving heroes, "all that was left of them," at Alexandra Palace, London. All England was stirred to the highest pitch of enthusiasm on the occasion. At the banquet, the most distinguished men of the nation were present to do honor to the veterans of the fearful charge. The survivors were seated at the tables while the cheering of a vast assembly gathered in their honor, went on. Suddenly, the trumpets of the Eighth Hussars blared forth the cavalry calls "walk," "trot," "galop," "charge," and the veterans started to their feet as one man, and the old yell which twenty-one years ago startled the Russian gunners in their entrenchments, made the vaulted roof to ring again. John C. Edgar, one of the "Six Hundred" has been engaged "to do it all over again" on the Temple stage before the S. P. C. A Lyceum course, Thursday evening, Nov. 18th. Miss Cayvan, an accomplished elocutionist, has also been engaged to assist by reading Tennyson's "Charge of the Light Brigade."

Frank W. Hilton, Esq., who has had charge of the Rockingham House for the past year has leased it for a term of five years and is to conduct it on his own account.

The Manchester Union thinks that "city will doubtless remain, trains run, and the east winds be allowed to blow, notwithstanding the coming of a new station agent."

The 5:40 P. M. train to Dover, and the 6:20 P. M. from Dover to this city, are discontinued.

The heavy iron fence around the Custom House is to be removed, the side walk widened and the rest of the ground raised and ornamented with a granite curb around it. The iron stairway at the southerly end of the building is to be taken down—why, no one knows.

M. O. Stimson, the boss shooter, shot one day recently, eight wood-cock, six partridges, four wild geese and an English snipe.

Louis A. Knowles, Charles S. Knowles, Henry Beckman and William Rowe, the persons arrested for placing obstructions on the Eastern Railroad, near Seabrook, on the night of October 24th, were bound over to appear before the Grand Jury on the third Tuesday of April next, at Exeter.

Engineer Frank B. Randall has been ordered to duty on revenue steamer Seward, at Key West, having been detached in June from the same vessel on account of the prevalence of the yellow fever. He is to report on the 20th.

Alexander Marshall's barn in Northumberland was burned by incendiaries Friday night; loss $800; no insurance.

Later returns from Wisconsin confirm the election of Ludington, the republican candidate for Governor, by 500 majority. Both Houses of the legislature are republican.

RATTAN WARE MANUFACTORY.

ONLY 4 Rattan Ware Factories in the United States, and one of them has just begun manufacturing in Portsmouth. The furniture made by this firm is made of the very best quality of East India Rattan, and for beauty, attractiveness, ease and durability is more desirable than any other furniture. We claim that the generality of our work is better than can be procured elsewhere in the United States. Few people comparatively have ever seen many pieces of this attractive furniture, and we cordially invite any one to call and examine our work even if they have no idea of purchasing. We warrant every piece of our ware to be as good as can be bought elsewhere and at less price.

Don't fail to call up, and see what few people in the United States have seen; viz, a collection of this ware. OVER FREEMAN'S OYSTER HOUSE, on Congress street, up one flight.
